

DESERET EVENING NEWS.

—DESERET NEWS PUBLISHING COMPANY, OWNERS.

NEWSPAPERS, 1000 to 1000.

The Deseret Evening News is the official organ of the State of Utah. It is published weekly, and is the leading newspaper in the state. It is the official organ of the State of Utah, and is the leading newspaper in the state. It is the official organ of the State of Utah, and is the leading newspaper in the state.

The Deseret Evening News is the official organ of the State of Utah. It is published weekly, and is the leading newspaper in the state. It is the official organ of the State of Utah, and is the leading newspaper in the state.

The Deseret Evening News is the official organ of the State of Utah. It is published weekly, and is the leading newspaper in the state. It is the official organ of the State of Utah, and is the leading newspaper in the state.

The Deseret Evening News is the official organ of the State of Utah. It is published weekly, and is the leading newspaper in the state. It is the official organ of the State of Utah, and is the leading newspaper in the state.

SENATOR WHITFIELD'S SPEECH.

Some good speeches have been made at the Chicago convention. Upon such occasion there is often a great deal to say, and it is not always well said, as has been the case of the Democratic gathering. The leading speakers there also have shown due consideration for the fitness of things. Among those prominent in this regard is Senator White of California, the permanent chairman of the convention. The circumstances did not require that he make as elaborate an address as some others whose oratory the convention was pleased to listen to. Senator White did not return to a similar position after he had failed to do so, recognizing that it is becoming in the chairman of such a meeting not to make threats or impress on the audience his worthiness, who would then be out of deference to his position if for no other reason. He gave no cause to complain on the score of variety. He said all that was necessary to say, spending briefly and to the point. No essential idea was omitted through hasty, either as to its appropriateness or the time intended for its delivery, as preceding officer. The clearness and conciseness of his speech affords an example that could be followed with pleasure, and profit in political oratorical gatherings.

MR. GEDDES AND THE "NEWS."

When a man gets angry in a discussion he throws aside all dignity, and that is what County Commissioner Geddes seems to have done in his statement that appears in the News today, when he says of any attempt to get him to convey a false impression in its criticism of the county's action in refusing the whole readmission of John F. Parsons when Mr. Geddes gave a little more experience than he could have given him. We will assume that those people never did him any injury, and that he is not being either dishonest or untruthful. We recall that Commissioner Geddes has behaved faithfully and has made an efficient officer, and for this we have approved and will continue to do so in silence. But we have no desire to be as harsh in judgment and expression as he has been.

Far as the discussion has gone, we might be content to leave it where it is, and allow people to judge for themselves. But since the article the gentleman objects to has appeared several days ago, we will call attention to only a few of Mr. Geddes' statements, and leave the controversy. In the first place, the gentleman says that "he might have learned that 'the cause to prevent an increase in county taxes' is absolutely necessary that the warrants should be taken up and bonds issued to meet them." The assertion is contradicted by the very law under which the bonds are issued. Instead of the issue preventing an increase of taxes, it passes such increase obligatory, since the law provides for a special tax to pay the interest and the bonds. The commissioners will find this practice in paragraph 1, page 25, Laws of Utah, 1895. So he is in error, let us say.

Again, he says the News writers "based on the assumption that an additional audit would occur in the present case of 'sixty' per cent increase in the entire financial indebtedness in two years." The gentleman need read the article again. It is not based on any such assumption, but on a reliance on the statement of the county auditor which was stated off the top of memory in an early edition of the proceedings. We hope all will agree when giving it credit that that audit was given without the benefit of any written record.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION CONTINUED.

The national capital ought to come from the efforts of the religious leaders of the country. They are the ones best qualified to decide the question of the moral and spiritual welfare of the nation. The Christian Church has a large number of men who are well educated and well informed, and who are willing to give their services to the cause of education.

Further, our country friend suggests reference or explanation of the cost per student in the schools of interest. We think the statement and enough stands. The bonds bear little if any cost while the State avoids any cost and interest. Mr. Geddes goes off into a dissertation on the cost of the "old debt" in the State and other towns. This is not the point. The cost price is that the city will contribute to the State money from the State profits. The contributions received from other cities over the news paper, and we do not know, but we may, what the cost of interest, or what the cost of the bonds, is. It might have been well to add a warning for that time, making it plain, that all, or nearly all, the cities in the state would not have been bound to incur personal expense, as it might have been with a different.

Our own point. The contributions from other cities, except the news paper, and we do not know, but we may, what the cost of interest, or what the cost of the bonds, is. It might have been well to add a warning for that time, making it plain, that all, or nearly all, the cities in the state would not have been bound to incur personal expense, as it might have been with a different.

THE CARNIVAL CONSIDERED.

The present organization of the carnival has several缺点 on either side of East Temple street and portions of surrounding areas of the city according to the views of the city commissioners. The cost of national fairs has nearly all disappeared, the rates now compete with each other, and the carnivals have been diminished, and every vestige of the three days' exhibition of last week has vanished from our gaze. The city has assumed its normal condition and appearance with the utmost ready address, and the sawmills today would not find in our answer seeming anywhere an indication of what a great transition had very recently taken place. Perhaps a more striking object hereof is the enterprise and frankness with which things can be done here when all eyes in the nation at never shone.

It was a most expensive demonstration, all right, the cost of which the executive committee was just as much a part of it, the larger part it, but still only a part, although the sum amounts to a sum fortune. The question has been raised in some quarters as to whether or not the money could not have been expended to better advantage, in view of the continued stringency in financial circles and the wants or wants of the people. Those who raise such questions seriously take a rather circumspect view of the case. The preparations for the carnival and the carnival itself were the direct cause of giving employment to many persons who otherwise would not have had it. While the contributions by means of which the expenses were met in almost every case (there was one who was able to make them, & that the greater part of the expenditure represents money loaned into the hands of those who needed it, and which otherwise would have remained where it was—a most voluntary giving, surely).

But this is only one source, though from some manipulators, it may be claimed the chief one, of the advantages of the local carnival. It is the same among other things for economy that it is among the created values of nature, which we bring into competition with one another—the fittest survives. Salt Lake is the greatest city in all respects between Denver and San Francisco, though in the whole country and south of those places from the north goes to the Rio Grande. Yet while other and smaller places in and out of that region have been holding fairs, carnivals, fests, and what not, designed to draw visitors from great distances and impress upon them the importance and grandeur of such places, this city has been content to try them without any previous time making a bid for the return of a park of it. Such a policy is not only not profitable in an immediate financial sense, but continues to be actually detrimental to the city, as it tends to lessen the value of the silver dollars in a money centered frame of mind in single business.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in his thinking apartment.

Mr. Kamm, Esq., a woman who has always slept with a radio, a revolver, a hatchet, and a package of poison under her pillow, and a shotgun and a carbine under her bed, though possums have not yet disturbed her, is reported to have sold her home to the Quaker City who would not be rendered uncomfortable by a residence of the "quakers" in