FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

A fine breezy morning. City Council in regular session tonight.

The autumn leaves are flying in the November breeze.

The Utah Central Railway's new time table went into effect today.

Bishop L. D. Young is improved in health but not yet able to be out.

Yellowstone County, Wyoming, assessed the Northern Pacific $3,500 per mile.

The Record says that Park City has never been so free from disease as at present.

A lawyer in Ogden paid a $2.50 fine yesterday, for slapping another attorney in the face.

The Western Union Telegraph Company reports 432,763 miles of wire and 2,917 offices.

President Taylor and party are expected home tonight. They were at Nephth this morning.

Three days were consumed last week in paying off the Utah Eastern, and Ontario mining lands.

The new Queen of Madagascar's name, being interpreted, means Cloud-fall-of-water. Long may she reign!

Home thieves stole two valuable horses, with saddles and bridles, from the Cave mine, Beaver County, last Wednesday.

"Romany Rye" at the Opera House, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the 27th, 28th, 29th and 30th inst.

Bishop John Sharp, Hon. F. Little, Francis Cope, Esq., and the Bishop's two daughters, returned from the East last night.

The notorious Fanny Fullerfield, during a drunken revel at Park City recently, set fire to her house and emulated Nero the Imperial Violinist, by singing "Home Sweet Home" while it was burning.

If the telegraph reports him correctly, Gen. Nathan Kimball is in Washington furnishing some of the most audacious misstatements about Utah that ever emanated from his "heat-oppressed brain."

Mr. John C. Fowler, of Denver, Col., is in the city selling a fine thing in calendars and advertising cards. They are adorned with handsome illustrations, beautifully colored, and gotten up in excellent style.

Old Christiansen, who was stabbed by Huan Olsen at Park City several weeks since, has suffered another cutting up at the hands of one Hall. The latter was severely lacerated by other persons present, and placed under $500 bonds to appear and answer when wanted.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

New Railroad Officers.—Yesterday the following were elected officers of the Utah Eastern Railway: Sidney Dillon, president; E. Dickinson, vice president and general manager; I. S. McMurray, secretary; and the following directors: Sidney Dillon, Fred L. Ames, S. H. Clark, E. Dickinson, W. B. Dodge, C. E. Wurtsell, W. W. Hiter, R. C. Chambers, T. J. Almy.

Items from Idaho.—A correspondent (H. H. Severe), writing from Oakley, Cassia County, Idaho, on the 14th inst., gives a few items of news from that section.

The recent visit of Apostle F. M. Lyman was much appreciated by the people, who felt that his counsels to them were timely and inspired.

The people generally were living as latter-day Saints should. Nice weather this fall so far. They had been blessed with good crops, but the market was dull. A great mill was needed in the valley. There were settlers enough, and grain enough raised to support a good mill.

"The Romany Rye."—This famous play, one of the most entrancing emotional dramas ever seen here, will be the attraction for the Thanksgiving holidays at the Opera House, beginning on Tuesday evening, and lasting Wednesday, Thursday (Thanksgiving matinee and evening), and Friday night. All the superb scenery, including three entirely new sets, will be seen for the last time. The company, which is one of the largest and most thoroughly complete, will say "Good bye" to Salt Lake City on these occasions. "The Gypsy Ram-campment," "The Race-course," "Moonlight at Sea," and all the splendid live pictures will be given. Seats will be selling on Saturday morning.

RAPE IN OGDEN.

A NEGRO OF NINETEEN YEARS
 BAVISHES A WHITE GIRL
 FOUR YEARS OLD.

Last evening's train brought from Ogden Deputy U. S. Marshal Vandercok, having in charge a negro who committed in that city on Sunday last, one of the most revolting deeds in the annals of crime. The Ogden Herald is authority for the following account of it.

It says that on the afternoon of the Sabbath two children, a little boy six years old and a little girl of four, the son and daughter of Mr. Mrs. Frank Ould, left the house and strolled up the street towards Main. After a little the mother feeling somewhat anxious went in search of them. She found them opposite Morley's barber shop. They were crying and the girl's dress was disarranged. The excited mother hastily inquired what was the matter, when she was told by the children that a horrible crime had been committed on her child; she had been raped.

From her little boy she learned that as they were returning down the street and opposite the barber shop above named, a black scoundrel of a negro (about 19 years of age) who goes by the name of "Andy," came to the door, called "Edge," and offered her five cents to go into the shop. Both children went in, when the villain placed the child on the floor between a chair and the wall and accomplished his diabolical deed.

As soon as the mother learned the facts she, with her sister, Mrs. V. H. Stevens, called the police officers to arrest the criminal. In the meantime he had fled up stairs and taken refuge in a dark closet. A light was procured, he was found and dragged from his hiding place. He was taken to the kitchen, where Mrs. Ould found him with the feet of a tigress and seized him by the throat. She held him with a firm grip for some time, and would have choked the life out of the black rascal, had not some person interfered and released him. Marshal Fife and officer J. M. Brown took him to jail and locked him up.

The excitement ran so high that it was only due to the strenuous efforts of Mayor Peery and the officers of the law that the villain did not fall a victim to the rage of the mob which assembled with the full intention of lynching him. He was taken before Justice Dee on Monday morning, where he waived examination and was delivered into the custody of the U. S. Marshal, who brought him down to the Penitentiary where he will await the action of the Grand Jury of the First District Court.

The Theatrical Outlook.—The entertainments next in order at the Salt Lake Theatre are as follows: "The Belle," to be produced by Mr. John S. Lindsay and company, on Saturday, the 24th inst.; "Corralle," to be played as a benefit for Mr. William Darr, on Monday, the 26th; and the Boston Operatic Minstrels, with Bessie Louise King, who will take the boards on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, November 29th and 30th, and December 1st.

"The Belle" is a piece celebrated as one of the leading attractions in Mr. Henry Irving's repertoire, one in which this eminent actor has won unflinching laurels in the principal towns and cities of Great Britain, and with which he recently opened his New York engagement. "Corralle" has been played here before, but only once, and will doubtless, if properly cast, draw well. The Boston Operatic Minstrels are something of a new departure in their line, presenting among other new features, a lady operatic singer, Miss King, who does not color.

Their performances, which begin on Thanksgiving night, will constitute a splendid series of attractions, and an agreeable concomitant to the traditional turkey and cranberry delights of the season.

Sunday School Review.—Last Sunday evening the Sunday School of the Fifth Ward held their annual review in the meeting house, where the crowded audience were delighted with a variety of recitations, select readings, organ solos, etc., rendered in a manner reflecting much credit on the superintendent and his assistants, as showing the deep interest they have taken in training and instructing the young. The Bishop gave a short address at the close of the meeting, stating that the Sunday School was organized six years ago to the day, with Brother John Cowan as Superintendent. After congratulating the children for their good conduct, he gave some timely and suitable instructions, and encouraged them to go on in their good work.

In Colorado.—A ray communication from Elder Edward Stevenson, the enterprising apostle and missionary, acquaints us with his leaving this city on the 11th inst. stopping off at Lehi with Bishop Thomas Taylor to hold meetings that day, and on the following morning the two separating and our informant taking the D. & R. G. train for Colorado.

One the train were Miss Sudbury and Mrs. Whitehead, on their way to St. Joseph, Mo., to visit relatives. Brother Stevenson enters into a graphic and glowing description of the sublime scenery through which he passed (already described in this paper) and mentions a pleasant meeting with Brothers C. W. Fenner and C. R. Savage, on the cars between Black Canyon and Canon City, at the latter of which places the two stopped off to enable Mr. Savage to take views of some of the wonders in that vicinity. The letter of our informant is dated at Pueblo, Col., on the 18th inst.

Carp Coming.—The following telegram explains itself:

LARAMIE CITY, Wyoming, November 20th, 1883.

A. M. Myster, Salt Lake City, Utah: Will arrive in Ogden Wednesday morning, with car-load of carp. J. F. Ellis, U. S. Fish Commissioner.

THE UNITED STATES CENTRAL.

PROPOSED LINE OF THE NEW RAILWAY ACROSS SOUTHERN UTAH AND NEVADA.

A few weeks since the announcement appeared in this paper of the incorporation of a new railway company, which proposed running a line across the country from San Francisco, California, to Denver, Colorado. As this road, when it is constructed, will pass through and affect southern Utah generally, the following facts in relation to it, obtained from a late issue of the Ploche Record, will be found interesting reading.

The United States Central will be 1,200 miles in length and will extend branches at various points for the purpose of tapping other railroads, among them the Atlantic & Pacific in Arizona. The terminus at San Francisco will be at North Beach, from whence the proposed route extends to the ocean shore and along the coast as far as Santa Cruz. It then runs eastward and intersects the Southern Pacific near Madiera Station, and passing through the foothills of Fresno and Mariposa Counties to the Big Trees and Yosemite, goes over the Sierra Nevada Mountains and taps on the eastern slope, Candelaria, Aurora and Columbus.

From the last named point it will run almost directly east across the State of Nevada, passing by Templeton and to Crystal Springs in Pahranget Valley. At the springs a branch survey has been made to the Colorado River, striking it in the neighborhood of the Ferry, and extending from the Arizona side till it touches the Atlantic and Pacific. Another branch route surveyed to the northward from Crystal Springs, has as its supposed objective point the Utah Western Railway, near Side Hill station, toward which the latter road is now extending.

The main line of the United States Central will run eastward from the Springs, pass through the gap at Bennett's Springs, eighteen miles southwest of Pioche, and run down into Meadow Valley Wash. At the Wash, a couple of miles below Panaca, surveys have been made in several directions—to the north, south and east—very likely with a view to taking up and holding the passes best suited for constructing roads through. The line run to the northward was surveyed up to Dry Valley and through by Flat Nose to Desert station, where a surveying party from the north-east ran a line down to intersect it.

Eastward from the Wash, the main line will continue, very likely, in a direct line to Iron City, in this Territory, which, with its surrounding mountains of magnetic iron ore and adjacent coal fields, together with the iron manufacturing industries now in contemplation and course of erection there, is no doubt destined to become a prominent center. From Iron City the road will run northward to Milford, in Beaver County, and there meet the Utah Central. From Milford it will again turn westward through Hall's Valley to Denver. The route is already located over eight hundred miles east from San Francisco, and two hundred miles west of Denver.

Who Owns Them?—There are three overcoats at the City Hall, awaiting recognition and ownership. They came there in the following manner. Last Friday an overcoat was stolen from the front door of Barton and Co's, First South Street, and a man who had sold it to a second hand store was arrested by the police yesterday morning. Mr. Barton recovered his property after paying the amount given for the coat by the second hand man, and at noon to-day had another coat stolen from his store in a similar manner. The man arrested for the first theft claimed to have received the coat from another person, by whom he was to be paid for selling it. He described the appearance of this man and the clothes he wore. His own name he said was Schuman. To-day he was arraigned in the Police Court and pleaded guilty, this time saying nothing about the person who employed him, and sentence was suspended in his case until 10 a. m. to-morrow.

Last night the police got on the track of a man who had offered for sale a coat which, from the description given to the officers, was the one stolen from a man named Keddington several days since. The police lost sight of this fellow until he had disposed of the coat, which they were unable to find, but afterwards arrested him and a partner of his on suspicion. On searching the room where they slept, the officers found in addition to two overcoats, a suit of clothes which answered the description of those which Schuman claimed were worn by the man who employed him to sell the Barton coat.

Returning early this morning to the same place, the police found a man in bed, who on being accused of stealing an overcoat, at first denied having one, but afterwards admitted that he had, only it was in the present possession of a friend of his who lived in the Kimball block. Marshal Phillips required him to give an order for the coat, which was obtained, and it, with its holder and the man who wrote the order, were then taken to the City Hall.
