

DESERET EVENING NEWS.

Vol. II. SALT LAKE CITY, WEDNESDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 22, 1899. No. 257

BREVITIES.

A clean shirt is one of woman's best gifts to man.

Thomas C. Durant is putting up a monument in Greenwood worth $51,000.

Gas was first used in London in 1807, Pall Mall being the street earliest illuminated.

Tom Thumb and party posted their performances in San Francisco in Chinese as well as in English, and took, in two weeks, $15,000 in gold.

The new style of female apparel, according to the Revolution, is to be silk stockings to the knee, short trousers, slashed jacket, no hoops, no skirts, no petticoats, limbs in full play.

An Englishman who has invented a new life-saving apparatus wishes to be dropped in mid-channel between England and France, and to be left to his own resources.

London journals say that there are 22,000 men, women and children starving in two English counties, reduced to want by the strike among the nail makers.

The six months' revival at Richmond, Ind., has resulted in nine hundred conversions. At times fifteen prayer meetings would be in progress at the same hour.

They are trying to repeal a Delaware law which requires a man, before leading a woman to the matrimonial altar, to give bonds in two hundred dollars for good behavior.

Under the head of "Broken English," a Paris paper places such Londoners as get smashed up by railroad collisions or come to grief financially.

A California Spiritualist proposes to raise money for a "Pacific National Industrial Orphan Asylum," by exhibiting throughout the Union a pig weighing one thousand two hundred pounds.

In New Orleans is a large oak tree around which has been built a dwelling, so that the trunk is nicely housed while its top completely covers the work of the eccentric builder.

Undertaker's notice—Old graves reopened and distorted views of the remains of the dead taken and presented by a new process. Apply to H. B. S., office of the Atlantic Monthly, Boston.

—New York Sun.

A flag of distress, consisting of a red cross upon a dark yellow ground, has been suggested by the surgeons of the Prussian navy, as a proper signal to be used by all civilized States, both in war and in peace, and on land and on the sea.

Even should Louis Napoleon die this year, his will have been the longest reign in France since the accession of Louis XVI. in 1778. He was elected President in 1848, and has been virtually the ruler of France from that date.

The electrical method is to be adopted for lighting the street lamps of Boston. The entire city can be lighted by this process in five minutes, and the light can be as quickly extinguished.

The ship-canal mania is spreading. The Prussian Government has caught it, and talks about running a ship-canal through the off-disputed territory of Schleswig-Holstein, thereby connecting the Baltic and North Seas.

The tears that have been shed and the columns that have been published on the University boat race are simply summed up in the following historical conundrum: Why is the Harvard crew like the platter of Jack Spratt and wife? Got licked!—Ex.

An enterprising Yankee has gotten up a Brussels carpet made from linen with a little wool carded in, and printed from blocks, which, when laid down over an inter-lining, has the appearance of a fine "body Brussels," and all for forty cents per yard.

In Orange County, Vt., they have a new kind of horse-hoe, which, it is said, will, by different adjustments of the teeth, plant corn and potatoes, hoe the corn, weed a garden and do diverse other kind of work very expeditiously, for which manual labor alone has heretofore been used.

It is said that, near Cochranton, Ohio, a few evenings ago, a meteor, followed by a blaze of light, passed by the engine of a freight train that was stopping, struck an iron car in the rear, and exploded, tearing off a portion of the roof, setting fire to the car and destroying it. A brakeman was struck in the face by a fragment of the meteor and severely hurt.

The chemists of Cincinnati have been inspecting the soda water in that city, and in one hundred different specimens, they found fourteen contaminated by the presence of copper from the fountain, and in it they found lead also. Then they boiled some of the soda water and a "green scum rose on the surface," which upon evaporation, proved to be metallic.

Criminal justice in Russia presents many odd features. Recently an editor, his publisher, and a boy that had carried the papers around were prosecuted. The editor who had written the offensive article, being a nobleman, escaped with a small fine. The publisher belonged to a lower class and was heavily mulcted, and the poor boy, being the son of a former serf, received a severe flogging.

An English paper, speaking of the paper petticoats about to be introduced, suggests the possibility of the following advertisement: "Madame Parcele begs leave to call the attention of ladies about to visit the seaside to her new and richly embroidered paper petticoats, at one shilling each. Each petticoat contains an installment of a new novel of great domestic interest, by Anthony Trollope, entitled 'Tucks or Frills.' The story will be complete in fifty weekly petticoats."
