

UNION NOT FUSION.

The Same Results Desired but Under a Different Name.

POPULISTS MIGHT GET ONE OF TWO.

Wherever the Legislature may go, it will be under the name of the Populist party.

The announcement in last evening's News had there been a movement on the part of the Populists to merge between Democrats and Populists on the Legislative side, this fall, seemed preposterous as nothing else. With the exception of a few young politicians who had not been recruited by the Populists, but on the side, and from the latter it brought out doubts and no certainty. The fact is there are strong influences in Congress and in the House of Representatives which make it difficult to tell what the chances were for the movement to succeed.

Dr. Richardson, chairman of the Populist state committee which meets on Saturday next to consider the nomination of Warren Folsom as candidate for Congressmen, and transact other business, when asked by a News representative said it was safe to know who would be the chief supporters of the Populists if they were to merge, he said:

"President Thatcher's condition."

Dr. Richardson stated at a half hour this afternoon in answer to a question as to the condition of President Thatcher, who was taken to the hospital yesterday, that the young man was doing well and could be expected under the circumstances, and that the chances for his recovery were very fair.

PADDY BOYLE.

He has Unfinished Interview in the Police Court Today.

Paddy Boyle was the only law-breaker in whose affairs was paid off in the police court today, and no more than when he was charged with having in his possession a pistol, a revolver, and a shotgun.

A good number of years Paddy has figured quite prominently in the Lake police courts, but only, so far as we are aware, for his racing and racing was not for the interests of the public. He has been a member of the gang which has been instrumental in the circulation of the news that the news were not true. Paddy has, however, been implicated, though, in several instances.

The Democrats who look with kindly feelings upon the suggestion expressed themselves substantially as follows: "Folsom is not what we desire, but we will do what we can have union on the legislative ticket in this and two or three counties where the Populists voted joined with the Democrats might change the results. We believe, however, the county is too large to be merged with the Populists, with the change would be certain; therefore we would be willing to concede them one or two legislative nominees. Of course, we would have to be with the understanding in advance that the Populists would not be nominated, and that the Populists would vote for Democratic candidates. Such an arrangement would not be difficult. Most of the Populists of the county are descendants of Washington and most of them are married. They number something over 400. It is reasonable to suppose that their wives will vote pretty much as they do. That means at least 800 votes in each county which would be safe."

That is the line of reasoning laid down by the Democrats. The idea comes from a prominent Idaho politician, who says that "union" and "fusion" between the two parties mean the same in his view. Whether it is practicable in Utah, or not another thing. It is certain to meet considerable opposition among the rank and file of both parties.
