SESSION OF THE CITY COUNCIL

Revision of City Ordinances Before the Solons for Their Approval.

AFFAIRS OF WEBER COUNTY

James Pingree Company Incorporates—Divorce Suits—Funeral Services—Manual Training Instructor.

Ogden, July 14.—An unimportant session of the city council was held last night. Although a session of about an hour was held in the star chamber prior to the regular meeting in which matters relating to the municipality were discussed, nothing of any consequence came up at the regular session.

Atty. J. E. Bagley, to whom the contract for the revising of the city ordinances was given several months ago, appeared before the city council explaining the method used by himself and Atty. Valentine Giddon in the revision of the city ordinances. The work, he declared, was completed with the approval of the proper indexes and the approval of the city council. It was decided that the council will meet next Thursday night and go over the work done by the attorneys from night to night thereafter making such changes and suggestions which may be necessary.

Payrolls amounting to $3,042.58 for the past two weeks were approved and the auditor instructed to draw warrants for the several amounts.

Claims aggregating $4,388.26 from the several departments of the city were approved and ordered paid.

The sidewalk between Van Buren and Twenty-fourth and Twenty-sixth streets was created and the city engineer instructed to advertise for bids.

WEBER COUNTY AFFAIRS.

At the session of the county commissioners yesterday, Chairman Madison reported that he, in company with the auditor, had visited the premises of Larson, in the Harrisville precinct, to investigate the unsanitary conditions which were reported to the board by the residents of Harrisville in a petition. He stated that owing to the fact that all the hogs owned by Larson had died from cholera, that the place was not in an unsanitary condition at the present time, although it bears a very dilapidated appearance. No action up-

NORTH OGDEN.

CANNING FACTORIES RUNNING.

Building Activity—Pioneer Day Celebration—Good Crop Outlook.

Special Correspondence.

North Ogden, July 12.—The two local canning factories are now running on early fruits—cherries and raspberries. The fruit crop in general is fair, though short in some localities. The early grain is now nearly ready for the reaper and the yield will be fairly good. The first crop of hay was a little short owing to the cool, backward spring, though it will be made up in a great measure by the extra good second crop.

The building activity on the public square shows something unusual. The large annex to the meetinghouse has received the second floor and ready to continue the second story walls; the new gallery in the old hall is about completed and the whole work will be pushed to completion. The first floor provides classrooms for the auxiliary work of the ward and the second floor will be for amusements.

The large school building nearby has the foundation in, and joists of the first floor laid. It will be a modern eight-room building with full size basement for playrooms, furnaces, etc., and is to be completed for the opening of school in September.

Arrangements are being made for a rousing celebration of the Twenty-fourth in North Ogden. No celebration of the Fourth was held here owing to building operations in and adjoining the meetinghouse.

N. H. Barker has been assigned the detail work of the old folks' outing to Lagoon July 21.

The Misses Pearl Jones, Sada Wade, Mabel Moore and Alice Taylor have been appointed census enumerators by the school board for this district, to labor respectively in North Ogden, Pleasant View, Randall and Harrisville.

Richard Jones, Sr., of Cache county, many years a resident and active church worker of this ward, now far past the four score mark, has been visiting a few days in North Ogden.

Special Correspondence.

Rock Springs, Wyo., July 12.—The people of this town feel the deepest sorrow over the death of an old and respected citizen, Bishop Joseph Soulsby, who was called away to another sphere to enjoy the reward of a well spent life on July 3. His death was due to pneumonia and miner's asthma. Bishop Soulsby was born in Northumberland county, England, Oct. 2, 1841, emigrated to America in 1863; crossed the plains with ox team and first settled in Ogden. He has resided in Rock Springs for the past 25 years and was closely associated with the U. P. Coal company and held many responsible positions.

The funeral services were held Tuesday the 7th inst. in the ward meetinghouse, the speakers were Elders James Overy, Sr., and Bishop James Crooks. The first spoke in the highest terms of deceased and commented upon his exemplary career of usefulness. All the mines shut down for a half day, and in consequence great crowds followed the remains to the final abode of the village burial ground.

STATISTICS ON STATE ELECTIONS

Political Dopsters Are Already Beginning to Use Figures Of Last Contest.

REVERSALS OF A DECADE

In 1896 Bryan on the Silver Wave Swept Utah as Completely as Did Roosevelt in 1904.

With the return of the Utah delegation from Denver the chapter of Utah's interest in convention towns is more or less completed, and the politicians are now turning their eyes from national platforms and candidates to the local problem of votes and nominees for the state tickets.

Already the dopster is in the field with his figures, and arguments from them that the election is sure to go in any one of a number of desired directions.

The election figures of the past few presidential campaigns illustrate well how uncertain it is to figure on an election by that which preceded it. Just three campaigns ago, in 1896, W. J. Bryan in Utah hardly left enough McKinley votes to make a showing. Two campaigns ago, in 1900, McKinley passed Bryan's vote only by a margin of 1,470, and in 1904 Roosevelt carried on his national voting wave a Utah majority over Bryan of 29,035.

The problem of guessing the probable result of the Bryan-Taft election next November then becomes one of estimating whether the pendulum will swing back towards the Bryan vote of 1896 or will deliver for Taft what is delivered for Roosevelt four years ago.

SOME ELIMINATIONS.

The elements figuring in former elections which are eliminated this time are the silver question, which solidified Utah for Bryan in 1896, and the problem of an international war, which brought sentiment for McKinley in 1900, just as his foreign policies resulting from the Spanish war were being put into effect. There still remains the problem of asserting the rights of the people in the government, against the incursions of big moneyed interests. In this problem, Roosevelt, Bryan and Taft have been fellow workers from almost the same point of view, with opinions varying only in detail. This renders the present situation an interesting one.

IN THE REPUBLICAN COLUMN WERE BEAVER, BOXELDER, CARBON, GARFIELD, KANE, MILLARD, MORGAN, PLUTE, RICH, SAMPEL, SALT LAKE, SEVIER, SUMMIT, UTAH AND WEBER.

LATEST RETURNS.

The last election held in Utah was in 1896 when Joseph Howell for re-election to Congress, received 42,569 votes to 27,021 cast for O. W. Powers, Democratic candidate, and 11,411 for Thomas Weir, "American" party candidate.

In this election the legislature went the most solidly Republican in its history, the senate being without a single Democrat and the house having eight.

In Cache county Herschell Bullen, Jr., received 3,331 to 2,957 cast for A. B. Barber, the former being the Republican candidate, in this one time Democratic stronghold. In Weber the Republican candidate led the Democratic 456, although Ogden, like Lagoon, has since elected a Democratic mayor.

In Utah county Henry Gardner, Republican, led James H. Clark, Democrat, by 809, for the state senate; but Utah county too has since given an example of a Democratic victory in city politics, to add zest to this year's figuring.

DEMOCRATIC MINIMUMS.

The eight counties which returned Democrats to the legislature in 1906 were Beaver, whose Democratic candidate, Tollen, led his Republican rival, Guay, by 13 votes; Emery, where Larsen led Seely by 45 votes; Iron, where Parry won with 21 votes over Lyman; Kane, with Meeks ahead of Brown 22 votes; San Juan, with Holt leading Jones 11 votes; Washington, in which Cortam defeated Hirsch by 95 votes; and Wasatch, where Giles was victor over Austin with a margin of one vote.

THE OUTLOOK.

With these figures for a basis the dopsters are beginning to figure eight members of the house as a Democratic minimum, and consider that they have a fighting chance, since the Logan, Ogden, Provo, and Park City Democrats city victories, at more than that many more. With Salt Lake county an "American" possibility, with its 13 members of the legislature to elect, this leaves the Republicans with an assurance that at least they have a fight ahead of them, and that the complexion of the legislature is a hard thing to forecast.

From now on speculation from previous figures will be practised along whatever curb politicians make their rendezvous, and both sides will no doubt find in those given reason for assurance that they have at least a chance.

These officers with Don Porter, Salt Lake, and Ed C. T. Meredith and George C. Carpenter, of Des Moines are the directors of the company. The Idaho state engineer and land board have approved of the plans and contracts for dam and ditches will be let next month.
