A Supposed Anarchist Plot to take the Life of Emperor William.

Fresh Military Preparations will be Proposed in Germany.

General Lew Wallace will Write a Sketch of Harrison's Life.

By Telegraph to the NEWS.]

WILLIAM AND THE CZAR

Will Meet at Kronstadt on the 14th.

BERLIN, June 30.—If the present arrangements looking to an interview between Emperor William II and the Czar come to a satisfactory conclusion the meeting will take place at Kronstadt on the 14th of July. Prince Bismarck, according to official opinion, will not accompany the Emperor. The prospective visit of the Emperor to the Czar is a personal matter and gives proof of a desire to maintain the friendship which has existed between the two reigning families for over 100 years and which is cemented by the ties of kinship. Doubtless the Emperor and the Czar will not meet without exchanging views on the political situation. Prince Bismarck, who goes to Friederichsruhe on Monday, was yesterday and today in long conference with the Emperor. It is reasonably surmised that he has been placing the Emperor in possession of his ideas as to what attitude to present during his interview with the Czar.

THE CHANCELLOR'S FURLOUGH,

it is understood at the foreign office, will extend until the middle of August. He is suffering from prolonged troubles and excitement. He has been in Berlin since the end of January, constantly at work and harassed by an incessant stream of worries.

AUSTRIA ALARMED.

Public opinion in Austria has grown alarmed at the reapproachment of the Emperors. It appears to dread the breaking up of the alliance, which event would leave Austria to face Russia alone. These fears are not shared by the Austro-Hungarian ministers. Apart from the assurances contained in Emperor William's speech from the throne, the communications between the Berlin and Vienna foreign offices point to the acquiescence of the Austrian government in the plan to permit Bismarck to resume the initiative in trying to obtain a modus vivendi between Russia and the central alliance. But whatever projects are broached at the interview between the Emperor and Czar nothing will be effected till subsequent interviews have taken place between Prince Bismarck, Signor Crispi and Count Kalnoky.

The Italian official organ says: The German, Austrian and Russian Emperors, if their foreign ministers can find no solution of the present differences will meet in Silesia during the autumn.

The Berlin Post, in semi-official articles, expresses doubts if anything will result from the conference with the Czar and says it does not wish to discourage the hopes of peace, but if war does come it will originate in international necessities and not by the ambition of the princes.

The sum of the position is, after an almost ceaseless coming and going of statesmen and crowned heads, that diplomacy will finally leave the nations to face the issues of war.

Much is whispered privately, though the press does not venture to openly refer to it, of against the life of the Emperor. The Berlin socialists declare the conspiracy is the invention of the police. Official circles take the affair seriously and the extraordinary increase in the precautions taken to guard the person of both the Emperor and Bismarck, suggest that the report has a solid basis. The present alarm arose in the information being received by the police from agents in Zurich and London simultaneously that among the Socialists recently expelled from Zurich, and now taking refuge in London, a plot to assassinate the Emperor has been perfected and that the conspirators armed with bombs had gone to Hamburg en route to Berlin. At the same time menacing letters reached Prince Bismarck and the Emperor warning them that the beginning of a reign of oppressing the people would be signalized by an act of retaliation. Arrests of suspects have been made at Hamburg, Leipzic, Berlin and elsewhere. The police watching the Chancellor's residence on Wilhelm street have been quadrupled. The official expectation is that the Emperor will authorize some striking severity against the Socialists. Every socialistic leader represents the report as a mere pretext for reactionary measures, besides being a gross misrepresentation of the Socialists. They have no desire to shorten the days of the Chancellor or the Emperor. They wish to pursue peaceful progress in the hope that the events in Emperor William's reign will tend naturally to develop their course.

THE ADMIRALTY.

Besides the retirement of Count Von Capri from the Admiralty, changes are about to be made in several other high commands. The Emperor displays a personal bias both in the choice of household officers and the weeding out of some of the oldest corps commander officials of the admiralty.

It is predicted from the plans being prepared, that there will be constructed first-class ironclads, with less expenditure on the torpedo plates.

According to the Tageblat, an increase in the Prussian civil list will be proposed.

VARIOUS CLUBS

Call upon Harrison, who in Response Talks of War Times.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 30.—A delegation representing the Marquette Club of Chicago, called on General Harrison this afternoon and presented a resolution congratulating him on securing the nomination, and pledging their honest efforts to elect him as President of the United States.

In the evening a body of veteran soldiers of the Union, not representing any particular organization, called at the general's residence to pay their respects.

In reply to an address of their spokesman, General Harrison spoke briefly, thanking them and saying there is no class whose confidence and respect he more highly prizes than that of the old soldiers.

"The fires in which our friendship were united and welded," said he "were too hot for the bond ever to be broken; no army was ever assembled in the world's history that gathered from a higher impulse than the army of the Union. We went, not as partisans, but as patriots into the strife which involved the national life. It was as great in its muster out as the brilliant work which had been done in the field. When the war was over, the soldiers were not left in the tavern; every man had in some humble place a chair by some fireside where he was loved, and towards which his heart went forward with a quick step. [Applause.] And so this great army had rallied for the defense and the preservation of the country, was disbanded without tumult or riot or any public disturbance. It covered the country with the mantle of its protection when it needed it, as the snows of spring cover early vegetation, and when the warm sun of peace shone upon it, it disappeared as the snow sunk in the earth, to refresh and vivify the summer's growth. They found their homes; they carried their brawn and intellect into all the pursuits of peace, to stimulate the land, and lift them up. They added their great impulse to that great wave of prosperity which has swept over our country ever since. [Applause.] But in nothing was the war greater than in that we led a race into freedom, and brought those whom we had conquered in struggle into the full enjoyment of restored citizenship and shared again with them the responsibilities and duties of a restored government." [Applause.]

Late in the evening the Harrison Club,

A COLORED ORGANIZATION,

called upon General Harrison, and in response to an address from the leader General Harrison said:

I have a sincere respect for and deep interest in the colored people of the United States. My memory goes back to the time when slavery existed in the Southern States. I have seen the progress which has been made in legislation relating to your race, and the progress that race itself has made since that day. I have lived not only to see that but to see the race emancipated and slavery extinct. Nothing gives me more pleasure among the great results of the war than that future historians will give a prominent place in the history of this great war to the fact that it resulted in making men free and gave to you equal civil rights. Nothing gives me so much gratification as a republican as to feel that in all the steps that led to this great result, the republican party sympathized with you, pioneered for you in legislation, and was made the architect of those great measures of relief which have so ameliorated your condition. I remember your faithfulness during the time of war. I remember your faithful services in the army. As we were advancing through an unknown country, we could always depend upon the faithfulness of the black man. Many a time, in the darkness of night, have those faithful men crept to our lines and given us information of the approach of the enemy. I rejoice in all you have accomplished since you have been free. Again I thank you for your presence here tonight, and will be glad to take by the hand any of you who may desire to see me." [Great applause.]

A LIFE OF HARRISON.

General Lew Wallace has undertaken the work of writing a sketch of General Harrison's life. It will be pushed as rapidly as possible and will be published by a Philadelphia house.

AT GETTYSBURG.

The Old Battlefield Presents a Stirring Appearance.

GETTYSBURG, July 1.—The streets are filled with masses of humanity. The ninth New York militia came at 8 o'clock. The members of the New York Excelsior Brigade arrived a little later and a veteran corps from Washington, D. C., came at about 12 o'clock. At about half past ten the veterans formed and marched to the National Cemetery where religious services were held. When Chaplain Sayreshal finished his sermon more than a thousand voices joined in singing "America." In the evening a dress parade was observed and it recalled most vividly the scenes of the battle. The camp presents tonight, with numerous electric lights, brilliantly illuminating it. At 3 o'clock the road to Reyn grove was crowded with carriages and pedestrians on the way to visit the corps. As the procession entered the woods, cannon of the U. S. light battery thundered forth a salute to Gov. Beaver. As the governor appeared, the crowd gave a cheer, such as these woods have not heard since the same day 25 years ago. Gov. Beaver then delivered an address of welcome, and ex-Governor John C. Robinson responded in behalf of the corps.

A CHARMING APPEARANCE

Frederick Smythe, war governor of New Hampshire, and L. A. Grant, who commanded the first Vermont brigade, made short addresses.

W. G. Veazy, who commanded the Sixteenth Vermont regiment made a stirring address, remarking that he was the worst scared man in the 75,000 who went into the battle of Gettysburg.

A Cable Car Casualty.

CHICAGO, July 1.—The grip car got beyond control and running at the rate of eight miles per hour, through the business part of the city, caused a lively scene, tonight, and resulted in three badly wrecked cars and many badly frightened women and children, and some severe contusions but no fatalities. As the Clark Street car came out of the tunnel going south the driver made an attempt to apply the brakes but without any effect as the strand of the car had wound itself around the grip and was moving the train at dangerous speed. Just ahead of this was the Wells Street train, filled with passengers. At Monroe Street the Wells Street train was struck and thrown in a heap into the gutter. Two blocks farther the train struck the curve at Dearborn Street, and the cars becoming disengaged from the strand ended their career by jumping the track. The passengers on the Well Street train were extricated and several were found to be badly injured. Mrs. Smith, of Wabash Avenue, had her side badly injured. Bessie Mitchell had her lower limbs crushed, and a score of others who refused to give their names, received minor cuts and bruises. The losses to the cable company will be about $10,000.

The Hamilton County Seat Fight.

CHICAGO, July 1.—A special from Topeka, Kansas, says: From information received by the Attorney General, it appears the County seat fight which has been waged in Hamilton County for two or three years past and which was thought would be settled at the election held Thursday, is in a worse shape than ever before. The excitement is intense and is likely to result in bloodshed. The election was held Thursday and the principal competitors for the county seat were Syracuse and Coolidge. The election was a very exciting one and there was a great deal of ballot box stuffing and fraudulent voting. The latest trouble grows out of the fact that there are two sets of county commissioners each claiming to be the lawfully elected board. The Syracuse election returns were returned to the Syracuse board of commissioners and the Coolidge and Kendall returns to the Kendall board. Syracuse canvassed and declared for Syracuse, the other declared for Coolidge. Two separate county governments have been established and there are now two sets of officers each claiming to be legally elected. No one is allowed to enter either town until he has proven satisfactorily he has no interest with the other town.

Count Kalnoki Retires.

VIENNA, July 1.—The Emperor Francis Joseph has granted the request of Count Kalnoky, the Austro-Hungary ambassador at London, to retire from active service. His majesty has conferred the cross of St. Stephen upon the Count and sent him an autograph letter in which he refers to the count's service in terms of warm praise.

A $50,000 Fire.

BRAINERD, July 1.—A fire late last night destroyed almost two blocks. The losses aggregate $50,000.

Boulanger Again.

PARIS, July 1.—Boulanger in accepting the presidency of the national revision committee for the Bouches Du Rhone department, writes: "The movement we have set becomes every day stronger and more marked. It is making serious progress throughout France. Have confidence. You are sure of success."

Another Double Tragedy.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Patnek Caffee, a worthless drunkard shot Miss Agnes Smith, in Jersey City, and then turned his pistol on himself. Both will die. Caffee, who has a wife and grown up child, was infatuated with Miss Smith.

BISMARCK ON THE PEACE OF EUROPE.

BERLIN, July 1.—The Kreuz Zeitung says: Prince Bismarck has induced Russia to abandon the idea definitely of making an alliance with France.

LONDON, July 1.—A Berlin correspondent of the Daily News says: Prince Bismarck in conversation with several members of the upper house of the Prussian Diet expressed his conviction that the peace would not be disturbed unless the other power provoked war. He had no such fear of Russia. He was firmly convinced the former difference between Germany and Russia would be completely settled. He wished he could feel the same confidence in France. In France he expected difficulties might happen at any time.

A Double Tragedy.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 1.—Last winter Dr. A. M. Alexander and Mrs. Ida Johnson, wife of a well-to-do dealer in agricultural implements, eloped, going to Mexico. At the time it was charged that Alexander was a forger, Johnson, in the course of time, secured a divorce, and Alexander and Mrs. Johnson, on hearing of this, stated that they had a marriage ceremony performed, but no proof to that effect has been offered. Alexander hearing of the charge of forgery against him, returned here in company with Mrs. Johnson to meet, and as he hoped, disprove it. In this he was unsuccessful, and today was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Johnson was one of the witnesses in the case, and during the trial showed on more than one occasion that he was laboring under strong excitement. Tonight he met his faithless wife in front of the Brunswick Hotel, and, drawing a revolver, fired three shots at her, inflicting wounds that will likely prove fatal. He then turned the weapon upon himself and sent a ball through his breast, which penetrated the lungs and will probably cause his death. A stray ball struck a by-stander named Long, a traveling man, inflicting a flesh wound. The shooting occurred on a crowded street, and caused a great sensation.

Sheridan's Removal.

FORTRESS MONROE, Va., July 1.—The steamer Swatara with General Sheridan on board arrived at 8 o'clock this forenoon. A board was sent ashore with a bulletin announcing the General had passed a comfortable day yesterday. He was somewhat restless during the night, probably on account of his new surroundings, but his general condition is satisfactory. Owing to the heavy swell outside from the effect of the recent storm, Capt. McGowan decided to remain here until tomorrow.

The beneficial effects of the sea on General Sheridan's condition is already apparent and his physicians are greatly pleased with the result of the trip thus far. His pulse is stronger and his mind is clearer than it has been since his illness. Mrs. Tydbal and others sent him a number of delicacies and a handsome boquet of flowers this afternoon.

The following bulletin was just received: "10 p.m.—Sheridan has had a very comfortable day, has rested well, and his symptoms are favorable. If the weather is pleasant the Swatara will sail at daylight tomorrow. Should a storm arise it will stop at the Delaware breakwater until it subsides."

The Programme in the Congress for the Ensuing Week.

WASHINGTON, July 1. — Monday's session of the Senate will be devoted to speechmaking. The river and harbor bill and the army appropriation bills are both in an unfinished state and will be disposed of in advance of any other legislative business. No other appropriation bills will be ready for consideration this week.

It is Senator Dolph's intention to press the coast defense bill during the week. It was the understanding when the House adjourned yesterday that the tariff debate would be suspended on Monday in order to allow the House to act upon several measures of public importance. On Tuesday a detailed consideration of the tariff bill will be resumed and will probably run through the week with a possible interruption in favor of public business.

The Iron Lockout.

PITTSBURG, July 1.—The great iron lockout which began yesterday presented no new features today further than the report of the signing of the amalgamated scale by another firm. The latest desertion from the ranks of the manufacturers was the Lookout Rolling Mill Co., of Chattanooga, Tenn. This makes eight firms that have signed the scale to date. The manufacturers, however, are as determined as ever, and there is no indication of a serious outbreak.

The Strength of the Republican Nominees.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 1.—Stephen B. Elkins has been here several days and is a guest of General Harrison. In speaking of the Chicago nominations, Elkins said that they had been received all over the country with even more enthusiasm than was expected. "The ticket," said Mr. Elkins, "is a growing one and will grow from the beginning. It has all the elements of strength apart from General Harrison's coming from a doubtful state. His life and character and public service furnish an excellent platform for the contest. "Elkins commented on the fact that New York continuously supported Harrison in the convention and said this action was a notice to the whole country, that he was the only man before the convention upon whom all the different factions in New York could be united and heal all sores. This of itself argues well for itself and gives hopes of success. It is generally believed that Senator Warner Miller is to be a candidate for Governor of New York. "Warner Miller," said Elkins, "will be unusually strong in New York in the country and so will General Harrison. In my opinion Harrison will largely increase the republican vote in the country districts in that state and will get a full party vote in New York City and Kings Co."

Elkins thought the chance of the republicans for carrying New Jersey and Connecticut were excellent, basing his opinion on the strength of the protective sentiment in those states. The northern and northwestern states he felt certain would be found in line with the party in November. He also believes there is a possibility of the republicans carrying West Virginia and that they have a fighting chance in Virginia.

Gladstone on the Copyright Agitation.

LONDON, July 1.—Gladstone, in a letter to Edinburgh regarding printing and allied trades says that he supports their agitation against the American copyright bill, but his public meddling as a politician at the present stage might tend to stimulate the jealousies and susceptibilities of American protectionism, thus injuring those who fight the battle of justice and good sense. Let us as politicians leave the case in the hands of the great American people. The agitation can make the case fully known and possibly they will find the government disposed to meditate.

Their Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at A. C. Smith & Co.'s Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted. (3)

Brace Up.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with Headache, you are fidgetty, nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whisky, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alterative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at A. C. Smith's Drug Store. (3)

NOTICE!

AS MANY OF OUR CUSTOMERS WHO HAVE PURCHASED MACHINES from us, have reported to us that agents and salesmen of other machines have told them that they will not be able to get extras for their machines or will have difficulty in getting them, we have to take this public method of informing ALL INTERESTED that said statements are FALSE in every particular, as we have a good supply of extras on hand for the Deering Binders and Mowers, also for the G & D & Warrior Mowers, and also for the Standard Reapers and Mowers, and propose to see that none of our patrons suffer for lack of the same. It is indeed a high compliment they pay to the machines sold by us, when they can find no defects to talk about, but a very poor compliment to their own machines when they have to lie about others in order to sell their own. It would be well for intending purchasers to be careful how they trade with those who attempt to deceive them. We still have the celebrated Deering All Steel Binders and New Deering Mowers for sale, and will sell them as low or lower than other machines in the market. Buy the Deering and be happy, for it pays to buy the best. NAYLOR & PIKE,
