

NEW TACK IN SHOCKLEY CASE.

Attorney For Condemned Man Expects to Get a New Trial For Client.

NOVEL POINT TO BE RAISED.

Jurisdiction of Judges of City Court in Matter of Preliminary Hearings Of Criminal Cases.

At the next hearing of the case of the State of Utah against James M. Shockley before the supreme court in February, the question of the jurisdiction of the judges of the city court in the matter of preliminary hearings of criminal cases will be raised and will be argued in full. It is hoped by Attorney H. A. Smith, who defended Shockley, to secure a new trial on that point.

Shockley was convicted of the murder of a street car man in this city and is now under sentence of death for the crime. It will be contended by his attorney that, according to the Constitution, the city judges have not the right to conduct preliminary hearings in cases of felonies and hence as Shockley's preliminary hearing was before one of said judges it was unconstitutional and of no effect and he should be given a new trial.

The authority relied upon by Atty. Smith is section 1, article 5 of the Constitution, which reads as follows: "The judicial power of the state shall be vested in the senate sitting as a court of impeachment, in a supreme court, in district courts and in such other courts as may be established by law."

This general provision in regard to judicial power is followed by a special provision in regard to the jurisdiction of the courts established, being section 21 of the same article, which is as follows: "Judges of the supreme court, district courts and justices of the peace shall be conservators of the peace, and may hold preliminary examinations in cases of felonies."

It is a rule that where a general provision appears in the Constitution relative to powers and is followed by a special provision limiting such powers, the special provision prevails. It will be argued by the defense that by reason of the fact that the special provision did not specifically provide for other courts by the framers of the constitution that such newly established courts should have jurisdiction over preliminary hearings in cases of felonies and hence the justices of the peace have such power but the judges of the city court have not.

The fact that the provisions of the Constitution are mandatory and prohibitory unless otherwise specifically stated therein is also relied upon as a strong point in favor of the contention of the attorney for defendant. In regard to the construction of the Constitution with respect to the question raised, the question is an interesting and important one and will be closely watched by the members of the bar and the general public.

On Trial for Robbery.

J. E. Driscoll is on trial before a jury in Judge Armstrong's division of the district court today upon the charge of robbery. The information charges that Driscoll and one C. D. Bash held up and robbed Anthony Vidick of $50 and a watch and chain on the night of Oct. 5, 1904. Bash was tried during the last term of court and was convicted and is now serving a term of three years for the crime. He was brought in from the state prison today to testify against Driscoll. Dist. Atty. Loofbourou is prosecuting the case and Attorney McMurfin and Guthrie are defending Driscoll.

Estate of Heber Goddard.

A petition for letters of administration of the estate of Heber S. Goddard, deceased, has been filed in the probate division of the district court today by Mrs. Mattie K. Goddard, who asks to be appointed administratrix of the estate, which consists of real and personal property of the value of $5,000. The petition will be heard by Judge Armstrong on Jan. 23. The decedent died in this city on Dec. 15, 1904, after a short illness of only two days' duration.

Condemnation Verdict

The jury in the condemnation suit of the Great Salt Lake Reclamation company against John Halling et al., which has been on trial in Judge Lewis' court for the past two days, have returned a verdict in favor of defendants for the sum of $300 and costs of the land condemned and $1,850 damages to the adjoining property by reason of such condemnation. The tract of land condemned consists of 62 acres located near the city of Salt Lake, and is bounded by the city of Salt Lake on the west and by the city of Salt Lake on the east. At the former trial of the case the amount of the judgment in favor of defendants was $1,400, but this was unsatisfactory to the railroad company which moved for a new trial and the same was granted with the result that the judgment was increased a considerable sum.

$50,000 DAMAGE SUIT.

Widow and Daughters Sue Bingham Copper & Gold Mining Co.

The Bingham Copper and Gold Mining company was made defendant in a $50,000 damage suit filed in the district court this afternoon, by Sarah Nelson and Marcella M. and Ellen A. Nelson who ask judgment in the above sum for the death of Erick Nelson, the husband and father of plaintiffs who was killed while in the employ of the defendant's smelter July 15, 1904. It is alleged that while Nelson was pursuing his regular duty at the smelter, an electric wire became loosened from the ceiling of the room in which he was working, and fell striking Nelson and killing him instantly.

JURY SAYS NOT GUILTY.

In the Case of May Anderson, Alleged Shoplifter, Accused of Larceny.

The case of the city vs. May Anderson, alias Bell Fisher, the alleged shoplifter, charged with petit larceny, was begun in Judge Diehl's court late yesterday afternoon, and was continued this morning, when the case went to the jury, and a verdict of not guilty was returned within 15 minutes.

Several days ago, according to the complaint, the woman entered Walker Bros' store and purloined a coat. She was caught before she could leave the premises and was turned over to the police, who took her to the city jail. Her attorney, Soren X. Christensen, did not offer any defense beyond the argument that the woman did not "steal, take and carry away," as the complaint read, but that she merely took the coat and then returned it, and he denied that there was any intent to steal.

BESSIE LAPLANT ALLEGES CRUELTY

Sues for Divorce Because She is Atraid to Live With Husband.

YET ANOTHER UNHAPPY WIFE.

Mrs. Blanche L. Conrod Seeks Freedom from Her Husband Who Deserted Her.

Cruelty is the ground upon which Bessie B. LaPlant asks a divorce from Napoleon P. LaPlant, whom she married in Florence, Colo., on Feb. 21, 1900. In her complaint which was filed in the district court today, she alleges that defendant has an ungovernable temper and frequently goes into a violent rage without cause during which she is cruelly struck and has on various occasions struck her and otherwise mistreated her. She alleges that his conduct towards her has become worse and she fears for her personal safety while living with him. She asks for costs of suit and attorney's fees, and that her former name, Mrs. Bessie B. Sweet, be restored to her.

CONDUCTOR DESERTED HER.

Blanche L. Conrod filed suit for divorce in the district court today against Albert E. Conrod on the grounds of desertion and failure to support. They were married in this city on May 10, 1887, and have three children. The complaint alleges that defendant deserted his wife and children on Oct. 11, 1899, and left them in destitute circumstances and has ever since failed to support them, notwithstanding the fact that he is capable of earning $150 per month. She asks to be awarded the custody of their minor children and a reasonable sum of alimony and attorney's fees.

FEDERAL COURT.

Arguments in the case of Field vs. the Daily-Judge Mining company on trial in the federal court, were concluded at 12:15 today. Atty. H. A. Smith and Judge J. E. Erick argued on behalf of the plaintiff, and Judge Andrew Howat speaking for the defense. Court then adjourned until 2 p. m., at which time the jury was charged by Judge Marshall, and retired.

In this case, Mrs. Hopper and her children are suing the mining company for $25,000 damages for the death of their husband and father at Park City a few months ago. The deceased was riding on a truck, which was run down by a runaway ore train, and he was killed.

MANY ABSENTEES.

House Called to Order With Some Out-of-Town Members Away.

The house was called to order this afternoon with many of the out-of-town members absent. After the calling of the roll and prayer by the chaplain, the clerk read the journal of the previous day, eliminating the reading of the minutes of the board of education.

Rule 15, which had been amended by the clerk without the consent of the house, caused some discussion, and a motion by Mr. Roberts to permit the rule to stand as printed, was objected to and the matter was deferred for future action.

H. B. No. 17, introduced by Mr. Parter, amends section 24 of chapter 133, laws of 1903, relating to the protection of fish, game and birds, making said section read as follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any person, in any year to kill, take, shoot, trap, snare, entrap or have in his possession any gull, owl, lark, whippoorwill, thrush, swallow, snowbird, robin, kahlo meiser, mourning dove or any other insectivorous or song bird, game animal, or young of said or destroy the nests, eggs or young of said protected birds mentioned in this section."

Another bill by Mr. Roberts amends section 1905 of the Revised Statutes relating to the composition of members of boards of education and fixing it at a sum not to exceed $100 per annum. The bill also provides that no member shall take a contract or engage in any business or profession for which shall be made from the school funds.

Mr. Roberts this afternoon introduced a bill amending section 1897 of the Revised Statutes, relating to the qualifications of members of boards of education and providing that such members shall take the oath and give a bond of $1,000 to be approved by the county clerk before entering upon the duties of his office.

The gentleman from Cache also has in contemplation a bill establishing high schools in all cities of the first, second and third class, and eliminating the preparatory department in the University of Utah and Agricultural college. The bill appropriates $25,000 for this purpose, $8,000 to go to cities of the first class, $8,000 to cities of the second class and the balance to be divided pro rata among cities of the third class. The bill is a very important one, and is in direct line with movement started at the University some time ago.

LEGISLATIVE GOSSIP.

A 10 o'clock now adorns the west wall of the lower house.

A dictionary is one of the indispensable adjuncts of the house chamber.

"To undo undue legislation" will be Harry Joseph's motto during the session.

Most of the out-of-town members will spend Sunday at their respective homes.

Chaplain Hess evidently believes that short prayers are just as effective as long ones.

The house is unlike a stenographer in this, that it refuses to take dictation from the senate.

Senator Peter Clegg left for his home in Tooele this morning at 8 o'clock. He will be back Monday.

The matter of bounties on wild animals will doubtless receive some attention during the session.

Representative Joseph expects a bitter fight on his bill providing for a general mine inspector.

There is a disposition on the part of many to have closely to the lines drawn in the governor's message.

Rep. C. S. Kinney of Salt Lake is said to be slated for the chairmanship of the committee on judiciary.

Being an old newspaperman himself, Chief Clerk Vignu is not slow to extend the usual courtesies to the profession.

Representative Thompson wants it distinctly understood that he is not a sheepman, reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

SHORT SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

Senate Met This Afternoon Merely for the Purpose of Adjournment.

COUNTRY MEMBERS ABSENT.

Bill by Roberts Relating to Qualifications of Members of the Board of Education.

The senate met today, at 2 o'clock merely for the purpose of recording a session and adjourning, in compliance with the letter of the law which forbids an adjournment for more than three days without consent of the house. The session was an alternative, in preference to accepting a favor of the lower branch of the Legislature that would place them under any obligations to it. While the house assembly room was filled with members an hour before it convened, not a senator was in the senate chamber until a few minutes before the hour of calling the session to order. The president's gavel called the senate into session with barely a quorum present. They were Senators Bennion, Bamberg, Hertz, Williams, Lewis, Hollingsworth, McKay and Love. All of these members are from points near to Salt Lake or points too far away to allow of their going home for the recess, which will be eight days long. In the absence of a regular chaplain, who left this morning for Tooele county, Senator McKay officiated.

An announcement that caused some surprise was made by Senator Lewis, who stated that Senator Lewis had requested to be relieved from the commitments on which he was serving. The president announced that the vacancies would be filled Monday. The senate adjourned at 2:30 until Monday at 2 p. m.

SINGING CLASS.

Ensign Stake Sunday School Board Has Organized One for Children.

The Ensign Stake Sunday school board has organized a singing class for the children living in the respective wards of their stake, and the opening session will begin Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, in the Twentieth ward assembly hall. The object of this class is to teach the children the Sunday school songs so that singing can become one of the important factors in cultivating the proper religious and reverent spirit in Sunday schools.

Mrs. Oles Shipp, who is teaching in her line, will have charge of the class. Miss Shipp has also studied in the conservatory of music in Ann Arbor university, and has been pronounced a capable teacher in her line. The course of study, which begins tomorrow, will last for twelve weeks.

Meloy; advocate, Michael Phelan; trustee, Thomas Murray; inside guard, J. J. Keeney; outside guard, E. G. Miller.

There is more snow coming, according to the predictions of the local weather bureau, as there is a low barometric area approaching from the California coast, where it is raining, and snow is falling in the highest part of the one hundred and fifth meridian. Considerable of a snowfall is expected along this meridian. It was a day of low thermometers yesterday, over a large part of the country, the lowest being 23 below zero at Winnipeg, and along the Mississippi valley it was not much higher.

A TILL TAPPER.

Joseph Leiter was in New York the other day. He lunched at a fashionable restaurant.

During luncheon the subject of widows rose, and on this interesting topic many original ideas were expressed. Mr. Leiter said:

"Some widows are to be pitied. Others, again, are to be felicitated. My father used to describe a widow of the latter sort.

"She lived in Maryland, she kept a little village store. Her husband was a worthless fellow. He never worked, and he drank a great deal. A worthless fellow, I repeat, but nevertheless, when he died suddenly, many persons made calls of sympathy and condolence on the widow.

"My father did not call, but one day, stopping at the store to buy some trifle or other, he thought it was no more than right to say 'feeling no more sympathy for you, I will not call on you.' You must miss your husband a great deal, madam.

"Well, etc., said the widow, 'it does seem strange to some into the shop and find something in the till.'" of work from now on for every senator. There is considerable speculation as to the personnel of the house committee, especially in regard to the matter of careful consideration, so as to be fair with all members. The committee will likely be named on Monday next.

A canvass of house members reveals the fact that Representative McClister, Salt Lake is the youngest man in that body, being 26 years of age Dec. 23 last. Next in order come Representatives Stringham and Kuehler, who are safely this side of 20.

With the house casting temptation before it and deciding to get every "needful" thing that doesn't cost over $2.50 per from the state, and the senate carefully hurrying temptation far behind it, the first war of the branches is on.

Senator Bennion is not going home for the remainder of the remaining days of this week. He only lives 250 miles away, and "half of this by wagon, so that he doesn't feel quite in the mood to run out home as some of his brother senators have done.

The senators from the outside districts are settling down at permanent homes in Salt Lake for the session. Senator Hadden Bennion will live at 227 west Third North street; Senator Barber at 1500 South Second; Senator Callister at 2555 University street; Senator Johnson at the White House, and Senator Larsen at the Falls.

While it is a little early in the session to determine the qualifications of the respective members of the house, it is plain to be seen that Tolson, of the Democratic minority, is well to the fore as a parliamentarian. Several times during the week he has very properly corrected members who were out of order.

Representatives Luther and Wilson are two members of the house who are thought to bear something of a resemblance to each other. At least the artist of the Christmas "News" got them badly mixed in placing their names under their respective pictures in that issue. Mr. Luther's portrait bearing the name of Mr. Wilson and vice versa. The "News" regrets the circumstance, but as both gentlemen are equally good looking, there is really no apology due to either.

The pen alone is mightier than the sword, and when a pen and a knife join forces they apparently are mightier than the Legislature. Yesterday the first fight between the senate and the house and between individual members of the house occurred over just a little pen and knife with a few 15-cent caps-pens thrown in. For a time it threatened to degenerate into a regular war with Harry Joseph to the rescue the ship of state steered out of the storm and the hurricane emptied itself upon the contingent committee.

DAILY GRAIN LETTER.

Meers, Logan-Bryan of Chicago telegraph their local correspondents, James A. Pollock & Co., over their private wire, on the grain and provision situation, as follows:

Chicago, Jan. 12.—Wheat—Trade today has been dull and nervous, but with a very steady market. The sharp rallies from the break in early trading, and the tightness of the situation and as we have contended for some time, also reflects the oversold condition of the trade. The market continues very sensitive to any hint of buying demand. Manipulation has been charged to the bull interest, but it is a singular fact that our market is relatively the cheapest market in the country. The contract stocks in all primary markets are small with absolutely no hope of increasing them. Under these conditions we cannot hope to receive from other primary markets a bid that will raise contract. It is a scarce article in all markets, and holders are not anxious to part with it. The decrease in stocks is another factor of strength to the situation, resulting in an improvement in the speculative demand. The action of the market looks strong to us and we continue to feel the big holders of wheat have the better end of the argument.

Corn—A feature of this market has been the selling at times heavy of a prominent cash and elevator concern, leaving the trade under the impression that they had been liquidating corn for some little time back. Trade continues very quiet, and within a very narrow range. We still feel the immediate course of prices will depend altogether on the result of a scalping affair.

Oats—Trade light and featureless. We continue to feel it is a slow scalping affair.

Provisions—This market continues to be ruled by the packers and we doubt very much if any sustained improvement can take place until they change their present unfriendly attitude toward the speculative market. It still looks to us like a scalping affair.

AFTERNOON ON 'CHANGE.

May Day, New York and Wash were the only stocks sold during the regular call of the mining exchange this afternoon, as follows: New York, 100 at 93; New York, 100 at 47; 100 at 45; 100 at 46; 100 at 45; 100 at 2.10; 100 at 2.12.
