The Utah delegation will join with the idaho representatives in ask-but for government aid in building the highway and the government will be asked to build a road between Poca-tella and Hlackfoot across the Fort Hall Indian reservation. Orson H. Howlett made a trip over this part of the country recently in an automobile and the is erthustastic over the proposi-tion of a highway. He suid: "With this piece of samdy road cleared away and other connecting mades in Utah and Idaho repaired and keated away and other connecting mades in good condition, we will have an excellent highway to the Yellow-tone. With good roads there will be no mode of travel between Sait bake and the perk that will be more delightful, and there is sure to be an immense amount of iravel, over such a road."

portor's quick wit. We in the Pull-man cars," he said, "knew nothing of the attempted hold-up until we were eroused by the dynamits explosion. At the same time Alonze came running through the cars shouting 'We are held up. Climb intof your berths and hide your valuables. As he went through the cars he turned out the lights throwing the cars into darkness, and then when he got to the rear end of the train, with presence of mind he lighted the red signal iamps that had been put out by the high waymen. This probably prevented a collision as there was a train behind us. The fact that the lights had been put out no doubt kept the robbers from coming into the cars, as they would hardly want to take chances in the dark."

As an appreciation of the porters work the passengers prepared and signed a letter addressed to W.H. We have given the public "much talk" of late regarding diamonds and how and where to buy them and we have in a modest way claimed the right to be recognized as leaders in our craft as diamond merchants.

Talk however is cheap (anyone can buy space in the newspaper) and to show our sincerity we will put on display this week in our north window some of our jeweled wares and invite the inspection and criticism of the public.

The display will be left in the window under guard until 10 P. M. every night until Sep't 25th. and as it is for the purpose of showing you that the diamond center of the West is at Leysons we shall expect you.

Our wares in all departments are not selected at random but instead every piece is here because of exceptional design or quality and our prices are based on true merit.
