

INAUGURATION OF GOV. C. E. HUGHES

No Panacea for All Society's Ills
In Legislative Action, He Declares.

NO EXCUSE FOR INACTIVITY.

Many of Evils Complained of Have
Their Source in the Law Himself.

Albany, Jan. 1.—Charles E. Hughes was today inaugurated as governor of New York in the presence of a large number of men and women representing the various cities of the state. The ceremonies at the capitol occupied little more than half an hour.

Bishop Burke, Roman Catholic, delivered a prayer at the opening of the proceedings which closed with a benediction pronounced by Bishop Doane, Protestant Episcopal.

The oath of office was administered by Secy. of State Whalen, following which came the address of welcome by the retiring governor to the incoming governor and the response of the latter, both brief. The inauguration was preceded by a parade of various companies and commands of the Third brigade, National Guard of New York.

GOV. HUGHES' WELCOME.

The retiring governor, Francis W. Higgins, in welcoming his successor, said: "Upon the shoulders of the chief executive of this state must rest heavy burdens, imposed by constitutions and customs. To execute the laws, to recommend wise measures of legislation, to exercise power with judgment and discretion, to defend the liberties and enforce the rights of 8,600,000 people, these are duties which try the mental, moral and physical strength to the utmost. To this high office, the people of the state repose well deserved confidence in your independence, patriotism, ability and integrity, have called you."

"I welcome you and wish you God-speed."

GOV. HUGHES' ADDRESS.

Gov. Hughes, after a few words of compliment to the administration of Gov. Higgins, addressed himself to his "fellow citizens," saying in part:

"We have reason to congratulate ourselves that coincident with our prosperity there is an emphasis of popular rights and a keen resentment of public wrongs. There is no panacea in legislative action for all the ills of society which spring from the frailties and defects of the human nature of its members. But this furnishes no excuse for complacent inactivity and no reason for toleration of wrongs made possible by the defective or inadequate legislation, or by administrative partiality or inefficiency."

"Whether or not we have laws enough, we certainly have enough of ill-considered legislation and the question is not as to the quantity but as to the quality of our present and our proposed enactments."

"Slowly but surely the people have narrowed the opportunities for selfish aggression and the demand of this hour and of all hours is not allegiance to phrases but sympathy with every aspiration for the betterment of conditions and sincere and patient effort to understand every need and to ascertain in the light of experience the means best adapted to meet it. It is the capacity for such close examination without heat or disqualifying prejudice which distinguishes the constructive effort from vain endeavors to change human nature by changing the forms of government.

"It must freely be recognized that many of the evils of which we complain have their source in the law itself, in privileges carelessly granted, in opportunities for private aggrandizement at the expense of the people recklessly created in failure to safeguard our public interests by providing means for regulation of those enterprises which depend on the use of public franchises. Wherever the law gives unjust advantage, wherever it falls by suitable prohibition or regulation to protect the interests of the people, wherever the power derived from the state is turned against the state, there is not only room but urgent necessity for the assertion of the authority of the state to enforce the common right."

"We are a government of laws and not of men. We subordinate individual caprice to defined duty. The essentials of our liberties are expressed in constitutional enactments removed from the risk of temporary agitation. But the security of our government, despite its constitutional guarantees, is found in the intelligence and public spirit of its citizens and its ability to call to the work of administration men of single minded devotion to the public interests, who make unselfish service to this state a point of knightly honor."

"It is my intention to employ my constitutional powers to this end. I believe in the sincerity and good sense of the people. I believe that they are intent in having government which recognizes no favored interests and which is not conducted in any part for selfish ends. They will not be and should not be content with less."

LAWS EFFECTIVE TODAY.

Washington, Jan. 1.—Today marks the beginning of the life of several legislative acts of Congress. Among them is the free alcohol law, the pure food law, the anti-pass section of the interstate commerce law, the modification of the navigation laws to simplify enrollments and licenses and a law with reference to the licensing of druggists in the District of Columbia.

CONDITIONS IN THE PHILIPPINES

lars for new waterworks and sewer system for the city of Manila have already been awarded to American capital; contracts have likewise been awarded to Americans for the construction of two immense steel and cement wharves or piers at Manila; large lumber concerns have been inaugurated and are carried on in different parts of the islands by Americans; and are seizing considerable portions of business for both imported and domestic lumber. The largest private stationery and printing establishment in the islands is in the hands of Americans; the second largest establishment in the world for the manufacture of coconut products is doing business in the islands under American control and with American capital; one of the largest importing and exporting houses in the archipelago has, under American management and with American capital, already captured a most formidable portion of current business.

AMERICAN PROFESSIONAL MEN.

American lawyers, physicians, dentists and merchants are found in every direction; an aggregation of American capital has given a tremendous impetus to the most important product of the islands—abaca or manila hemp, which has no rival in the markets of the world—by absorbing several of the older and larger companies and the use of new appliances which American skill and capital are bringing to bear; whatever development has been made in the mining industry has been by rugged and hardy Americans backed by American capital; the American newspaper men are also found in considerable numbers, enterprising there, as at home, as an important factor in shaping the public sentiment in the islands.

American enterprise has not taken its proper place in water transportation between the islands, yet such capital is not wanting, and one company is now making a success. Many varieties of useful and valuable machinery for saving labor and increasing production have already been introduced by Americans, and this is a growing business. The unoccupied field is still large, and will furnish for many years to come an outlet for surplus energy and money of citizens of the United States to the benefit both of themselves and of the inhabitants of the islands.

REFUND OF DUTIES ON EXPORTS.

The commission renews its recommendation for a repeal of the act of Congress providing for the refund of duties paid on articles exported from the islands to the United States and consumed therein, and states that the reasons which led it heretofore to recommend the repeal of that provision are still operative, and that the people feel that they are being exploited for the benefit of certain interests in the United States. It is pointed out that since the passage of the act on March 8, 1902, down to June 30, 1906, there has been taken from the comparative poverty of the insular treasury, to be delivered directly into the hands of the manufacturers of cordage and other users of Philippine hemp in the United States for their enrichment $1,471,296.47. As the cordage interests are struggling, it is stated that legislation which takes money directly from the one and passes it over to the other is not founded on sound principles of political econ-

Doctors, but Got No Relief—Now
Cured and Is Very

PROUD OF HAVING TRIED
CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I had eczema on my hands for about eleven years. The hands cracked open in many places and bled. One of my fingers was so bad that the nail came off. I had often heard of cures by the Cuticura Remedies, but had no confidence in them as I had tried so many remedies, and they all had failed to cure me. I had seen three doctors, but got no relief. Finally my husband said that we would try the Cuticura Remedies, so we got a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment, and two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent Pills. Of course I keep Cuticura Soap all the time for my hands, but the one cake of Soap and half a box of Cuticura Ointment cured them. It is surely a blessing for me to have my hands well, and I am very proud of having tried Cuticura Remedies, and recommend them to all suffering with eczema. Mrs. Eliza A. Wiley, R. F. D. 2, Liscomb, Iowa, Oct. 18, 1906."

"My husband got a blood disease from wearing woolen underwear. He was all full of pimples, and he had an awful itching. He took a good many so-called blood remedies, and nothing did him good. Then we saw in a newspaper about Cuticura Remedies, and they cured him after using in all two sets of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent, and now I wouldn't do without Cuticura Soap. omy or of simple justice to the Filipinos.

LANDS FOR FILIPINOS.

Under the present law of Congress not more than 40 acres of land may be sold from any portion of the public domain to one individual, and not more than 2,500 acres to any association or corporation. These limitations are stated to have been undoubtedly to secure to the Filipinos solely the right to occupancy of public lands, but it is pointed out that however beneficent the purposes that were in the minds of the legislators when these limitations were imposed, the practical effect has been to prevent the development of agricultural industry on a large scale. The Filipino is not migratory like the American and will not disrupt local ties to seek larger facilities, better lands or greater opportunities for enriching himself in other localities, for which reason the islands have many acres of fertile land absolutely unoccupied.

PLENTY OF LAND.

Assurance is given that there is abundant land for the use of all the capital that can be coaxed into the islands, with limitations fairly liberal, and still leave more land for the Filipinos than can be occupied by them for hundreds of years. The people have not the means of engaging in large industries, and the report states that it would be the greatest of boons if the lands could be more largely occupied and developed and an example furnished to the inhabitants of what modern appliances and modern methods of cultivation will do, and on opportunities be thus furnished for the employment of a large number of natives. This recommendation is urgently repeated that the limit which any corporation or association may acquire be increased to 25,000 acres.

CAPTAINS OF INDUSTRY.

Are to Meet Workmen's Representatives at Mrs. Potter Palmer's.

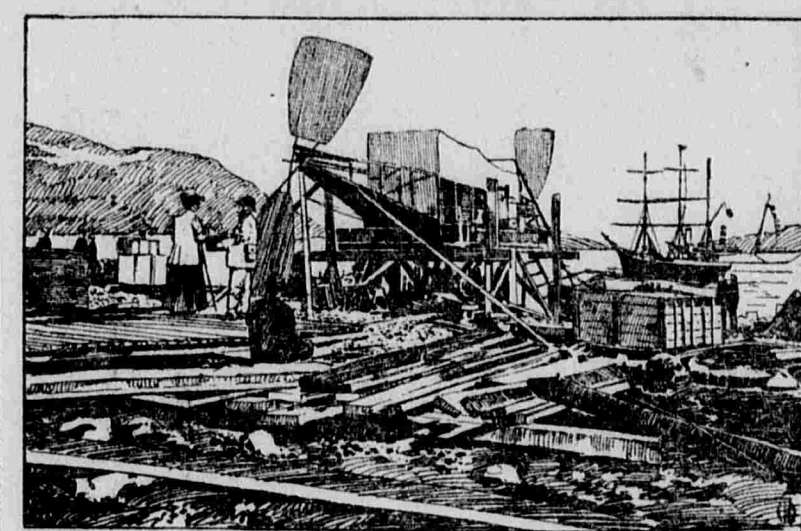

Chicago, Jan. 2.—Captains of industry and representatives of organized workmen are to meet in joint conference in the residence of Mrs. Potter under the auspices of the National Civic federation. It is expected that its president, August Belmont, will be in attendance.

At the annual meeting of the National Civic federation in New York three weeks ago, Mrs. Palmer offered the use of her residence and invitations are to be sent out today to about 300 employers of labor and an equal number of representative union men.

It is hoped by the Civic Federation members that the meeting will be a great success and that one of its fruits will be the establishment in Chicago of a branch of the national association, such as has been established recently in Boston.

When the project was first broached a few days ago, it was feared that labor men might refuse to attend, because of the fact that the meeting was to be held in Mrs. Palmer's home on the Lake Shore drive. The more conservative of the labor leaders have been approached on the subject and they have declared that they are willing to meet representative employers in any place if the meeting will have a tendency to bring about a better understanding.

LATEST VIEW OF WELLMAN'S FLIER.

The cut is from the latest photograph of the flying machine with which Walter Wellman and his associates expect to journey northward in search of the pole. The flier will be stored in a shed at Spitzbergen for the winter. When the picture was taken this shed was in process of construction. The Frithjof is standing out in the bay.

MISSIONARY MOVEMENT IN METHODIST CHURCH.

New York, Jan. 1.—Announcement was made today of a new missionary movement in the Methodist church, which is said to be the most important thing the church has undertaken in 50 years. The church papers this week will tell the world that the foreign missionary and home missionary departments of the church have been separated and the home missionary society created an independent body. Since the formation of a missionary society in the Methodist church the two departments have been in one society, the funds being devoted according to a rule fixed by a general conference. For some time it has been apparent to the church dignitaries that the home missionary field was growing in importance and with the year 1907 the home field will be relatively as important in its standing in church councils as the foreign missionary field. It is planned to raise $1,000,000 for use in the home field.

To further the project it has been decided to establish a new church paper as the organ of the home missionary. The publication office will be at Philadelphia. The name of the paper will be the Christian Republic.

PROSPECTOR FOUND DEAD.

Butte, Mont., Jan. 1.—A special to the Miner from Helena says: Robert Mills, a pioneer prospector of Montana, who worked for Marcus Daly and was his personal friend, was found dead today in his cabin near Silver. Death was due to natural causes. Guarding the body was Mills' dog, which had been on duty four days. When the door was opened, the animal bounded in and leaped on the frozen body and then with a wild howl dashed out of doors. When the body was brought to Helena the animal followed it, howling mournfully all the way, a distance of 16 miles.
