Examined by P. O. Committee.

WASHINGTON, 1.—The House committee on post offices and post roads, to-day, examined J. L. Sanderson, of the firm of Barlow & Sanderson, formerly Barlow, Sanderson & Co., western mail contractors. He testified that he never made a straw bid, never caused one to be put in, and had no knowledge that any member of the firm ever had one; he never paid money, or made a present to a post office official, nor never knew of any member of the firm doing such a thing. Being questioned in reference to the testimony recently given by S. A. Danforth, of Chicago, Sanderson declared that nearly all of Danforth's assertions were absolutely false. Witness never knew till he read the newspaper report of Barlow's testimony of payments being made by Barlow for buying off other bidders, nor of the manner in which the firm had been blackmailed. Barlow had, however, repeated to witness the statement contained in his (Barlow's) testimony, that he had never paid any money, or made any present, directly or indirectly, to any Government official.

Bell Assailed.

C. S. Bell, who yesterday testified before the committee on expenditures in the War Department was to-night assailed by a man named Molliere, in a hotel in this city. Bell was seated in the hotel when Molliere arrived, who walking up to him struck him on the head with a cane. The parties were separated, and Molliere left the hotel.

The Emma Mine Patent — Postal Agreement Ratified—Bank Failed.

The records of the land office show that the patent for the Emma mine was issued on the 24th of Aug., 1871, in regular office hours, and in accordance with papers properly prepared, and such as are duly required in all cases of issuing patents for mineral lands.

The Post Office Department, to-day, received notice of the ratification by the Japanese Government of the additional postal agreement, concluded between the United States and Japan; the agreement goes into effect to-day.

The Security Bank of this city closed to-day, and will go into liquidation; its liabilities are about $100,000, of which $53,000 is due depositors.

General Rice Examined.

General Rice, a Washington attorney, whose name has figured so prominently in connection with obtaining post traderships from General Belknap, was examined to-day before the sub-committee of the committee of the judiciary. He gave a history of four post traderships in Texas and New Mexico, which he procured for various parties; the compensation varied. From one person he got $2,000, from another $5,000, from a third he got half of the net profits, and from a fourth he got one-third of the net profits. He and Belknap had been residents of Keokuk, Iowa, had served together in the war, and were on friendly and intimate terms, hence his success in getting those appointments. He denied that General Belknap knew anything of the money which he received for these appointments, or that he had ever given or loaned him money, except to some trifling amount, which had been always repaid. He had never given him any presents, except perhaps some wine and cigars, and a small wedding present to his wife.

They Deny Bell's Testimony.

Babcock, Lockey, and Bradley pronounce the statement of detective Bell, given to-day before the committee on expenditures in the War Department, as a tissue of falsehoods from beginning to end; they denounce Bell as utterly unworthy of belief, and say that they have been aware for some time that he has been trying to dispose of this same story to any one who would become a purchaser.

Evidence in the Belknap Case—Army Headquarters.

The evidence in the Belknap case is being prepared by the District Attorney for presentation to the grand jury, and it is probable that an indictment will be found soon.

It is believed that an order restoring the army headquarters to this city will be issued early next week.

Impeachment Managers Chosen.

A special from Brownsville, dated April 1st., says that to-day, a naval force steamed up, to be ready for the protection of American citizens in Matamoras. Dias is on the edge of the town, and an attack is expected.

Land Office Decisions.

The General Land office has decided as follows—Where a patent issues for a lode which crosses a lode already patented, the surface ground in conflict is excepted from the second patent, and the ore at the space of the intersection of the two lodes belongs to the first location, whether it was patented first or second. The second location carries the right of way through the intersection. It is also decided that the selection of land by a state under the swamp acts establishes a prima facie case in favor of the state, which may be controverted at a hearing before the local land officers. A party who has received a patent for a certain tract of land so selected by a state may relinquish the same and receive his money back upon presenting his affidavit, corroborated by two witnesses, showing the swampy character of such tract. The department also holds that a party who went upon land reserved under a railway grant, with assurances from the company that he could purchase it of them, was not wrong fully upon the land when the department decided that it was not included within the reservation to the company, and has ordered the same restored to settlement; where the pre-emptor is living upon and cultivating such tract of land, no specific act is necessary to constitute a new settlement, or of the restoration thereof to market.

Immense Frauds on the Customs.

SAN FRANCISCO, 1.—There is a statement, which is authorized on semi-official authority, that frauds on the customs, amounting to from five to seven millions per year, have been perpetrated here; a large proportion of the smuggling is by way of Panama, dutiable merchandize being ostensibly shipped from here to New York and vice versa, but on the arrival of the steamer at Panama other packages are substituted containing goods answering the description in the manifest. Our informant also states that large amount of Mexican wool enter the country free from duty, being landed on Catalina Island, off the southern coast, where there is a fine harbor and no customs officers; it is thence shipped here, as the product of the Island. He estimates that by these and other means the Government is annually defrauded of nearly fifty per cent. of the revenue.

Dead.

LONDON, 2.—Ex-Deputy Lobbia died at Rome yesterday; an attempt to assassinate him excited all Italy some years ago.

'I'LL NO TRUST YE.'—Two centuries ago it was thought an insult in the Highlands of Scotland to ask a note from a debtor. It was considered the same thing as saying 'I doubt your honor.' If parties had business matters to transact, the stepped into the air, fixed their eyes upon the heavens, and each repeated his obligation with no mortal witness. A mark was then carved on some rock or tree near by as remembrance of the compact. Such a thing as breach of contract was rarely met with, so highly did the people regard their honor. When the march of improvement brought the new mode of doing business they were often pained by these innovations. An anecdote is handed down of a farmer who had been to the Lowlands and learned worldly wisdom. On returning to his native parish he had need of a sum of money, and made bold to ask a loan from a gentleman of means named Stewart. This was kindly granted, and Mr. S. counted out the gold. This done the farmer wrote a receipt and offered it to Mr. S. 'What is this, man?' cried Mr. S., eyeing the slip of paper. 'It is a receipt, sir, binding me to give ye back yer gold at the right time,' replied Sandy. 'Binding ye! Well my man, if ye canna trust yersel I'm sure I'll na trust ye. Ye canna hae my gold.' And gathering it up he put it back in his desk and turned his key on it. 'But, sir, I might die,' replied the canny Scotchman, bringing up argument in favor of his new wisdom, 'and perhaps my sons might refuse it ye; but the bit of paper would compel them.' 'Compel them to sustain a dead father's honor!' cried the Celt. 'They'll need compelling to do right if this is the road ye're leading them. I'll neither trust you nor them. Ye can gang elsewhere for money; but you'll find nane in the parish that'll put more faith in a bit o' paper than in a neighbour's word o' honour and his fear o' God.'

—The St. Louis Republican finds that since the repeal of the law licensing the demi-monde of that city public demoralization has increased. But how about the private demoralization?

—An exchange says, "There is no reason to believe that the peasantry of France are in the least priest-ridden; on the contrary, they are exceedingly jealous of any trespass on the part of the priest upon matters which they regard as specially their own."
