

until others are made by the P. O. Department.

The mails will arrive in this city from the North, East and West between 5 and 10 o'clock p. m.; notice will be given of the exact time as soon as it can be ascertained with certainty.

These changes are caused by a change of time in the arrival of trains on the U. P. R. R.

ARRIVED.—Professor Hartz, the Illusionist, announced to appear at the Theatre next week, arrived in the city this morning.

ARRIVED AT NEW YORK.—We learn by a telegram from Elder W. C. Staines to President Young that the ship Minnesota has arrived at New York, all well. Her passengers were to start west last evening.

RAILROAD FARES—A CORRECTION—In the telegrams published yesterday the item relating to the price of railroad fares between Chicago and Sacramento was terribly mixed up by an inexperienced typo. It should read thus:

"Chicago, 15th.—The rate of freight and passage to California is much reduced. Passage tickets from Chicago to Sacramento are now sold for one hundred and fifty-eight dollars and thirty-five cents currency; intermediate points at the same rates."

PERIODICALS.—If you want "Appleton's Journal," "The Herald of Health" devoted wholly to sanitary matters, "Every Saturday," "Peters' Musical Monthly," or "The Musical Independent"—both excellent musical journals; you can obtain them, and almost anything else in the book or stationery line, of Mr. James Dwyer, at the "Railroad News Depot," west side of East Temple St., who supplies them as early and at as cheap rates as the publishers. He laid a batch of periodicals on our table this morning including those above named, and the "Mining Scientific Press, published in San Francisco, for which we tender him many thanks.

MORE OF THE INDIANS SOUTH.—We learn by Deseret Telegraph Line that a few of the party who went in pursuit of the Indians returned to Parowan yesterday afternoon, and report that all they discovered was the tracks of two Indians driving horses. They also noticed at one place that the red men had endeavored to catch some horses, but from appearances they judged that the attempt was unsuccessful. There are thirteen men still in pursuit.

IMPORTANT ARREST.—About two weeks ago Chief of Police Burt received information from Ogden that a man answering to the name of Chas. Alford had stolen and sold some mules and had left that place for this city.

Yesterday afternoon Officers Hyde and Livingston arrested a man answering to the description given by the Ogden authorities, and lodged him in safe keeping. On examining some papers in his possession, it was ascertained that he was Hubert M. Humes, a convict who escaped from the Penitentiary here some three years ago, and appropriated a valuable mule belonging to Warden Rockwood. He is at present in close confinement, awaiting the action of the Sheriff of Weber County. He confesses to having sold the mules to a Mr. Childs at Ogden.

PLEASANT INTERVIEW.—We had a very pleasant interview yesterday afternoon with W. O. Clark, Esq., of Amador County, California, brother of Mr. Ezra T. Clark of Farmington. Mr. Clark was late delegate to the Right Worthy Grand Lodge of North America, a temperance organization of the Independent Order of Good Templars, which recently assembled at Oswego, New York State. He is also connected with Sunday School organizations, and has been attending several Sunday School State Conventions, the last of which was held at Des Moines, the capital of Iowa, on the 9th instant. He is now on his return to Sacramento. During this trip he met with his brother Ezra T. for the first time in nineteen years. Mr. Clark says that in ten thousand miles of travel he had found no city that could at all compare with Salt Lake City for neatness, beauty, temperance and good order. He is interested in the establishment of temperance societies, but in this city he found temperance so general that he considered there was no necessity to agitate the question, or to attempt to establish a temperance society.

ON THE MUDDY.—Our correspondent at St. Joseph, on the Muddy, writing on the 31st ult., says peace, quietness and health prevailed in that section. Water was rather scarce, which was felt still more by the sand been blown into and filling the ditches. Grasshoppers were very plentiful, but they were on the wing and had not done any material damage. The wheat crop had been mostly harvested and promised a fair yield. The cotton crop is not very promising. The natives were quiet.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY

QUICK TRAVEL.—John Brainard, Esq., editor of the Nonpareil, Council Bluffs, Iowa, called this morning; he reached the terminus of the U. P. R. R. in 61 hours from Omaha.

Mr. E. F. Bean, proprietor of the Nevada, California, Gazette, also called. He left Colfax, California, last Wednesday morning at ten o'clock, and reached Deseret station this morning at three o'clock, and this city at nine o'clock, having traveled over 730 miles. During Mr. B's trip from California, the trains were detained several hours.

THE PACIFIC CIRCUS.—This circus and "school of educated horses" will exhibit at the City Hall corner, at seven o'clock this evening. To-morrow two entertainments will be given, one at 2 and the other at 7 p. m. Rumor says that in addition to their other attractions, their troupe of acrobats and gymnasts is excellent.

GRAND JURY.—Yesterday the Grand Jury made presentments against W. Jarmon, J. R. Mosley and Lewis Miller, and then adjourned until July 27th. The day for the trial of the prisoners is not yet fixed.

LOOK OUT FOR HIM.—A gentleman (?) stepped into our office this morning, who said he was a member of the church, but was an entire stranger to us. He wished to advertise for a boarding place in a respectable family, and while preparing the copy of his advertisement, one of our staff stepped in, who had recently traveled a number of miles by stage in company with him and had heard him boasting of certain achievements in the past, and of what he intended in future, his exploits and intentions being such as no man of honor or morality would ever think of. As soon as our employe entered the office this professed brother instantly recognized him, and made his exit in a very abrupt manner. The fellow is apparently about 27 or 28 years of age, tolerably good looking, dark whiskers and moustache. We print this that our citizens may be on the look out for him if he should apply for lodgings, feeling sure that such a man is not worthy of being a resident of any "respectable family."

PROVO SABBATH SCHOOL.—Elder H. H. Cluff, Secretary of the Provo Sunday School informs us that on the 14th inst., according to previous arrangement, the scholars of that school, to the number of four hundred, in charge of their superintendents and teachers, had a most delightful picnic party at the "Church Grove," where suitable arrangements had been made to afford the children amusement and pastime, in addition to which the martial band discoursed inspiring and enlivening music. At half past two, the children were called together and were addressed by Bishops A. O. Smoot, J. P. R. Johnson, A. H. Scott, and M. Tanner, Superintendents D. John and H. Coay Sen., and Elder G. G. Bywater, followed by a song for the occasion by L. J. Nuttal. At five o'clock the party returned home.

There is an earnestness worthy of praise, manifested by the managers and teachers of the Sunday School at Provo which bids fair to make much improvement in the minds of the rising generation of that place.

LEHL.—A correspondent writing from Lehi on the 12th inst., says:

"On Wednesday last the militia of the northern portion of Utah County were inspected by Generals Burton and Pace. The former addressed the troops on the necessity of their providing themselves with good arms, and urged the introduction of Upton's tactics in the place of those now in use.

The weather here is extremely warm; our wheat and barley crops look very promising; co-operation is alive and doing well; all is peace in our city and everybody is busy.

On Sunday last we were called to mourn the loss, by typhoid fever, of Bro. Joseph Cox, aged about 26 years, after a lingering sickness. He leaves a wife and child to mourn his loss.

MATINEE.—The Management of the Theatre announce a grand matinee to-morrow afternoon, at which the burlesque of "Aladdin or The Wonderful Scamp," and the comic opera of "Pierette" will be presented, in addition to which Miss Clive will dance a sailor's hornpipe. Paterfamilias, now is the time to give the little ones a treat.

FIRST DISTRICT COURT.—The regular term of the Court of the First Judicial District of Utah Territory convened at Provo, on Tuesday J. 15th. Judge O. T. Strickland on the bench. There was very little business before the Court. The replevin case of Phillip Marcus Geo. Peacock and M. D. Hambleton was decided in favor of plaintiff. The case of Almarion Root vs. Mary Root for alimony, appealed from the Utah County Probate Court, was dismissed, the plaintiff not appearing. The remainder of Tuesday, and Wednesday, the Court was occupied in admitting aliens to citizenship, when an adjournment was ordered until August 23rd next.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY.

CALLED.—We had a call last evening from Hyrum Lusk, Esq., who is traveling correspondent for the New York Tribune. Mr. Lusk is traveling through this region of country, not only in the capacity of a correspondent, but he is also gathering materials for a work on the manners and customs of the people of the West. It is his intention to include in his proposed work real incidents of stirring adventure, etc., which have occurred in Western life.

Mr. Lusk is the gentleman who was attacked by Indians on the 29th of June, 1868, in the vicinity of the Sweetwater mines, whilst quietly eating his dinner. In the encounter which he had with the redskins he received a severe wound in his right arm, which has partially disabled him.

Mr. Lusk informs us that he was born and raised six miles from the hill from which the Prophet Joseph Smith obtained the plates upon which the records of the Book of Mormon were inscribed; and says that Mr. S. Mosher, his father-in-law, is the present owner of the land upon which the hill stands. The nearest railroad station to the spot is at a small town called Clifton Springs, which is about a mile and a half from the place.

NEWS FROM ELDER O. PRATT.—We have been shown several proof sheets of the Book of Mormon, in the Deseret Alphabet, sent from the East by Elder O. Pratt, Sen. The type is very clear and presents a very neat appearance.

The following extracts from a letter accompanying the above, from Elder Pratt to R. L. Campbell, Esq., of this city, regarding the progress of the work will doubtless prove interesting to our readers:

"I give the proof sheets four careful readings before sending them to the stereotype foundry. I send you in another envelope two copies of the first six pages of the book, in which, by a fifth reading, I discover but one letter wrong. This, I believe, is much more accurate, than the generality of books, printed in the old orthography. The large capitals are not yet finished but will, when done, be stereotyped, and inserted in their appropriate places in the work. Next week I expect to get about nine pages of proof per day, which will keep me exceedingly busy. After this you may look for proof daily. You are aware that the impressions taken by hand, on proof sheets, are not nearly as beautiful as when taken and properly pressed for binding. The compositors make a great abundance of mistakes in setting the type, which greatly increases my labor in the corrections."

RISE.—Some of our hands have tried Dooley's Baking Powder, they pronounce it very good. The advertisement of Dooley and Bro., the manufacturers of the article is to be found in our Special Notice column. The article is for sale, wholesale, at Zion's Co-operative Institution.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY.

SABBATH MEETINGS.—In the morning Dr. Todd, of Pittsfield, Mass., a Congregationalist minister, and author of the "Serpent in the Doves' Nest" and other works, addressed the congregation, taking as the basis of his remarks the 3d chapter of Ezra, from the 10th to the 13th verse, inclusive. The reverend gentleman's discourse was intellectual and able, being by no means of a narrow, sectarian character. His remarks were devoted to the portrayal of the progress of the sciences and the various arts during the past fifty years, which has tended, and is still tending so wonderfully to the amelioration of the condition of the human race.

He was listened to throughout with marked attention.

In the afternoon Elder Jacob Gates addressed the congregation for a short time, after which President George A. Smith delivered a very interesting historical discourse on the organization of the Church, the troubles of the Saints in the various places settled by them, and the circumstances which led, ultimately, to their he-gira to the Rocky Mountains, and a very brief review of the progress and development of this Territory.

A full report of his discourse will appear at an early day.

The services were concluded by Mr. Todd. He said he sympathized with the people in their past sufferings and present prosperity. If he were asked "would he have done as their persecutors had done," he would say, he thought not; but none knew what wrongs they would commit unless restrained by the over-ruling hand of God. In conclusion he earnestly exhorted all to look to Christ for redemption and salvation.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.—Herbert Humes, alias Charles Alford, arrested in this city last Wednesday evening, for stealing mules, has been committed to take his trial at the Probate Court. This is the worthy who made his escape from the penitentiary some fifteen or eighteen months ago, and who, after breaking loose, stole a mule belonging to Warden Rockwood, after which, while at large, he was made the recipient of executive clemency,—his pardon being granted by His Excellency the Governor.

ARRIVAL OF COMMITTEE OF WAYS AND MEANS.—On Saturday there were rumors afloat all day that Hon. W. H. Seward, late Secretary of State, and the Congressional Committee of Ways and Means would arrive in this city. It was subsequently learned, however, that Mr. Seward and other gentlemen had turned off the U. P. R. R. and had gone to Denver.

About 6 o'clock on Saturday evening the Committee of Ways and Means, comprising the Hon. Saml. Hooper, of Massachusetts, Chairman of the Committee, A. B. Allison, of Iowa, H. Maynard, of Tennessee, W. D. Kelley, of Penn., Austin Blair, of Michigan, S. S. Marshall, of Illinois, James Brooks, Dennis McCarthy and G. A. Bassett, of New York and F. H. Smith, of Washington, D. C., arrived and took up their quarters at the Townsend House. Hon. S. B. Axtell, M. C., from the first Congressional district of California, Miss Anna Dickinson, the celebrated lecturer, and the Rev. J. Dickinson also arrived at the same time.

At about eleven o'clock on Saturday evening the members of Captain Croxall's brass band serenaded the distinguished party, playing several choice selections. A crowd of people, drawn to the spot by the report that the Committee had arrived and by the sweet strains of the band, soon collected, and in the intervals between the playing of the band there were loud cries of "Hooper," in answer to which the hon. gentleman appeared and very briefly thanked the citizens for the compliment tendered the party.

After more music Judge Kelly, of Penn., in answer to the calls of the assembly, appeared and said:

"Citizens,—Being on our way to the Pacific coast, on business connected with the government, which in this country means the people, and being so near to your city we felt that we would come and see a place of which we had heard so much. It is indeed a beautiful city, alike remarkable for location and scenery. After waging your way across the dreary plains over twenty years ago, and alighting on this spot, I cannot wonder that it has become almost a holy land to you. The night being too far advanced to make a speech, I will say, in the name of the Committee, that in all things tending to your future prosperity and to the glory of our common country you will find in me and the gentlemen traveling with me hearty co-operators."

After more music from Croxall's band it gave way for the Camp Douglass band, which played several beautiful pieces, and at a few minutes to 12 o'clock the assembly dispersed.

The Committee and Mr. Axtell left for the West last evening.

MISS ANNA E. DICKINSON.—This lady who has a world-wide reputation as a lecturer on Woman's Rights, Education, &c., paid us a visit this morning in company with her brother, the Rev. J. Dickinson, and Alderman S. W. Richards. Miss Dickinson and her brother arrived in this city with the Congressional Committee on Saturday evening, and would have proceeded with them to the Pacific coast, but being desirous of seeing more of Salt Lake city and its people than was possible during the very brief stay of the Committee, they determined to remain here two or three days longer, after which they will proceed westward. Miss Dickinson is thoroughly cosmopolitan in her manner, and upon conversing with her one cannot help believing that she is just the woman to advocate any cause on the side of which her sympathies and sense of right are enlisted.

SOUTHERN UTAH.—The following sad news reached us yesterday afternoon by Deseret Telegraph line:

St. George, June 21.

On the 10th inst. Bro. Davidson, formerly overseer of the cotton factory at Washington, his wife and son, left St. Thomas, A. T., intending to meet President Snow and company who were returning from the Muddy, and come with them to St. George. During the afternoon of the 12th one of Davidson's horses came into the Beaver Dam well with a blind bridle on and nearly dead. Next day a man by the name of Jack went back on the road to hunt some mules and found the body of Davidson's boy, named Joseph, about half a mile from the well on the road. Near by him lay a quilt, keg and canteen. Yesterday the mail carrier from the Muddy found Davidson's other horse on the Virgin at Muskett Grove, with the harness on. Nothing further is known of Davidson or his wife, at the Muddy or at St. George as yet.

It is now over ten days since Bro. Davidson has been heard from; the supposition is that himself and wife have perished with thirst on the desert. Bro. L. D. Young started from this place last week intending to go the new road to St. Joseph. When we hear from him we will undoubtedly know the fate of Bro. Davidson.

The St. George Cactus of the 5th inst. has the following, with regard to the horse thieves who escaped from that place:

"St. Clair, Auxier and King Caid, who stole the horses from here about three weeks ago, attempted to cross the Colorado on a raft. When near the middle of the river the raft broke to pieces, and the men by great exertion saved themselves, but lost every rag of their clothing, and all their provisions. They were then over a hundred miles from any settlement, entirely naked and not a mouthful to eat, and unacquainted with the country, and so rambled down the river for nine days, when a mail carrier riding on the opposite side discovered them, threw them what provisions he had and reported to Fort Mohave their miserable condition.

A party immediately started out to their rescue, and succeeded in getting them to Mohave alive but in a terrible condition from exposure to the sun; their skin was badly blistered, and they were little more than skeletons."
