

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The St. Louis public schools impart something more than a common English education. Over 20,000 pupils therein are engaged in the study of the German language.

Never be too presumptuous. Ponder over this observation, young man. The reason so many people upset and sink in the stream of life is because they put up more sail than they can carry.

It may be of interest to young people, married or single, who indulge in a good deal of sweetness, to know that the hardworking practical bee produces during his life time nearly twice as much honey as it does wax.

The railway up Mount Vesuvius is now lighted with electricity, eleven Siemens and Halske lamps being arranged along the line itself. There other lamps are disposed so as illuminate the sides and crater of the volcano. The effect is said to be magnificent.

A vine has been discovered by the African explorer, M. Lecart, on the banks of the Niger, the fruit of which is said to be abundant and excellent, the cultivation easy, and the roots, tuberoses and perennial, yield support to annual branches. Trials are to be made to ascertain whether this vine can be raised from seed in Algeria and France.

The largest library in the United States, is the library of Congress at Washington, which contained 231,000 volumes in 1874, and in that year the British Museum and the Imperial Library at St. Peter's comprised 1,100,000 volumes each. The largest library in the world is the National Library at Paris, which, in 1874, contained 2,000,009 printed books and 150,000 manuscripts.

While General Grant and party were walking about in the old Pilgrim burial ground in Plymouth the other day, he lighted a cigar and pulled away at his favorite weed; whereupon a bright lady of the company—a Bostonian—remarked that the general was so captivated with New England that he seemed determined to leave his ashes among the remains of the forefathers.

At the last meeting of the Boston Methodist pastors it was conceded that their denomination was barely holding its own in that city. After a discussion of various measures proposed, it was resolved to try prayer. The preachers solemnly covenanted with one another that for three months they would devote half an hour or more each day, beginning at noon, to prayer for the Methodist Churches of Boston and vicinity. They certainly need it.

The seventh edition of Copp's Hand-Book of Mining Law, will soon be out; to contain the State and Territorial mining laws, and instructions how to examine title, in addition to the lists of Government patents, digest of decisions, and other good things in previous editions. Its editor, Henry N. Copp, of Washington, D. C., has an extensive work on the same subject in press. It will give in full the Land Office and Court decisions now in force, and be, without doubt, the authority on United States mining law.

The physicians of Paris—not the capital of Bear Lake, but of la belle France—have been holding a consultation on the subject of the benefits or otherwise of perambulators or baby carriages. Most of the faculty condemn their use utterly. Not only are nurses tempted to leave the unfortunate infant occupant of the carriage, while conversing with a friend or otherwise engaged, but the position the child is compelled to maintain sometimes for hours, tends to injure the spine, and besides, the little one fails to receive the moderate exercise which comes from its being carried in the nurse's arms. Mothers, make a note of this.

Is there no mentality but instinct in the animal creation? It is stated on good authority, that in Indiana a number of sparrows wanted a drink of clear water. It was too far from the swampy margin of the bank of a stream to allow them to reach it readily, but weeds grew thickly along the edge. Four sparrows settled on one of these weeds, one above the other, and their weight bent it half-way to the water. A fifth lighted further up, and bent it further down. Then a sixth settled near the end and the whole stalk came down level with the surface, and they drank their fill without difficulty or having to wade through the muddy margin of the pond. This looks very much like concert of action, involving reason and mutual agreement.

Dr. Seelye, President of Amherst College, says concerning the increasing disregard and desecration of the Sabbath in this country, that it ought not to surprise us, since "it only represents a universal tendency among men. Singular as it may seem, the fact is clear that human nature is far more active in throwing away its privileges than in preserving them. Arts and literatures and social refinements have been discarded by those who professed them far more frequently than they have been retained. If we look at the actual facts unblinded by any theory which prejudices them we fail to find any inherent law of progress to a better state in human nature. On the other hand, the truth revealed is that of an inherent law of deterioration. Civilized nations have often become savages, left to themselves; savages left to themselves have never become civilized. * * * A divine gift and not any human creation is the source of all human progress." We believe that the learned gentleman is perfectly right. But this is in direct opposition to the development theory and the views of all the modern "free-thinking" philosophers.
