Bill Passed in Arizona Legislature With Handsome Majority.

CONFLICT WITHORGANIC ACT

So Held by Governor Alexander O. Brodie-Full Text of Veto Message

Thatcher, Graham Co., Ariz., March 24.-As the subject of equal suffrage is of great interest to our people, we present herewith a copy of a letter received from Governor A. O. Brodie in explanation for vetoing the suffrage bill which passed both houses on the 17th inst., during the closing hours of the legislature with a handsome majority in each branch. In answer to a telegram and urgent letter sent by President Andrew Kimball urging the governor to sign the bill, the following has been received:

Phoenix, March 21, 1903. My Dear Mr. Kinball-Replying to yours of March 17, which I am forced to do in a very few lines, I have to say that on account of the position held by a territory directly under the laws of Congress and the Constitution of the United States, I have been forced to veto the equal suffrage blit, believing it to be unconstitutional and believing that until such time as matters can be rectified it would bring too many complica tions to allow the possibility of Its While writing I desire to say that Graham county could never be represented by a more consistent, energetic and painstaking man than Mr. Webb, [the only "Mormon" member in the ussembly], and from the intercourse I have had with him I have derived muc pleasure. I appreciate him thoroughly as a good man and citizen. I had the pleasure of seeing Mrs. Kimball yesterday for a moment, and as soon as Mrs. Brodie is about and out again we shall hope to have her at our house. With kind personal regard. Yours sincerely, ALEXANDER O. BRODIE.

To Hon, Andrew Kimball, Thatcher,

Following is the full text of the governor's message vetoing the bill: Office of the Governor, Phoenix,

As a reason therefor I wish to briefly state that in my judgment the subject of the bill is not one within the powers of the legislature to legislate upor ganic Law of Arizona defines the legis lative power of the territory as extending to all rightful subjects of legisla tion not inconsistent with the Consti-tution and laws of the United States. The question therefore to be determined is: Is the subject matter of house bill No. 81, giving the suffrage to females-measured by the Constitution and laws of the United States-a rightful subject of legislation not inconsistent with the Constitution and laws of

As the question presents itself to my mind, when the territorial legislature does or attempts to legislate upon a subject not directly pointed out or con-templated by the Constitution or laws a subject which is not consistent The organic act of the territory fur

The organic act of the territory furnishes a constitutional limitation beyond which the legislature of the territory cannot rightfully proceed. Congress created territorial governments and furnished the rules of conduct by which the government is to exist, and provided a limitation to each branch thereof. Legislation, of course, must not be in conflict with the laws of Congress under and by which it is organized, by which it is organized, and the power to legislate is granted, and the rules enacted by Congress limit, the power of the legislature to make Paragraph 25 (section 1859) of the or-

Paragraph 20 (section 1839) of the or-ganic law of Arizona reads as follows: "Every male citizen above the age of 21 * * who are actual residents of such territory at the time of the or-ganization, shall be entitled to vote at the first election in such territory, * * * etc., subject to the limitation in section 1860.

Paragraph 26 (section 1860) provides that at all subsequent elections the qualification of voters shall be such as are prescribed by the legislative as-sembly of the territory, subject to cer-tain restrictions on the power of the legislative assembly mentioned in said section, the first of which is: "The right of suffrage " " " shall be exercised only by citizens of the United States above the age of 21 years:" second—"There shall be no denial of the elective franchise to a citizen on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude."

The territorial legislature is there-fore restricted to confer the elective franchise only upon citizens, or those who have declared their intention to become citizens. The privilege of voting s not a natural right, but a privilege conferred by law.
Who are "citizens" within the intention and contemplation of the organic It evidently was in the mind of Congress at the enactment of sections 1859 and 1860 that it was dealing with the subject of male citizens exclusively. Females were and would be residents of the territories at the time of the con-templated elections and, according to certain acceptations of the word "citi-zens," also citizens of the territory. If Congress intende to give the elective franchise to citizens regardless of sex limitation to the "male" citizen. However, courts in passing upon the question of the subject matter of this term "citizen" in its relation to the elective franchise. They make a disbetween political and hts. The latter continction rights. The latter s the citizen while stitutes former are not necessary ingredients The territory may deny all her political rights to an individual and yet he may be a citizen. The rights of office and suffrage are political purely and are denied by some or all of the states to part

That Congress intended to restrict the elective franchise to male citizens is wrther evident because of its own limittion in legislating upon the aubject Section 2, of Article 14, of the Consti-ation of the United States, reads as Representatives shall be apportioned

"Representatives shall be applied among the several states according to their respective numbers. " " But when the right to vote " is denied to any male inhabitants of such state, being 21 years of age and citizens of the United States. " " the basis f representation therein shall be re-

It will be seen that by extending the te to females the basis and fabric of federal representation to which each state is entitled cannot be adjusted without a change in the above stated article of the Constitution of the United To my mind then it is clear that it he elective franchise to male citizens; that the territorial legislature receives its powers to legislate from Congress and that the legislature in enacting house bill No. 81 into a law legislated upon a subject not consistent with the Constitution of the United States and the acts of Congress.

I therefore return the bill to your honorable body without approval.

Very respectfully,

ALEXANDER O. BRODIE, Governor of Arizona.

A MISSING $500 NOTE.

Dressmaker is Suspected but Search Discloses No Money.

J. Bergerman called at the police station yesterday and reported to ef Sheets that about three ks ago a United States note $500 was stolen from the 500 was stolen from this Mr. Bergerman then went before Judge Dichl and swore to a search warrant against a dressmaker who, Mr. Bergerman believes, stole the note. He says the woman was employed by his wife about three weeks ago and that when she left, the $500 was missed. Mrs. Bergerman said nothing to her husband about the matter until this morning. She waited in the hope of finding the note but her careful search was un-availing. She suspected the woman of taking it, and when she told Mr. Her-german he lost no time in getting a search warrant issued. The authority to search the woman's room was placed in the hands of Detectives Chase Raleigh, who reported later that their search was unrewarded.

THE COW KISSED HER,

Probably the most unique testimony offered in a courtroom, was that y Mrs. Emma Houghman of South

Charles Epstein claimed ownership of Jersey cow. Mrs. Houghman had a Jersey cow. Mrs. Houghman had him arrested and brought replevin pro-ceedings simultaneously. When the case was called for trial, Mrs. Houghman asked that the cow be brought into court. Judge King permitted it, and Mrs. Houghman called the cow by a pet name. Immediately the Jersey valked over to her and kissed her by ubbing her muzzle against Mrs. Houghman's face. Three times this act was repeated,

UTAH SHEARING HAS COMMENCED

Ninety Bags Are Stacked Up at a Point Near Price.

14,000,000 LBS. ESTIMATED.

Output for Season About Up to Aver age - Eastern Woolbuyers Are Commencing to Arrive.

Although all the woolbuyers have not yet arrived from the east, the Utah wool season has commenced. Last week the first shearing of the season began with the result that there are 90 bags of wool now stacked up near Price. On April 16, shearing will commence in earnest at Price, with indications that there will be the heaviest clip on record at that point. It is estimated at these pens alone there will be 1,500,000 pounds of wool for shipment in the next few weeks. On Monday operations will also commence at Thompson's, also at Milford and Blackrock on the Oregon Short Line. Shearing will also be inaugurated at the Manti pens tomorrow week, and at Cisco on the 21st. From then on all will be hustle, and freight agents will be as scarce as the proverbial hens' teeth in Salt Lake.

From an estimate arrived at by talking to a number of woolmen it is believed that the output for Utah this season will be in the neighborhood 14,000,000 pounds. Despite the hard winter and the rumors of heavy losses t is stated that, taken all in ail, the lockmasters have had a year that is about the average, neither better nor orse than the previous year.

Among the latest arrivals of wool buyers in town were noticed this morning. Hi Hallett of Nichol & Dupee, Boston; H. Stressinger, of Dewey Gould, and R. Whittaker, the Mt. Pleasant representative of H. Koshland of Bos-

SALINA CUT-OFF.

Carloads of Ties Arriving on Scene Start More Rumors Going.

The arrival of six carloads of ties at Salina for the cut-off, which was commenced last year and then temporarily abandoned, has started the rumor that the Rio Grande will push right along with the work in the near future and commence operations on building the line right through to Green river This move is taken to mean that Gould has inside information to the effect that Clark and Harriman have come an understanding regarding the San Pedro and that line is going to be pushand Mrs. Houghman was declared the ed in the near future. When the con-nection is completed through to south-ern California it will be found that Gould wil have tapped it in southern Utah and will stand prepared to give freight and passengers a short hauleast via Salina and Green river.

AFTER FIFTY YEARS.

Two Old Railroad Construction Engineers Meet Here Tomorrow.

After a lapse of 50 years when two young civil engineers shook hands and said goodbye, two old veterans will meet in Salt Lake and give an account of their adventures and otherwise talk over the development of railroad. ing during the half century in which they have been separated. Fifty years ago D. J. Whittemore and Edmund Wilkes started out as young engineers together and were great chums. Maj. Wilkes came west to be identified with a number of railroad projects, which he surveyed. Mr. Whittemore, also kept plugging away at his chosen profession with the result that today the old veteran is chief engineer for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. Some time are he wrote Claude Williams, the local commercial agent of the big sys-tem, and stated that he heard that Maj. Wilkes was still alive and residing in Salt Lake and for Williams to try and find him. As the result Mr. Whittemore has written that he will be in Sult Lake tomorrow on his way home from the coast, and that he will stop over in order to talk over old times. The meeting of the veterans will undeubtedly prove interesting.

Short Line Improvements.

Following the return of General Su-perintendent E. E. Calvin from the west end of the Oregon Short Line system within a few days work will be instituted on the raising of the grade six inches between Huntington and Nampa. Next year the work will be con-tinued eastward beyond Pocatello.
