

SOCIETY

The larger number of the week's events have been Halloween parties, and these were attended by all the eerie details that accompany the mystic date. Pillow sheets, hobgoblin impersonations, and gruesome scenic effects with the inevitable Halloween charms and tricks were the essential features, and each party had "the unique ideas, and jolliest time of all." Among the hosts and hostesses of the enjoyable affairs were Rev. and Mrs. Charles Perkins, Prof. and Mrs. W. A. Wetzel, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wilkinson, Miss Hazel Wimmer, Misses Ivy and Mary Price, Miss May Brunton and Miss Julia Cullen, Edwin Evans and Charles Rowland, Frank King, the guests of the Fifth East hotel, the Daughters of the King, Circle of St. Mark's church, some of the L. D. S. U., at the Lion House and the young girls at Rowland hall. Besides these were hosts of others, too numerous to mention.

The reception and dancing party given at Christensen's on Thursday night will rank among the most delightful events of the year. The hosts were Dr. and Mrs. S. Wright, Dr. and Mrs. Snow, Mr. and Mrs. George Read, Jr. The hall, alcoves and side rooms were beautifully decorated with a profusion of palms, potted plants and cut flowers, white and green predominating in the hall, and in the refreshment room, red dahlias being used, while candelabra with red shades lighted the table. The orchestra was screened with banks of palms, and a punch table stood near, prettily decorated in white and pale green. The receiving party stood in the alcove to the left of the main entrance, which were also banked with palms. About 400 guests were present to enjoy the delightful affair.

An elaborate affair was the luncheon given by Mrs. A. H. Tarbet on Thursday in honor of Miss Lavell. The event took place at the Commercial club, the private dining room being used, and the table being in the form of a horseshoe. A beautiful centerpiece was framed in a low bank of American Beauty and Chateau roses, with emblems and plumes, forming an immense horseshoe, extending almost the entire length of the board. Silver candelabra with shades corresponding with the flowers completed the effective table decorations, while palms and potted plants formed a background. The place cards were dainty figures done in water colors. The guests were Mrs. Kearns, Mrs. Heber M. Wells, Mrs. William H. King, Mrs. Donohoe of Park City, Mrs. Keogh, Mrs. Sarah Bransford, Mrs. Dooly, Mrs. Arthur Bird, Mrs. Cosgriff, Mrs. Ferris, Mrs. W. I. Snyder, Mrs. M. B. Whitney, Mrs. Lindmay R. Rogers, Mrs. McDermott, Mrs. E. A. Wall, Mrs. S. H. Pinkerton, Mrs. John Cowan, Mrs. James Ferguson, Mrs. Simon Bamberger, Mrs. J. E. Bamberger, Mrs. Oberdorfer, Mrs. Charles Brink, Mrs. Brice, Mrs. George Alfrs, Mrs. George Read, Mrs. Lamb, Mrs. F. R. Davis, Miss Sinclair, Miss Cowan, Miss Wey, Miss Luce, Miss Lawson, Miss Snyder.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. James Rogers gave a delightful card party at her home, the amusement being euchre. The rooms were prettily decorated in carnations and greens, the parlor being celebrated their silver wedding anniversary last night, in a delightful gathering at their home, a large number of their friends being present to enjoy the evening.

THE SHIRRED HAT.

Shirred effects are the popular fad for hats of all kinds just now. This charmingly simple model is of gray panne velvet, shirred all over. A whole nest of sparrows trims the crown top from side to side, with crushed rosettes of yellow Louise ribbon on the back and a flat bow on the bandeau.

Miss Jessie Miller was hostess at an informal but pleasant affair on Wednesday afternoon, about 10 of her friends being entertained at dinner. White cosmos were effectively used in the decorations and the place-cards were Gibson girls in water colors. After dinner an amusing guessing game was enjoyed. The guests were Miss Beesie Light, Miss Mabel Geary, Miss Ella Schulte and Miss Belle Quinn, Hattie Ferrin, Miss Mabel Croly, Miss Winona Jones, Miss Ethel McDonald, Miss Lella Miller, Miss Paula Schulte.

One of the largest and most delightful events of the week was the reception given on Tuesday night at the First Congregational church in honor of the new pastor, Rev. Elmer Goshen. The parlors were beautifully decorated, palms, chrysanthemums and cosmos being used with artistic effect. A delightful program of music was among the features, and delicious refreshments were served by a number of young ladies connected with the Church. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Gorham and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Miller assisted in receiving and delightful music was furnished by the Neapolitan Mandolin club and the Sunday school orchestra.

A VERY SMART COAT.

This loose, three-quarter length coat is of heavy tan broadcloth, the military effect of the three capes giving it a particularly smart touch. The only decoration is the wide band of stitched cloth cut to fit the neck and carried stole-like down the fronts with many rows of stitching, which is repeated on the strap cuffs that finish the large pouch sleeves. Pearl buttons are used.

Mrs. Pardee entertained informally at luncheon at the post on Tuesday.

On Monday evening Prof. and Mrs. Radcliffe gave a musicale at their home, the affair being in honor of Miss Kathleen Grant of Pennsylvania. Delightful music was rendered, among those who contributed to the evening's enjoyment being Mrs. A. D. Melvin and Mr. Nettleton.

Miss June McIntyre entertained the East Side Card club at her home this week.

Mrs. Elmer Jones received informally on Tuesday.

Mrs. V. H. Pease entertained the ladies of St. Mark's Guild pleasantly at her home on Tuesday.

At the card party given by the Jewish Relief society on Tuesday afternoon prizes were won at lotto by Mrs. Bukofsky and Mrs. Lehman, Mrs. Hanschoff and Mrs. Brown winning the "63" prize.

Mrs. Will Jones will give a box party at the Grand tonight in honor of Mrs. Harvey.

The musical recital given by Miss Gray, Miss Allen and Miss Monahan at the Congregational church on Wednesday night was among the brilliant events of the week. The auditorium was filled with a large and representative musical audience, and the program, an unusually difficult one, was splendidly rendered.

Mrs. C. C. Slade will entertain at a card party at her home next Monday.

WEDDING BELLS

Among the nuptials planned for next month, one of special local interest will be that of Miss Edna Donnellan and Capt. Falls, U. S. A., the event to take place at the bride's home in Sacramento on Nov. 15. The bridesmaids will all be Salt Lake girls, and include Miss Mary Kinney, Miss Stella Salisbury, Miss Gertrude McGrath and Miss Laura Sherman. The young ladies leave very shortly to be the guests of Miss Donnellan till the date of the happy event.

The marriage of Duncan McVie of this city and Miss Pearl Dempsey of Helena, Mont., took place on Wednesday at the home of the bride, the affair being a most brilliant one. Mrs. Clifford Pearsall of Salt Lake was in-charge of honor, and E. L. White of Boston was best man. The costume of the bride was an elaborate gown of white satin, with trimmings of white d'Alencon lace, and tulle veil fastened with a diamond brooch, the gift of the groom. Mrs. Pearsall wore a handsome gown of white crepon over pink with veil of pink tulle, and carried a showy bouquet of pink chrysanthemums. There were four ushers and each was presented with a gold scarf pin by the bride, and an unique bronze match safe by the groom. The bridal couple left on the night train for a trip through the Pacific Northwest, and after Dec. 1, will be at home in this city.

The wedding of Miss Grace Freeze and Mr. William H. Folland, will take place next Friday, the marriage to be solemnized in the Temple at noon, and a reception to be held in the evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Lilla T. Freeze.

THE LARGER OUTSIDE CITIES

OGDEN.

Wednesday evening a pretty home wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Eklund, when their charming daughter, Miss Marie A. Eklund, and Mr. H. E. Ashton were united in wedlock, Rev. E. I. Goshen officiating in the ceremony.

The wedding party entered the parlor at 8:30 o'clock. The bride was attended by Miss Edith White and Herbert Barclay acted as best man. The bride and groom stood under a beautiful floral bell, while the ceremony was performed. The bride wore a pretty gown of white silk mull and carried an exquisite bouquet of roses. The home was artistically decorated with cut flowers and evergreens, the color scheme being green and white. There were present only the relatives of the contracting parties and a few intimate friends, who, after extending congrat-
