The Killing Case.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon the evidence in the preliminary examination of David Phillips, for the killing of W. J. Jones, was all in, and counsel were proceeding with the argument.

Abundance.—The people of this city have cause for thankfulness to the "Giver of all good," for the abundance of the "Substantial" of life, at this festive season.

Lively.—The central part of the city has been alive with teams, wagons, and people, today. In addition to the large number of residents of the city who have been doing their holiday shopping, many have been in from the country, on the same business.

Compliments.—Monday being Christmas, all hands connected with this office will take a holiday, and we therefore bid adieu for that day to our numerous friends and patrons, to whom, thus in advance, we tender the compliments of the season, "A Merry Christmas," and "May you live long and prosper."

APleasant Surprise.—The pupils of the Fourteenth Ward Seminary gave a pleasant surprise to the Principal, Mr. George J. Taylor, and to Miss Josephine Taylor, teacher, on the occasion of adjourning the school for a two-weeks' holiday vacation. The scholars presented to Mr. Taylor an elegantly bound volume of Whittier's poems, and to Miss Taylor a very handsome flower stand. The intention on the part of the donors to present those testimonials of which kindness is the motive power.

A Classical Picture.—At Mr. Savage's art gallery is an excellent picture, fresh from the brush of Mr. Geo. M. Ottinger. The subject is classical, and it is represented in good style by the artist. It is a very striking picture, combining force with delicacy, and cannot but be admired by the lovers of the fine arts. Those having a taste in that direction should take the opportunity of viewing it. Its title is "Ulysses Plowing the Sea Shore," and the story told by the picture is that when the Greeks were summoned for the conquest of Troy, Ulysses, but lately married, at the instigation of his wife, pretended to be insane, and yoked an ox and a horse to his plow, and ploughed the sea shore, sowing salt in the seed instead of corn. Palamedes and friend, doubting his insanity, placed his child in the furrow, the father turning his team aside, whereupon Palamedes made him confess the deception.

Painful Accident.—Last evening John E. Woolley, grandson of Bishop Woolley, of Salt Lake, was coupling cars near the U. C. depot, where he is yard master, when his left hand was caught between the buffers and badly injured. The middle finger was terribly crushed, and the two adjoining fingers were separated. Dr. P. L. Anderson attended to the young man's case, at the residence of Mr. John Reeve, and amputated the crushed finger, being compelled to take it off at the joint next the hand. Mr. H. C. Wardleigh administered the chloroform, and Mrs. Reeve, with admirable nerve and coolness, held the hand during the operation and rendered most efficient assistance. The young man is staying at Mr. Reeve's house, where he has every necessary attention, and is doing well. —Ogden Junction, Dec. 23.

Theatre.—There will be a grand time on Christmas Day, Monday at half past one o'clock. Manager Harris has on hand a numerous matter of 2,000 toys to distribute among the happy juveniles who go to the matinee on that great day, which commences at half past one o'clock. For the further entertainment of the little people he has prepared the grand, romantic, fairy spectacle of "Cinderella, or the Fairy and the Little Glass Slipper." This beautiful play will be produced with new and gorgeous scenery, complicated and ingenious machinery, extensive and attractive properties, and splendid pictorial effects. In the course of the play there will be the children's centennial ballet, the miniature Skidmore Guards, the Amazon march, a grand scene, a beautiful pantomime, a beautiful transformation scene, and grand acrobatic, leaving the 2,000 toys in the hands of the children.

In the evening there will be a performance at half past seven, when the farce of "Hit Him, He Has No Friends," and the spectacle of "Cinderella" will be produced.

Christmas.—Monday, December 25th, will be Christmas, the reputed anniversary of the birth of the Saviour of the World. It has been for generations observed as a day of festivity and rejoicing in all countries where "Christianity" has had a foothold. Its observance is very general in this country, but perhaps in no country are the rejoicings and festivities so universal as in England, unless it be Germany, and it is probable that it is as generally observed in Utah as in any part of this Republic.

Seeing that it is a time when people seek to enjoy, more than ordinarily, the comforts and a few of the luxuries of life, we have been pleased to notice the success that has attended the efforts made in some of the wards of this city to gather up and distribute among the poorer people sufficient of the comforts of life to enable them to pass Christmas time in an enjoyable way. Those who do their part in this laudable measure should be able to sit down to their Christmas dinners with greater satisfaction, in the knowledge that they have done something toward the material comfort of their fellow creatures. The person whose contracted soul will not allow him, when he is well able to do so, to lend a helping hand to his poorer brother, has not yet learned what true enjoyment consists of, and is not likely to, unless he trains himself to have "A heart that feels for another."

Hon. James H. Hart, of Bloomington, Idaho.—Hon. James H. Hart, of Bear Lake County, in answer to queries submitted by our reporter, has kindly handed us the following account:

"My native homestead is contiguous to that of the renowned Oliver Cromwell, Huntington, and I am thirty-one years of age. During the Chartist riots in London, Louis Napoleon served in the Metropolitan Police Force with myself, in defence of the Constitution. After spending several years in London, I travelled three years on the continent, most of which time was spent in Paris; was there when the London conference of a group of states was held. Emperor in 1854 was a resident of St. Louis, Mo., where I edited a newspaper for twelve months, which collapsed and went the way of emperors and emperors. I have since spent nearly twenty years in the Rocky Mountains. Have held commissions in the Navajo Legion as Captain and Lieutenant Colonel. I am a professional book keeper and accountant. Have served the government eight years as postmaster, and was at the same time County Superintendent of Common Schools and Probate Judge. I have been a member of the State of Missouri for the term of four years. And finally, after satisfying myself that I was of proper age, I did deliberately and willfully enter the order of Saint Joseph, the Prophet, and do with the aforethought, plead guilty of matrimony in the first degree.

"Yours respectfully,
JAS. H. HART."

A Serious Affray.—Attempted Burglary and Horse Stealing—Fine Weather.—Our Kanab correspondent, Brother W. D. Johnson, Jr., writes under date of Dec. 13—

"On the 3rd inst., an exciting affray took place at Mount Carmel, Long Valley, resulting in one man being shot in the hand and a young fellow, by the name of Jas. Blazard, being badly wounded."

"It appears that the young man had been keeping company with a granddaughter of Mr. J. M. Taylor, and wanted to marry her, but the girl's father was bitterly opposed to the match, and even threatened to do him harm if he married his daughter. Recently while the father was away, Blazard and the girl were secretly married by a young man having no authority to solemnize such ceremony, only because he claimed to be an Elder. They began living together at once, but the girl's grandfather, thinking it not all right, took her to his house and kept her there, and demanded of Blazard to show his certificate of marriage, which he failed to produce."

"On Sunday evening Blazard came to Jolly's house. The latter had been intended to keep the girl until he could produce proof of his marriage, or the girl's father came home. At this the young man pulled out of his booting a revolver, and threatened it at Jolly's head, and told him, if he did not deliver up his wife he would shoot him. The wife and daughter of the latter jumped to secure the pistol, when it went off, the ball striking the daughter in the thumb, making a bad wound. While struggling, the pistol went off the second time, cutting the shoe of the woman, entering the floor, but doing no damage. By this time a number of the neighbors entered, fell upon Blazard and commenced beating him, but Jolly stopped them. At this moment the blood being seen, some person asked if any one was killed, when the young man ran through the door and escaped. He has since been located, and is to have his examination to-morrow at Glendale.

"On the next day following the above affair, a burglary was attempted at the place of Brother Johnson, at Johnson, by it is supposed, two men belonging to a company of mine, one of whom is named Harris, from Chicken Creek, Utah County. This night previous to the burglary two men from their camp came to the store and wanted to buy some whiskey, but were told that he did not deal in liquor. While in the store it was noticed they took particular pains to examine with their eyes everything in the store. Not suspecting anything of a robbery, (as this is the first case of the kind in the country), nothing more was thought of the men until it was noticed in the morning that the back shutters of the window and two panes of glass had been removed, and they had seemingly stopped at that point and left, probably having been frightened by the dogs. Two tracks were observed around the window and door corresponding with those of the men who were at the store the night before. Having no other proof, the thing was dropped. The company left early during the day. In the evening, however, a constable, Johnson, and others, started to see if they have driven off any more stock, and if they find any, to arrest them.

"The weather is beautiful. The people, as a general thing, are well. Some few of our juveniles have the whooping cough, but the cases are growing less numerous."

Our Country Contemporaries.

Ogden Junction, Dec. 21—

Mr. Peter McKelaine called on us to-day. We are glad to see that he is able to be out again, after his mishap. Last Monday night, while performing his duty as U. C. watchman, he discovered some tramps in a box car, near the U. C. freight house, smoking. He ordered them away, when three ruffians pointed their guns at him, felling him to the ground, and bruising and lacerating him severely. Unfortunately he had left his pistol home, which was an unusual omission on his part, and he was unable to defend himself. He followed the dead beats until the blood blinded his left eye, when he had to desist, and was confined to the hospital and bed.

Last night two dogs made awful havoc among the Xmas turkeys and chickens. Visiting Mr. Peter McKelaine's enclosure, where he has some fine poultry fattening for the holidays, in which his guide wife took especial pride, three fat turkeys and eight fine Brahmas were worried and killed by the canine brutes. The dogs were identified, and their owners are known. The same dogs killed a hen and five chickens last night, and three turkeys previously, belonging to Mr. J. A. Wright, 24 five nights ago Dr. Anderson killed his poultry, Mr. Joseph Clark lost three chickens, and Mr. William Higgins thirteen.

Beaver Enterprise, Dec. 19—

Get off my reservation. The military reservation has been extended by the War Department; it now measures six miles east and west by about three miles north and south.

The following missionaries left Beaver yesterday for the States and England: P. T. Farnsworth, J. H. Skinner and William Ashworth. Farnsworth will go to Indiana, Skinner to England, and Ashworth's destination we have not learned.

DIED.

At Brigham City, December 20th, 1876, of diphtheria and consumption, ARTHUR GOODWIN, son of Robert L. and Laura Martin, aged 1 year, 8 months and 13 days.

This is the second child which death has taken away in Brother Farnsworth's family within a week. It is, however, encouraging that there are some better prospects for the recovery of the remainder of the family, who have been severely afflicted with sickness lately.—Cow

In American Fork, Utah County, Dec. 22, 1876, of inflammation of the lungs, SARAH W. CANNON, aged 37 years.

Deceased was born in London, England, May 29, 1839; obeyed the gospel in 1857, and was baptized in the same year. She came to America in 1858, where she was married to her present husband, who was killed by a fall from a horse, while she was in the city of Salt Lake, in 1864. She was a devoted wife and mother, and a true friend to the poor and afflicted. She leaves a husband and eight children, with a large circle of friends and acquaintances, to mourn her loss.—Cow

Brother Nelson died in full faith of the gospel of Jesus Christ, and was buried in the State of Ohio, together with a number of other families of Saints, in 1875, to the State of Missouri, where he was born, on the way. He was present during the persecutions of the Saints in that State; was a staunch friend to the people, and especially to Bro. Joseph, the Prophet, and in many of the hardships, although he himself had not yet embraced the Gospel, he was given from that State along with the saints; found a resting place in Adams County, Illinois, for a short time; afterwards moved to Nauvoo, Hancock County, Illinois, and embraced the Gospel, and was one of the few who were in the West of the Saints had been driven out in 1846 that he nobly defied himself against the attack of the mob on that place; soon after he came to Council Bluffs in Iowa, where he since resided, and near the last of his life, when himself, wife and two sons and a daughter (one to have been born there) came to this place, leaving two sons and one daughter with their families in Iowa. He was a consistent and true member of the Church, and gave much good advice to his family, and was a true friend to the poor and afflicted. He died in full faith of the Gospel, and was buried in the same place. He leaves a wife and eight children, with a large circle of friends and acquaintances, to mourn his loss.—Cow

At this date, of consumption, Dec. 22nd, 1876, HAZEL JONES.
