SENATE.

Tribute to Sumner by Anthony. WASHINGTON, 12.—The galleries were crowded this morning before the hour of meeting. The dead senator's chair was draped in mourning, and white flowers were placed on his desk. The chaplain, in his opening prayer, feelingly alluded to the double bereavement of the nation in the deaths of Fillmore and Summer.

the nation in the deaths of Fillmore and Sumner.

Anthony then rose and said—
"Mr. President—In the absence of the senator to whom this sad duty appertains, but who is detained from the Senate by illness, the senator from Massachusetts, I have been requested to make to you a formal announcement of an event which my heart refuses to accept, and which my lips hesitate to disclose. It is an event which needs not to be announced, for its dark shadow rests gloomily upon this chamber, and not upon the Senate and Capitol only, but upon the whole country, and the intelligence of which has been already carried to the remotest lands, and has aroused the probeen already carried to the remotest lands, and has aroused the profoundest sympathy wherever humanity wants a friend and wherever liberty deplored an advocate. Following the oldest member of this body in continuous service, he, who yesterday was the oldest, beloved for the graces of his personal character, admired for his genius and accomplishments, revered for the fidelity with which he adhered to his convictions, illustrious for his services to the Republic and to the world, has crossed the dark river that divides us from the undiscovered country. Charles Sumner died yesterday; to-day, in humble submission to the Divine will, we meet to express our respect will, we meet to express our respect for his character and veneration for his memory. To-morrow, with sorrowing hearts, we shall bear him to that Massachusetts which he served so faithfully and which loved him so well, and to her soil, precious with the dust of patriotism and valor, of letters and of art, of statesmen and eloquence, we shall commit to grant licenses.

Committees to Attend Sumner's Funeral.

WASHINGTON, 12.—The following is the committee of the House appointed to accompany the remains of Senator Sumner to Massachusetts: Hurlburt, Hale, of Me., Foster, Rainey, Clayton, Scudder, the body of one who is worthy to rest by the side of the noblest and best of those who in the centuries of her history have made her a model of a free commonwealth. But the great duty which illustrates his life shall not die with him, and never shall earth cover the body of one whe is worthy to rest by the side of the noblest and best of those who in the centu-ries of her history have made her a strates his life shall not die with him, and never shall earth cover the immortal principles to which he devoted every energy of his soul, and the consummation and vindication of which, as his highest reward, a great God permitted him to witness. Mr. President, this is not the time, nor is the office mine to pronounce words that are due to this event; a future hour and a more fitting utterance shall interpret to the American people the affectionate respect of the Senate to our dead associate, and the hemage which it renders to his life and character."

Lives in a nearer capacity than as members of the House.

The following are the Senators appointed by the President protem, Carpenter, to accompany the remains of Senator Summer to Massachusetts: Anthony, Schurz, Sargent, Sherman, Ogleeby and Merriman; the President protem, Carpenter, to accompany the remains of Senator Summer to Massachusetts: Anthony, Schurz, Sargent, Sherman, Ogleeby and Merriman; the President protem, Carpenter, to accompany the remains of Senator Summer to Massachusetts: Anthony, Schurz, Sargent, Sherman, Ogleeby and Merriman; the President protem, Carpenter, to accompany the remains of Senator Summer to Massachusetts: Anthony, Schurz, Sargent, Sherman, Ogleeby and Merriman; the President protem, Carpenter, to accompany the remains of Senator Summer to Massachusetts: Anthony, Schurz, Sargent, Sherman, Ogleeby and Merriman; the President protem, Carpenter, to accompany the remains of Senator Summer to Massachusetts: Anthony, Schurz, Sargent, Sherman, Ogleeby and Merriman; the President protem, Carpenter, to accompany the remains of Senator Summer to Massachusetts: Anthony, Schurz, Sargent, Sherman, Ogleeby and Merriman; the President protem, Carpenter, to accompany the remains of Senator Summer to Massachusetts: Anthony, Schurz, Sargent, Sherman, Ogleeby and Merriman; the President protem, Carpenter, to accompany the remains of Senator Summer to Massachusetts: Anthony, Schurz, Sargent, Sherman, Ogleeby and Merriman; the President protem, and

When Anthony had concluded, he offered a resolution that the Senate attend the funeral in the Senate chamber to-morrow, and that a committee be appointed to accompany the remains to Massachusetts; adopted.

Announcement of Sumner's Sumner's death in the chaplain's of thanks for true and courageous men ever raised up to defend that which is just and right, and the hope that the dispensation over which the nation mourned to-day, might be sanctified. After reading the journal no business was entered action on the death of Sumner.

As the message was received from the Senate, E. B. Hoar arcse and, in a tearful voice and with great sadness of manner, said the event which the resolutions of the Senate announced fell upon the ear of the House and of the country yesterday with startling suddenness and to day, wherever the news of it spreads over this broad land, not only in this rity among his associates in public councils, not only in the old common wealth of which he was the pride; but in many of the cabins of the poor and lowly there is, to-day, as inexpressible tenderness and profound sorrow. There are many of us who have known and loved him whom this event unfits for public duties, or for any thought other than those of that pure life, that faithful public service, that assured immortality.

New York, 12.—A Berlin despatch says that Bismarck is seriously lil; his physicians are approhensive of the result.

The federal courts and offices of this city were closed to day out of respect to the memory of ex-President Fillmore. Flags are at highmost on all the public buildings and on many private buildings in honor alike of the ex-President and Senator Sumner, of Mass.

Philadolphia and Primburgia

General Schenck's visit to the U. S. is chanceled with the negotiation of a new reciprocity treaty between Bitain and the U. S., which is to otiviate any further proceedings under those clauses of the Alabama treaty which provided for a joint commission to remunerate the British colonies for losses on account of the free admission of our fishermen to their coast.

Will Lie in State Will Take Spe-cial Action—The Temperance Movement

ALBANY 12—Mayor Havemeyer, to-day, telegraphed the committee having charge of the funeral arrangements, that on the arrival of the remains of Senator Sumner here, they would be allowed to lie in state in the Governor's room, in order to give an opportunity to the public to view the face of the dead.

The Chamber of Commerce will call a special meeting to take action on the death of the distinguished statesman.

CHARLESTON, S. C., 12.—The court of general session was closed to-day, and flags placed at half mast, in consequence of the death of Mr. Sumner.

Temperance Meeting Will Test

WHEELING, Va., 12.—A large temperance meeting was held here to-day. The women do not propose visiting the saloons, but to exert, by means of their prayers, an influence on the city and county not

The body of Sumner will be conveyed by the Committee of Arrangements to the Capitol rotunds between 9 and 10 o'clock to-morrow merning, where they will lie in state till 12:30, and will then be carried to the Senate Chamber presented by the Chambers of both Senate chamber to-morrow, and that a committee be appointed to accompany the remains to Massachusetts; adopted.

Schurz and Conkling made brief remarks.

Schurz said he could say nothing now, but he moved to amend the resolution offered by Anthony, so as to invite the House of Representatives to attend the funeral ceremonies in the Senate chamber to-morrow.

Conkling made a few remarks in favor of the resolutions, and said he could add nothing to the touching and eloquent fribute of Anthony.

Schurz' amendment was then adopted, and the resolutions, as amended, were agreed to.

On motion of Anthony, the President pro tem was directed to appoint the Senate committee contemplated in the resolutions after adjournment, and the Senate adjourned.
