The following is the full text of McCrary's important resolution, which has been adopted by the House judiciary committee, and will probably be brought before the House for action to-morrow or Tuesday:

Whereas, There are differences of opinion as to the proper mode of counting the electoral votes for President and Vice-President, and as to the manner of determining the questions that may arise as to the legality and validity of the returns made of such votes by the several States; and,

Whereas, As it is of the utmost importance that all differences of opinion and all doubts and uncertainty upon these questions should be removed, to the end that the votes may be counted and the results declared by the tribunal whose authority none can question, and whose decisions all will accept as final; therefore,

Resolved, That a committee of seven members of the House be appointed by the Speaker to act in conjunction with any similar committee that may be appointed by the Senate, to prepare and report, without delay.

PITTSBURG, 10.—A special from Petratia says this afternoon, about five o'clock, a wagon load of glycerine, containing some 600 pounds of fluid, exploded with terrible force, three-quarters of a mile from here, tearing the wagon and horses into shreds, and instantly killing Danl. Smith, superintendent of Roberts' Torpedo Co., and Mr. Humphreys, of this place. The bodies were blown to atoms, and with the exception of a portion of one foot and some pieces of charred flesh, have not yet been found. The men were unloading the wagon, and it is supposed that one of them slipped and dropped a can. The magazine, located twenty-five yards from the scene of the disaster, containing upwards of 5,000 pounds, escaped injury.

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., 10.—During a gale this afternoon M. Marion and child were killed while attempting to escape from the house, the roof of which was blown off. Miss Marion was seriously injured.

NEW YORK, 10.—The committee of bankers and merchants of New York met at Delmonico's and appointed Benj. B. Sherman, of the Mechanics Bank, treasurer of the relief fund for the Brooklyn sufferers. It was reported that the majority of those lost were poor, leaving relatives depending on them. There were about 75 cases of absolute destitution, and from one hundred to two hundred cases requiring special assistance.

The funeral services over the remains of the actors, H. S. Hitchcock, the stage name of Murdoch, and Claude Burroughs, took place at two o'clock this afternoon, from the Church of the Transfiguration, "The Little Church around the Corner." Rev. Dr. Haughton officiated. Thousands of people assembled outside the church, notwithstanding the bitter cold, and the sacred edifice was crowded. The music was rendered by the best talent in the city. Among them Madame Eugene Pappenheim, Miss Emma Thursley, Mrs. Phillip Sulager, Miss Anna Drasdel, Miss Henrietta Carrodi, Octavie Gomiore and M. Fritoch. Among the prominent actors and actresses were Mr. Edwin and Mrs. Booth, Dion and Mrs. Boucicault, Chas. Thorne, Lester Wallace, Tony Pastor, Kate Claxton and Fanny Morant Morris, representatives from the principal theatres of New York, more particularly Union Square and Wallack's, and a large delegation from the Chestnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia. The music, which was exquisitely rendered, comprised—"I know that my Redeemer Liveth," "Quis Est Homo," "Stabat Mater," "Angels Ever Bright and Fair," and "O, Rest in the Lord, Elijah." The services lasted nearly three hours. The remains were conveyed, prior to interment, to the Second Street vaults, Brooklyn.

The pall-bearers were Lawrence J. Barrett, J. H. Stoddard, F. B. Ward, H. F. Daley, Jas. O. Mills, H. W. Montgomery, Lester Wallace, F. F. Mackey, Frederic Robinson, A. E. Linn, Edward Lamb, H. B. Phillips, John Parselle, N. E. Sheridan, H. J. Montague and H. C. Jarrett.

In accordance with arrangements by the city authorities, memorial services were held at the Brooklyn Academy of Music, Park Theatre, and Hooley's Opera House. All these places were thronged with people. Mayor Schroeder presided at the Academy of Music, made a short address, speaking principally about the erection of a monument over the place where the victims of the disaster are buried.

Appropriate addresses were made at the Park Theatre and Hooley's Opera House, and in many of the churches, where collections were taken up in behalf of the sufferers and bereaved families.

The Times Washington special says the republicans are advised of the discovery of a most extraordinary circular. It is printed and addressed to the commanders of the militia and all armed organizations in the Southern States. The circular recites that it is the desire of democratic managers to have an imposing military demonstration at the time of the inauguration of Tilden, and it requests the recipient of the circular to notify the person sending it whether his command can attend, how large it will be, and especially to give a record of the officers, members, calibre, character and quality of its rifles and field pieces. A blank is left for the signature of the person sending it. That the democrats might desire to make an important military pageant in the event of Tilden's inauguration can be understood, but the remarkable request as to the calibre of the rifles and artillery and record of officers is believed to mean mischief.

NEW YORK, 11.—The World says more than thirty vessels are ashore near Sandy Hook, because of the late fearful gale.

The Buffalo (N. Y.) Saturday evening Star, Louis express on the New York Central road, when near Loneyville, sixteen miles from this city, ran into a freight train, which was stuck in the snow. The two engines drawing the express and the freight engine were wrecked, two express cars with the through Chicago safe, and the contents of the Buffalo safe were burned. Benjamin Woodworth of the Utica Express, messenger, was burned to death. Geo. W. Douglass, engineer, James Vaughan, fireman, on the first engine of the passenger train, were seriously injured. A switchman was sent forward to flag the coming train, but taking refuge from a severe storm in a caboose lying on a side track, allowed the train to pass by him. The passengers escaped injury.

The Times Washington special says Senator Boutwell, who was appointed a member of the subcommittee of the committee on elections to go to Louisiana, will decline to serve.

The Herald's Washington special says there is no longer fear of tumult, for the senate has a right to close the galleries and it is ordered in the count of 1871. In my opinion Hayes is elected. That is what the President believes, and we are going to inaugurate him. If he proves on the 14th of February to have 185 votes, the southern committee will not be able to show any cause why it should not be done. As to what the democrats can do about it, what can they do? We mean to move only by constitutional and legal methods. It is all fudge about General Grant holding over. He don't want to hold over, but he means to put Hayes in the White House, and then his duty will be done. There is going to be no occasion for the democrats stirring up riots anywhere, and if they did so they would put themselves in the wrong. As to the next electors, they will take care of themselves. If Hayes is a satisfactory President, the country will content. If he is not, then the Democrats will have their chance and make the most of it. Those are the views, frankly expressed, of the extreme republican managers, and there is reason to believe that they mean what they say. But there are other views also. There are men on that side who do not wish to carry matters with so high a hand. The Democrats do not mean to defend the Oregon matter. They will let their opponents worry over it. It is now probable that the Democrats will refuse to adjourn for the holidays, many of them believing it necessary to remain in session to watch the President's movements in the south.

COLUMBIA, 11.—It is reported to-night that ten negroes, who murdered a man named Otten, and wounded another named Baker at Lowndesville, Abbeyville Co., and who were discovered to be engaged in a plot to murder the whites, were taken from the sheriff's posse and lynched by Georgians. Thirteen negroes were arrested on warrants issued by a trial justice, and owing to threats of lynching were sent under a strong guard to jail at Anderson, in an adjoining county, for safe keeping. It is supposed, while en route, that they were seized by Georgians, who came across the Savannah river, and summarily dealt with them. No details of the excitement.

CHARLESTON, 11.—Sixteen negroes were arrested in Abbeyville county, charged with the murder of two white men, whom they ambushed and shot near Lowndesville on Monday. Six of the negroes made a confession, implicating their fellow-prisoners and divulging a plot for the murder of the white men of the village and capture of the women; twenty of them were in the conspiracy. Of the sixteen arrested, thirteen started from Lowndesville to Anderson, the intention being to send them from Anderson to Abbeyville by railway. This roundabout course was adopted to prevent lynching by the men said to be in the direct road from Lowndesville to Abbeyville. The prisoners started from Anderson on Saturday under a strong guard, but up to last evening had not been heard from. It is rumored that they have been intercepted and lynched by a party from Georgia, but no confirmation of the report has reached Charleston. Two of the prisoners had been hurt when captured, and the party may have stopped on the road to ease the wounded, especially as the weather had been so cold.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, 8.—A special to the Standard, from Constantinople, says that a conspiracy to depose the present Sultan was discovered on Tuesday night. The conspirators, six of whom were found in disguise in the Palace, and were arrested, had planned to carry off Ex-Sultan Murad in a steamer, which they had already engaged, to Athens. When there they intended to proclaim that Murad had recovered his reason, and the Sultan Hamid was consequently a usurper. The prisoners are of various nationalities. One is a Greek, and a brother of the chief dragoman of one of the principal foreign consulates.

LONDON, 9.—Gladstone, in a speech at the National Conference, charged Lord Beaconsfield with being personally responsible for the Government's position. That the Ottoman supremacy should be abolished throughout the insurgent provinces. Foreign intervention he regarded as indispensable. He eulogized the Czar and the Russian people, although he admitted that the bureaucracy and the military party ought to be regarded with suspicion. England, in accordance with her duty and traditions, ought to loyally participate in the liberation of the East.

GLASGOW, 9.—The County Justices, owing to the appalling catastrophe in Brooklyn, have agreed that steps should be taken to provide ample means of exit from theatres and protection against fire, and have appointed a committee of justices and architects and pyrotechnists to inspect the different theatre and report to a future meeting.

VIENNA, 9.—Advices from Constantinople state that a fresh war tax of fifteen piastres has been levied upon all males between the ages of five and sixty.

LONDON, 9.—The Queen issued a proclamation to-day, proroguing Parliament till February.

LONDON, 10.—The two Montenegrins, who had conspired to assassinate Midhat Pasha, were arrested at his residence last Wednesday.

Among the conspirators engaged in the other plot to carry off Ex-Sultan Murad, are two Turks, a Pole and a Greek. The latter was formerly assistant dragoman of the British Embassy.

LONDON, 11.—A Berlin dispatch says the fact that the Russian Government does not prohibit private meetings to promote the purchase of American vessels to be used as privateers in case of war is creating much comment among German ship owners, who, being largely engaged in the carriage of Russian merchandise, fear the ruin of their trade, if England should ever be compelled to resort to reprisals. A special to the Standard from Alexandria announces that envoys from the King of Abyssinia, who has been kept under surveillance in Cairo for some time, recently managed to escape to the house of the British consul; they were re-arrested during the night by an order of the Khedive. The continuation of war with Abyssinia is now certain.

Our Country Contemporaries

Ogden Junction, Dec. 7—

When the Iron Works Company fired up their furnace on Monday night, we hoped the experiment would be successful. We regret to say, however, that such is not the case. The coal will not produce sufficient heat, and as it settles down in the furnaces it crumbles to small dust and chokes up the mouth of the blast pipe. They commenced this morning to cool off the fire, and about twelve o'clock an explosion occurred, which cracked the chimney, causing some of it to fall. The furnace will be re-lined, made a little smaller, and coke instead of coal will next be used for firing up.

Beaver Enterprise, Dec. 5—

Beaver presents a lively aspect, the court having brought many citizens from the surrounding country.

A great deal of freight and travel is constantly passing through Beaver for the mining districts and settlements in Southern Utah.

Bill Asay, our friend with the champion auger, says that the mining excitement is running a little too high in the Leeds country for his business, unless he should propose boring for silver. Everything is being assayed from pine wood and alkali water to grindstones.

—Dr. Waters, in the medical service of the Bombay army, while stationed at Bushire, obtained three months' leave, and he resolved to improve it by visiting England, and doing it overland. He rode on horseback through Persia, to the borders of the Caspian, nearly a thousand miles, in fourteen days, over wretched roads. On the Caspian he took boat to Baku, thence to Astrakhan, and to Carltzen, on the Volga, where he took train to Warsaw, thence passing through Berlin and Calais to London. Spending a month in England he went on his return to Alexandria, thence to Beyrout and Damascus, thence across the great Syrian Desert to Bagdad, and thence to Bushire, back in the prescribed three months.

Disorder of the Kidneys.—In all diseases affecting these organs, whether they secrete too much or too little water; or whether they are afflicted with stone or gravel, or with aches and pains settled in the loins over the regions of the kidneys, these Pills should be taken according to the printed directions, and the Ointment should be well rubbed into the small of the back at bed time.
