SALT LAKE STAKE CONFERENCE.

The Semi-annual Conference of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion will convene in the Assembly Hall, Salt Lake City, on Saturday, September 3d, 1892. Meetings will be held as follows: Saturday at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., and Sunday at 10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

A general attendance of the priesthood and people is desired.

The Stake organizations of the Relief Society, Sabbath Schools, Young Men's and Young Ladies' Mutual Improvement Associations, and the Primary organizations are requested to have their reports ready in time for the Conference.

ANNA W. CANNON,
JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,
CHARLES W. PEPPER,
Stake Presidency.

FRAGMENTS.

Editor JAMES E. TAYLOR will speak at the High Priest's meeting tomorrow.

Yesterdays' meetings in the Salt Lake Meeting House amounted to $300.00, against $300.00 for the same day last year.

There are messages at the Western Union Telegraph office for Charles A. Cannon, Mrs. F. A. Green, Dr. D. Marshall, Miss Anna Hamblin, C. Smith &c.

Stevens E. C. Chapman, president of the Primary associations of the Salt Lake Stake, has written to the presidents of their various organizations to send in their semi-annual reports immediately.

The officers' meeting of the Stake Primary Associations will be held on Friday, September 2d, at 2 p.m. at the residence of Steve C. Chapman, 112 Main Street, Temple street. It is expected that every organization will be represented.

This afternoon the price of coal in the city is ranging under 6 cents, some companies charging 5 cents per ton, others 7 cents per ton. The reason for this does not appear but the result certainly is of much value to the working man.

The services at the Jewish temple, Provo, were suspended yesterday. Third Street communion was given in the Synagogue sharp. The ritual will be observed by a full choir, and Rabbi Moses P. Jacobson will officiate in the service. The public is cordially invited.

There was an informal meeting of the Chamber of Commerce members last night at the Water House. About a dozen were present. The proceedings were simple, the speakers being invited forward nothing was publicly made known. It is said, however, that some important matters were under discussion.

A firm which owned the large mercantile establishment of Bidwell and Clegg, at Sandy, yesterday, resulted in a heavy loss. The adjoining building, across Main Street, which contained insurance, the loss is but much less than $1000. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

High Priest Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the High Priest's Quorum of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion will convene in the Eleventh Ward assembly rooms tomorrow, Saturday, at 11 a.m. Elder James E. Taylor, president, will be the speaker. Subject: "The sin of blasphemy."

A general invitation is extended to the priesthood.

ELIAS MORRIS,
President.

Shat and Buried.

Yesterday the Ogden health officers examined a sick horse belonging to a Mr. Johnson on Sullivan Avenue, near Madison and Twenty-first. The animal was afflicted with glanders, and it was condemned, taken to the slaughterhouse and incinerated. The glands are not very contagious among horses but they can be contracted by any person who gets any virus into a cut or abrasion on the hands or face. Once contracted it is incurable.

The Theatre.

We are promised by Manager Burton of the Salt Lake Theatre, on Friday and Saturday, matinees and nights, September 2d and 3d, one of the most attractive comedy fare bills that house has ever given to the public. It is Mortimer's comedy "Gloriana," as produced by Charles Froehman's excellent company. The bill will be the best ever seen in this city. The dialogue is bright and witty, it is full of action, and does not depend upon home play for its fun. Marvelous musical numbers and music are set aside and the comedy is the chief attraction. Side of scenes open Wednesday, August 28. It being the opening of the thirty-first regular season of the Salt Lake Theatre, it has been decided to give a special program, and our theatre goers will undoubtedly appreciate this fact and pack the house.

HELD UP AND ROBBED.

A jeweler relieved of his stock by Trade.

Late Wednesday afternoon William Chitty, a traveling jeweler, was assaulted and robbed of a considerable amount of jewelry by ten men, near the Utah railroad station. After committing the daring deed the fellows made a hasty departure. The United States marshals were notified and Deputy Bowman left immediately for the scene of the trouble. The alleged robbers were captured, however, by Captain Stagg, one at each end of the other at Elko.

The marshal returned on a freight last evening, bringing the felons with him. They were placed in the Ogden City jail, and gave their names as Thomas Head and Ed Montague.

KIDNAPPED BY INDIANS.

Three White Men Likewise Take a Hand in the Affair.

AN INCIDENT ON THE INDIAN RESERVATION.

A Relative of Judge McFetridge Held for Horse Stealing on an Unfounded Charge.

Accompanied by Judge McDowell's legal representative, a young man of very respectable appearance named Fred J. Cooke, who comes from Peoria, Illinois, appeared before Judge Anderson in chambers this morning, on a suit of habeas corpus, with a view of securing his release from custody, he having been detained in the penitentiary under the following circumstances: Cooke who is related by marriage to Judge McDowell, went there some time ago, and has lately been in the service of a stockman in New Mexico. He and two others were on their way back to New Mexico, after having been in search of a cattle drive somewhere on the borders of Arizona and Utah, and when crossing the Indian reservation, just south of Bluff City, they were surrounded by a band of twenty-five Indians and three white men, who after driving several stray mares called upon them to throw up their hands and took them in custody on a charge of horse stealing on the reservation. It seems, however, there was no ground whatever for this accusation. They were confined in Bluff City and the Indians swore out a complaint against them. No testimony of any kind was taken, and the man who was simply held over and there were held together. The accused were taken from Bluff City to Provo, where brought to the city a day or two ago and lodged in the penitentiary. There Cooke's companion, John G. Head, came to him in prison in this case, it is not likely they will remain there much longer.

It transpired this morning that the three men were arrested without any supporting papers having been statutorily issued, and that the commitment papers prepared were in no way sufficient to hold them.

Judge Anderson, and of course the Court could not investigate the charge of horse stealing, so the trial was adjourned in court, and rescheduled at 10 o'clock this morning, but his brother, at whose instance he was taken into custody, failed to appear as prosecutor, and how that money was returned to him, and the case was dismissed.

A CRIME INVESTIGATION.

Robert Holt paid guilty to disturbing the peace and was fined $5.

Judge Anderson said that if they had followed the laws of Atkins the robbery should come from the authorities there.

The case thus ended, and Judge McDowell then formally instructed his relatives to judge, clerk, marshal and others present.

A DIVORCE CASE.

The divorce of Harriet Kilgore, Mrs. Maurice M. Knight, came before Judge Anderson this morning. Attorney Baldwin, a Talmage, representing the plaintiff, and Judge George L. Coulter, the defendant. The ground upon which the decree was issued was, that the defendant was too irregular and after looking over them he evidently did not think they were.

Judge McDowell—Under your statement, you say that the wife, who is a widow, is now in your care, and she is entitled to a portion of the defendant's estate.

Judge McDowell thought that the conduct of the man who arranged the marriage was such that he deserved himself as sheriff of San Juan County—ought to receive a judicial reprimand.

Judge Anderson said that if they had followed the laws of Atkins the robbery should come from the authorities there.

The case thus ended, and Judge McDowell then formally instructed his relatives to judge, clerk, marshal and others present.

A DIVORCE CASE.

Knowlton Hendrickson, a Dane, now of Ogden, has filed a suit to obtain a divorce from his wife, whom he has been estranged from for six months. The parties are not very contagious among horses but they can be contracted by any person who gets any virus into a cut or abrasion on the hands or face. Once contracted it is incurable.

A QUIET TRIP.

Business was quiet in the United States Commission室s during the morning.

ASSISTANT ATTORNEY.

On motion of Assistant District Attorney Stephen the preliminary amounts of United States Marshals' fees were fixed for the period from June 1, 1892 to June 30, 1893; $2,242; March 1, 1893 to July 31, 1893, $1,802; July 1, 1893 to July 31, 1892, $1,494.20.

Sixth Ward Democrats.

A meeting of the Democrats residing in the above ward will be held at the Sixth Ward meeting house on Monday evening, August 27, 1892, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing for the coming campaign.

Judge Gold will talk on Democratic principles.

All are invited.

A Belligerent Blacksmith.

He Is Fired 825 For Two Officers—
A Sulky Arabian Peddler—
Other Cases.

City Contraband Harbor's camp on West South Temple Street was the scene of two more yesterday and last night. The disturbers were a blacksmith, named Van, Grammer, and an assistant named Bailey. They were arrested in the police court this morning.

"William Grammer," said the court, "are you guilty of fighting?"

"No, sir, I am not. We just made my house last night and my eye all blazed up, and local brooks."

The prisoner had certainly been roughly handled, as one of his eyes was completely closed and discolored a dark blue color.

A. J. Bailey, who had prettily pleaded guilty to fighting and disturbing the peace, again came forward to plead in a second offence of a similar nature.

Bailey said: "Will you allow me to make a statement if I please guilty?"

"I will," responded the court, "with more than characteristic promptness."

"Then I am guilty," he said, "I was working in the blacksmith shop yesterday when I was disturbed beyond endurance, and the following evening I was again disturbed."

A workman named Marape—relative of the contraband from the south east—said he had interrupted the blacksmith as a passenger, but while acting as a blacksmith he was knocked down and struck up.

After the evidence had been taken, the court passed for a moment and then said: "Mr. Bailey, I will give you $10 for each offense." Mr. Grammer is discharged.

A LUCKY BRENTALYST.

Mrs. Green, the complainant's wife, said she was arrested a couple of days ago for disturbing the peace, and was held in jail without cause given till 8 a.m. "I'm a sulky Arabian peddler," she said, "and I was given the name of Van, Grammer, and I was taken into custody for that."
