system than to make that food do its duty. By duty is meant to furnish health, strength and rich blood to the body. It is necessary first of all to chew food in condition to digest it, and the bowels to churn it ready for removal. And right here so many find their greatest trouble. The fermenting, undirected food stays in the stomach and bowels, implifting the nerves and blood, giving rise to sallow complexion headache, sour stomach, bad breath and often serious afflictions like skin diseases. All this is due to impaired digestion and to a refusal of the bowels to do they work. Walter Camp has proven by ex-perience that he knows how to write a good story on any college topic. But when it comes to football he is absolutely at home, for Mr. Camp is the caar in all such matters, and any-thing he says is strictly ex-cathedra where football interests are involved. He found time from his duties as manager of one of the largest manu-facturing establishments in New Engmanager of one of the largest many facturing establishments in New Eng-land, to write a story book, "Thu Substitute," a college football story, that "took so well" that he has been encouraged to write another, "Jack Hall at Yale." Mr. Camp gives a thorough explanation of the technical details of the same in this work, so thorough explanation of the technical details of the game in this work, so interwoven with a narrative of college life as to make it particularly inter-eating. The "hero" is carried through the great games with West Point. Princeton. Pennsylvania and Harvard, setting forth the experiences peculiar to those contests. Anything Mr. Camp writes about colleges matters is al-ways read with interest.
