LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Out of Coal.—Salt Lake has been out of coal for two days. Is the Union Pacific unintentionally predicting the early completion of the Utah Eastern?

New Magazines.—Jas. Dwyer, Esq., the enterprising news dealer, has on his table Harper's Magazine and Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for March. Both are nicely illustrated interesting numbers.

The Irrigation Bill.—The bill on irrigation matters, which has passed both houses of the Legislature and been submitted for the approval of the Governor, is one of the best measures passed since the Assembly. There is a general earnest hope that His Excellency will give it his signature.

Twins.—We congratulate our friend, David Candland, Esq., of Chester, Sanpete County, on the birth of twins in his family, presented to him by his wife, Mrs. Hannah A. Candland. The auspicious event happened on Monday, the 10th inst., "at a o'clock in the morning."

Error of Omission.—In our item of last evening, headed "Change Not Desirable," reproducing the report of the Judiciary Committee on C. P. 5, pertaining to procedure in criminal cases, an error occurred. In the last line, read "and recommend that it do not pass." The word "not" was inadvertently left out by the compositor, and the omission overlooked by the proof-reader.

Cattle Thieves Caught.—A Kanosh correspondent, under date of the 18th inst., informs us that Edward Rappley and William Manhart, (the latter known as "Derringer Bill") both of Kanosh, were arrested on the 8th inst., for cattle stealing, and are now in jail at Beaver, having been examined before a Justice of the Peace at Frisco. They had 14 head of cattle in their possession, when arrested.

Killed by a Blast.—The following special was received this afternoon:

STOCKTON, Utah, Feb. 20.
Editors Deseret News:

About five o'clock last evening, William Fuller, an old resident of this place, was fatally injured by the premature discharge of a powder keg which he had put in a large pile of wood for the purpose of splitting it. He applied a red-hot poker to a short piece of fuse, connecting with the charge in the log, and unfortunately held it there too long after it had ignited, but of which fact he was apparently ignorant, and before he realized it, the fire reached the charge and an explosion immediately followed, the report of which was distinctly heard throughout the town. One side of his face was torn away, his arm broken and hand mangled. The injury in the face evidently reached the carotid artery, and he bled to death, expiring at 10 o'clock last evening. The deceased was the father of Wm. Fuller, one of the editors of the Salt Lake Herald.

Stealing a Ride.—Last evening, on the arrival of the 8:20 train from Ogden, Officer William Calder detected a man with a bundle of bedding, creeping out from under one of the cars. He intercepted him and the man immediately began acting viciously. "What do you want?" asked he. "Your fare," said the officer. The stranger gave vent to an oath and drew back to strike the policeman, which induced the latter to defend himself by jarring and returning the blow. Calling assistance, Mr. Calder then took his man, who began shouting "murder," and otherwise acting in a very ugly manner, to the street car, and having hand-cuffed him, brought him up town. His determined resistance and the suspicious appearance of the bundle, made the officer think the case would develop into something more serious than the stealing of a ride on the break-lar from Ogden, and he determined to hand the offender over to the custody of the police at the City Hall. The tramp endeavored to escape several times and continued swearing and cursing, at intervals, during the trip to town. Alighting from the car, a man came up whom everyone called "Sullivan," whereupon the prisoner endeavored to strike an acquaintance with said "Sullivan," which, however, was vain. He here gave his name as "French." "What am I arrested for?" he again demanded, this time of Sullivan. "For stealing a ride," was the answer. "Oh, is that it?" asked the tramp, with a sigh of relief. "Partially," said the officer. So talking, they arrived at Hall, where the bundle was examined and found to contain blankets, shirts, drawers, silk handkerchiefs, a hat, etc., etc., in sufficient quantity to fit out a Jew peddler, and his pockets being emptied, brought forth rings, chains, shirt studs, pocket knives, etc., in endless profusion. He gave his name as the Hall as W. F. Wilbur. It was suspected that he stole the articles found on his person in Ogden city.

Bishop's Meeting.—Another very interesting meeting was held last evening, under the auspices of the Presiding Bishopric. The house was filled to its utmost capacity. The first speaker was Bishop Edward Hunter, who finished upon the subject of the poor in Utah, advising them to go into the country and get themselves homes, instead of remaining in the city where there was hardly work sufficient for those who were already settled. The country offered the best chances for the poor man, while the city offered none at all. He also alluded to the "tramp nuisance" and described how often tramps called at his office "hunting work, hunting work," but he added, "I guess they don't want to find it very bad. But, brethren, don't let them starve; feed them and do the best you can with them, and get them to go into the country and work for a home." The speaker then dwelt upon home manufactures, and showed the wisdom and necessity of establishing and sustaining them. Mentioned the fact of one of our home mercantile firms having recently received a car load of eastern soap, which had never been ordered, and believed that it was done to forestall an order to our home soap factories. He deprecated the act, and gave as his opinion, that the proper thing for the receivers to do, in such a case, would be to send the soap back, or if it was intended as a gift, to give it to the poor as fast as it came. We had conversed to sustain home manufactures, and it was a duty to do it.

Battle-door and Shuttle-cock.—Elder William Willes, besides being a live man in the Sunday School cause, contributes to the welfare and entertainment of the little folks, out of doors as well as indoors. He called this morning to exhibit specimens of his handiwork, in the form of the battle-door and shuttle-cock, home made, which toys he is now engaged in manufacturing. It is a delightful game for the playground or the house, and furnish healthful recreation for children and ladies, as well as gentlemen. Brother Willes sells his toys very cheap. They are good and substantial implements, and cost but 20 cents a pair, single ones 10 cents. The game can be played by one or more. Call on William Willes, 20th Ward, and give him your order for a set.

Washington's Birth-day.—There is a movement on foot to close our principal stores and places of business, on Monday the 22d inst., in honor of Washington's birth-day, which comes on Sunday. This will enable all to celebrate it without breaking the Sabbath. The following named houses have agreed to close on Monday, and give their employees a holiday: Z. C. M. I., Walker Brothers, S. P. Teasdel, Cunningham & Co., 13th Ward Co-op., J. C. Cutler, Young Marks and Young, Cohn Bros., T. R. O'Reilly, G. F. Culmer, G. W. Davis, G. M. Scott and others.

A Good Lecture.—Elder A. N. Macfarlane delivered his lecture on "Spiritual Blindness," in a very able manner, last evening, in the 21st Ward Meeting-House. He dwelt upon the spiritual blindness of the ante-diluvians, of the people since the flood, and down to the present day. A lack of space prevented a synopsis of the lecture, which was a very interesting one, and well repaid all who attended. The speaker occupied just one hour, and at the close was tendered a hearty vote of thanks.

The security of Diamonds, Gold and Silver, and the difficulties met with in securing them, is a sure indication of their value. Thus it is with a valuable medicine. Dr. A. K. Kasper's Celebrated German Pulmonic Elixir, through the jealousy of rivals, has met with the most bitter opposition, and apparently almost insurmountable obstacles have been thrown in its way; but its opponents might as well try to change the course of the sun, sweep back the ocean with a broom or put out a prairie fire with a leaf.

For the cure of Throat and Lung diseases, such as Coughs, Colds, Consumption and Bronchial Affections, it is unequalled. Its cures are truly magical. Ask your Druggist for it. The genuine bears the Russian Coat of Arms, the facsimile signature of Dr. A. K. Kasper, and has his name blown on every 75 cent bottle. Trial bottle 25 cents. The Z. C. M. I. Drug Department and Moore Allen & Co., Salt Lake City. d226 w29
