CAPT EWEN TO TESTIFY.

Jackson, Ky., July 23.—Capt. Ewen Jett and White. Ewen was escorted by soldiers as far as Torrent. At that place the troops left the train and escorted Charles Green, a witness before the grand jury, who has been threatened, back to Jackson. Green is to testify in the Cockrill case. It is claimed that he saw the men who fired the shot that killed Cockrill, which told the story to the grand jury, which it is believed, will result in the indictment and arrest of certain officials of the county on the charges of bribery and accessory to the murder of Marcum.

RESCUE WORK MOVES SLOWLY

Another Body Found in the Hanna Mine, Making the Eigh teenth Recovered Since the Explosion—Gases and Stench Overcome Many of the Rescuers.

(Special to the "News.")

Hanna, Wyo., July 23.—The remains of D. M. Asaro, an Italian miner, were found in room 21 of level 18 last night, making the 18th body recovered from the ill-fated mine since the explosion on June 30. The work of rescue is progressing slowly on account of gas and the many piles of debris that fill the workings. The bodies of the victims were badly decomposed and were it not for the strong clothing worn by miners at the time of death would be a very serious problem to cover the bodies. The stench arising from the remains is so strong that many of the rescuers, undertakers and members of the coroner jury have been overcome. It is expected that 50 victims will be recovered during the next few days.

Great Metropolis Learned of the Pope's Death From New York
Sent From There to the Reuter Agency—Figaro
Comments on the Fact.

Paris, July 23.—This morning's Figaro says:
"It is a serious fact that it was from New York that the news of the death of the pope reached London. As soon as the crowded condition of all the hotels at Rome and ending at New York. The New York office of the associated Press in its turn cabled news to the Reuter agency in London which had not yet heard of it, although there exists a direct wire from Rome to London."

pose the correspondent of the Associated Press cabled New York by all the various routes. One of these messages was sent by the French cable from Bernier to New York and arrived at its destination in a few seconds in spite of the distance.

To London. The satisfaction of the associated Press can be conceived. To understand it has cabled its congratulations and thanks to M. Berard, under secretary of state for posts and telegraphs in France, and to the French cable company.

It was with myriads of electrical bulbs presented a carnival scene.

Macedonian Revolutionists Active

Constantinople, July 23.—The increasing activity of the revolutionists in Macedonia and the difficulties encountered by the Turkish troops are producing an unpleasant effect in all quarters and apprehension in diplomatic circles where it is believed the existing situation will lead to fresh demands on the part of the powers, including the establishment of efficacious European control. Even the Austrian scheme is inadequate.

James Corrigan of Chicago Dead

Chicago, July 23.—James Corrigan, the original "waterman" of Chicago, and a cousin of the late Abraham Lincoln, died here today at the age of 44 years. Mr. Corrigan was a native of County Meath, Ireland. He came to the United States in 1834. With a keen business instinct he soon found employment in furnishing aqua-stricken community in Chicago with pure drinking water. He filled a barrel several and peddled the tickets at 2 cents a pair. The contractor was fined $100. Mr. Corrigan's last work was in the water department of the city.

FLAG ON VICTORIA TOWER.

May Be Placed at Half Maste in Honor of the Pope.

London, July 22.—The first mention of the pope's death occurred this afternoon when William Redmond (Irish Nationalist), asked if the flag on the Victoria tower, Westminster and those on the public grounds would be half-masted out of respect to the late pope. Viscount Rosebery gave the answer to the household, replying for the government said there was no precedent, but the question of ordering the half-masting of the flag on the buildings was now under consideration.

The Evening Post says: "It develops in the trial that the (defendant) counsel will put in the defense that the funds he is charged with stealing were not legitimate dues and fines the organization had extorted from wrong from builders and contractors under threat. Counsel made the opposition that the defendant had been forced to pay the union $31,000. Questions were put by defendant's counsel to make it appear that the union had been paid $200,000 in addition that in the last year over $200,000 had been paid to unions in this city by bosses and employers for fines, secret dues and expenses." At one time, in questioning, the defendant's counsel asked a witness if there were not true one builder in New York had not paid $15,000 to settle some differences with the union, replied that he was a union man, replied that Mr. Redmond fitted a statement on the subject from the premier, Mr. Balfour, who said it was a question of respect to the dead people but universal respect and esteem, he supposed, should be accorded to all.

rules laid down must be observed, irrespective of sentiment, otherwise they would be in a difficult position. Precedent did not turn on respect for the but on his position of the movement. Mr. Redmond then called the attention of the government to the fact that the large lay-out of the United States by the order of President Roosevelt, which would perhaps influence British action. At any rate, he added, the matter might be lowered on the day of the funeral.
