IN POLICE COURT.

In police court before Judge Hall: George Franks and Robert St. Clair were arraigned on the charge of steal-ing a pair of shoes from Reese Howell's store on Saturday night. Frank plead not guilty, but witnesses were examined whose testimony pointed to his guilt. St. Clair plead guilty, and his honor fined Franks fifteen days, and St. Clair ten days at hard labor on the rock pile. Mathew Crawford, the man who stole the silverware from Christensen's dancthe suverware from christensen's danc-ing academy, was arraigned on the charge of housebreaking. He plead not guilty and waived examination. The court bound him over to the district court in the sum of $500, which amount he was unable to raise, so he was turned over to the county officials to await trial. IN THE DISTRICT COURT.

In the case of Carrie C. Stillwell vs heavy expense. St. Joseph ward now has not to exceed sixteen families, of some 140 souls.

Their dams in the river and canals have cost, since the settlement was made, over sixty thousand dollars. But at last they have got a dam that appears to be a fixture, it has taken a ast amount of labor and material to construct, and the overflow is on to solid rock, yet wherever there was a loose rock the force of the rushing water tumbled it down the stream. At present they are constructing another dam farther down the river to catch the seep water from the big dam; this dam will cost the people about two thousand dollars, but will greatly increase their water supply, as there is ulte a lot of water that springs up in the river bed in the two miles between dams.

The people of St. Joseph are prosperops, with large and comfortable homes. John McLaws, the agent of the Deseret News, is adding an addition to his home. President J. H. Richards is also improving his residence. Some of the young people are preparing to build and take to themselves additional re ponsibilities. An excellent school is maintained, Special: Session of City Council-Boy Burglars Captured.

Special Correspondence. Provo, Jan. 29 .- The city council held a special session this evening. The business to be considered was an ordinance to provide for the regulation of all sewer connections and the plumbing thereto for sewer district No. 1. The bill passed its second reading and was laid over until the next meeting for further consideration.

Mayor Taylor presented the name of Joseph Loveless as his appointee for the position of policeman, and asked that he be confirmed. The council refused to confirm the appointment on a strict party vote.

25 .- This has been the most open and pleasant winter known in these parts, and many are worried at the prospect of drouth.

Good schools are maintained here presided over by James Peterson and D. H. Thurman Jr., of Lehi, Utah. Three miles above here is the town of Taylor, and four miles still farther up the stream is Shumway; at the latter place is an excellent flour mill and a good water right to generate power. The water in this creek comes from springs and does not fluctuate. The people in all these places are ap-parently doing well and the appearance of their homes indicates prosperity. It requires much labor, however, to maintain their irrigation system, without which nothing could be produced. Elder Jesse N. Smith, the president of the Stake, resides here, and Snowflake ward is presided over by Bishop John Hunt. The meetings of the Saints are well attended, and a deep interest is taken in the different societies. D. J. Rogers of Bluff City is working with intelligent zeal as Y. M. M. I. A. missionary in this Stake.

AN ATTRACTIVE ASSOCIATION. The M. I. associations of this ward are in a flourishing condition. Every effort possible is being exercised by Garden.

Does it pay to grow vegetables to sell? Probably it does not. However, it should lessen the consumption of meat and vegetables to the value of $100 per anum.

much meat is consumed, and of that too great a portion is pork. The garden should not be a square lot of ground that cannot be worked by horsepower. It will cost more to work it entirely by hand-power than its products are worth. The fence required to protect it from the poultry is a useless expenditure of money. The garden should be in the corner of the field adjacent to the house, and should be long and narrow. No fence will be needed. The labor of hauling manure, breaking ground and most of the culti-vation can be done by horse-power.

Such things as peas, beans, beets, corn, tomattoes, cabbage, etc., should be planted in rows on one side of the garden, the rows being wide enough apart to admit of horse cultivation.

The onions, lettuce, parsnips, radisher and spinach and other small vegetables requiring hand culture should be on the other side of the garden. If the rows are so long that one of them has too large a quantity of one vegetable the row should be completed with another variety, or with other vegetables. Time is too precious to waste sticking peas and beans. The bush varieties, which require no sticking, should be used. About April 1 plant shallow a very early variety of sweet corn, like Cory. At the same time plant some large sweet variety, like Stowell's Ever green. At succeeding intervals of two weeks, until July 15, make plantings of the large sweet variety. This ought to give roasting ears from July 1 until

It is profitable and the farmer may grow a few hills of melons and squash es. It is better to plant several long rows and give clean culture by horseoower as long as the vines will permit The crop ought to be so abundant that the owner may select the choicest his family and to give to kind neighbors and have a large surplus to feed to his live stock. An acre of Kaffir corn should be grown. The horses and the should be grown. The horses cattle like the fodder. The latter also useful for the walls and roof of a temporary shelter for live stock or poultry. The seed is excellent poultry
