THE RETIRING OFFICIALS.

THE new City Council has adopted re solutions, prepared by a special com-mittee, expressive of the respect entertained for the outgoing members. We fully endorse the spirit and sentiment of those resolutions-which appear in their proper place in the report of the minutes of the Council-and feel assured that the people who placed those gentlemen in office will,unanimously sustain the action of the new body.

That the Edmunds Act, as interpreted and executed by the Utah Commission. Is unconstitutional, vexatious and unjust, is firmly believed by most people of all creeds and parties who have made themselves familiar therewith: And that the operations of the law and the rulings upon it have prevented the citizens from exercising a free choice in the selection of their public servants, cannot be successfully denied. active political life, no citizen who has abstained from attempting to exercise the rights conferred upon him by local enactment, admits for a moment that he is really disfranchised or lawfully debarred from holding office.

This paper has taken the same ground on this question assumed by the present City Council, namely, that those citizens who are described as "ineligible" to vote and hold office, "have voluntarily refrained from asserting their rights at the polls and in the nominating conventions of the people." And we do not admit that they as appears in our editorial of Sept. 8. 1882, from which we make the annexed extract:

"We refer to these points to show that while certain men and women who will stay away from the poils this year, submit to the measures that have been thought advisable by the Com-missioners, they do not concede the lawfulness of those measures, nor lightly esteem the value of the elective transfiles. AT Cheyenne the other day an interesting incident occurred on the home journey of Hon. George Q. Cannon from the East. While that gentleman was at the hotel, awaiting the departure of the train, he was recognized by Chief Justice Sener, of Wyoming, who greeted him with great cordiality and greeted him with great cordiality and introduced him to a number of friends of his who happened to be present. AfterMr. Cannon had returned to the station, he was again waited upon by a number of prominent gentlemen, who conveyed to him an invitation from Governor Hale to visit that official at his residence, his health being such as to render him unable to visit him. There being sufficient time left, Mr. Cannon responded and had a very pleasant interview with the Governor and other prominent gentlemen, among rubow may are convergent construction of the transmission to say that it was not sold this year: Mr. McIntire, County Judge; C. We have never receded from this position. They submit for the sake of peace, and to avoid such conflict as might endanger the good order of the community. It will perhaps be seen eventually that they "stoop to conquer."

MANASSA, Conejos Co., Feb. 27. To the Tribune:

During the past month a number of articles have appeared in the Tribune respecting the Mormon settlements in San Luis valley. One of the articles was written by your own regular corres-pondent—the others were copied from the Sait Lake Tribune.

In these communications are many false statements, which misrepresent and slander the inhabitants of these Mormon settlements; and inasmuch as

PROLIFIC WITH GOOD THINGS.

San Luis valley possesses many nat-ural resources. It is an extensive plain, nearly every acre of which can be brought under cultivation. There is an abundance of water that can be easily brought out in canals for irriga-tion purposes. All grains and vege-tables common to temperate climates are raised, the soil yielding plenteous harvests to the busbandman as a re-ward for his labor. The stock range is extensive and exceptionally good: and extensive and exceptionally good; and although there is but little timber in the valley, on the neighboring hills and mountains are extensive forests of pine, cedar and aspen-in short, the

"Yeu have taken a leading part in the politics of this section, have you not?"
"Yes, sir, I have for several years."
"Has President Smith ever sought to obtain any political influence?"
"Absolutely none whatever."
A people who were ambitious to become so conspicuous in your State politics as your regular correspondent represented our people to be, would want a more aggressive leader than President Smith: and out of a populartion of 1,300 would have more than 144 yoters registered.
We expect no favors from the State powermment of Colorado: neither do we ask for any but base rouchafed to all citizens in common. If any member of the Church has violated the laws of the State, as alleged, or shall here-after violate them, he is individually responsible, and not the whole colony. the Southern States; he can meet them anywhere, and not a man woman or child can say that he has deceived them. Neither are any of the Elders sent out to deceive, as the above ex-tracts from their instructions prove. A heartrending tale of suffering is told by your correspondent, and that, together with the story of Willian L. These charges who have not been traced, landed like-wise at Southampton and acted in con-cert with the three whose movements are partly known, but have kept aloof from them. The three men first mentioned, left Southampton about the same time that two gentlemen came to London, where one went di-mather to the Wayney Hotal comming rectly to the Waverly Hotel, carrying a value as heavy as lead. The other man went to the Waverly a few days later, after the latter. After they left the hotel two boxes, made to contain who came from the south. The following quotation is from a letter of instructions sent by the Presidency of the Southern mission to the traveling Elders in the Southern States: . "The saints who come from the South as a rule are poor, and it would be difficult for them to secure homes in Utah; whereas in Colorado it is an easy mat-ter, as they can obtain land at govern-ment prices. * In this connection we would advise that you do not hold out material advantages as induce-ments to the Saints to gather out of Babylon. If they gather to the place appointed let it be for the Gospel's sake, because God has comminded it, and that they and their children may be more perfectly taught in the things of God and His Kingdom." Instruc-tions of this kind have always been given to the Elders in the mission. The writer has spent the last four years in traveling and preaching through the Southern States-he has deceived no one. He was personally acquainted with many of the people who live at Manassa, when they were residents of the Southern States; he can meet them anywhere, and not a man, woman or child can say that he has deceived sion of five men, two of whom were described as Americans.
