TALKS TO STUDENTS

He Addresses the L. D. S. University During Devotional Exercises This Morning.

URGES TO MAINTAIN TRUTH.

Tells Young People to Uphold the Gospel First, Last and All The Time.

Devotional exercises at the L. D. S. university this morning were of a very interesting character, the students being addressed by Elder Heber J. Grant - Miss - Millie Williams sang three selections, "Sing Me to Sleep," "Love's Old Sweet Song" and "Happy Day," Edward Fitzpatrick playing a violin obligate to the last flamed song. The young violinist played two solos, Mendelssohn's "Concerto" and Raff's

"Cavatina."
In introducing the speaker, President Young sata that he was pleased to amnounce the presence of Apostic Heber J. Grant, a patron and stanch friend of the school. Elder Grant, who has been absent from home most of the time during the past six years, presiding over the Japanese mission, and later the European mission, spoke in part as follows: "Cavatina."

the time during the past six years, presiding over the Japanese mission, and later the European mission, spoke in part as follows:

"I am pleased to have the opportunity of meeting with the students of the Latter-day Saints' university. As President Young has said, I am interested in the welfare of this school and have been interested in it since the time it was established. I have been interested in all the Church schools that have been organized in the various cities of the Latter-day Saints, because I realize and know that they are calculated in their nature to impress upon the hearts of the young people a love for the gospel of Jesus Christ. I believe that this knowledge of the gospel which they receive in our Church schools is of more value to them than any information that they may gain in any other way. I rejoice in the advancement of our people in art, literature, science, music, and in every direction, but above all I rejoice in knowing that the young Latter-day Saints today are better informed regarding the principlese of the gospel and the plan of life and salvation than the young people were when I was a young man. When I was 24 years of age, it was a rare thing for any of the boys of my age to be able to stand up for 10 or 15 minutes and express themselves regarding the principles of the gospel, unless they had first been upon missions and had that experience. At that time our Sunday schools were in their infancy, and our Mutual Improvement associations amounted to little, as they had just been organized, and there was none of the systematic training in the principles of the gospel, and they was none of the systematic training in the principles of the gospel, and they was none of the systematic training in the principles of the gospel. They were not able to pray in public and many of them did not even pray in private, but at the present time it is my experience that there is a gradual improvement in this respect. There is great improvement in the preparations of the young men who are now in the mis spect. There is great improvement in the preparations of the young men who are now in the missionary field, as compared with those of a few years

HAVE THE TRUTH.

HAVE THE TRUTH.

When I think of the trials, the troubles, the drivings, the mobbings and persecutions of our fathers, I am inspired with a firm determination that so far as I have the shility I shall uphold and maintain the standard of truth which they have planted in the world. No tongue can tell, no pen can paint the awful scores when, on that fearful night, when the last remnants of our people were driven across the Mississippi river on ice. Nine babes were born with no shelter except their mother's breasts. When I think of these people as they were driven into the cold winter, without food or shelter, still full of hope and courage, as they gathered around their dreary camp fires and sang the great ploneer hymn, "Come, come, ye saints, no toll nor labor fear," and ending with the words, "And if we die before our journey's through, all is well, "it inspires me with a determination that so far as I have the ability I shall labor to show them that by my life I am striving to be worthy of such a father and mother."

PEOPLE OF DAVIS COUNTY.

PEOPLE OF DAVIS COUNTY. PEOPLE OF DAVIS COUNTY.

Bider Grant then spoke of his recent visit to East Bountiful and of the progress made by the people of Davis county, and spoke of the great work along the line of improvements that have been accomplished by the people of the Church. He referred to the building of the great temple, and said that for the people of Davis county to attempt to crect such a structure would be equivalent to the task that was before the Church in these days. He spoke of the spirit of self-sacrifice that was manifested by the saints and paid a fine tribute to the work they performed. He then referred to the con-ditions existing today, and that with the exceptional opportunities that with offered today the people should be able to accomplish a great deal in rolling on this work.

on this work.

Elder Grant concluded by bearing his testimony to the truth of the Latterday work and urged the students to prepare for the responsibilities of the name.

The general conference of the Relief society of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints will be held in the Sait Lake Assembly hall, this city, on Thursday, April 4, 1907, meetings commencing at 10 a. m. and at 2 p. m., as usual. It is desired that each stake should be represented by one of its officers, or an authorized representative. A cordial invitation is extended to the first presidency of the Church, apostles, patriarchs, bishops and brethren generally to be present. It is hoped there will be a large attendance of members. On Monday, April 8, there will be two meetings in Barratt hall, at 11 a. m., a testimony meeting to which all members of the Relief society are invited, and at 1:30 p. m. there will be an officers' meeting for instruction and the transaction of business relating to the work and the advancement of the interests of this great organization.

PRINCETON STUDENTS GIVE CLEVELAND A CUP.

Princeton, N. J., March 26 .- The entire undergraduate body of Princeton university paraded to the home of former President Cleveland today and presented him with a loving cup. The cup was to have been given to Mr. Cleveland on his seventieth birthday, March 18, but he was in the south at the time. In accepting the gift, Mr. Cleveland said:

"I am sure you do not fully realize all the satisfaction which this occasion affords me. It is, of course, within your expectations that from a heart stirred to its depths by a sense of thankfulness, I should attempt to give expression to the delight which accompanies the reception of your birthday gift, but you cannot know and appreciate the opportunity long desired and here given me, to acknowledge to the students of Princeton themselves what has daily and hourly come to me through even a limited association with their university life. I feel young at 70, because I have here aspiring young manhood. You here aspiring young manhood. You have created this atmosphere and through the providence of God it has been given to me to breathe in these latter days this healthy, stimulating influence. I can only promise that during all the time awaiting me I shall make partial payments by an increasing love for you and all undergraduates of Princeton, and by an increasing devotion to the badge of Princeton wherever I find it."

GOLDFIELD MINERS

CALUMET AND HECLA.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March, 27.—
Arguments upon the demurrer filed by the Calumet & Hecla Mining company to Albert S. Bigelow's petition for an injunction restraining the company from voting the stock it has acquired in the Osceola mine, were made today. The demurrer is based upon the claim that the plaintiff could not legally bring the present proceedings in equity, since the Sherman antitrust law, which forms the basis for the proceedings, specially provides that either suit at law for damages may be taken or criminal action brought on the part of the government. Should the court sustain the demurrer, the proceedings would be dismissed.

OLD FIREMANS' FUND RE-ESTABLISHED

The business public of Utah and the entire West, where the name of the old Fireman's Fund Insurance Cohas been so familiar for a generation past, will be pleased to learn that the company has emerged from the chaos which followed the San Francisco disaster and that it is now once more firmly established upon its feet. The earthquake and the confiagration gave the company a terrific blow; its offices with all its maps and records were wiped out of existence; and many of its stockholders were crippled.

The company as a loyal Californian isser and that it is now once more firmly established upon its feet. The carthquake and the conflagration gave the company a terrific blow; its offices with all its maps and records were wiped out of existence; and many of its stockholders were crippled.

The company as a loyal Californian institution, has invested largely in California and San Francisco securities, and these also suffered severely, its 200,000 policy holders were scattered all over the world. The unearned premium liability amounted to over $3,000,000,00 and an avalanche of cancellations and demands for return premiums followed. The banks being closed by proclamation, the company's existing funds were not available. An assessment of the stockholders could not be levied as the company was unable to make an estimate of its needs even if it had been able to do so the majority of them would at that time have been unable to respond.

This was the situation that conformed the officers of the Fireman's Fund immediately after the great disaster. With characteristic energy, patience, and enterprise, however, they went to work to bring order out of
