WOLVES IN SHEEP'S CLOTHING.

FROM the time when Joseph the Seer beheld the Father and the Son, in the glory which was far beyond the splendor of the orb of day, down to the present moment, there has been a continuous and sustained hostility exercised by the powers of evil against the great work of the last dispensation. Brute force, mob violence, the torch, the rifle, the lash and the dungeon were the first arguments used against the doctrine and testimony of the Elders of the Church. Then the aid of the law and the power of the militia were invoked. Next the pulpits and the press thrust their anathemas, and falsehood went forth in a flood to overwhelm the defenders of the faith. At length the devotees of the truth revealed from heaven in the present age were expelled from the confines of civilization into the unsettled wilderness among the savages of the Great West.

None of these agencies proved of any avail in uprooting "Mormonism" or destroying the "Mormons." But the warfare did not cease. Special legislation, judicial sophistry and legal cunning were brought to bear, and still the Hand of Providence overruled all for good, and turned to blessing that which was planned for evil. And the history of the Latter-day Saints has been a repetition of Divine manifestations, overturning the plans of their foes and preserving them from the effects of diabolical conspiracies.

The latest scheme for the destruction of the system which has outlived and triumphed over all these forces and agencies, contains more of the elements of subtlety and craft than any that have preceded it. And, therefore, it is fraught with greater danger. It should be watched, exposed and counteracted. It is designed by the same persistent enemy—the Evil One, but it comes in a skillfully planned disguise. Its voice is gentle and it is clad in sheep's clothing. But the wolf is under the apparel of peace, all the same, and the object in view is destruction.

What is it? This, the enticing away from the "Mormon" fold, of the tender lambs of the flock, who are guileless of evil and suspicious of harm. And to accomplish it with the consent and assistance of their dams and sires who are old enough and experienced enough to know better. Pulling the wool over their eyes is one of the main features of the plot.

Ministers of different "Christian" denominations, backed by the influence and helped by the money of their respective churches, come to Utah to proselyte. They meet with no success among the old "Mormons." What few converts or persons excommunicated for villainy they appear to capture, are not real adherents, as they well understand. "But," say they, "if we can only manage to draw into our control or under our immediate influence the children of the Mormon, we can so train them by imperceptible degrees that they will depart from the faith of their fathers and finally become our prey." The means employed to effect this are schools. Their plan is very specious. They represent that their system of instruction is the most approved of the day; that teachers and assistants are trained public instructors; their books are the most advanced kind; their rates of tuition are low; and the children of the very poor through aid extended by "Christian" people in the East may receive an education gratis. All this sounds very nicely and appears quite innocent of design. And when, to crown it all, parents are assured that no doctrine or religious notions will be advanced, and that the children of all sects and parties will occupy common ground, any slight appearance of danger vanishes, and the unwary are captured.

Now, the danger lies in this. That the object in view, as avowed by those persons in private conversation, is the leading away of "Mormon" children into the bonds of sectarianism, and the most careful means are employed to accomplish this without offending the eyes of their deluded parents. Influences are thrown around the little ones to make them attached to the school, the teachers, the preachers of those churches, and finally to the doctrines they promulgate and the spirit with which they are imbued, which is bitterly hostile to the gospel and institutions of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

There is no need to mention "Mormonism," Joseph Smith, the Book of Mormon, the priesthood of the Church, plural marriage, or any of those points which opponents might be expected to assail, in order to undermine faith and confidence therein. They who are unswayed in their business know better than to alarm the minds they desire to entrap, and are instructed to take more crafty course. When parents who have permitted their little ones to pass under the influence of such individuals, ask if anything is said in school against the Church, they will be answered in the negative. And they will think their children safe from heresy and unbelief, while the whole aim and purpose of their teachers is to destroy their confidence in those principles which they are too cunning to attack openly.

Now there is not the slightest necessity for any Latter-day Saint to send children to any of the denominational schools for an education. There are just as good schools under "Mormon" management as any hostile institutions in the Territory. The price of tuition is just as low, and if there are any too poor to pay for the education of their children, the necessary assistance can be obtained from or through the bishops. It is the very acme of folly and inconsistency for men and women, who have suffered far more than death in defense of the principles and institutions of "Mormonism," to place their unsuspecting offspring under the very influences which they came out into the wilderness to avoid.

These persons who are conducting this latest scheme for the overthrow of the Church, are making their boasts of what they have accomplished, and using the figures that denote their success to induce the societies which support them to advance more money and furnish further help, in the undermining and overthrow of "Mormonism," through the disaffection of the young of its flock. We consider it our duty to warn the Saints against these insidious designs, and point out the danger of placing under hostile influences the tender and plastic minds of the children whom God has given them to train up in the way of life. How can they expect their offspring to grow up in the spirit of the gospel and "be of the kingdom," when their most important hours are passed under influences in complete antagonism thereto? It is a course so suicidal; so much in opposition to the teachings of the Church; so contrary to the dictates of common prudence; and the arguments of those who seek to make a prey of our children are so transparent, that we marvel at those who suffer themselves to be thus deceived.

We ask our friends to ponder upon this matter. We can see the sorrow and regret which some of them will experience in future years as the consequence of their own folly. And we grieve for the darkness that will gather around their children, led away from the ordinances, principles and blessings of eternal exaltation. Therefore, we exclaim in the words of the Captain of our salvation, "Beware of them who come unto you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves."

BY TELEGRAPH.
THE WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH LINE.
EASTERN.
Yellow Fever—Deaths—Contributions.
New York, 24.—The Tribune summarizes thus: The total yellow fever deaths to date, 16,573. The amount raised here is $17,000. The irretrievable losses.
The Times, editorially: "The democratic convention will meet at Syracuse, to-morrow, not to agree upon a declaration of party principles or nominate a candidate for judge of the court of appeals, but to engage in a struggle over the organization and over the personnel of the State committee. It is an irrepressible conflict between the friends and foes of Illinois; or, what is nearly, though not quite, the same thing, between Tammany Hall and its opponents. Any combination which threatens the power of vulgar and conscienceless despotism that plunders New York, and leads it over the democratic politics of the State, is deserving of public sympathy and support."

Greenbackers.
The Tribune's Washington special says: Senator Kirkwood, of Iowa, says, in a letter to an old friend, in this city, there will be four greenback men elected to Congress from that State.
Butler Interviewed.
The World correspondent interviewed Butler, who has just arrived. The latter said: "Kearney is working on his own responsibility. I neither criticize him nor commend him. I think he knows what he is about. He is an uneducated working man who has felt the wrong and oppressions he is talking about, and he knows how to express himself to the class of men he belongs. The fact that so many thousands of people come out to hear him, and he knows something to say they want to hear. He talks as a workingman to workingmen. If he addressed his audiences in the language of Ralph Waldo Emerson, for instance, how many would go to hear him. He speaks to the men in their own language. Kearney speaks of class, of 'riches' and 'bondholders,' that means, he says, that they are blood-sucking, but when you come to talk about calling names, if you should put all the names of the rich in one column, and all the names of the poor in another, you would find that the rich would be more than twice as many as the poor. Has not the just as good a right to call some men 'bondholders' as newspapers have to call him 'billionaire' or 'raving idiot'?"

Butler's Prospects.
A staff correspondent of the Tribune has gathered from a well-informed republican of Massachusetts the statement in regard to the feeling toward the candidacy of Gen. Butler in that State. The prospects of the republicans are reported to be encouraging, Butler having no followers among the republicans.

More Aid for the Sufferers.
The concert at Gilmore's Garden, last night, for the relief of the yellow fever sufferers, given under the auspices of the firemen's ball committee, of the old volunteer fire department, will net between $5,000 and $10,000.

A Sinner Exposed.
A cable dispatch says: A station in honor of the late Father Desmet, the Jesuit missionary to the North American Indians, was unveiled, yesterday, in his native place, Dinant, Belgium. A great crowd assembled at the ceremony. A canon, sung by the occasion was being performed by the choir.

The Pestilence Spreading.
CHICAGO, 24.—The Times' New Orleans special says: The yellow fever is spreading into every locality. It has not yet invaded Alabama and Georgia. The third district and the entire rear suburbs, heretofore enjoying immunity, are now attacked by the great violence. None of these localities report to the board of health; and no statistics of the number attacked or those who died are kept.

Placing But's Emancipation.
A dispatch received yesterday, by General Sheridan from Colonel Miles, dated at Fort Connelley, Mo., says that a group of Indians has arrived at that post from British possessions, being sent to the United States by the British government, to be trained in the use of arms.

his people would be permitted to surrender to the United States military authorities. They represented to Col. Miles that the Sioux Indians who had taken refuge in Canada were heartily desirous of returning to the American side.
Democratic Convention.
MERIDEN, Conn., 24.—The democratic of the congressional convention of the second district nominated Jas. Phelps.

WESTERN.
Democratic Convention.
SAN FRANCISCO, 24.—The Democratic State Convention of Nevada, met yesterday, and adopted a hard money platform, advocating the removal of all restrictions on silver, and nominated for Governor, L. R. Bradley, incumbent; Lieut. Gov. J. Adams; Congress, W. E. F. Deal.

FOREIGN.
GREAT BRITAIN.
Fleeing from Belegged Towns.
LONDON, 24.—A Belgrade dispatch says: The Serbian government, at request of the Mohammedan chief, will receive the women and children fleeing from beleaguered towns in North-east Bosnia. Many hundred Mohammedan families have already arrived in Serbia.

ITALY.
ROME, 25.—Several German bishops are expected here in October, to report on the operation of the May laws. Some expelled bishops have been summoned to the Vatican to consult concerning their future prospects. These steps are connected with the pending negotiations between the Vatican and Germany.

TURKEY.
Constantinople, 24.—The Porte, to-day, received a telegram from the Prince of Montenegro, protesting against the prompt surrender of the territory ceded by the treaty of Berlin.

NEW POSTAL REGULATION.
REGISTRATION OF THIRD CLASS MATTER.
THE following circular to postmasters contains information that is of value to the public. We therefore publish it in full with the exception of those paragraphs which only concern the postmasters:
POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT,
Office of the Third Assistant Postmaster General,
Washington, D.C., Sept. 1, 1878.

With a view of affording a public convenience and of promoting the efficiency of the postal service, the Postmaster General has ordered that the registry system be extended to mail matter of the third class, to take effect on the 1st of October, 1878, and that the registry fee for each package of such matter be fixed at the uniform rate of ten (10) cents, additional to the postage now required by law.

Postmasters will, therefore, on and after the date mentioned, register to any post office in the United States, or to any foreign country, within the limits of the Postal Union, all packages of third-class matter that may be offered for that postage.

No package, however, must be received for registration as third-class matter until proper examination shall show it to be entitled to transmission through the mails as such matter.
Great care must be exercised to prevent the registration and admission into the mails of matter that is unmailable, and also to prevent the admission at third-class rates of matter upon which postage is properly chargeable at first-class rates under existing laws and regulations. Postmasters should require packages to be put up securely, so as to safely bear transportation, but not in such a manner as to prevent an examination of their contents, either at the mailing office or the office of delivery. Matter offered for registration in violation of these requirements will be treated as now provided by law and the postal regulations.

Each package and registry fee must be fully prepaid with postage stamps affixed to the package. Registered packages of third-class matter will, as far as practicable, be treated in the same manner as registered letters.
The name and address of the sender must be indorsed, either in writing or in print, upon each package of third-class matter offered for registration; and there may be added to this a brief description, in writing or in print, of the contents of the package, if the articles are closed. No additional written matter, except the address, is permitted by law. A request to return may also be printed on the package, but such request will be subject to the package to postage at first-class (letter) rates.
Unclaimed registered packages of third-class matter will be treated the same as unclaimed registered letters.
By order of the Postmaster General.
A. D. HAZEN,
Third Asst. Postmaster Gen'l.

COMMUNICATION NO. 2.
TO THE PUBLIC.
Ladies and Gentlemen.—In a former letter I said that I would sell better Pianos and Organs at less prices than any other person in the Territory. I said I do so, no matter how low a price may be asked by other dealers, quality considered. Now make further reductions, and present the following marvellously low prices:
7 1/2 Octave Upright Piano, rosewood case, front round corners, richly carved legs, fine French polished panels on front and sides— "the most elegant as well as substantial piano produced in this country"—for $275.
7 1/2 Octave Square Piano, rosewood case, large size, beautiful moulding, carved legs, French grand action, fall iron frame, overstrung bass, new scale and full agraffe, for $325.
7 1/2 Octave Grand Square Piano, rosewood case, four round corners, three heavy, solid rosewood mouldings, full agraffe, three strings, for $375.
7 1/2 Octave Grand Upright Flitcher Piano, possessing the latest improvements of the day, and acknowledged by the trade and the profession to be equal in tone and durability to the very finest Upright Piano made in America, for $375, less elaborately finished at $425.
Mason & Hamlin, Burdett, Walters & Sons, and other manufacturers' Organs at extraordinary low prices.
Instruments sold on one, two or three years' monthly instalments, and produce taken.
Now, if any dealer can touch these prices, with equal quality of instruments, please let me know, and down these prices go.
Your most obedient servant,
