ENTITLED TO CONFIDENCE!

We print the annexed paragraph in the editorial columns of the "Liberator" ring organ on the meeting of the alleged Republican central committee.

"When men voluntarily come together, and it is found that with a single exception they are speaking for their constituents, are practically unanimous in a belief that holding is entitled to the confidence of thinking men everywhere."

"What is known for the globe is known for the globe," said the speaker, and another who is equally pertinent to the subject is, "It is a poor rule that will only work one way." If the belief of the eight persons who called themselves a central committee is entitled to weight because of their unity, should not the belief and action of several thousands of people be entitled also to the confidence of thinking men?"

The conference of the "Mormon" people was a voluntary gathering of men and women from all parts of the Territory, and they were practically unanimous on a question that they considered of the greatest importance. And yet the writer of the editorial we have quoted is trying his best to belittle that unanimous expression, and to make it appear unworthy of the confidence of thinking men anywhere.

The Territorial Central Committee of the People's Party met by appointment and made certain declarations, "speaking for their constituents," and though at first there were a few exceptions, at last they all unanimously in the expression of a belief "and yet the same writer has been trying ever since to show that they are not persons thinking people not to receive it as a good faith.

Thousands of eight thousand men on any subject are entitled to consideration, proportionate to their intelligence and numbers. That the belief of the eight persons who formulated the "Liberator" resolutions—even if they were persons of exceptional ability and importance, which they are not—manipulated in secret and uttered as boasting authority which was only assumed, is not entitled to any great confidence nor to very serious consideration.

When eight "Liberators" pretend to be "Republicans" and express a belief which is anti-Republican, and advise which would be ruinous to the Republic, it is not entitled to any great confidence nor to very serious consideration.

We mention this to show to the unimpressionable that it is equally manifest to the former supporters as to the "Mormon" people. It is equally manifest and is now seeking to deceive its readers in reference to a movement which, unless the sheet takes a short turn, will work a complete overthrow of the weak of the party which it is desperately struggling to hold together.

SALT LAKE PRESS DISPATCHES.

For years the people of Utah were persistently harassed by means of a paper sent by the Associated Press to this city and published in many papers east and west. The wilful falsehoods and malignant insinuations in these telegrams were repeatedly pointed out to the management, and the company was at length told that the agents here were limited. In its communications and told plainly what he must do.

Since then news from Salt Lake to the eastern press has been very meagre, and of course anything which would tend to enlighten the country as to the progress of the movement here has been, if not suppressed, so presented as to make it appear of small moment.

The action taken to discontinue the people's paper, for instance, was not reported until a private dispatch from a prominent Salt Lake citizen, and the company was at length told that the agents here were limited. In its communications and told plainly what he must do.

effect at Salt Lake may be expected to throw a little light on that case and probably others. It is not too much to say that light is needed badly. The officers of the party are just as much subject to the common laws as are private citizens. There is nothing in their official position that should shield them from the regular consequences of lawless actions. On the other hand the position they hold presupposes that they are the citizens of obedience to established laws. The effect of such disobedience as the case at Salt Lake is humiliating to the government, but it is a wholesome school.

HAME CULTURE OF THE COAST.

The prominence that is being given to the development of the hame culture of the main plant in California, is making the subject one of general interest. At the last session of the State Legislature an appropriation of $10,000 was made for the purchase of hame roots for free distribution, and a bounty was offered for marketable hame fiber. The project is now that a new fiber plant will spring up suddenly, which will prove of vast importance to commerce.

The hame plant is a huge, stinging nettle, indigenous to Java and China, where it has been used in the clothing of the natives for centuries. The plant is now that a new fiber plant will spring up suddenly, which will prove of vast importance to commerce.

The old cable track will extend from Salt Lake City to a point about midway between Oakley and Shoshone River.

A conference of prominent Democrats was held a day or two since, in New York City, to consider Cleveland's prospects for a nomination in 1892. Messrs. Gorman, Dickinson, Vilas, Wilson and J. C. Ball of Minnesota, expressed formally that they would make an earnest, honest effort before the coming convention to secure his nomination, and that if they saw the convention or before that his candidacy would not be successful or could only be commended after a struggle which would have wasted time and money, they would withdraw him. Should Cleveland be withdrawn, then it was agreed that his support be given to Senator Gorman. Cleveland is satisfied that his friends are all right, and he leaves the matter entirely in their hands.

THE UTAH SITUATION

Explained by a Salt Lake Non-"Mormon" to the Chicago Public.

THE PRESIDENT'S VIEW.

Headlines of the People's Party—Loyalty of the "Mormons"—Political Probabilities.

From the Chicago Herald, June 15.

Charles Ellis, whose name is not unfamiliar to readers of the Herald, and who has been a resident of Salt Lake City, Utah, since early in 1890, is in the city taking a day's rest in the journey from Manchester to the house of the Kolobokeh. Mr. Ellis received a dispatch from Salt Lake City yesterday, which said: "The Territorial Central Committee of the People's Party met at 2 o'clock today and unanimously adopted resolutions declaring the organization of the 'Mormons' as a political party."

Mr. Ellis says this is most welcome news, as it means the end of the strife that has for many years clouded the way of Utah's progress. The Mormons will henceforth vote as Democrats or Republicans, according to their political opinions, and as a necessary consequence, the anti-Mormon or Liberal party must also disappear in the near future. In fact, the best men have already deserted it, and are pushing over to the Democratic or Republican party line throughout the territory, fully convinced that politics are being honestly abandoned by the Mormons, and that they are desirous of all that the Liberal party stands for to other religious sects.

The Herald representative interviewed Mr. Ellis as to his views on the matter, and he said: "What is now in the Utah situation?"

"Well," said Mr. Ellis, "everything is now the same. The Scriptures have nothing at all that had when I was a boy, and all the things that were said and everything being new now. Whether that had any reference to Utah I do not know, but it is said in the Scriptures that there shall be a condition, which has never been before, and it is not only new, but it is a great condition, in short, that could be produced in the beginning of a movement that is now the near future to bring Utah into the grandest of the American States."
