

CULBERSON GOES FOR CORTELYOU

Accuses Him of Violating the Law in Issuing Three Per Cent Certificates.

HE FAVORED NEW YORK BANKS

They Only Paid Out Ten Millions to Outside Banks, Increasing Loans Thirty-Two Millions.

Washington, Feb. 6.—In a speech in the senate today Senator Culberson declared that the secretary of the treasury by his report to the senate has raised an issue of fact as to whether the $50,000,000 of public money deposited with them for speculative purposes or whether this money was used to meet the demands of outside banks for reserve purposes.

Mr. Culberson complained that the committee on finance had failed to take any action on the resolution directing that it inquire into the causes of the present financial stringency. He declared that the report of the secretary of the treasury had shown that his office had violated the law in issuing the 3 per cent bonds, because money for the canal was not needed; and that he had violated the law in awarding these bonds to national banks, instead of individuals, and in using the proceeds of the sales for the purpose set forth in the report and not for the construction of the canal.

In issuing the 3 per cent certificates the secretary also violated the law, under the act of March 4, 1907, which was not used for the purpose provided by the statutes, as there were ample funds for such purposes. Moreover, he said, the secretary had violated the law in using the 3 per cent bonds to pay the interest on the bonds of the United States and to Panama bonds. He had also failed to distribute this money as provided under the act of March 4, 1907. His distribution was inequitable, said Mr. Culberson, as the money was used by the New York banks, for speculative purposes.

"The public money deposited in the national banks of the United States," said Mr. Culberson, "on March 22, 1907, was $140,000,000. On Dec. 3 the amount reached the enormous sum of $223,000,000. In New York City alone, on March 22, the amount on deposit there was $140,000,000; on August 22, $25,000,000; and on Dec. 3, $75,000,000.

"New York City, with about one-third of the capital and surplus of all the banks, secured one-third of all the public money on deposit. The eastern states, including New York, having about three times the capital and surplus of the southern states, were given four times as much of the public money.

"The state of Texas, with 4,000,000 people and a banking capital and surplus of $40,000,000, compared with Washington, D. C., with a population of 300,000 and a bank capital and surplus of $7,730,000, got but $1,380,000 of the money distributed Dec. 3, while Washington got $4,581,000."

Mr. Culberson charged that the report of the secretary of the treasury contained a denial of its own statement. "The secretary of the treasury says in effect that $25,000,000 of specie held by the New York banks and $40,000,000 of reserve was used to meet the call of outside banks, and that the banks of New York hold, whereas the report of the secretary shows clearly that the amount which the New York banks owned all other national banks decreased during Aug. 22 and Dec. 3 only $10,820,511, and is significant that although the New York City banks did not pay to the banks outside of that city more than $10,820,511, they increased their loans and their discounts during the same time $32,000,000."

Mr. Culberson exclaimed: "I want these figures to ring in the ears of the American people." Continuing, Mr. Culberson said: "These figures show that while this panic was on and while individual depositors were clamoring for their money, while the New York banks were issuing clearinghouse certificates, while the outside banks were demanding their reserve, the national banks of New York increased their loans and discounts by $63,000,000."

IMPORTS FROM GERMANY.

Berlin, Feb. 6.—The exports to the United States involved by Alexander H. Thackara, the American consul-general, since the beginning of the financial disturbance in America, are from 20 to 40 per cent less each month when compared with the corresponding month of the preceding year. In December, 1907, they amounted to $559,133, as compared with $1,077,479 in December of 1906. For January, 1908, the figure was $518,888, as compared with $1,265,347 for January, 1907. For three months ending January 31, the exports totaled $2,854,842, as against $3,997,551, the corresponding sum a year ago.

These statements are roughly paralleled by the reports from the American consulates in the German provinces. From them it is obvious that America is buying fewer articles of luxury in

LOS ANGELES BLAMED.

For Accident in Which Car Conductor Killed by Salt Lake Train.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 6.—An unusual verdict was returned today by the coroner's jury that investigated the collision last Thursday of a Salt Lake train with a Brooklyn avenue car, in which the conductor of the latter, after giving the signal to go ahead, was killed by the crushed car toppling over on him.

Responsibility for the accident is laid at the door of the city of Los Angeles, the verdict charging that the municipal government had failed to provide a watchman at the crossing, although a city ordinance requires that one be stationed there.

BEVERIDGE TARIFF PLAN.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Senator Beveridge introduced a bill declaring "that the tariff should provide for maximum and minimum rates of duty; the first to apply to all countries that will not grant to this country special advantages in their markets and the second to apply to all countries that will grant to this country special commercial advantages in their markets." Both maximum and minimum rates are provided to be enacted according to the principles of protection.

PUBLIC PRINTER TO BE FULLY INVESTIGATED

Washington, Feb. 6.—Concurring in the recommendations of Acting Public Printer Rossiter, the president today cancelled the contract of the government with the audit system and ordered its election from the government printing office at the end of six days. The audit system is the corporate name of the cost-ascertaining method which was installed more than a year ago by Public Printer Stillings. Under its operation the government has paid about $120,000 for the privilege of calculating the cost of government printing and binding. Representative Landis of Indiana, chairman of the joint committee which is investigating the government printing office, says that the audit system, as it has been installed and operated in Washington, "is a gold brick and is plated with the genuine stuff. We have paid for his brick," said Mr. Landis, "and before we throw it out we are going to extract and retain the medium of value it is in."

"If a gold brick is plated with the genuine stuff, I mean that you can't run the government printing office with all its departments and its 4,500 employees, without using some method of cost ascertainment. So, if there are any good features in the audit system we are going to keep them, for we have paid for them many times over."

Mr. Landis is authority for the statement that the joint investigation committee proposes to take the lid entirely off and to have the bottom of the many charges, some of them definite and distinct, others of a public rumor character, which eventuated yesterday in the suspension by the president of Public Printer Stillings and his succession by W. S. Rossiter of the census bureau.

CONVICTED BANK OFFICIAL SUDDENLY COLLAPSES.

San Francisco, Feb. 6.—Found guilty of exhibiting a deadly weapon in a rude and threatening manner to a depositor, L. Posnanski, who had lost his all in the defunct institution, R. E. Ragland, president of the wrecked Citizens' State bank, collapsed in Police Judge Conlon's court today. Friends in the courtroom assisted the ailing man from the witness' chair and carried him into the judge's chambers. There a physician was called, and after a short time the convicted bank official was able to take a carriage to his home.

Judge Conlon will pronounce sentence tomorrow if Ragland is able to be in court. Meanwhile he will remain at liberty on his original bail bond.

CASE OF SUICIDE PURE AND SIMPLE

Mrs. Cleo A. Walton Purchased Casket, Summoned Coroner And Took Poison

OFFICERS FOUND HER DEAD.

Was Impelled to the Act for Reasons Good and Sufficient to Herself.

New York, Feb. 6.—"I should like you to feel that it is the surrender of a proud, strong soul." In these words, pronounced to a friend today, Mrs. Cleo A. Walton of San Francisco explained a suicide planned with gruesome deliberation.

Having paid her bill at the Hotel La Grange, selected a casket, arranged for the cremation of her body and summoned the police, coroner and undertaker, the woman swallowed poison, and was dead when those called to her apartments arrived.

Mrs. Walton was the widow of a Mr. Walton, whom she married in Denver. She was 32 years of age, and possessed of womanly beauty. Born in Fayetteville, Tenn., where a sister resides, in early life she removed to Denver. Thrown upon her own resources by the death of her husband, she set up a dressmaking establishment in San Francisco and prospered until the earthquake, which, she had said, impoverished her. Later she came here and made a brave struggle, the fruit of which she described in a letter to a physician who had attended her here for minor troubles, and at times had sought to rouse her from a state of increasing depression.

Recently she called at an undertaking establishment, selected and paid for a casket. At the same time she arranged to have her body cremated. She explained that she was in ill-health and that she was tired of life. Her body and effects were carefully planned. Today she asked for and settled her account at the hotel, paid a few small bills and then wrote several letters. The police, coroner and undertaker were notified of the expected hour of death. When the three arrived simultaneously and burst into her room, the body, carefully dressed, lay upon a bed. She was dressed in a blue and white checked skirt, a white lace shirtwaist, white kid slippers and white stockings. Her hair was carefully arranged in a Marcel wave.

When the officers left, including one to R. L. Wright, a lifelong friend in this city, and a sister, Mrs. James K. Baby of Flat Creek, Tenn.

A letter to her physician read: "I am more than sorry that our acquaintance has been so slight that you will look upon this last act of mine as a brainstorm. I should like you to feel that it is the surrender of a proud, strong soul to the inevitable. I have been a failure in my business life here, and I am sure, have the attributes within myself that make for success. I have always succeeded in whatever I have undertaken, and I am not afraid to commend my wishes and desires to you. It is my unalterable conviction of the absolute futility of all things that makes the effort useless, even though I attain the success for which I should start. It could not bring a single hope into my life or joy to my heart, so wherefore the struggle? All whom I have ever loved have passed on before. I have made arrangements for the disposition of my remains. Will you please see that my wishes are carried out, and after everything is over write to my sister and tell her about it. I am sorry to have to trouble you; it is indeed pitiful that one cannot even die without being a burden. If I am to be a comfort to me in this supreme hour, it is to feel that I have a San Franciscan to whom to appeal, a son of the place I loved best."

In a letter of layman it may concern Mrs. Walton said: "This is a case of suicide pure and simple, and no act of my life has been consummated with more free thought. I am impelled to this act by reasons that are good and sufficient to myself, and they could not possibly be understood or appreciated by anyone else. Anyway, it's nobody's business but my own. Those who have not interest in themselves in me in life need not do so in death. I am sorry that I cannot quit the game without annoyances to some. For all inconvenience I crave their indulgence."

JUDGE HARGIS MURDERED BY SON

Shot Twice, Appealed for Mercy, And the Answer Was Two More Shots.

TRAGEDY FOLLOWED QUARREL

Father Will be Buried in Coffin He Himself Bought Two Months Ago.

Jackson, Ky., Feb. 6.—His last words an unavailing plea for mercy, former Judge James Hargis was today shot to death by his son, Beach Hargis. Following a brief quarrel, the son drew a revolver and fired four shots into his father's body.

"Mercy, mercy, you've killed me!" appealed the elder man as he lay on the floor. Young Hargis's answer was to fire two more bullets into his father's prostrate body.

The tragedy occurred in Hargis Bros' store and was witnessed by two customers and a stenographer. All three fled.

Young Hargis was later removed to jail by the town marshal and a deputy, but he struggled like a madman until thrown into his cell. Soon afterward the report was current that he had taken morphine in his cell, but no confirmation of this or any word of his condition could be secured from the jail officials, who are guarding him closely.

The news of Hargis's end came as a profound shock to the residents of Jackson. The family is a Kentucky one, whose bloody feud records his name appears on almost every page. There did not appear to be any prospect of further violence, however.

The younger Hargis had been on a protracted spree, and some days ago his father administered a thrashing. The chastisement was the cause of the murder today, the son having continued his abuse and nursing his resentment until his father again upbraided him for his condition.

Young Hargis came into the store late this afternoon and was apparently under the influence of liquor. Judge Hargis, it is said, spoke to his son about his drinking and a quarrel resulted. Father and son stepped behind a counter in the store, when the son, after only a few minutes' conversation, drew a revolver and fired five shots, four took effect, the noted mountain character falling dead. The young man fled in haste, and the customers in the store rushed for the doors and fled in flight.

Judge Hargis will be buried in a casket which he himself purchased about a month ago. Some time during the early part of last month Judge Hargis went to the National Casket company, Louisville, and requested that he be shown the most elaborate coffins the company had in stock. Nothing suited him, and he finally ordered one along his own ideas, costing $1,500.

This afternoon the following telegram was sent to the company:

"Express today casket selected by James Hargis, as he is dead."

"MRS. JUDGE JAMES HARGIS."

The children's laxative—Cascarets.

Candy tablets, pleasant to take, gentle in their effects. Throw out the old-time physics.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the physic that mother insisted on once in a while—castor oil, salts or cathartics. How you hated them. How you fought against taking them. How you dreaded their after-effects. That was all wrong, but then nobody knew better.

With our children it's different. They belong to the day of the gentle in medicine. The day of harsh physics is over. We don't force the bowels now; we coax them. We have no dreaded after-effects. And the dose is a candy tablet.

Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't know what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender bowels are harmed by them. The modern way is to give a gentle laxative, and to give it more frequently. To keep the bowels always active. The best method is Cascarets. One-half a tablet, as often as needed, does more than anything else to keep a child well.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure you get the genuine, with CCC on every tablet. The price is 50c, 25c and
