

ATTEL-BAKER

MONDAY NIGHT

Both Youngsters Quit Training in First Class Shape.

WRESTLING MATCH IS OFF.

McLaughlin's Injury Prevents Meeting With Champion Thompson—New Program Thursday Night.

Two good sporting events are on the boards for next week and lovers of contests in the roped arena and on the big mat will have an opportunity of enjoying themselves. Both contests are of great interest and the sports general interest and they are "blood matches" and will be absolutely on the square.

On Monday evening at the Salt Lake athletic club under the management of Jack McGinnis, George Baker of Bakerfield, Cal., and Caesar Attel, brother of the famous Abe Attel, will meet in a 20 round contest at 127 pounds. Both youngsters have been training faithfully for the event and both declare they are in good shape for the go. Those who have seen them go say they are clever, game youngsters and will undoubtedly give the spectators a run for their money. So much has been said to injure Mr. McGinnis and the club that he has deemed it necessary to make a statement to the effect that those who have supported him in the past need have no fear that he will countenance anything that is a fake. He has shown his confidence in the men whom he has matched, to go to considerable expense to get them together. It was the same with the Gibbs-McCarthy match. It was spread around by those who sought to injure the game, that one of the men was a fake fighter and that "it was a cinch for Gibbs to win in a walk." One was accused of never having done anything in the ring worthy to give him a standing in his class, and the other was accused of being a fake, unfair fighter. The dope went wrong, for the contest proved to be one of the best, so the ring followers all said, that has been pulled off here for a long time. Those who were at the ring side, went away well pleased and many expressions of appreciation for the manner in which the contest was handled were heard on every hand. Mr. McGinnis says he may not know everything in the sports line, but thinks he is blessed with common sense, and is not foolish enough to kill his game by putting on a match that is not on the square, or doing anything to encourage "meal ticket" fighters. He wants none of that class. He indignantly denies the false report that the club was controlled by the same parties who made such a fizzle out of it a year ago. Sam Potts and others had the club then and were responsible for the trouble that followed. McGinnis has control now and says as long as he is in the game he proposes to promote good, clean sport. One of the preliminaries will be furnished by Jack Christie, Utah's middleweight champion, and Bert McDonald, who fought Dummy Rowan here three years ago, and the other will be between Jerry McCarthy and Jack Ryan.

Although the wrestling match proposed between Thompson and McLaughlin has been called off on account of the latter being severely injured by a fall last Wednesday night, there will be an interesting program of athletic events at the Grand theater on Thursday night. Charley Rose has agreed to throw a couple of unknown wrestlers who have been "discovered" by Shaver. Rose will undertake to throw them in 30 minutes. Thompson will also take a chance and agree to throw any of the local wrestlers three times in an hour. Besides the wrestling matches, there will be exhibitions of boxing, fancy club swinging, high kicking and high diving. The program as arranged now is a good one and will doubtless be highly interesting. Much regret will be felt among wrestling devotees owing to the misfortune that has befallen McLaughlin. He was one of the best wrestlers ever seen in this state and was known to be absolutely on the square. It is feared that his injury may be permanent, but it is sincerely hoped that he will eventually recover completely.

"A WHIRL FOR THEIR MONEY."

One of the exciting novelties to be installed at the Salt Palace for this summer's season will soon arrive in Salt Lake, the apparatus having already been shipped from Seattle, Wash., where it has been on exhibition upon a theater stage. It is known as the Cycle Whirl, and treats spectators to some hair-raising situations. Iver and Carl Redman are the star performers in a stunt that appears to set at defiance the laws of gravity, but which in reality is governed absolutely thereby. The thing looks like a huge dishpan, 12 feet across, the bottom and about 18 feet across the upper rim. The sides are about 7 feet high and lie at an angle of about 45 degrees, being composed of strips of wood about 2x4 inches in size and separated from each other by about 4 inches of space at the top and touching at the bottom ends thus forming the flare in the sides of the whirl. The whole is held together by iron hoops, securely bolted together and braced by rods from the floor. Inside of this the riders perform, being compelled to make 135 laps to the mile, usually doing it in 5 minutes. The boys ride singly and upon a tandem, sometimes going in the same direction and at others going in opposite ways, changing wheels and doing many other tricks while in motion. If one goes to the top of a very high building the sight of people walking along the streets is a very peculiar one and the effect observed in the Cycle Whirl is something similar. Now one sees the riders' heads and the next instant their feet as they reach one side or the other of the great dish pan, and the sight and resultant sensation are wonderful.

RECORD OF TWO GREAT TURF KINGS

Intense Interest Over Proposed Match Race Between Them.

LORD DERBY-MAJOR DELMAR

List of Each Animal's Wins Last Year May Guide Horsemen in Picking Winner.

Interest in the great race proposed between Lord Derby, 2:05 1/2, and Major Delmar, 2:05 1/2, is intense among horsemen all over the country. Of course there is not so much speculation in Salt Lake over the coming big event as there is in the east and south, but in the event that the great horses come together there will be much interest locally. How to pick the winner? Is a question that will be puzzling horsemen and speculators generally, for the horses are very evenly matched as the following table of each horse's winning performances of last year will show. In age Lord Derby has about two years advantage of Delmar. The former is eight years of age and the latter has seen but six winters. Lord Derby has had more experience than Major Delmar, but otherwise they are evenly matched as the following will show:

Detroit, Mich., July 11—2:15 class, 2 in 3, won in straight heats. Time, 2:12 1/2, 2:12 1/2, 2:12 1/2.
Readville, Mass., Aug. 21—2:12 class, 3 in 3, won in straight heats. Time, 2:08 1/2, 2:08 1/2, 2:08 1/2.
Providence, R. I., Aug. 28—2:10 class, 2 in 3, won in straight heats. Time, 2:05 1/2, 2:05 1/2, 2:05 1/2.
Hartford, Conn., Sept. 5—2:00 class, 3 in 3, won in straight heats. Time, 2:04 1/2, 2:04 1/2, 2:04 1/2.
Readville, Mass., Sept. 23—2:11 class, 3 in 3, won second, third and fourth heats. Time, 2:08 1/2, 2:08 1/2, 2:08 1/2.
Lexington, Ky., Oct. 17—2:09 class, 3 in 3, won in straight heats. Time, 2:04 1/2, 2:04 1/2, 2:04 1/2.
Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 23—2:15 class, 3 in 3, one heat at a mile, one at a half mile, and one at a quarter mile, won in straight heats. Time, 2:08 1/2, 2:08 1/2, 2:08 1/2.
The mile of the second heat was trotted in 2:04 1/2.

Among the great trotters Major Delmar defeated in these races were Anzella, 2:05 1/2, Chase, 2:07 1/2, Miss Whitney, 2:07 1/2, Charley Mack, 2:07 1/2, Ozanam, 2:08, Dulce Cur, 2:08 1/2, Elsie, 2:08 1/2, Wandan, 2:09 1/2, Wentworth, 2:09 1/2, Idolita, 2:09 1/2, Pindexter, 2:09 1/2, The Roman, 2:09 1/2, Ida Highwood, 2:09 1/2, and Nubarnet, 2:09 1/2.

Hartford, Conn., Aug.—Match, 3 in 3, won second, third and fourth heats, the last being a walkover. Boralma being drawn. Time, 2:09 1/2, 2:09 1/2, 2:09 1/2.

Brighton Beach, N. Y., Aug. 16—3 in 3, to wagon, won in straight heats. Time, 2:06 1/2, 2:06 1/2, 2:06 1/2.

Providence, R. I., Aug. 28—2:07 class, 2 in 3, won in straight heats. Time, 2:07 1/2, 2:07 1/2, 2:07 1/2.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 11—Free-for-all, to wagon, mile dash, beat The Monk, 2:05 1/2, Time, 2:05 1/2, 2:05 1/2, 2:05 1/2.

Empire City, N. Y., Sept. 17—Free-for-all, to wagon, 2 to 3, won second and third heats. Time, 2:06 1/2, 2:06 1/2, 2:06 1/2.

Readville, Mass., Sept. 21—2:07 class, 3 in 3, won second, third and fourth heats. Time, 2:07 1/2, 2:07 1/2, 2:07 1/2.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 14—2:09 class, 2 in 3, won in straight heats. Time, 2:09 1/2, 2:09 1/2, 2:09 1/2.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 27—Free-for-all, to wagon, 2 in 3, won in straight heats. Time, 2:05 1/2, 2:05 1/2, 2:05 1/2.

These comparisons show Major Delmar has the fastest first heat to his credit, while the doctors decide he has the best of the two valuable men.

He has, he will have to be operated upon and he will, of course, not be able to beat shot any more, and he has been looked upon as a sure point winner.

E. C. Rust, the fast quarter-mile, has striven to do so, and it seems very doubtful whether he will be in shape to run in the meets in May.

"TERRIBLE TERRY'S" LAMENT.

(A Contribution.)

I went to Cal., Frisco,

My last lands to regain,

But the way Young Corbett treated me

Most surely was a shame.

They say I once was lucky,

And I guess that was no joke,

For before the going first sounded,

My heart was in my throat.

My blocking was most perfect,

As each dope artist knows—

If I didn't stop 'em with my guard,

I caught them on my nose.

It ain't no use of crying,

'Twas the same all through the fight;

He jabbed me with his ready left

And jabbed me with his right.

The more I tried to rush him,

The harder he would hit.

For the champion has some hot ones

In his ever-ready mitt.

Then my legs began to tremble,

And the end seemed near in sight.

As each succeeding second

He made connection with his right.

While Eddie Graney counted

I heard Sammie say, "Arise,"

But the only thing that I could do

Was "make-a-dem-soo-goo-eyes."

Corbett said when it was over,

"Mac, I hope you had some fun."

And my answer was, "Yes, plenty,

And Then Some."

LIKES THE "NEWS" SPORTING PAGE

E. B. Sanner Sounds Note of Warning to Lovers of Sport.

TRUTH ABOUT "KNOCKERS."

Says That Hereafter He Will Depend Upon the "N-W" for True Account of Sporting Events.

During the week the sporting editor of the "News" received the following letter, which is self-explanatory. The expression of appreciation for the fair and truthful account of the paper on even the truest of sports, is only one of many that has reached this office. The letter is dated April 6, from Tucker, Utah, and is as follows:

"I saw your article in tonight's (Monday's) 'News' regarding a certain 'knocker' who has failed to 'make good' as a writer of sporting events. It is about time some one called this narrow minded individual down. As we all know, some of the sports handed out at the Salt Lake Athletic club some time ago was decidedly rank, and had the 'knocker' then used his hammer he would have had the respect of all lovers of the sport. I am informed on good authority that this same 'knocker' did all in his power to hurt the sport, and that he was a 'howling success' in his 'howling' match, simply because he was not 'consulted,' or his davee solicited as to 'how to pull off a successful athletic contest.' The fact that the match was pulled off, and was a howling success, goes to show the 'knocker' doesn't cut much of a swath with the lovers of true sport. I have been a constant reader of the Herald for over a year, but would have missed the evening News, as have several others, so we could keep posted on sporting events."

"I have known George McLaughlin 12 years, and worked with him two years in Montana, and any time he has a match I will go any distance to see it, for I know he does his best to win and is as square as they make them. George has lots of friends here on this line, and if this so-called sporting editor thinks he can hurt a good man like McLaughlin, even by not publishing the sporting news in his paper, he will find out we can get the sporting news through other papers than the one he so poorly represents. As a certain well known sporting man who sat next to me at the wrestling match said: 'If this match does not promote clean sport in Salt Lake, there is no use to try and revive it.' If either Ross or McLaughlin ever wrestle again Tucker will send at least half of her population to see it, as all of the railroad boys that can get away will be there."

"Trusting you will continue to keep us posted on sporting events through the columns of the 'News,' I am yours very truly,"

"A true lover of good sports."

"E. B. SANNER."

"And Then Some."

ARE BACKING "GOOD MORNING."

The wise ones of the turf are keeping a sharp eye on "Good Morning," L. V. Bell's imported thoroughbred. The 5-year-old English stud is entered in all the important handicaps of the racing season now opened. Although now only a 100 to 1 shot, those who know think he will show some surprising records as the season advances.

THE FRUIT OF THE COCOA PALM.

In all tropical countries the coconut is esteemed the most important article of food. The Singalese asserts that it was sent direct from heaven to contribute to the necessities of man. For domestic purposes it is one of the most useful fruits designed to answer the requirements of the natives of tropical countries. The nature of their constitution, their composition and easy cultivation are features that mark them as food especially planned for the inert temperaments of the inhabitants of hot climates. Not only food, but a variety of useful productions are obtained from this wonderful tree. Its leaves are used for thatching, its fibres for many useful articles for household and personal use, the oil expressed is used for light as well as food, and this is also an important article of commerce. Even the shells of the nuts are utilized as drinking cups.

The nuts grow in large clusters, each one included in a thick covering of tough, elastic fibre; this is usually removed, on account of its bulk, before the nuts are shipped. The kernel or meat which clings to the shell is white and when ripe nutty and very digestible. The centre of the nut is hollow and contains a delicately flavored, milky substance known as coconut milk. This strange as it may seem, is delightfully cool and furnishes a palatable and refreshing drink that is very grateful to the throat parched with the intense tropical heat. For domestic purposes the nuts are more generally eaten green and the soft custard like pulp of nut milk taken out with a spoon. The fresh young stems are also used, a farinaceous substance being prepared from them similar to sugar. The meat of a ripe nut, when shredded, though on account of the development of cellulose, therefore the natives of warm countries cooked the shredded meat with sugar. The rich, sweet flavor of the coconut meat and its snowy whiteness gives it an important place in the American cuisine. The grated or shredded meat, fresh or dried, is used chiefly for making puddings, cakes and sweetmeats.

Coconut Soup.

Take a quart of a pound of grated coconut, fresh or dried, add a spoonful of baking powder and a level tablespoonful of butter with three tablespoonfuls of sugar, add three eggs (yolks), beat well together, then add a half cup of milk, then add a large cup of freshly grated coconut and lastly the whites of the eggs beaten to a stiff froth. Bake in a shallow pan, and serve with coconut sauce.

Coconut Fritters.

Measure two cups of sifted flour; add a teaspoonful of baking powder and a level tablespoonful of butter with three tablespoonfuls of sugar, add three eggs (yolks), beat well together, then add a half cup of milk, then add a large cup of freshly grated coconut and lastly the whites of the eggs beaten to a stiff froth. Bake in a shallow pan, and serve with coconut sauce.
