SERVICES AT THE TABERNACLE

Edith Andrew Smith, James Duff and Robert Cameron Report Weekday Work.

DEATH FROM MORPHINE.

Mrs. Lizzie Sharp the Victim of an Old-Time Habit.

Mrs. Lizzie Sharp, wife of the late Mr. H. H. Sharp, died at 39 Vine street this morning at 11:30, from the effects of morphine poisoning. The deceased had been a victim of this "morbid disease" for years and had received treatment for the same, but could not be permanently cured. It is believed that she probably took an overdose of the drug with the intention of committing suicide. It is well known that she was very devoted to her husband and that she had been a victim of this habit for many years.

A. W. McCune's Name Taken.

Announced Monday, A. W. McCune of Salt Lake County of America, had a narrow escape from a fatal injury. He was riding with C. H. McDaniel, and was passing across the bridge from South Mountain when one of the horses started and broke the roadway string. This led to the result of the heavy forward upon the horses, and they started at a fearful rate of speed across the bridge. Mr. McCune jumped from the horse when he felt the main spring of the bridge, and struck the plank with fearful force. He rolled out and over, and those who witnessed the occurrence thought he was killed. He was quickly in his hands, however, and a hack was sent for him at once.

Mr. McCune said to the doctor and gave a detailed account of his experience. He stated that he had been riding for some time when the horse started. He felt the main spring of the bridge and jumped. He struck the plank with great force and rolled over. He was quickly picked up and taken to the hospital. He is now recovering from his injuries and is expected to be discharged soon.
