

SOCIETY

RECEPTIONS AND AT HOMES

The largest and most elaborate affair of the week was the post-nuptial reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Porter at the Kenyon on Wednesday night. The rooms were beautifully decorated in green and white, palms and potted plants forming an effective background for the white flowers which carried out the color scheme. Green shaded lights aided in the pretty effect. Behind a bank of palms and ferns in the long hall an orchestra was stationed, rendering delightful music during the evening, and refreshments were served in the dining rooms from tables prettily adorned in the prevailing tints. In a recess in the hall punch was served by Miss June McIntyre and the Misses Kinney. In the receiving party besides the hosts were Madame Porter, grandmother of the groom, and Mr. Bersback and Miss Bersback, father and sister of Mrs. Porter. About 60 guests were present.

One of the interesting events of the week was the reception given by Miss Creary on Tuesday in honor of Capt. Hobson. The affair was quite informal and was limited to the post and retired army people of the city, the hours being from 3:30 to 4:30 o'clock. The rooms were bright with pink and white carnations, apple and cherry blossoms, and the hosts were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Smith and Miss Schwagler of the post.

The University club gave Capt. Hobson an informal reception after the close of his lecture on Tuesday night, the club rooms being the scene of the event.

CARDS AND KENSINGTONS

Mrs. M. B. Whitney was hostess at a pretty "violet" card party on Thursday afternoon. The rooms were decorated with a profusion of the dainty and fragrant flowers, the scores and tallies designs of the same flowers. The prizes were pieces of hand-painted china, and the violet tint prevailed in the refreshments. Miss Mayme Sharp, Mrs. W. H. Dale and Mrs. Hester Lee were the prize winners. About 60 guests were present. Last night Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Whitney entertained at cards, the entire scheme being in pyrography. The scores and tallies were in the burnt wood, and the prizes were of the same nature. The rooms were bright with daffodils and fruit blossoms, and about 60 guests enjoyed the evening.

White and yellow were the colors used at the card-party given by Mrs.

Mrs. W. H. McIntyre entertained at a delightful Kensington on Thursday afternoon. The rooms were beautifully decorated with potted plants and spring blossoms, the muntins being banked with geraniums in various hues, and apple, cherry and peach blossoms stood about in tall vases throughout the rooms. A guessing game named the "box party" was an amusing feature of the afternoon, the prize, a handsome silver spoon, going to Mrs. J. E. Clinton. Delightful music was rendered by Mrs. Effie Dean Whitehead and Miss McIntyre. About 60 guests enjoyed the afternoon.

Mrs. Henry D. Styer was the guest of honor at a Kensington given on Thursday afternoon by Mrs. D. R. Gray. The rooms were prettily decorated with sweet peas, palms and ferns, and a millinery contest was a feature of the afternoon, the prize for making the best hat going to was met at the chancel by the groom and his best man, Mr. H. A. Jackson. The betrothal service was read by Dean Eddie, the strains of "O Promise Me" being rendered throughout. At the end the party passed up the steps to the altar where the wedding ceremony was performed. Then the Mendelssohn march was played, mingling with the ringing of wedding bells. Mr. D. M. Boyd was organist. The bride wore a handsome going away gown of gray cloth and hat to match. She had no attendants. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carter of this city and with the groom has a large number of friends who will extend sincere wishes for their future happiness.

Another interesting nuptial event of the week was the wedding of Mrs. Mary L. Hartman and A. C. Smith, the event taking place on Wednesday. The ceremony was performed at the

WILLIAM K. VANDERBILT'S BRIDE.

William K. Vanderbilt's marriage to the beautiful Mrs. Ruthford is the surprise of the year in society. As a divorcee the famous millionaire has been obliged to get the permission of the courts to marry again.

The new Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, formerly Mrs. Ruthford, is a woman of charming personality. She is about 40 years of age, but does not look it, having an exceedingly youthful grace of carriage and vivacity. She has lived in France since the death of her late husband, visiting this country only once. Society hears now, however, that she will live in America this summer.

Miss Blanche Kimball. The guests numbered 16. Delicious refreshments were served.

WEDDING BELLS

St. Mark's church was the scene of an exceedingly pretty wedding on Thursday morning, when Miss Bertha Carter and Mr. Thomas Gouldston, Griffen were united in marriage. The church was beautiful in spring blossoms, sprays and wreaths of apple, cherry and peach, making the place home like. The bride entered on the arm of her father to the strains of "Bridal Chorus," from Lohengrin, and home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Duncan, by Dr. Padon, assisted by Rev. McNeice, in the presence of a few intimate friends, the affair being a quiet one. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are living at the Wilson, where they will remain until their new home is finished.

News has been received of the marriage of Mr. William G. Van Horne and Rebecca A. Garlick, the event having taken place at Alexandria, Egypt, on April 1. The announcement came in the nature of a surprise to Mr. Van Horne's friends in Salt Lake, who knew nothing of the event until the reception of cards bringing the news.

On Thursday Miss Ruby Brownlee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brownlee and Mr. T. F. Bolton were married, the ceremony being performed in the afternoon at the home of the bride by Rev. A. L. Arnold. The rooms were beautifully decorated in white and green, roses being effectively used with smilax. An elaborate luncheon was served later, the relatives and intimate friends being present. Mr. and Mrs. Bolton will be at home to their friends after May 15, at 47 East First South.

Another interesting nuptial event of the week was that of Miss Catherine Hayes and Mr. William P. Adams, who were united in marriage on Thursday at the Catholic bishop's house on East Fourth Temple street. Father Curran officiating. Only the near relatives and friends were present, the wedding being a quiet one. They will be at home after May 15 at 222 C street.

SOCIAL SOCIETY

The members of the Home Art society, about 35 in number, entertained the faculty of the L. D. S. U. Thursday afternoon and evening at the home of one of their members, Miss Irene Miller of East Murray. According to instructions on the dainty invitations issued by the society, about 24 members of the faculty took the 4:15 Murray car and at Murray were met by a number of the "Home Art" girls in sun-bonnets and aprons.

At this beautiful rural home, various out-of-door games were played till nearly dusk, when an excellent and delicious dinner of many courses was served in the spacious dining room. Thirty-two guests sat down at once, and the table was reset for as many more.

The remainder of the evening was spent in merry games and dancing in the parlor. At 9:30 the jolly party broke up, every one pronouncing it the most enjoyable affair ever attended.

The guests present were Messrs. and Mesdames J. H. Paul, J. H. Evans, R. Deo Bird, B. S. Hinkley, John T. Miller and Le Roi C. Snow. Mesdames Kelly, Dehlin and Larsen, Instructors Sasie Henth, Leone Taylor, Elmina Taylor, Misses Fairbanks, Erickson, Swan and Florence Grant and Mrs. Wildeson. Goddard, Torrey, Todd, Fairbanks, Hicks, Larsen. About 20 of the girls of the Home Art society were present as hostesses and their efforts to make everything enjoyable were certainly crowned with success. Following was the menu: cream tomato soup, whole wheat crackers, prime roast beef, mashed potatoes, brown gravy, green peas, creamed asparagus, whole wheat and brown bread, potato and cabbage salad, sliced oranges with coconut, bananas, cream with nuts and cereal, cake and candy.

Those present of the Domestic Arts society were: Mrs. Margaret K. Miller, teacher of household arts, and Mesdames Irene Miller, president; Helen M. Whitney, vice president; Carlissa Raddon, secretary; Mammie Layton, Rebecca Gustavson, Teresa Taylor, Naoma Felt, Amy Erickson, Jeanne Frank, Rhoda Miller, Elva Butler, Rachel Howard, Harriette Sedgwick, Susie Brown, Fannie Weston, Hazel Morris, Louise Swan, Vera Kossil, Mamie Gillen, Emma Walder, Bertha Reschke, Maria Thomas, Mabel Anderson, Mammie Mills, Margaret McClure and Sylvia Allen.

Capt. and Mrs. Barth of Fort Douglas entertained at a delightful tea yesterday afternoon from 3 p. m. until 5 o'clock. The rooms were prettily decorated, and a large number of friends called during the afternoon.

One of the interesting events of the week was the banquet given at the home of Mr. D. H. Livingston on Tuesday night in honor of Mr. C. M. Wood who left this week to make his home in Portland, Ore. The affair was given by the members of the branch office of which Mr. Wood has been the head, and as a partial evidence of the esteem in which he is held. A feature of the evening was the presentation to the guest of honor of a handsome watch and chain set, and music was furnished by Mr. Nieman, J. D. Spencer and Miss Jean Spencer.

Yesterday's program at the Ladies' Literary club was the last for the year, and was a very interesting one. It included a review of George W. Ward's "The Cities of the Sun," by Ward, Hugh Park, also a review of William Dean Howells' "Literature and Life," and a paper by Miss Buchanan on "Nature Writings."

TUCKED LAWN WAIST.

Pretty waist of pale blue lawn, very deep yoke giving bolero effect, outlined with ecru lace. Short open sleeves with two bands of lace.

Mrs. C. E. Coulter, president of the Utah Federation of Women's clubs, has received word from Mrs. Dimes T. Dennison, president of the general federation, that she will be in Salt Lake to attend the meeting of the State federation, which will meet here next October.

The Cleofan met on Tuesday with Mrs. Selden I. Clawson, the program consisting of the topics, "Present Day Novelists," by Mrs. Fannie Y. Clayton and "Present Day Poets," by Miss Catherine Culmer.

At the Reviewers' this week Mrs. E. mer Jones gave an interesting paper on "The Arthurian Legends." The next meeting will be with Mrs. Lee, and Mrs. Adams will give a paper on "The Valley of Decision."

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Harris entertained at dinner on Monday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Windsor Y. Rice, the other guests being Maj. and Mrs. Myton and J. S. Bransford.

The ball given by the Knights Templar on Tuesday night was the largest and most elaborate affair of the week. Christensen's hall was thronged with a large number of the Knights and their friends, and many brilliant costumes were seen among the ladies. At 11 o'clock an elaborate banquet was served at the Commercial club, the tables being handsomely decorated for the occasion. The affair in all details was most successful.

Mrs. R. H. Channing was hostess at a pretty luncheon given on Wednesday in honor of Mrs. T. A. Baldwin Jr. The decorations were in yellow and white, white marguerites with yellow shaded candelabra and yellow bows of ribbon making an effective picture. Present besides the guest of honor were Mrs. Sturgiss, Mrs. Louise Smedley Smith, Mrs. Robert Harkness, Mrs. David S. Murray, the Misses Nojle, Miss Dooly, Miss Burke.

Mrs. Frank Shaw was the guest of honor at a delightful luncheon on Wednesday, given by Mrs. F. I. Davis. Spring blossoms adorned the table and the following besides the guest of honor were present: Mrs. J. C. McLain, Mrs. P. A. Dix, Mrs. Moorhead, Mrs. Bickel, Mrs. W. W. Rivers, Mrs. D. C. Eichner.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Walker on-Thursday night.

Mrs. Ferris gave a pretty children's party this afternoon for her little daughter Isabel.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fish, Jr., will hereafter be at home to their friends at 35 Fifth East street.

Mrs. David S. Murray gave a pretty luncheon today in honor of Mrs. Theodore A. Baldwin Jr. There were five tables, that at which the guest of honor sat being done in pink with Battenberg lace spread, and centerpiece of pink carnations, while the candles were shaded in the same tint. The tables in the dining room were also in pink and those in the library in red.
