

HER HEART WAS TRUE TO PAUL

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw's Evidence Created Favorable Impression In Her Husband's Behalf.

HIS FATE DEPENDS UPON IT.

Not Compelled to Answer Question Whether He Made Threats To Kill Her.

White Plains, N. Y., July 13.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, pretty, petulant, as usual, and dressed in the blue which she wore so much during the trial of her husband, Harry K. Thaw, for the murder of Stanford White, was on the stand for more than an hour in Justice Mills' court here today, subpoenaed by the state in its fight to keep Thaw in the asylum for the criminal insane at Matteawan. But for the absence of the dainty Etan collar which Mrs. Thaw wore during most of the murder trial, she appeared much the same as she did when Jerome was trying to send Harry Thaw to the electric chair.

Though called by the state in an endeavor to prove Harry Thaw irrational, what Roger Clark, the deputy attorney general, drew from her today created a favorable impression for her husband. She was excused shortly after 4 o'clock, but was subpoenaed and will probably testify again tomorrow. Upon the outcome of Evelyn Thaw's testimony, the state's fight largely rests. Mr. Clark tried to get her to admit that Thaw had threatened her life, but turning appealing to the court, she repeatedly refused to answer his questions and after a clash between counsel, Justice Mills ruled that he would hold the conversation in which the threat was supposed to have been made a confidential one between husband and wife and therefore privileged until the state presented proof to show that Daniel O'Reilly, the New York lawyer who was present at the time, was not then acting as counsel for both Mr. and Mrs. Thaw. This city Clark promised to do and Mrs. Thaw was excused after identifying a number of papers in her husband's handwriting.

WHEN MRS. THAW ENTERED.

When Mrs. Thaw entered the courtroom and made her way to the stand there was a buzz of excitement, but she showed little concern. On the stand she was reluctant to answer questions and had to be instructed to do so a number of times. The tears came to her eyes once when Justice Mills ruled against her, and she turned to him and said:

"I guess I will have to obey, for I cannot afford contempt proceedings or go to jail. My husband is not paying me anything now, and I haven't enough money to hire counsel."

Citizens from Peelskill and Poughkeepsie, where Thaw was counselled for several weeks in the jail, testified that he never in his actions appeared to be irrational.

A favorable bit of testimony for Thaw today was that of Frank Truomey,

STRENGTH, AMBITION, ENERGY

Are Impossible Without Rich Red Blood—A Detroit Woman Expresses an Opinion.

The tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for run-down conditions of the health is based on sound medical principles and on common sense. More and more men and women are beginning to realize that pure, red blood means health and that the efficiency of any tissue or organ is entirely dependent upon the quality of the blood.

There are thousands of people, who are without ambition or strength to do their day's work and who are always tired out, have but little appetite and a poor digestion, cannot get a refreshing night's sleep and are subject to headaches, backaches and nervousness because their blood is impure.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give quick relief and permanently cure such men and women because they purify and build up the blood to its normal strength. As the blood becomes pure and red it strengthens the muscles, tones up the nerves, makes the stomach capable of digesting the food, and repairs the wastes caused by growth and work.

Mrs. Conner Morgan, of No. 115 Twenty-third street, Detroit, Mich., says:

"I suffered with general debility for over a year after gradually declining in health from overwork. I had but little blood, no strength or ambition and was weak and thin. My appetite was poor. I was reduced in flesh and was all dried up. I felt miserable all the time and could not do any work. I was sent on a visit to relatives with the hope that a change would benefit me, but after several weeks I had not improved."

"Most of this time I was taking the doctor's medicine without benefit and was getting discouraged. My aunt urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They gave me a better appetite, I gained in flesh and strength and took the pills until cured. Since then I have been strong, robust and healthy."

A booklet, "Diseases of the Blood," showing what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done in anemia and other blood diseases, will be sent free upon request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

his bodyguard at Matteawan. He said Thaw had exhibited no irrational tendency. He admitted that Thaw had criticized the management of the institution at times, and had used harsh names in referring to the physicians. But he added that many suggestions made by Thaw were acted on, greatly to the improvement of the institution.

The state's representatives announced that they had retained Dr. Austin Flint and Dr. Charles B. McDonald, who, with Dr. Amos B. Baker of Matteawan, will make up the state's trio of alienists along lines agreed on by counsel yesterday. Dr. Flint was in court when Mrs. Thaw was excused, but he was not permitted to make a physical examination in the White Plains jail. The mental examination to test his sanity,

ARTHUR HOOKER.

ASKS UNCLE SAM FOR $5,000, 000,000 TO IMPROVE WEST.

Arthur Hooker, secretary of the board of control of the national irrigation congress, will present a resolution for approval by that organization at its meeting in Spokane Aug. 9 to memorialize Congress to issue a per cent gold bonds, running 100 years, to the amount of $5,000,000,000 to reclaim lands, improve rivers, irrigate arid wastes, protect forests and build national highways. He declares that this stupendous sum of money will be no more than is actually necessary to render tiltable the millions of acres of swamp and arid lands, build the necessary roadways and improve the rivers for transportation purposes.

is to be conducted in open court by the lawyers prompted by the experts.

ON THE STAND.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, subpoenaed by the state, which is opposing her husband's release, for the Matteawan asylum for the criminal insane, took the stand today as a witness here on Harry K. Thaw's mental condition.

Mrs. Thaw arrived in White Plains this afternoon. Her entrance into the courtroom created a commotion in the crowd which filled every seat and all the aisles. She was dressed in a neat blue suit and a large hat with gray plumes. Deputy Attorney Clark asked the witness about a conversation she had with her husband at Matteawan soon after he was committed, at which Daniel O'Reilly, one of Thaw's former lawyers was present.

Mrs. Thaw declined to say whether she had such a conversation, saying:

"I had rather not answer that question."

"Did Harry Thaw make a threat during the conversation to which he would kill you?" asked Mr. Clark.

Thaw's counsel objected on the ground that the conversation was privileged.

Justice Mills ruled that the witness could answer.

"I don't care to answer that question," said Mrs. Thaw, "and I have not claimed any privilege so far, as the record will show," she added.

DECLINED TO ANSWER.

The witness declined to answer any of Mr. Clark's questions and he asked the court to instruct her to answer.

"I can't afford contempt proceedings now I must obey," said Evelyn, turning to Justice Mills.

"Did you have a conversation with Mr. Thaw in regard to your affairs?" Mrs. Thaw was asked.

"We had a talk in regard to a certain thing," said the witness. "I am not saying, though, what that thing was," she added.

"Had Mr. Thaw asked you to do something for him on that day?" "No, sir."

Lawyer Morschauer again objected to Mrs. Thaw's testimony, saying the conversation was confidential.

"But," said Mr. Clark, "the conversation was a threat to kill," said Evelyn, turning to Justice Mills.

"Did Mr. Thaw ask you to do something for him on that day?" "No, sir."

Justice Mills ruled that the conversation between Thaw and his wife at that time was confidential and need not be repeated by the witness.

Attorney Winsor argued that the conversation was material as bearing on the sanity or insanity of Thaw, the real issue before the court.

Mr. Clark asked the privilege of asking the witness some preliminary questions.

"Was the subject of conversation partly in regard to the killing of Stanford White?" asked Mr. Clark.

The witness said it was.

A QUESTION OF PRIVILEGE.

Justice Mills finally said that if the state should show that Daniel O'Reilly was not acting as counsel for both Thaw and his wife at the time he was present at the Matteawan conversation, he would rule that O'Reilly made a disinterested third party present, which overcomes the legal privilege.

Mr. Clark had Mrs. Thaw identify some papers written by her husband. At one time when the fencing over the admissibility of the questions asked Mrs. Thaw were under duress and she turned to Justice Mills and said:

"Will I be in contempt if I do not answer? I cannot afford to go to jail, and as my husband is not now paying anything to me, I have not money enough to hire counsel."

Thaw watched his wife intently while she was on the witness stand, but did not appear to be perturbed by her presence. Mrs. Thaw appeared more mature, but seemed demure, and a school-girl expression accentuated her beauty, as it did when she wore her Etan collar and testified at her husband's trial in New York.

UNITARIAN CONFERENCE FAVORS WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Seattle, Wash., July 13.—When the Pacific Coast Unitarian conference last Saturday affirmed its approval of the Methodist platform, it changed two words in plank number one to commit the Unitarian church to woman suffrage. The Unitarian plank reads:

"For equal rights and complete justice for all men and women in all stations of life." The words "and women" are not in the Methodist plank. Rev. J. D. Thomas, the Seattle Unitarian pastor, said today: "We are pledged to the cause of equal rights for men and women. I myself am an ardent suffragist, and I cannot see how any Unitarian can be anything else."
