

Judge C. C. Goodwin, Editor of the Salt Lake Tribune; John Nicholson, assistant Editor of Deseret News; Byron Groo, Editor of Salt Lake Herald, Judge John R. McBride, O. J. Hollister, Orson F. Whitney, Chancellor of the Deseret University, Moses Thatcher, Wm. S. Godbe, Wm. H. Shearman, Robert W. Sloan, Frank J. Cannon, Editor of Ogden Herald; Professor Leo Haefeli, Henry W. Naisbitt, John Lyon, Geo. A. Meears, H. L. A. Culmer, E. L. T. Harrison, Geo. W. Crouch, Junius F. Wells, Editor of the Contributor; Wilford Woodruff, (in his History of the Pioneers, illustrated) Mr. Alfred Lambourne, (in the art department with original sketches of western scenery) William Gill Mills, Edward W. Tullidge.

The first number of THE WESTERN GALAXY, dated Jan. 1st, 1888, will open with the "Mines of the West," as the leading subject, which will be continued as a principal feature of this Magazine, branching out over all the mining States and Territories of the Pacific Slope. The Mines of Park City will occupy this department in No. I, and the frontispiece of the opening number of THE WESTERN GALAXY will be a fine steel plate portrait of R. C. Chambers, Superintendent of the great Ontario mine.

THE WESTERN GALAXY will be the same size as the Century and Harper's Monthly, illustrated; its price $4.00 per year in advance.