XLIX CONGRESS. SENATE.

Washington, 30.—The Chair laid before the Senate the resolutions of the Portland, Oregon, Board of Trade, to the effect that the previous resolutions of that body, protesting against the forfeiture of the Northern Pacific land grant for the uncompleted portlon of the Cascade Branch were inconsiderate and illegal and should be expunged from the record of the Board.

Mitchell remarked that notwith-standing this action of the Board of Trade, he and his colleagues were still in favor of the building of the Cascade oranch as a competing line.

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the resolution for public ex-ecutive sessions and a speech of Mor-rill against the proposed change, was read by Manderson. Hoar also addressed the Senate in opposition to the proposed change.

The conference report on the cousu lar and diplomatic appropriation bill was submitted by Allison and agreed

Edmunds objected to the second reading of the joint resolution, for reasons which he said he would state o-morrow. The Senate then proceeded to the consideration of the legislative appr > riation bill.

After an executive session, the Sen-

Much of the evening was consumed in desultory discussion over the pro-posed reduction of the force in the Surgeon-General's office, and the re-duction was finally rejected. The Senate then, at 11:25 o'clock, ad-

The company is one of the oldest and was in early times one of the wealthlest corporations in the Middle States, holding a charter under the Legislature of Pennsylvania; Delaware and Maryland. The first numer that reached the street was that the treasurer, James A. L. Wilson, had defaulted in his accounts to the extensiof $178,000. The facts as subsequently ascertained more accurately, were that ascertained more accurately, were that an over-issue of bonds to the amount of $615,260 was made under the thirty years mortgage loans of the compan of July, 1856, for $2,800,000. return of the bonds for certification at the office to-day would have revealed the over-issue. Treasurer Wilson did not appear at the office to-day, but on his desk was a note containing a confession of the guilty knowledge of the fraudulent transaction. He left the city last night, it is alleged, in company with Henry V. Leslie, the former Treasurer, under whose administration the overlissue is made. J. A. L. Wilson, the accused defaulter, is about 65 years of age, and for over thirty years has been connected with the Chesapeake & Delaware Canal Company, having been its Treasurer since 1883, when he succeeded Henry V. Leslie. The letter left by Treasurer Wilson on his desk, which was written closely and at some length on several small sheets of note

The company makes the following statement: The defalcations by the treasurer of this company having been discovered this day, the interest on the loan due July 1. 1886, will not be paid until further notice and the extension of the loan cannot be carried in the mode-provided for. The holders of certificates of loan are requested to produce them at once, at the office of the company for examination. Transfers of stock and loan will not be made until further notice.

LOUISVILLE, 30. - A sensation was created here by the rumor that Colonel R. M. Kelly, until recently United States Pension Agent at this point, was short in his accounts to the gov-ernment. The rumor has been current for several days, but last night the Courier-Journal received a dispatch from Washington, saying, on authority of Auditor Williams, that when Col. Kelly was succeeded by General Buell here on February 17th, The report and the resolution (which is concurred in by Hale) were placed on the House calendar.

The report and the resolution (which of his accounts showed a credit to the government of $51,000 in the New York sub-treasury. Inquiry at the subsub-treasury. Inquiry at the subtreasury, however, revealed the fact that only about $6 was there due the government from the pension office here. Colonel Kelly was notified, and General Williams says he fimmediately paid over the $51,000, thus squaring his accounts. General Williams, without explaining, said he thought Kelly had been deceived and duped by those he trusted. Colonel Kelly states simply that his accounts have been examined and found to be correct and that he owes the government nothing.

British Politicians Warming to the Work-Talk of Assassination. London, 30.—Friday's polls are exciting intense interest. Of 74 contests the Giadstonians are hopeful that the Irish vote will wrest 18 votes from the Conservatives. The results will reveal how the English provincial boroughs are affected. The Giadstonian agents report probable gains in Bristol, Norwich and Southampton. If these expectations are realized they will give an impulse to Liberal victories throughout the country. out the country.

The Pall Mail Gazette fears that many Liberals will abstain from vot-

Gladstone writes that he will be unable to address the electors of London, and he therefore ventures to offer them a few words in summing up the ques-tion before them. "A century ago," he says, "we gave Ireland a free Par-liament with which she was satisfied. Although the constitution was faulty, After a brilliant street parade of the high officers of the church from the Archepiscopal palace to the cathedral, the formal investiture took place in the cathedral. During the mass Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia, made an address on the life of the new Cardinal and the church in its relation to the government. Although the constitution was laulty, it was being gradually reformed, when the Tories, to the horror of every Liberal statesman stopped work by recalling Fitz Williams. This tyranny begat discontent, resistance and frightful to loodshed."
