SPECIAL BUSINESS NOTICES.

DR. H. H. CLAWSON has succeed ed Dr. A. W. Calder in the business of practical dentist, as may be seen by advertisement in another column. Dr. Calder speaks in the highest terms of his former associate and present successor, and those who have had occasion to test his skill bear testimony to his proficiency in the dental art. If you have anything the matter with your poor teeth, call on Dr. Clawson, who will relieve you of the aching molars, fill up their gaps, or furnish you with a new set that will make you smile and enable you to do it sweetly. Dr. Clawson is "up" in all the branches of his profession.
