Prof. L. P. Breckenridge Outlines Solution of the Big Problem.

Prof. L. P. Breckenridge, director of the engineering experiment station of the University of Illinois, and engineer in charge of the steam engineering division of the United States geological survey, in a recent interview in Washington, outlined a solution of the smoke problem of the coun-try, basing his statements on experi-ments that have made the 2,000 horse-power heating plant of the university smokeless for the last two years. Since the publication of the inter-view, in which the professor caplained that the way to burn soft coal with-out smoke was to prevent the flame reaching the bottom of the boiler, he has been deluged with inquiries from engineers and others, requesting more detailed statements of his method of operating a smokeless plant. the engineering experiment station of These tests have been made under a water tube boiler of 210 horsepower capacity. The furnace consisted of a chain grate stoker. The lower tubes of the boiler have been covered, for two-thirds their length, with special tile, making a tile roof furnace. The draft has been fur-nished by a fan drawing the air through the fire, the usual induced draft system. With this equipment, over 100 tests have been made, of from eight to ten hours' duration, soft coal being used entirely. The blanket license of the Salt Palace Amusement company is in danger of being revoked by the council. Black introduced a resolution providing for the revokal of the license. Without comment the resolution was referred to the license committee and it will be considered on Thursday night. The managers of the resort will be cited before the committee to show cause why the license should not be revoked, and it is expected that a real lively time will be had at the meeting. After the council adjourned Black stated that the reason for introducing the resolution was because of the bl-cycle races held at the Salt Palace on Sunday night. He declared that his considered in such a matter. As to the blame for holding the Sunday night meet he declared that the management of the resort was to blame and not John Chapman, the manager of the races. Hence he thought the managers should be brought upon the carpet and de-fend their right to a license for all their attractions.

SIDEWALKS BIDS REJECTED.

They were rejected by the 5380.308. They were rejected by the board because they were excessive, the estimated cost of the work being $168,295. The matter of further ac-tion in regard to the work was re-ferred to the engineering and streets committees.

or the session by urging that some ac-tion be taken on the Utah Light & Rall-way company's franchise for the var-ious extensions it proposes to make to its system. Crabtree, as usual, was successful in blocking any action on the proposition. Tuddenham declared that the committee or the council ought to get busy on the franchise and do something with it so the company would know what to do. Crabtree re-plied that several members of the com-mittee were out of the city and had not had an opportunity of going over the route of the proposed extensions and that he hoped to have them taken over it on Wednesday after which he would call a meeting of the council as a committee of the whole to get to work on the franchise. That settled things for the time, so nothing further was said about the matter.
