Press Comments on the Nominee for Mayor.

NEW YORK, 19. — William R. Grace, nominated for Mayor by the United democracy, yesterday is a member of a firm of banking and shipping and commission business of New York, San Francisco, and Callao.

The Herald reporter adds: The various firms control a large proportion of trade between South America and the United States, owning and controling a large number of vessels and having established agencies in South American countries. One of the most flourishing of these branch houses was in Valparaiso, but with the outbreak of the war came a breaking up of the trade as the firm embarked in the business of supplying the Peruvian government with munitions of war and other necessaries. The trade of the firm in fact has embraced almost every article to be found on the list of exports and imports of the South American States, from supplies purchased by the railroad king, Henry A. Meiggs, for the prosecution of his gigantic schemes to the simplest necessaries of life that are bought by South Americans; they have large government contracts with Peru for the export of guano and nitrates and carry back general merchandise, shipchandlery, etc., and while they own many ships they are consignees of many more, so that it is not an uncommon thing to see in one of their offices a dozen captains awaiting ot once for instructions. Editorially, however, the Herald says: "Leaving John McLean out of the question, John Kelly has selected the only Catholic in the list. Why? For what good reason? Kelly is not blind or deaf; he is not silly or headless; he knows perfectly well that one of the most injurious, one of the most dangerous elements which can be imported into American politics is that of religious prejudice and fanaticism; he knows perfectly well that his nomination of Grace, will impart this dangerous, this uncalled for disturbing element into our politics; he knows as well as any other man in the community that his nomination of Grace for mayor will be laid hold of at once as an attempt to place the city under Catholic influences and rule, and by his own act Kelly thus forces his own church into the political discussion, and excites the fanaticism of its opponents, and the fanaticism of the supporters as well. He is supposed to desire the success of his party; that party is just now making a death struggle for the precedence, and against such odds as seem to make defeat very probable. Behold, Kelly insists on an act which as he knows, as everybody knows will arouse a new kind of prejudice to be sure, but none less damaging for that against democrats, and drive, not one, but a dozen new nails into the democratic coffin. He may wish to defeat the democratic party, but is it proper that he should use his church as a club to beat out his party's brains?

The Tribune has kind words for Grace, but says the Germans are muttering over unprecedented representation of Irishmen on the democratic local ticket. Two Irishmen and a son of an Irishman have already been named for three out of five. If any more Irishmen are nominated the democrats may have to try their hands at electing the ticket alone.

One of the Irving Hall committee told a Times' reporter: "This is an awful pill to take; we didn't want Grace, and supposed Kelly didn't want him. That is why we nominated him. Now let the republicans put up a good man like Postmaster James or Gen. Lloyd Aspinwall, and with the independent vote added, either of these men can be elected."

The Times, while conceding the entire respectability of Grace, thinks there will be a natural desire on the part of reflecting men to have his position defined on certain public questions, that the church to which he owes allegiance has dealt with in a way which does not meet with the approval of the majority of his fellow-citizens, the city's public school questing among others. The opportunity presented to the republicans of nominating the next mayor of New York is exceptionally good. The nomination by them of a democrat of acknowledged character and ability would undoubtedly secure the German democratic vote and would be equivalent to an election. Grace's nomination, it is thought, will lend vigor to the movement of independent, non-partisan business men, for the nomination of an independent, non-sectarian candidate.

A meeting has been called at the Astor House with a view to promote a nomination for the mayoralty calculated to secure an honest and economical administration of the affairs of the city.

The "World" vs. the "Sun."

The World prints this morning several utterances of the Sun before the Indiana election, regarding Hancock and English, showing they were the fittest and best nominees and compares these statements with the Sun's editorial of yesterday. In the same connection the World announces itself as a two cent paper till after the election, and editorially denounces the Sun as not being a democratic journal. The Sun, however, continues its silly editorials which are inconsistent with one another, now exhorting the democrats to vote for Hancock and English and then throwing cold water on the whole ticket, besides publishing several correspondence letters upholding its yesterday's article of "No Mincing Matters." It has the following: Much as our candidate excels in writing letters we must deferentially advise him not to write any more, but if he does write any let him close them with a $10 bill in transparent envelopes and the republican subordinates in the post-office of this city will be sure to break them open, spend the money and destroy the letter so that the contents will never see the light. General Hancock need write nothing more on the tariff. Every one knows he is in favor of tariff which will yield the utmost protection to American industries, and especially to the democratic party. Hancock should devote himself to writing his inaugural and if it is never delivered the preparation of it will be a salutary literary exercise, but if he must write on the tariff let him explicitly state that if it had been left to him he would have put prohibitory tariff on the real mission of the unrepentent rebels to citizens' rights after the close of the war. That is about the only letter on tariff we can conceive of that would help him. Unless he is going to write some such letter let him return his goose quill to the original goose.

Address by the Democratic Business Men.

An address has been issued by leading business men of this city to the voters of the county, calling upon them to support and increase Hancock's majority. The address reviews the prosperity of the country since both houses of Congress had been democratic, and asserts that the party to-day in its platform has not a single menace against any legitimate industry. Among the signers are Royal Phelps, John J. Cisco, David M. Stone, Charles H. Marshall, J. H. Brown, S. D. Babcock, Chas. L. Dickey, D. Willis, Jas. Anson and Phelps Stokes.

THE INDIAN CRISIS.

Gov. Pitkin to Secy. Schurz.

DENVER, 19.—Last night Governor Pitkin telegraphed Sec'y. Schurz that he had no advices of two companies of militia having started for the reservation, and disbelieves the rumors. He says: Although his efforts at escape strengthen the conviction as to his guilt, I have no apprehension as to his personal safety when once in custody of the sheriff at Gunnison. He requests the Secretary to instruct the commander of the fort to deliver Berry to the sheriff.

The Governor received a telegram from Gen. Pope to-day, stating that he had orders from the President to protect Berry from arrest, pending the consideration of the subject by the Attorney General.

Washington, 19. — The following dispatch is received at the Interior Department:

DENVER, Col., Oct. 18.

Hon. C. Schurz, Secretary of the Interior:

As there is no telegraphic communication to Gunnison City, I am unable to get accurate and reliable reports from there. I have no advices of two companies of the State militia having started for the reservation, and I disbelieve the rumor. The information which reached me is that the sheriff arrested Berry over a week ago, at the agency; that Berry persuaded the sheriff to accompany him to the cantonment, about four miles distant, where he escaped from the sheriff. Two dispatches were received here to-day concerning him, one stating that he is secreted by the Indians, the other that he is protected by the commander of the post. I respectfully request you to require the commander of the post to deliver him to the sheriff of Gunnison County at Gunnison City. This will avoid the necessity of the sheriff taking a State force with him to make the arrest, although his efforts to escape have strengthened the evidence as to his guilt. I have no apprehension as to his personal safety when once in the custody of the sheriff at Gunnison. Captain Cline has been in jail for about a week without being molested.

The sheriff telegraphed me that Berry and others are safe from the mob in Gunnison. If you desire to have the military commander deliver him to the sheriff, I should like to be informed of the decision, that I may notify the sheriff at once that further preparations for making the arrest is unnecessary.

(Signed) FRED. W. PITKIN.

DENVER, 19.—The Governor, this evening, received advices from the Interior Department that a telegram had been sent to Agent Berry to the effect that if the criminal process of the State is to be served upon him by lawful officers and his arrest is made, the United States troops cannot interfere. In case the militia are with the officers and without process, the United States troops may be called upon to eject them, but no collision shall be provoked, and it discretion is used none need occur; that the United States Attorney has started for the agency and will give all necessary advice. The preservation of peace at the present time is all important, and the Department will co-operate to that end.

SOUTH ARKANSAS, Col., 18.—Berry is not at the Agency. It is supposed he is concealed among the Utes, awaiting instructions from Washington,

Latest concerning the Wrecked "Alpena."

CHICAGO, 19. — The fate of the Alpena is still doubtful. Pieces of her wreck have been picked up along the shore. The owners are quite confident the vessel will be found to have reached port. An associated press agent has been sent by team to Stony Creek from Montague to learn all the particulars about the wreckage of the Alpena, which came ashore there. The vessel was 175 feet long, 35 beam and 12 in hold, valued at $80,000, insured this year for the first time; 20,000; she is 15 years old. The captain was N. W. Napier, of St. Joseph; second mate, J. H. Kelly; first engineer, —— Robinson; second engineer, R. Patton; steward, John Bowen; clerk, A. E. Hayes. She also had four cabin boys, two wheel-men, two cooks, two firemen, one porter and eight deck-hands; total, 25 in her crew. The company keeps no duplicate list of passengers, but estimates they numbered 60 to 70.

Sections of the Trader and Alpena were washed ashore at Stony Creek, near Montague, Michigan, including the Alpena's wheel, a piano, rope and lumber.

Holland, Mich., 19.—A man just in from Ventura, eight miles north, says: During the night a bucket, two life preservers, and a cabin door, all marked Alpena, came ashore there. A lot of camp stools, a part of the forward deck, the inside portions showing fire, graining work, one piano with the upper lid gone, also an oval stairway and a bucket were found on the beach a mile north of the harbor. The bucket is marked steamer Alpena. Nothing else is marked. Men are watching the shore for other portions.

Pieces of the wreck of the Alpena are coming ashore. A piano has been identified. The body of Mrs. Bradley, of Santa Fe, was the first to come ashore. She had been spending the summer at Grand Haven with two children. Watchers are patroling the shore waiting for further wreckage.

Grand Haven, Mich., 19.—Passengers on the Alpena, as far as can be learned are: W. S. Benham, editor of the Herald, and wife; M. Crossman, Mrs. B. F. Curtis and Capt. H. V. Squier, of Grand Haven; Mrs. Bradley and two daughters of Santa Fe, N. M.; Mrs. S. B. Cole, of Illinois, sister of H. Holbrook, Muskegan, agent of the Goodrich line; H. T. Locke, agent of Hill Bros., New York; Rev. Farrell Hart and wife, White Pigeon, Mich.; Mr. Ridger, agent of the glass works, Syracuse, New York; John J. Bowen, ex-steward of the Alpena, John Osharn, wife and three children, Chicago; Maggie Mack, ex-stewardess of the Alpena; N. P. McGilvray, St. Joseph, Mich. A man with three children, name unknown; C. Kusher, Fred. Spaneth, G. Haltinger, Grand Rapids; L. Landreth, Muskegan. The following are supposed to have been on the Alpena: L. D. Pritton, New York; Harry L. St. Clair, Chicago; W. C. Pettibone, Chicago. A Jew by the name of Bob Sinsky, scrap iron buyer, Chicago.

A Railway Rival.

CHICAGO, 19.—The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad company issued a circular to shippers of California freight, announcing that that road and the Southern Pacific will be completed and connected about January 1st, thus opening a new through route between the east and San Francisco, Sacramento, San Jose, Los Angeles, Marysville, and all other parts in California and Arizona. It sets forth that the new line will offer unequalled facilities for doing business, such as will warrant shippers in delaying any arrangements for the future until the new route is opened for business, of which due notice will be given.

Garfield and the Lincoln Club.

MENTOR, O., 19.—The Lincoln Club of Indianapolis, 400 strong, visited Garfield to-day, all wearing straw hats and linen dusters as a burlesque on the Jefferson Club of their city, who wear rich costumes. Their spokesman said they brought good news and promises from Indiana, which Garfield said he was glad to hear, and referred to their costume, which he said resembled the old Continental uniform. He referred to Lincoln and to Indiana's proud history. He prized the news they brought, because it showed a revival of the spirit of '76, of Abraham Lincoln and universal liberty.

The Women's Deposit Bank Fraud.

BOSTON, 19.—The Howe Woman's Bank fraud was up in court to-day. A lady clerk testified that Miss Howe said that 12 respectable men backed the affair. Newspaper articles caused them to pay out $40,000 the day before the suspension. A receiver was asked for, and the court reserved its decision. Mrs. Imogene Woodward, the wife of John Woodward, the defaulting cashier of the city treasury, was arrested on the charge of complicity in the affair.

A Total Wreck.

CHICAGO, 19.—The Inter-Ocean's Muskegon special says: Not a vestige is left of the schooner Grenada, which went to pieces off the shore here. Only two survivors, Wm. Bissel, the mate, and Angus Tinklater, the captain's brother. The latter reports the vessel left Chicago with a smart breeze on Friday evening, but the steering apparatus soon became worthless and the schooner was at the mercy of the waves. The storm was hourly increasing in violence. Saturday noon the steward and a sailor died of exposure, and he himself prayed for death. Sunday noon land was sighted and they began to make a raft. One sailor was caught between the parts of the racking vessel and nearly crushed, but was wrapped in canvass, and put on the raft. The waves washed him overboard. The captain lost his hold by the breaking of the raft and was drowned when near shore. Tinklater held on for awhile and then swam ashore. All the rest of the crew, number not stated, were drowned before their eyes.

Hampton's Challenge.

The Times Washington special says: Hampton's challenge was today delivered to Sherman by McKinley, who said: "Mr. Sherman, I have a communication from Senator Wade Hampton, which I beg leave to present in person." The Secretary thought he had an application for office and waived the visitor to a seat. He remained standing. "You perceive the letter is sealed. Will you kindly open it and read it in my presence?" Sherman gave a puff at his cigar and brusquely broke the seal. He then turned to the waiting friend and curtly said: "I will take an early opportunity to reply to Senator Hampton's letter."

The Railroad War.

Many new cuts signalize the railroad war, most of them of small importance. The Alton road sells limited tickets to Omaha, via Kansas City, for $6.50, and Wabash is selling also unlimited at $7.50, to Council Bluffs and to Omaha. The Northwestern, Burlington and Rock Island, have not met this rate, but it is stated they will to-morrow. Wabash sells tickets to St. Louis and return, good for three days for $4. The Alton is merely adding fifty cents to the rate from Kansas City to the western destination. The Alton charges one dollar from Chicago to St. Louis for limited and five for unlimited. The cheapest rate yet made is five cents from Chenoa to Chicago by the Alton and Wabash, the regular fare being $4.05. Out going trains on the waring roads are so crowded, they have to run in sections. The Tribune predicts the war will become general in the morning east and west.

Accounts Short.

The Inter-Ocean says: D. R. Riddell, local freight agent of the Michigan Southern railroad, has left town with a shortage in his accounts of $50,000, which are switching fees collected, but not paid over.

Commander Elected.

ATLANTA, Ga., 19.—Capt. Burke of the Gate City Guards nominated General Hunt, of McPherson barracks, commander of all the troops assembled from the north and south in the reunion at Atlanta, and he was unanimously elected.

Terrible Shipping Fire.

CHARLESTON, S.C., 19.—The fire which broke out in North Commercial wharf Sunday afternoon is still burning but under control. This morning fire was found in the Bedford (steamer) but was put out. The hold of the Borrowdale is alive with flame and is not yet out and probably the vessel will be relined with a cargo of 320 bales of cotton. She has been scuttled. The estimate of the losses is as follows: Real estate, $50,000; cotton, $125,000; Vanderhorst wharf, $20,000; furniture, $18,; Borrowdale, $50,000; cargo, $14,000; cargo of the Transcave $107,000, Bedford and cargo, $100,000. Fully insured.

Suddenly Died.

SUSPENSION BRIDGE, Ont., 19.—A feeble old man who arrived by the New York, Lake Erie and Western railroad train this evening, died in the waiting room at the depot here. He had a railroad ticket reading from Council Bluffs to New York, also a receipt for six months subscription to the San Francisco Chronicle, in favor of W. Markham, Atlanta, Ga., and $240 in American bills tied in a handkerchief around his neck.
