

SPEAKER HULL MADE THEM MAD

His Rollings Stirred Up Many of The House Members to Anger.

ON QUESTION OF ADJOURNMENT

Country Members Wanted to Go Home
But Speaker Thought They Should Do Business.

For a time yesterday afternoon the house was in a turmoil over the question of adjournment. After their trip to the University, the members were in no humor for business, and when they sauntered into their seats at 4:50, at which time the roll was called by the chief clerk, Roberts immediately moved an adjournment till Monday at 1 p. m. It was evident that this was distasteful to Speaker Hull, and while the motion carried by a good majority it was announced "lost" and the reading of the Journal was taken up. When the minutes had been read and corrected, Anderson of Morgan renewed the motion to adjourn. The motion again carried but was declared lost. This was too much for those who desired to get away, and they immediately revolted by appealing from the decision of the chair.

At this juncture Speaker Hull arose to explain. Said he: "The chair will say that he has no desire to be arbitrary in this matter, nor to prevent an adjournment at this time if the members of the house so will. The chair will take occasion to say this, however, that this body is being severely criticized, however unjustly, by the general public, who seem to think that we are disposed to prolong the session so that it may cover the full 60 days for which the members of this body were elected. In view of these facts the chair would suggest that it would be in good taste to dispose of some of our business before adjournment."

TO MEET SATURDAY.

Joseph had moved that the house remain in session till 5:45 and that it adjourn then till Monday at 2 p. m. Wilson moved an amendment that the house continue in session till 7 and that the adjournment be until 7:30 and that when the house finally adjourn it be until 2 o'clock Saturday. Marks moved to substitute "Monday" for "Saturday." Anderson, J. A., moved to table the amendment, but this was lost by a few votes and the motion to meet Saturday prevailed.

During the discussion several members had been excused, some on account of sickness at home, others because of important business engagements and still others because they were expected to attend to their own affairs. McCrea supported the idea of working Saturday. Joseph opposed it, and took occasion to say that this was the hardest working body of lawmakers that had ever assembled in the state of Utah. He thought Saturdays should be reserved for visiting state institutions. Kuchler said the house might as well work Saturdays as it might in session till 5:45, as this would prevent the country members from catching their trains.

MILLER ENRAGED.

The exit of members for the reasons stated caused Joseph to move that the sergeant-at-arms be instructed to enforce attendance on Saturday, inasmuch as such a motion had prevailed. This would be the first time since the session began that a member had been expelled, who in angry tones, demanded by what authority "the gentleman from Salt Lake" attempted to "run this house." Said he, "I don't want that motion put. I want to go home tomorrow and I'm going."

Wootton then assumed the role of peacemaker, by suggesting that the house might be in better humor after supper and moving an adjournment until 7:30. The motion carried and the members dispersed, many of them vowing vengeance on Speaker Hull.

A BUSINESS SESSION.

When the house reassembled at 7:30, 31 members responded to roll call. The members immediately got down to business by taking up H. C. R. No. 4, which, on motion of Joseph, was passed under a suspension of the rules. The resolution instructs the trustees of the state industrial school to submit to the senate a report of the money due from each county and uncollected for the care of insane committed to that institution.

SCHOOL CENSUS BUSINESS.
H. B. 37, by Fishburn, changing the date for taking the school census in towns from July to October, was the next order. Stookoy opposed the measure, because it would prevent the enumeration in their own districts of children who left home to attend school in the city. Kinney pleaded for an honest census and therefore supported the bill, while Carroll and Cottam were opposed because they feared the passage of the bill would be a death blow to the small country school. Roberts favored the measure because he thought the district educating the child should have the funds. The bill passed by the following vote:

Ayes—Allen, Anderson, A. V., Anderson, J. A., Cromar, Curtin, Dailley, Dean, Edwards, Fishburn, Gundry, Hogan, Johnson, Jones, Joseph, Kinney, Lathrop, Marks, McCrea, Pancake, Roberts, Simons, Spencer, Stewart, Stookoy, Wilson, Hull—27.

Nays—Carrall, Cottam, Carroll, Hawley, Stringham, Tolton, Wootton—7.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER.
Wilson gave notice that on Monday he would move for a reconsideration, and also opposed H. B. 28, a twin measure for taking school census in cities. The bill, though opposed, was passed by the following vote:

Ayes—Allen, Anderson, A. V., Anderson, J. A., Austin, Cromar, Curtin, Dailley, Dean, Edwards, Fishburn, Gundry, Hogan, Johnson, Jones, Joseph, Kinney, Lathrop, Marks, McCrea, Pancake, Roberts, Simons, Spencer, Stewart, Stookoy, Wilson, Hull—28.

Nays—Carrall, Cottam, Carroll, Hawley, Stringham, Tolton, Wootton—7.

SATURDAY SESSION KILLED.
At this point, Anderson, A. V., moved for a reconsideration of the vote by which the house had decided to adjourn until Saturday. Roberts objected, but the house was "sigh" him and the Saturday session was stricken out.

On ruling claims within 60 days after location, was explained by the author, who said that the present method of years without development, was an advantage to corporations but a detriment to the mining industry. The bill passed by unanimous vote.

Joseph, with the consent of 31 members of the house, then moved to adjourn, and work was suspended till Monday at 2 p. m.

Good Health to the Children

Children especially are fond of dainties and the housekeeper must look carefully to their food.

As good cake can be made only with good eggs, so also a cake that is healthful as well as dainty must be raised with a pure and perfect baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder is indispensable in the preparation of the highest quality of food. It imparts that peculiar lightness, sweetness and flavor noticed in the finest cake, biscuit, doughnuts, crusts, etc., and what is more important, renders the food wholesome and agreeable to young and old.

AS TO THAT DEFICIT.

Senator Johnson Answers Question as To Where the Money Came From.

State Senator Willis Johnson, who for the past few weeks has been acting as treasurer of the Utah-St. Louis world's fair commission, was yesterday subjected to some very pointed criticism for his alleged failure to officially and publicly state where the $2,125.02 came from that was now in the commission's treasury but which was not there a couple of weeks before. It was hinted that he was trying to cover matters up, that he knew something he would not tell. The result was he was placed in an embarrassing situation. He made it very clear that he was not a party to any wrongdoing and that he would not become one. Yesterday he arose in the senate and made a statement to his brother senators that completely exonerates him from any shadow of blame. What he said follows:

"Mr. President and Fellow Senators: I rise to a question of highest personal privilege—that of making an explanation on a question that has been made, by circumstances that I was unable to control, so that I reflect upon some of my official acts, if not to involve my honor. I know that associates on this floor are not parties to the misconception as to my conduct or standing, but there are others, some of them prominent citizens, who wonder why I have, as they say, remained silent when in their judgment I should speak. I have specific reference to the discussion and criticism that has arisen out of the recent report of the joint committee appointed by this body and the house to inquire into the financial affairs of the Utah world's fair commission, of which I have for the past few weeks only been the treasurer, succeeding the Hon. Hoyt Sherman in that position a short time prior to his departure for Europe. It was not, in my judgment, proper for me to say anything upon a subject which a special committee was investigating. The committee was made up of honorable and intelligent gentlemen who were able to speak for themselves, which they have done."

"But in view of the criticisms and accusations made in the house and by other persons with regard to the fact that there was a difference as to the condition of the treasury of the fair commission as between the early part of January and the present time, I want to say this: Early in January there was an overdraft at the bank. Now there is money on hand to the amount of $2,125.02, just as stated in the committee's report. I am blamed and placed under suspicion for not telling where this money came from. I have nothing to hide in the matter. There is nothing to hide, in fact, so far as I know. This amount of money was turned over to me as treasurer of the commission. It came from the secretary of the commission and was turned over by the missing vouchers of the secretary, or for orders drawn on the treasurer for this amount, over and above that which was accounted for. The secretary claimed that these were either lost or misplaced. That is a matter of which I personally know nothing. I have simply stated the facts in the case so far as I know them. They explain how there is now a surplus in the treasury when there was a deficit."

In answer to a question from President Love he said he would like to have the statement go into the Journal. Secretary Hammer thought that Johnson attached too much importance to what he termed "idle criticism." But Johnson did not think so, whereupon Senator Hamberger declared that his associates had the most implicit confidence in his integrity and that he was sure the public had.

It being manifest that there was in no wise the least blame attaching to Senator Johnson, and the latter feeling encouraged at the confidence placed in him by his associates, the discussion terminated without any order being made for the statement to go into the record.

IN CALIFORNIA

They Use Fruit and Grape-Nuts.

Out at Los Angeles, Cal., they have people who give some attention to food as a sure way out of sickness. A lady says: "Husband has been a sufferer from dyspepsia and biliousness together with indigestion for a great many years. He kept getting worse in spite of all the medicine he took."

"We did not know what to do for he was steadily running down, and whether he ate meat, bread, eggs or anything of that sort, he kept losing flesh, until he got down to a skeleton, and, of course, was a physical wreck."

"One day a friend advised him to quit his regular diet entirely and to use only Grape-Nuts and cream, together with a little fruit."

"He took the advice and began to grow better at once. It was only a short time when he began to fatten up and grow stronger. Now he is the picture of health, and his old troubles have disappeared."

"We give Grape-Nuts to our baby boy. He is very fond of the food and is healthy and strong. We think he is the happiest year-old baby in California!" Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"Look in each package for the famous little book, 'The Road to Wellville.'" tirely wired, and the concrete stairs are nearly finished.

On the immediate outside of the building, the grading is ready for the sidewalks and roadways as soon as the weather will permit their being made. The postoffice will be ready for occupancy by June, and the remainder of the great structure, six weeks later. The roof and stone work were finished some time ago. The interior finish has been shipped from Chicago, two more cars of marble are in transit, and five cars of heating apparatus are somewhere on the road. Contractor Campbell says there are yet 100 car loads of material to go into the Federal building.

ANTI-MORMON CRUSADERS.

Senators Kearns and Dubois and Ex-Gov. Hutchison Hooked Up Together.

Philadelphia Record.—To aid in the fight against "Mormonism" being waged by the women of the nation, ex-Gov. Hutchison and Senator Dubois of Idaho and ex-Senator Thomas Kearns of Utah arrived in this city yesterday. Last evening at the Roosevelt they addressed a carefully guarded meeting of the League of Women's Organizations. Senator Dubois, who is accompanied by his wife, is the guest of Mrs. Schott, president of the National Mothers' Congress.

This evening a meeting of representatives of several denominations will be held in Northminster Presbyterian church, Thirty-fifth and Baring streets. Ex-Gov. Hutchison will be the principal speaker, but the following senators are also expected to make addresses. Many clergymen will be present to lend their influence to the object of the meeting—to unify religious sentiment against "Mormonism."

MIDWINTER FAIR.

Liberty Stake Opens a Week's Carnival on Monday Next.

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the Liberty stake midwinter fair, which event takes place on Monday evening next, at 8 o'clock, in Liberty hall. The committees have all worked like Trojans, and the success of the fair is now regarded as a certainty. The booths are all up, and with their beautiful decorations, and attractive articles, present a most imposing appearance. The electrical display is in place, and the hundreds of bulbs throwing their dazzling rays upon the decorations, make a scene of beauty.

The program has secured some of the best talent in the city for each evening, and although there will be a complete change of program every night, the program, it is said, will be of a high order.

The popular lady contest is creating great interest at the present time. The wards are lining up, and each one is supporting its own candidates. The diamond ring which has been offered as first prize is attracting a great deal of attention.

THE BAKER READINGS

"The Legends of the Holy Grail," This Afternoon, and "Parsifal" Tonight.

Another packed house greeted Mrs. Bertha Kuna Baker at Barratt Hall last night, and was if anything more favorably impressed by the great reader than on her first evening. Her selections last evening gave a wider range to cover than "The Legends of the Holy Grail," which was the first number more completely enjoyed the first number more completely than the other two. There is something of the decadent about the ethics of Wagner's version, of a dead and sentimental age, rather than the life of the hour, which is pitched in quite another key.

This afternoon the many lovers of "The Legends of the Holy Grail," out of which "Parsifal" and "Lohengrin" have sprung, and Wagner in his music, have made so much, have an opportunity to listen to the story to which the music of Wagner's version will be given, with music by J. J. McClellan and Willard Weihe.
