TWO YOUNG MEN DROWNED.
Cruel Joke on Sheriff Storrs—Business Increase—Provo Wizard.

Special Correspondence.
Provo, Utah, Jan. 3.—Sheriff Storrs has discovered the joker, who writes the patent medicine ads that commence as an interesting story or an account of some remarkable phenomenon, and close by recommending that the reader take a tonic for his disappointment, or whatever other ailment from which he may be suffering.

On New Year's day, when the genial sheriff was indulging in pleasant anticipations of a happy family dinner, he received a telegram from Tucker, conveying the first installment of the story which he had been reading in the "Deseret News." "Come up on No. 6 today," important! The sheriff went, of course, expecting to have to engage in some urgent work connected with the case of the "X" case, and the "X" case, when he arrived at the jail, found the rest of the story—some man was selling liquor without a license. The name of the man who sent the telegram or what was his fate, is not given, because the joke is too mean to entitle the perpetrator to the satisfaction of being known as its author.

INCREASED REALTY BUSINESS.

The following figures obtained from County Recorder Fyne of the business of his office for 1901, shows a great increase over the business transacted in 1900. In 1900 there were 2,885 instruments filed, and $2,983.75 collected in fees. In 1901, 4,383 instruments were filed and $3,975.65 collected in fees, being an increase in instruments of 1,498, and in fees of $1,011.90.

The most important improvement made in the office during the year, just passed is the placing of all the surveyed land in the county. The plats were of great convenience to the recorder and to the assessor. They have been prepared by the clerk in the office, and Mr. A. E. Buckner, who has done the drafting in a most accurate and skillful manner. Recorder Fyne is very proud of them and claim they are the finest in the state.

INFORMATION RECEIVED FROM LAKE SHORE YESTERDAY.

Information received from Lake Shore yesterday after the report of the death by drowning of Roy Leatham and his son, the "X" case, in the lake, and Mr. A. E. Buckner, who has done the drafting in a most accurate and skillful manner. Recorder Fyne is very proud of them and claim they are the finest in the state.

The same manner as you saw Leatham, who was drowned in the lake on Wednesday and broke through the ice or ran into an opening in the ice—the particulars are not known here. They remained under the ice four hours before their bodies were recovered. The funeral of the unfortunate young men was held today from the Lake Shore meeting house.

PROSPEROUS BUSINESS.

Manager Taft, of the Provo branch Z. C. M. L., has just closed stocktaking and has found the business transacted by the large store for the past year of very satisfactory proportions. The total volume of business amounted to $200,000, an increase of $62,000 above last year.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Alphonse Alfred, of Deseret, a young man about 19 years of age, was brought to Provo yesterday, for surgical treatment. He was riding a horse in a race and fell, and broke his jaw in two places, nearly severing a large portion of his tongue and otherwise injuring the face. Dr. Robinson is attending him, and the prognosis is not good. He is now in Provo preparing for his departure. His family will remain in this city.

GARDEN CITY NOTES.

Dr. J. H. Slater has moved to Provo from Spanish Fork. His office is in the Union block.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knight, of Modena, who are temporarily residing in Provo.

A trust deed from the owners of the waters of the Salem Upper Pond company, a corporation, covering the rights of the grantor to the corporation, for and in consideration of stock in the company, has been filed with the county recorder.

Thomas Jefferson and a fine company presented Rip Van Winkle before a large audience in the opera house last evening. The performance is accepted as the greatest theatrical event enjoyed by a Provo audience this season.
