

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH.

Separate chapel exercises for the college preparatory students were held on Wednesday. The college students assembled in room 14 of the library building and were addressed by Prof. Cummings, Reynolds and Babcock. At the close of the meeting, Prof. Cummings asked for an expression of opinion regarding the proposed separate chapel and evening sessions. The students voted in favor of the separate chapel and evening sessions. The students were addressed by Prof. Cummings, Reynolds and Babcock. The students were addressed by Prof. Cummings, Reynolds and Babcock.

Last Sunday night Prof. Richard R. Lamm delivered an educational lecture on the subject of "The Future of Education." Tomorrow evening he will address the M. I. A. at Taylor's hall.

Prof. Talmage left for Iron county on Thursday, to make an examination of the mineral deposits of that county. Last night he delivered a public lecture at the branch normal in Cedar City.

K. K. Steffensen, a "notchy three" normal graduate, visited the University yesterday.

The first year prep met on Wednesday and elected Hyrum E. Johnson president, Miss Coleman, vice president, and Frank Allen, secretary and treasurer.

Next Friday evening the college seniors will give a "hop" in the assembly room.

While exhibiting the workings of the X-ray machine during the recent state fair, Instructor Will Foreberg seriously injured his left hand, by exposing it too long against the fluorescent under the influence of the electric rays. The effects were not noticed for about a week when his hand swelled up, blistered and began to pain. Since then his hand has been useless and the flesh on the back part is in a very bad condition. He is now under the care of a competent physician.

Sometimes during the month of December the "Varsity Dramatic club" will play Miss Marietta Riley's "Christopher Junior." This play was presented here at one time by Miss Maude Adams and Mr. John Drew.

Yesterday afternoon the seniors lined up against the freshmen in the end of the series of inter class football games.

This afternoon the "Varsity football" eleven and the soldiers from Ft. Douglas are practicing the "pigskin" on Cummings field.

Owing to the great delay in distributing the "Ocell Rhodes" American students among the various colleges or university, the authorities have requested that examinations for the Rhodes scholarships be held in January. The next examination for Utah students will be held at the University of Utah about January 15. Any Utah boy is eligible and can make arrangements for taking the examination by applying to President J. T. Kingston.

The class in railroad engineering is running a survey for a railroad connecting the campus with a point in Parley's canyon.

At a recent meeting of the faculty, Professors Roylance, Talmage and Reynolds were appointed by President Kingston to submit a design for a large University flag. The intention is to have a large flag that can be hung from the flag pole on the campus. The committee have suggested the University colors, crimson and silver, with the large letters U. of U. They have not definitely decided on the exact size or design of the flag.

L. D. S. UNIVERSITY.

The fourth-year normal boys as well as the girls are taking cooking. Mrs. Deffen says she is proud of her "cooking boys," for they do just as good work as the girls—Leone Asper.

On Wednesday morning in general assembly President Paul addressed the students on the subject of "Manly and Womanly Beauty." Miss Emily Latson sang two beautiful and classical selections entitled "Lullaby" and "Star of the Morning."

On Monday, Oct. 31, a class was organized for the training of the young men of the university in part singing. All students are invited to join in this work. Prof. Stephens hopes in the near future to be able to select from this class a chorus of 50 voices.—Geo. Q. Kayton.

In the senior class meeting on Wednesday, Prof. Horne said: "Seniors, each a year or two, not for the money, but for the experience. You cannot get this experience anywhere else." He then related some of the experiences of the country school teacher, which convinced us of the truth of his statement, that we could not get this experience anywhere else. Some thought, however, that they could live without the experience.—Alfonso Z. Tanner.

Some time ago the cabinet locker was taken out of the basement of East hall and many of the students were deprived of a suitable place to put their books and lunches. This week the hall has been furnished with large tables, the drawers of which are suitable for books and such other articles as students find inconvenient to carry. The room is used as a lunchroom for the third and fourth year students.—Sylvia Compton.

On Saturday last, Instructor Caldwell went with the members of the geology class over the north bench of the city to examine the old City creek delta. A

"Mary," said the Mistress, "in future always order Golden Gate Coffee."

Nothing does with GOLDEN GATE COFFEE but satisfaction. No prices—no coupons—no crockery. 1 and 2 lb. ornate tins. Never sold in bulk.

educative phases of the music school. The students have an opportunity to perform before an audience of critics, as only the music students are invited. Then, too, only classics are given, and in the course of the year the students have an opportunity of hearing much of the work of the great masters.

BRIGHAM YOUNG COLLEGE.

Logan, Nov. 4.—The spirited rivalry between the classes of 1905 and 1906 was demonstrated again this week. Hitherto, when enthusiasm has been running high, the painting of class banners from the top of the main building on the roof in full view of the students below, who have watched the alternate tearing down and replacing of class colors with intense interest, and cheered and applauded their class heroes for deeds of daring. This time, however, there were no crowds and no cheers. In the ghostly hours of Hal-loween, members of the class of 1905 armed themselves with paints and brushes, climbed to the roof of the college, crept around to the east front of the tower, and suspended by ropes, drew themselves up toward the apex of the steep shingled roof, and there, in figures large enough to command attention from all who came to school the next morning, painted in blue and gold the mystic symbols, "1905." It required time and patience and daring to accomplish the feat. The task done, the artists sought repose and pictured the chagrin that would be written on coming election, and urged all who are eligible, to register and vote.

Prof. Merrill's class in zoology were out doing field work last Saturday. They went into the west fields and collected birds, snakes and lizards. The class in animal industry were out also judging stock in nearby farmyards and pastures.

The sympathies of the faculty and student-body go out to Miss Quinney, the president's private secretary, on the loss of her brother, Samuel, who died last week.

Madame Glardon, the popular teacher of modern languages, is confined at home with illness.

Prof. Chamberlin and wife were in Salt Lake over Sunday visiting with relatives.

President Linford went to Salt Lake on Saturday and attended a meeting of the board.

The Crimson made its first appearance for the year today. It is neatly printed, well edited, full of bright articles and pithy paragraphs, and its second year begins with promise of enthusiastic support from the students, who feel that it is a worthy representative of the college.

Mrs. James W. Linford, Miss Lizzie Collins, Jesse Rich and Abel Rich are among the number who will make long journeys to vote next Tuesday. They left today for Bear Lake county and will be gone a week.

It is announced that Dr. James E. Talmage will lecture here early in January. Judge Powers has also promised to favor us with a lecture in the near future.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

Logan.—Prof. L. A. Merrill returned to his classes on Tuesday after a three weeks' trip to the St. Louis fair, where he spent most of his time in the Agricultural department. While there he met two former student friends of his, Director Jordan of Geneva, N. Y., and Prof. Erf of the Kansas Agricultural college, and on his return he stopped at Kansas City to visit the stockyards.

At chapel Tuesday morning the Thatchers string quartet played a minuet and Schubert's "Traumerel." The quartet consists of Director George Thatcher, Mr. B. G. Thatcher, Prof. Vogelberg and Miss Linhart.

The Farmers' Institute, a report of the meetings held during the past year, drawn up by the staff of the experiment station, will appear in a few days.

On Monday evening Prof. and Mrs. Willard Langton and Prof. and Mrs. Ball entertained several of their friends at a very unique and delightful Halloween party.

Miss Ruth Moench of the English department and Miss Oliver of the Brigham Young college are making preparations for a recital to be given in about two weeks.

Prof. Fred Engle will lecture on Saturday before the Commercial club of the college.

At a general meeting of the quorum of Seventy at the Fourth ward meetinghouse on Wednesday, Prof. Robinson showed himself a most genial, witty and efficient toastmaster.

Mr. W. A. Jensen, instructor in typewriting, left the hospital last Saturday after an illness of two weeks with typhoid, but has since suffered a serious relapse.

Prof. Paris, the former head of the business department, and now principal of the Idaho Academy at Pocatello, came to Logan last week with the academy football team and was warmly welcomed by his numerous friends at the college.

The first issue of Student Life, the student paper, has just appeared. It contains an able article on Marlowe, with much college news, and is a most attractive number.

The college band gave a dancing party at the pavilion on Monday evening. It was both a social and financial success, and the workers of the band have now a fund for the purchase of music, uniforms and instruments.

Although the college football team is absent on its coast trip local football affairs are still active. Arrangements are making for a game between the two college fraternities, the R. E. A. and Phi Delta Upsilon, on the second eleven will probably play the All Hallows team and the Salt Lake High school in Salt Lake on Saturday and Monday.

The Cache stake conference last Sunday and Monday was largely attended by both students and professors.

A Halloween party was given at the dormitory by Misses Ruby and Luella Nebeker and Miss Ellen Peterson in honor of some of the young men students.

The Sorority young men have had their hearts gladdened the past week by telegrams, letters and postals from the absent football team.

Mr. A. T. Jones, a student of the Commercial department, who has been suffering from typhoid for some time, left the hospital this week and was taken to his home in Smithfield.

A dozen new specimens of food stuffs, chiefly of macaroni and vermicelli, were added to the food museum this week. They were procured by Mrs. Cotey this summer during her vacation visit to California.

Prof. Robinson made a flying business trip to Franklin, Idaho, the past week.

WEBER STAKE ACADEMY.

Ogden.—Elder George Q. Morris was the speaker last Monday morning at a devotional exercises. His subject, "The Value of Spiritual Training," was handled in an able and interesting manner.

The lecture committee is arranging for the best lecture course ever given in this city. It has already secured several prominent eastern lecturers and literary critics, among whom is J. Hopkinson Smith, the eminent author and literary interpreter.

The dance given by the seniors last Friday night was a brilliant affair, successful in every respect.

Special theology classes were held this week, during which general instruction was given in ethics and manners. Thursday morning Principal McKay, Prof. Lind and Prof. McKendrick addressed the boys, and Mrs. Evans and Miss Eldredge the girls.

Mrs. Holman visited devotional and theology class, on Thursday morning. Her talk to the girls was much appreciated.

Eighty-seven girls are enrolled in the dressmaking class. There are three other classes with even a larger enrollment. More divisions, it is reported, will be made next week.

The preparatory students have shown their interest in basketball by purchasing ball, suits and shoes, and then applying to the athletic committee for a regular time for practice. The first team had better look out for its laurels!

Professors Lind and Bradford by invitation of the Bishop of the ward, addressed the people of Salt Lake last Sunday evening on educational topics. On their way out, their horse stumbled and fell, and in some way started to roll down the turnpike. It was very dark, and for a moment or two the professors thought they were going to get hurt. After a scientific investigation and some pedagogical persuasion, they managed to get the horse disentangled and back on the road again. But little damage was done to horse, buggy or occupants.

CEDAR CITY BRANCH NORMAL.

Cedar City.—Halloween parties were the social feature of last week. The second and third year classes had entertainments on the same evening, Saturday, and the first years gave a program on Tuesday night. Altogether it was a jumble of ghosts, goblins, witches, Bessy dances, fortune telling, charms, and scary tales.

The very pleasant weather has given the boys a chance to play baseball every evening.

Miss Caroline Dalley, daughter of May-hew H. Dalley, and one of the normal students of last year, died Tuesday night of typhoid fever, complicated with heart trouble. School was dismissed at 2 o'clock Thursday, that students and teachers might attend the funeral services. "Caddie," as all affectionately called her, was a lovable, gentle girl; the loss is keenly felt by her many friends and associates.

Dr. Jas. E. Talmage is to give a lecture here Thursday evening in the normal lecture hall. People are looking to the event with pleasant anticipations.

Invitations are out for an entertainment of the teachers in the domestic science rooms. Miss Eastwood, Miss Spencer and Mrs. Driggs are the hostesses.

Students' society is to give its initiation program on Friday evening. At a meeting of the students recently, Rose Jenson was made president, Junius Taylor, vice president; Barbara Matheson, secretary.

WORTH WISWALL AND HIS WORK.

Utah Boy Elected to the Presidency of the Junior Class in the Colorado State University.

Worth Wiswall, a son of Col. W. L. Wiswall, local manager of the Greene Reduction company, is another Utah boy who is winning distinction at college. His colleagues a few days ago elected him to the presidency of the Junior class of the Colorado state university, of which he is a student and where he is taking a course in mining and metallurgical engineering. Young Wiswall is immensely popular with his fellow students and is a leader among them. He is prominently identified with the athletic, dramatic and literary organizations of the school. He has qualified to enter the oratorical contest to take place between the state universities of Nebraska and Kansas during the year, and stands a good show of winning the honor to represent the Colorado school on these occasions. Worth Wiswall is a graduate of the East Denver High school, his parents having formerly resided in Colorado's capital city, and is 23 years of age. During the past summer the young man spent his vacation at Mercur for the purpose of gaining practical knowledge of mining and metallurgy. He assisted his father remodel the old Geyser-Marion mill, which is now being operated by the Greene company.

consists of 25 volumes, bound in half morocco.

Monday morning Supt. A. C. Nelson spoke before the board.

The first issue of the White and Blue will be out the last of this week. The paper will be superior this year to what it has ever been before, more time and attention will be given it, and it will be run on a broader financial basis.

Our athletes are growing anxious for the organization of the basketball league. Manager Smith has written to the athletic departments of the other schools, concerning arrangements for a meeting of committees to effect this organization.

Instructor Colton reports a larger number of athletic trainers this year than the school has ever had before.

Two of the popular students of 1902 were visitors Tuesday: Mrs. Childs and Mrs. Anderson of Lehi. They were formerly Misses Rose and Theresa Boyer of Springville. They were full of exclamations of pleasure in noting the improvements in the school since their departure.

At a mass meeting of the High school department held this week Ernest W. Carroll was elected president; Elsie Chamberlain, vice president, and Lula Nielson, secretary.

The second month's examinations have begun.

By recent letter from ex-President Cluff to President Brimhall we learn of the former's good health and general welfare.

The preparatory and missionary departments spent Saturday in cleaning up around their building.

Judge Booth lectures next Friday in Literary. His subject will be, "The History of Utah."

The reports made by the seniors of boarding places, in domestic meeting Tuesday morning showed good health and satisfaction and enjoyment on the part of the students. There seems to be a remarkable freedom from the epidemic of homesickness this year.

Prof. Hickman was away three days last week attending institute in Emery county. He gave several public lectures in the towns of that county while away.

Prof. Hickman has the largest theological class in school. His subject is the Book of Mormon.

There has been a new class organized in college psychology.

A class in algebra has been organized for the normal students who came in late.

There is an enrollment of 57 students in psychology A this year, so doubtless there will be a large class of trainers next year.

The leaves are not raked from the lawns as has been the custom heretofore, and to walk through the Joseph Smith grove in this autumn carpet makes one almost feel as though he were in the primeval forest.

The two excellent paintings, given by Mr. John Hafen for the benefit of the new building fund were much appreciated.

The recital given each Friday by the musical department is one of the most the companions of their rivals when the work was seen. But early on Tuesday morning, ere the students began to assemble, those dukes met the gaze of some members of the class of 1906, and immediately the janitor's sanctum was raided for some black paint. No ropes were on hand, and there was no time to get them, so the ascent was made without, and half an hour later a large patch of black covered the spot where the midnight painters had inscribed their colors. Hymns are even, so far, but the question now arises: Who shall remove the unsightly paint? Nineteen-six paint is on top and must come off first, but that class insists that 1905 commenced the decoration and should, therefore, act first in removing it. It has been about decided by the classes that future friendly contests shall be waged on the campus, in order that the danger to individuals and the damage to property shall be minimized.

The Union society met Wednesday evening and decided to study this year "Masters in Music," the intention being to have, so far as practicable, the earliest composition and the masterpiece of each composer rendered before the society. In the literary section some popular classics will be reviewed. The society begins work with a good membership and bright prospects.

The Beacon Light society met this afternoon and took up work in both art and literary sections.

The recital to be given in the college assembly room, on Saturday, Nov. 12, by Prof. Heber S. Goddard, will be under the auspices of the musical department of the college. It is learned that Prof. John J. McCellan and Prof. Willard Weihe will assist Mr. Goddard, and there is every reason to believe that Logan people will give the popular baritone and those with him a gratifying reception.

The lecture course of the year begins this evening. President Linford will be the first lecturer, and he has chosen for his subject, "Bacteria: On the Farm; in the Dairy and in Disease."

The college adjourned last Monday on account of stake conference. The Sunday normal classes were also adjourned last Sunday.

President Linford on Monday spoke to the students on the subject of exercising their elective franchise at the coming election.

Asthma and Hay Fever Cured.

The truly marvelous cures of Asthma, which are being effected by Dr. Schiffmann's Asthma Cure certainly call for notice.

Rev. G. L. Taylor, of Washburn, Ill., says: "Some 7 years ago my wife used several packages of your Asthma Cure which resulted in a permanent cure."

A Hay Fever sufferer writes: "I have been a sufferer from Hay Fever for over 20 years, and it seemed harder every year. The first night I used your Asthma Cure I was greatly relieved. It cured my cough after a few times. I will recommend it to all sufferers of Hay Fever." Mrs. Martha Simerson, LaSalleburg, Mich. Sold by all druggists at 50c and $1.00. Send 2c stamp to Dr. R. Schiffmann, Box 905, St. Paul, Minn., for a free trial package.
