SENSATIONS FOR IDAHO CAPITAL.

Smallpox Hospital Raided and Infected Bedding Stolen—Awful Story of Revolting Depravity on the Part of a Father of a Family—Supreme Court to Pass on the Constitutionality of the Sunday and Midnight Closing Ordinance.

Special Correspondence.

BOISE, Ida., Nov. 16.—Upon a recent inspection by Health Officer Shellworth of the old deserted pest house, situated out behind the barracks, it was discovered that practically every portable article in the house had been stolen, including blankets, quilts, bedsteads, chairs, dishes and numerous articles of wearing apparel, all of which were infected with smallpox, having been in use by persons afflicted with that malady.

SALOONKEEPER APPEALS.

Frank Calloway, who was convicted in the justice's court for violation of the Sunday and midnight closing ordinance, filed yesterday with the clerk of the supreme court a transcript of appeal. The matter is now before the supreme court to decide upon the constitutionality of the ordinance.

For violation of this ordinance, Ed Hart, proprietor of the Owl saloon, was arrested and fined yesterday $100 and costs. Hart will appeal the case, having given notice to that effect.

Fred Law and Annie Turpin, residents of the neighborhood of Star, were brought in yesterday by Justice Chapman on a charge of adultery. Pending their hearing before Justice Savage, the couple will lie within the walls of the county jail.

CHINESE DOCTOR'S FEE.

As the result of typhoid fever, Yoka Kim, the 21-year-old native born son of one of the most prominent Chinese in the state, died at Idaho City Sunday. The father, refusing the attention of an American doctor, sent to San Francisco for one of the most famous physicians of his own race to be found anywhere on the coast. But he arrived too late. The boy died shortly after the doctor reached him. It is said that the doctor's fee will amount to $2,000.

Work on the new capital building is progressing steadily. Thirty men are employed on the foundation work.

Idaho demands a representation in every field, even that of insurance. A company to be known as the State Mutual Co-operative Insurance company has been recently set on foot in Moscow by northern Idaho men.

REVOLTING CASE.

Over the head of Ed Suttie hangs a crime most depraving and fiendish in its nature. He is charged with equal knowledge of his own 17-year-old daughter, Edna May, the latter having confessed all to Chief of Police Phillips and County Attorney Koelsch this morning. Yet this is but half the awful story of Suttie's alleged crimes, for it is also charged that he is guilty of immoral conduct with 17-year-old Ruth Hudson, a young girl who has been living with the family.

Information reached the chief of police a few days ago to the effect that the Hudson girl was "in trouble," and he went to work on the case. Developments pointed to Suttie, as the man responsible for the girl's distress, and further investigations revealed the awful fact that the fiend had invaded his own family.

After Chief Phillips had secured sufficient information on which to act, he called into consultation County Attorney Koelsch and they visited together the Suttie home, and interviewed the girl, Edna May. At first the girl vigorously denied the accusation, but under severe questioning, she finally broke down and confessed fully to her father's awful deed.

The girl then proceeded to tell the story of the unfortunate Hudson girl. The Suttie family, consisting of three girls, two boys, with their parents and the girl Ruth Hudson, moved to Idaho about one year and a half ago, settling first at Blue Lakes, and six months later moving to Boise. It was at Blue Lakes that Ruth Hudson met her downfall.

County Attorney Koelsch this morning swore out a warrant for the arrest of Suttie and Sheriff Moseley proceeded to the foundry, where the accused was employed, and took him in custody. He was deposited safely in the county jail pending the preliminary examination. Edna May was also taken in charge to be held as a witness.

When the arrest was made, Suttie did not seem at all surprised, but submitted calmly. On being questioned on the accusation against him, he denied ever having had undue relations with his daughter or the Hudson girl. However, he refuses to make any further statement in regard to the matter.

The mother, Mrs. Suttie, is a bright, well appearing woman, as is also the daughter Edna. When interviewed on the matter Mrs. Suttie manifested no marked degree of surprise that her husband was accused of undue relations with the Hudson girl, but she declared emphatically that her daughter's honor had not been violated by her husband.

The preliminary hearing will be held here tomorrow before Judge Savage.

Constipation.

Health is absolutely impossible, if constipation be present. Many serious cases of liver and kidney complaint arise from neglected constipation. Such a deplorable condition is unnecessary. There is a cure for it. Heron's will speedily remedy matters. C. A. Lickay, P. M. Bronson, Fla. writes Feb. 12, 1902: "Having tried Heron's, I find it a fine medicine for constipation." SUGAR CITY LEADS BEET TONNAGE

Stands at the Head of Any Point in Utah or Idaho in the Season's Total, Which Runs Close to 80,000 Tons—Biggest Records Made on the Famous Egin Bench, Where Thirty-Two Tons to the Acre Were Scored.

(Special to the "News.")

SUGAR CITY, Nov. 17.—Nearly all the beets have been brought in by rail and team from the country tributary to Sugar City, and the gratifying results show that this city will lead any point in Utah or Idaho in the total beet tonnage. The actual figures will run close to 80,000 tons, possibly more, which is said to be far in excess of either Lehi, Garland, Idaho Falls, Ogden or Logan. The biggest records have been made on the famous Egin bench, where anywhere from 25 to 32 tons to the acre have not been infrequent records. The mill is doing grand work and running every day far beyond its guaranteed capacity, but there is no likelihood that the tonnage of beets will be worked up until well into January.

Weather conditions at Sugar City are simply "beautiful," to use a common expression here. The nights get quite cold, but the days seem more like summer than autumn.

The farmers almost all have their crops harvested, and an excellent harvest it has been; hay, grain, beets and potatoes have all been a thorough success, and as a result the farmers feel happy and content. They are just beginning to realize what a great thing the beet industry is for them. And the future looks bright, indeed, for the tillers of the soil.

Notwithstanding the immense number of men in Sugar City, the town is almost entirely free of that undesirable class, loafers, which is so common in older and larger places. There is very little inducement for them to remain in town except when employed, as living is high and loafing places unknown. There are no saloons in the town to induce the human parasites to gather here. In fact it is a town of absolute business. By this one would not be understood as meaning that the people do not take advantage of any good legitimate pastime or pleasure, for such are well patronized. Good theatrical companies are becoming aware of this fact, and some good plays are being put on in the opera house. It is becoming a foregone conclusion that there are new buildings to report. Messrs. J. J. Smith and Daniel Kimball and several others have residences being rushed towards completion.

BOOSTERS CLUB FOR POCATELLO.

Representative Business and Professional Men of the City Take Initial Steps to Establish a Commercial Club—Old Board Sidewalks Make Way for Cement Paths—A Number of Handsome Residences and Business Blocks Are Going Up.

Special Correspondence.

POCATELLO, Ida., Nov. 17.—A meeting of representative business and professional men, for the purpose of organizing the much-needed commercial club was held last night at the city council chambers, with temporary Chairman J. M. Ingersoll presiding, at which the following report of the committee appointed to solicit members, was read:

"We, the undersigned, hereby subscribe our names for the purpose of becoming charter members of the Commercial club of Pocatello, and agree to pay the membership fee of $10, and to sign the constitution and by-laws of the organization."

The following names were subscribed: Lyman Fargo, D. W. Church, Frank Ball, W. H. Cleave, G. F. Gasser, J. Rosenberg, Arthur Conn, Joseph Scowcroft, George W. Derr, Thos. F. Ferrell, C. W. Gray, Norman Belcher, George North, H. W. Lockhart, N. M. Eldredge, T. B. Smith, C. C. Chilson, Earle C. White, Oscar Somenkalb, J. M. Ingersoll, Dr. H. A. Castle, Harry Peterson, J. C. Weaver, W. J. West, F. S. Dietrich, T. H. Davis, J. H. Brady, H. A. Jacobs, C. B. Johnson, John Hood and Hopson D. Hull.

The committee was given until next Monday night, Nov. 20, to perfect their arrangements and secure more signatures.

Mr. A. F. Wing of the Boise Capital News was present, and offered the club gratis, two pages in a magazine edition of his paper, to devote to Pocatello, for which offer he received a vote of thanks. The temporary chairman was continued in office and Mr. Thomas H. Davis was made secretary. The next meeting will be held Monday evening, Nov. 20, and judging from the interest shown by all the gentlemen present last evening, the Commercial club this time is a sure go.

BUILDINGS GOING UP.

The activity in building continues as briskly as it has throughout the summer. Residences are being erected in various parts of the city. The splendid new $30,000 residence of Attorney Frank H. Holzheimer on North Arthur avenue is just being plastered. Mr. Whittlesey's new two-story brick on South Seventh is up to the square, excavating has commenced for a new residence for Engineer George W. Oliver, on the corner of Arthur avenue, three blocks south of the Bannock hotel, this also will be of brick and stone, and will when completed, in the neighborhood of $12,000. Mr. H. R. Brown is the architect of the latter building, and has also the new building of the Idaho Packing company, on East Center, in charge. The latter building was in cost originally $10,000, and was to be two stories, but it has now been decided to put on an additional story, which will bring the cost up to $12,000. When completed, this will be one of the finest business blocks in the city, and together with the new jail, and again the new & Sons of Ogden, upon the property recently purchased by them on the east side, announcement of which appeared in a previous issue of the "News," will give to that portion of the town an appearance of permanency and respectability that will go far toward encouraging additional improvements.

CEMENT SIDEWALKS.

The fact is Pocatello has at last got on her working clothes. New sidewalks are being laid in different parts of the town. The old board walk on Main street, in front of the People's store, has been torn up, and a new regulation cement one is being made in place thereof. Near the depot the city is placing a new concrete lava rock, extending over First street. These claims are made for this rock, and this experimental walk proves satisfactory. The city will proceed at once to construct crossings at the intersection of all streets in the commercial district.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

In a social way this certainly has been a banner week. The ladies of the Catholic church Wednesday evening closed a very successful bazaar, which had been running for three consecutive nights. The ladies have established a reputation for "doing things" about right, and the supper served each night of the bazaar will only add new luster to their glory.

Wednesday evening at the L. D. S. Church the conjoint officers of the Pocatello stake and ward Y. L. M. I. A. year. The best local talent available had been secured for the occasion, and the event ranks as one of the most thorough successes of the season. Spack will not admit of an account in detail of the splendid singing of Mrs. Cleave, Mrs. Weaver, Mr. Leo Edgley and others who so kindly contributed of their talents to the success of the occasion, but special mention should be made of the playing of Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Steady and the Misses Perry and Davidson, the splendid reading of Miss Loughron and the duet "O, Madeline," by Mesdames Ford and Haddock.

Another pleasant event of the week was the surprise given by the presidency and members of the Pocatello stake Sunday school board, Monday evening to John A. Priest, who because of his duties in the High Council, as well as other positions of trust, has been honorably excused from the stake board. About 20 couples were present in social intercourse, during which many expressions of love and high esteem in which the gentleman is held.
