

LEGAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

PRICE OF GOLD.

Corrected daily by Denver National Bank.
SALE LATE CEST., September 18, 1873.
Buying at $11.16; selling at $11.12.

SPECIAL BUSINESS NOTICES.

Z. C. M. I. have for sale at their stores Constitution Buildings, Diebold and Kiessle's Saloon, of all sizes; Fairbank's Seals, of all sizes; Moline Flows for fall trade. Just received.

Kentucky colonel, getting off the train at Milwaukee, Dennis has entered and kissed by several beautiful young ladies, who mistook him for their long lost uncle.

A hundred dollar note lost. See advt.

— When you write a man you mean him.

WANTED.—A wet nurse, for a baby about three months old. Apply at this office. d. 251 t.

— If a man has nothing else to travel on, politeness will carry him a long distance.

WANTED.—50) Cedar Post, delivered at our farm, seven miles from the city, on the Bluff road. Also, 6,000 feet Utah lumber in 18 or 20 foot lengths. Apply to DAHL & SORENSEN, d. 211 t.

— John F. Owens is going the round again with that "barrel of apple-seas."

For sale a house and lot on reasonable terms, apply at this office.

— Among the conditions of sale by an Irish auctioneer was the provision: "The buyer must pay the purchase, unless some gentleman bids more."

Z. C. M. I., Clothing Department, have received, specially sent by express, the first of a consignment of silk stovepipe hats, latest fall styles, shining quality, prices various.

Sold silk hats renovated at reasonable rates. d. 249 t.

— The Terre Haute Express speaks of a local child that was found and restored to its progenitors.

We are now receiving our Fall Stock of Clothing, which we manufacture ourselves, and will sell about fifteen to twenty-five per cent less than any other House in the Territory.

L. GOLDBERG & CO., North of Walker House, Branch of St. Leonard Street, N. Y. d. 238 east 2 w.

Mrs. J. W. L. of Louisville will be forthcoming. We do not know what she means to name it, or whether Albert Edward is to be an uncle or an aunt.

An Indian lady of an original turn of mind, bases her application for a divorce on the ground that her husband's legs are too long for her to keep step with them when they take a walk together.

FIRE INSURANCE AGENCY IN EXCHANGE Building, corner Main and 1st South Street. E. E. POTTER.

— Sons in Denver.—"Hello! come, Professor, take a drink." Six men sitting in the saloon at once arose and came forward, while a boot-blouse whose stand was just opposite, said, "I am a doctor, and your doctor smilingly accepted the first question and stepped in.

For a good sweet-toned reliable Organ, buy the Estey.

C. W. STAYNER, is Agent. d. 204

— A Philadelphia merchant vowed he would never advertise his ware, he didn't, but the other day the sheriff advertised him for him.

DURING DULL TIMES we will sell our celebrated Organs and Pianos on 12 monthly installments, without interest being added.

CALDER & CARELESS.

— While a compositor on the Mountain Writers was setting up an advertisement for a hot canyon a few days ago, the hot air in the office window. This shows the value of advertising.

MASON & HAMIL ORGANS again decided, at the VIENNA EXPOSITION, to be the best in the world. Other American organs were not found worthy of even an inferior medal. Read advertisement.

d. 204

— The are rough diamonds that are inserted in the pugilistic ring.

WARRANTS DEEDS — most approved form, Quit Claim Deeds, Mining Deeds, Townsite Deeds, Leases, Official Bonds, Incorporation Bonds, and other Blanks for sale at the News Office.

— How does your husband get along? inquired a friend of an undivided wife. "Nothing to complain of," said the wife; "he had twelve inmates yesterday."

MERCHANTS' Address Tags printed and for sale at the News Office.

— A noted English clergyman recommended the people to run their dead. "Wealthy men have been buried in volumes," says the Telegraph. "To show how low we are, one man had the same sort of gain in his own wife, but didn't like it."

MORTGAGE DEEDS of an approved form for sale at the News Office.

— Here is the latest description of a man, fleeing about without credit. "Tear night, a man, about 40 years old, with a pale complexion. The hair is short, and there was a sound like a dry leaf when he took his cap off the palm of his hand."

BY-LAWS, Rules and Regulations, of Mining Co.'s, printed at the News Office.

— Honesty is the name of a water-wheel, to which people go to get their backsides strengthened.

PROBATE COURT.—Yesterday afternoon the following juries were sworn to try the case of the widow of Mrs. F. T. Tucker, who is caught in the trap of the law.

— The following witness was sworn for the prosecution:

The following witness was sworn for the defense:

— "Aeously caught in the Chamber and Circuit Courts," says a Memphis lawyer. What naughty courts!

ALL KINDS of Order, Receipt and Certificate Books printed and bound at the News Office.

Manufactured & Steel Whole LIQUOR MERCHANTS, Walkerville.

— Dealers are generally invited to exchange their stock and profits for ours.

LEGAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Thermometer 81 degrees F. in the shade, and 81° in the sun. Cloudy, and pleasant.

RICH.—Some of the ore taken from the Heid & Benson mine, at the south fork of Big Cottonwood, assays as high as $2,000 to the ton.

NO TRACE.—No trace yet of the perpetrator of the foul outrage at Centreville.

DICTIONARY.—A copy of a pocket edition of Johnson's dictionary was found on the street to-day. It has the name of Miss Susie Spencer on it. The owner can be reached at this office.

UTAH SOUTHERN RAILROAD.—This line is now completed to American Fork, and regular trains will soon be running from the 3rd and will probably reach New York to-night or to-morrow. The work on the road goes ahead.

TOKATOS.—Mr. H. L. Doremus, of West Jordan, left this City on Tuesday for the States and Canada, where he has gone on a visit to his relatives.

REMOVED.—The old steps in front of the Theatre were removed to-day and a new set will soon take their place. We understand it to be the intention to put a fine porch in front of the theatre to-morrow night.

REMOVED.—The old steps in front of the Theatre were removed to-day and a new set will soon take their place. We understand it to be the intention to put a fine porch in front of the theatre to-morrow night.

ONE STEP LEADS TO ANOTHER.—There is a place in the 11th Ward where dancing parties are often the order of the night in the orchard. The proprietors send around a little boy, giving invitations to the young folks to go there, on paying 50 cents a couple. Parents should not allow their children to go to such places for reasons hereinafter adduced in the news, and which do not require repetition.

INGENIOUS-INVENTION.—We understand that a very excellent apparatus has been invented for sacking ore, grain, etc., whereby the labor can be performed at about one-fourth the usual cost. It is at present being used by the Chicago Silver Mining Company, Dry Can, on Neumayr's Patent Writings.

— Mr. J. R. De Shazo, one of the employees of the above company, is the inventor, and we understand he has applied for a patent for his invention.

NEW SHINGLE MILL.—Bishop Archibald Gardner, of West Jordan, recently purchased, from Z. C. M. I., the machinery for a shingle mill, the fitting up of which has just been completed at the Bishop's lumber mills, eight miles up Mill Creek canyon. We have seen specimens of shingles produced by this new mill, and, judging from appearances, they are not inferior to any in the country, either home-made or imported. Orders are already in for all that can be produced for a little while, after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as the Halfway House. Sixteen passengers were on it at the time of the accident, but fortunately all escaped serious injuries except one man, named Burr, who was hurt to such an extent that he had to be left at the Halfway House. It appears that no blame can be attached to either the driver or the horses, as the accident occurred for a little while after which new orders can be attended to, and the orders are bound to rush in for such shingles as are made at that mill.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon the stage coach which runs from Ophir to this city, was upset, midway between Tooele and what is known as