TRUTH AND LIBERTY

MONDAY, JULY 8, 1901. SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.

NUMBER 196.

FIFTY-FIRST YEAR

OHIO DEMOCRATS ARE ASSEMBLING.

C. N. Baker Will be Permanent Chairman—
Conservative, or McLean Element, Will Control Resolutions Committee.

Columbus, Ohio, July 8.—The delegates and visitors who are assembling here today for the Democratic state convention, which does all of its preliminary work tomorrow, are greatly disappointed because John R. McLean of Cincinnati, and Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland, who are most prominently mentioned for the United States senatorship, are not here.

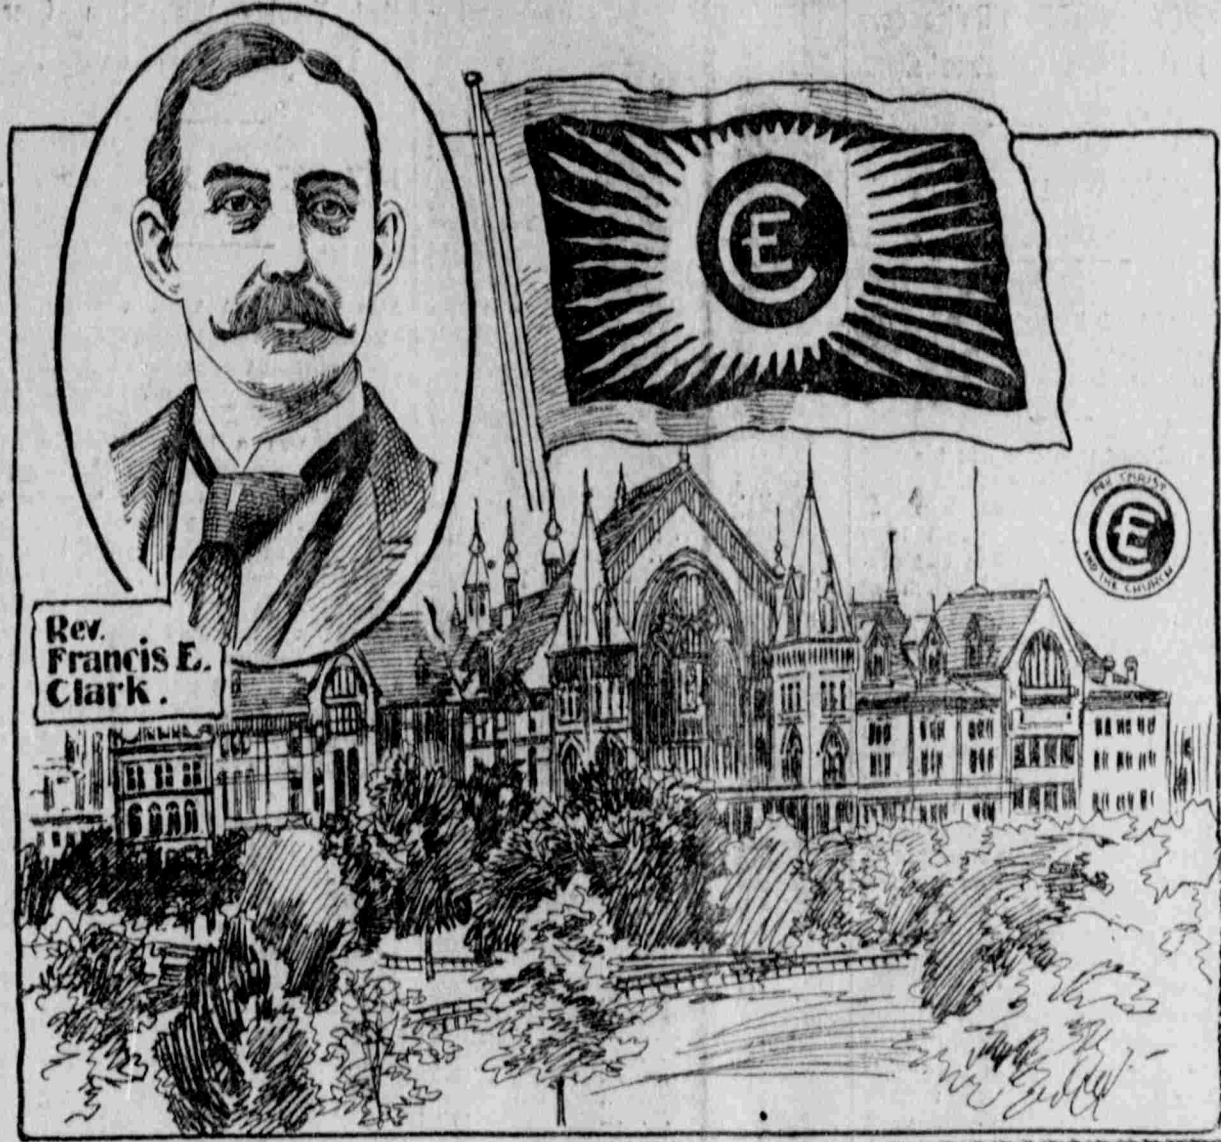

It is understood that Charles W. Baker, who was such a successful presiding officer at the last Ohio Democratic convention, and he is a close friend of McLean and chairman of the Hamilton county delegation.

Johnson, who was a striking figure in Congress, and as mayor of Cleveland, is attracting much attention now, would have been here at the head of the Cuyahoga delegation but for the death of his brother last week in New York. Johnson represents what is called the "radical reform" element among platform makers and McLean represents the conservative element. The indications today were that the conservative element would control the convention and put the burden of taxation on the corporations, especially railways, and this issue is the principal contention before the convention. It was on this question that all the delegates wanted to hear from Mayor Johnson, even those who opposed his views. In the absence of Johnson it is thought that there will not be much contest over the platform and there will be no contest for nominations except for minor places on the state ticket, as all concede that Col. James Kilbourne, of Columbus will be nominated for governor, and that a conference of his friends tomorrow will select the man for lieutenant governor, and that "no slate" for other places will be considered so that the free-for-all fight for judge and clerk of the supreme court, attorney-general, state treasurer and member of the board of public works will protrude the convention to a late hour on Wednesday evening.

It was thought that Mayor Sam Jones, of Toledo, would be here to assist the Johnson men in their so-called "new departure" on the platform, but Negley C. Cochran states that Mayor Jones will not attend any convention or accept any nomination from any convention or party. He does not believe in conventions or parties but in the initiative and referendum. When Jones received 106,000 votes for governor two years ago he was on the ticket by direct petition from the people.

The friends of Johnson are denying the report, started by Gen. Isaac I. Sherwood and others, that there would be a "reform ticket" in the field if the conservatives ignored the Cleveland platform and did not incorporate the views of Mayor Johnson, in the declaration of principles. It is stated that the Kilbourne men want concessions to the Johnson men, but that they favor the platform of the conservatives from Cincinnati.

THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR CONVENTION IN CINCINNATI.

This year's Christian Endeavor convention, held in Cincinnati, July 6 to 10, promises to be highly successful in point of numbers and enthusiasm. It is estimated that more than 50,000 delegates are either present or on their way. The great Music hall, where the chief sessions are held, seats 4,000 persons, and five other auditoriums will be used for simultaneous meetings each day. Rev. Francis E. Clark, president and founder of the union, presides at some one session every day.

A conference on "Bodily and Vocal Development" at Auditorium Endeavor President Clark presiding, and H. C. Lincoln of Philadelphia, as director of music, "The Twentieth Century Home" was the topic discussed.

At the First English Lutheran church, Sec. Willis Baer presiding, and Percy S. Foster as musical director, there were many addresses on the school of methods for the Junior Christian Endeavor.

At Odessa hall, the new field secretary, Clarence E. Eberman, presided, and addresses were made by local, district and state union officials.

The noon-day evangelistic services were conducted by Dr. L. W. Work of Cincinnati. Services are held in the tenement and manufacturing districts by delegates who outnumbered their services.

At the big rally at the Auditorium Endeavor, the Rev. Tunis Hamlin, of Washington, was given the honor of presiding, which had been arranged to have been conducted by President Francis Clark. Rev. Hamlin's meeting Saturday night was held off and President Clarke made way for him today. An unusually large outpouring attended the rally.

The Junior Endeavorers met at the First English Lutheran church, where Treasurer Wm. Shaw, of Boston, was the principal speaker.

The afternoon's program was equally as interesting as the one in the morning, and enough meetings were held in the various places of assembly to give all visiting local Endeavorers a chance to attend. The big meeting at Auditorium Williston was presided over by James Lewis Howe, of Lexington, Va. It was devoted to a discussion of "The Twentieth Century Christian Endeavor Society." Chief among the speakers was Rev. Richard Wm. Lewis of Denver, Colo.

them. One involves the contest from the Seventh South Carolina district over the seat which was awarded to Dr. Stokes, who has since died. According to precedents in the House the contest will be prosecuted regardless of Stokes' death. In four cases in which notices of contest were given the contestants failed to file their papers.

The paper of the morning before the council, was read by William T. Harris, national commissioner of education on "Isolation in the School; How it Hinders and Helps." Mr. Harris' advocacy of isolation precipitated a lengthy discussion from the floor. Among the other speakers on the subject were J. W. Cook, of DeKalb, Ill., Louis Selden of St. Louis, and J. M. Greenwood of Kansas City, who declared that a large percentage of the home influence of this country was not good and must be eliminated when the child enters school.

By the afternoon session Elmer E. Brown of the University of California read a paper on "Educational Progress During the Past Year."

The session of the Indian department was given up entirely to addresses of welcome and responses.

Baltimore, Md., July 8.—The property of the Maryland Brewing company was sold at public auction here today to the Gottlieb-Strauss-Baumannschmidt company for $3,500,000. Sixteen breweries are involved in the transaction and the purchasing company was organized for the purpose of taking over the property and conducting it.

Builders' Troubles Increase.

Easton, Pa., July 8.—The breach between the local master builders and the strikers is wider today than at any time since the strike was inaugurated. ## STRIKE SITUATION VERY THREATENING.

Peremptory Dismissal of Twelve Members of Amalgamated Association Seriously
Affects It—Must be Reinstated.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 8.—The peremptory dismissal on Saturday of twelve members of the Amalgamated association at the Wellsville plant of the American Sheet Steel company, may seriously affect the expected settlement this week of the iron and steel strike. President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated association is very much exercised over the turn affairs have taken.

"I cannot say when or where the conference will take place," said he, "but one thing is certain, there will be no conference until the men discharged at Wellsville are reinstated. These men violated no law of the land and we shall protect them. If they are not reinstated and the conference postponed there will be a general strike. This is a repetition of what the sheet manufacturers did last year. They signed the scale for Saltburg and Old Meadows and then stole these mills from us. The men at Wellsville have been organized for months. I sent word for them not to come out, as I wanted a peaceable settlement. I do not blame the chief officials. As usual, the trouble comes from some middleman, who cannot realize that he may be undoing the conservative work of thoughtful men on both sides, or that his action may involve the commercial world."

Although as yet no word has been received officially by the officers of the Amalgamated association from the American Sheet Steel company, and the American Steel Hoop company requesting that the wage conference be reopened, it is expected that such a note will be received during the day. If the Wellsville matter can be settled, the conference will then, it is believed, be quickly arranged, an agreement reached and the strike declared off before the end of the week.

"There was a resumption of work in many iron and steel mills today. The mills have been idle for two weeks for repairs. It is supposed that July 12, when they returned to work today.

The following concerns signed the Amalgamated scale today: Standard Chain company, Columbus, Ohio; Niles Iron & Steel company, Niles, Ohio; Lake Erie Iron company, Cleveland; Empire Rolling Mill company, Empire, Ohio, and the Pittsburg Forge & Iron company, of this city.

All the independent companies in the Pittsburg district have now signed the scale but A. M. Myers & Company, and their signature is expected as soon as the repairs to the plant are completed.

WATCHING STRIKE SITUATION.

U. S. Steel Corporation Directors Very Much Interested in It.

New York, July 8.—The directors of the United States Steel corporation and the companies forming it who are in New York are watching the strike situation closely but have taken no direct part in the dispute. One of the directors of the general corporation made this statement to the Associated Press today:

"President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated association, requested a conference with representatives of the sheet and hoop interests and our answer was a favorable one. That conference is to be held today at Pittsburg. The outcome is problematical. The statement that there would be a meeting here today with J. Pierpont Morgan in attendance is erroneous. There will be no meeting and as far as I know, Mr. Morgan has taken no part in the matter. We here in New York are watching the situation but we have taken no part in the alleged differences. I know nothing of any future meetings here and I don't believe there will be any."

PRIME EVANS DIES FROM LOCKJAW

Dreaded Affliction Results in the Death of the City Attorney of Lehi—Caused by an Accident From Stepping on a Nail—A Useful Citizen.

The friends of Prime Evans, city attorney of Lehi, will learn with profound regret that he is dead. He passed away at the Holy Cross hospital this forenoon from a serious attack of lockjaw, which came unexpectedly upon him as announced in Saturday's "News."

It will be remembered that he stepped on a rusty nail a couple of weeks ago and that the accident caused him some pain and uneasiness. The wounded member received prompt treatment, however, and appeared to be getting better and nothing further was done with it for some days. On July 4th Mr. Evans was to have been one of the speakers in the Independence day celebration at Lehi, but was compelled to cancel this engagement at the last moment on account of a sudden symptom of lockjaw. His own physician was hastily summoned and advised that Mr. Evans be brought to a hospital in Salt Lake. He arrived at the Holy Cross on Friday and everything possible that could be done for his relief was done, but the seriousness of his condition was recognized from the first and he grew gradually worse until the end came.

The deceased was a native son of Utah, having been born in that town some years ago. His parents were Rhoda and Rebecca Evans, well known in early Mormon history. Mr. Evans spent his boyhood days in attending school and in mercantile pursuits. He was for a long time clerk in the Lehi school, and then went into business for himself with T. F. Trane as his partner. In 1894 he was made postmaster of Lehi, and in 1897 went to Ann Arbor to complete a law course which he had begun by correspondence. He graduated two years later and returned to his home town and entered upon the practice of his profession. Mr. Evans has held numerous civil offices and at the time of his death was city attorney of Lehi. Although a strong Democrat Mayor Austin and the Lehi councilmen who were all ardent Republicans, paid him the compliment of naming him to the office of corporation counsel.

The deceased leaves a wife but no children, a mother, one full brother, George Evans, superintendent of the Black Jack mine, and the following half brothers: Hon. Mosiah Evans, Hon. David Evans, Edwin Evans, the well known artist, and Jacob Evans, ex-city attorney of Provo. He also leaves five sisters, two of whom, with his brother George, were with him at the time of his demise. His remains will be forwarded to Lehi by Undertaker Joseph E. Taylor. The time and date of the funeral have not yet been decided upon.

Mr. Evans was one of the best known citizens of Utah county and an honest and capable man. His death will be a distinct loss to the community in which he had lived so long and for which he had done so much.

MRS. EMERY HOLMES' JEWELS FOUND

The $3,000 Worth of Glittering Diamonds, Which Disappeared So Mysteriously Several Months Ago, Discovered in Their Fair Owner's Bed Chamber.

The lost diamonds are found. Mrs. Emery Holmes' costly jewels, valued approximately at $3,000, have been recovered after months of earnest effort on the part of the police and private detectives. Bidding disciples of Sherlock Holmes and some more skilled in the deduction of criminal motives have all this time bent their scheming heads in vain. But now the long lost jewels repose safely in the care of J. Tarriss Harris, and the mystery is no more.

Neither the detectives nor the police, however, had a hand in the solving of it. It came about last evening in the simplest way imaginable, and the whole mystery consists of nothing more or less than a case of plain forgetfulness on the part of either Mrs. Holmes or one of her maids. The diamonds, all tied up in a pocket handkerchief bearing the Holmes mark were found pinned on the inside of the portieres in the room occupied by Mrs. Holmes at the Knutsford. During their last stay in Salt Lake.

The finder, who, by the way, has no thought of claiming the handsome reward offered some time ago by Mrs. Holmes, is one of the wealthiest and best known tenants of the Knutsford. She came upon the diamonds while thrusting back the portieres to let in some air. Something pricked her finger, which, upon investigation, was found to be a pin. This pin held in place the handkerchief containing the diamonds, securely wrapped up, and no doubt placed behind the portiere for safe keeping.

One of the maids connected with the hotel happened to be in the room at the time, and upon seeing the recovered jewels, she made a dash for the office to notify the clerk that they had been found, and to claim the reward. Since she was not really the finder, however, Mr. Henshaw has decided that she is not really entitled to it. "The woman who found the diamonds should get the reward," said Mr. Henshaw, "but she would no more think of accepting it than she would of having her name appear publicly in connection with the affair."

The loss of Mrs. Holmes' diamonds is well remembered here. It happened a few months ago and created quite a furore at the time. It was a mystery which none could fathom. But it is not a mystery any more.

Physicians were immediately summoned and the road to the works was soon covered with teams and vehicles hastening to the scene, for it was rumored that three men had been killed and several wounded.

No one was allowed to enter the works. It is learned that the corning mill was blown up and two wheels destroyed through concussion. On each of the wheels there occurred a charge of 1,200 pounds of black powder. It is not known how much powder there was in the corning mill. W. R. Darling, who was in the corning mill, was blown about 25 feet and instantly killed, the body being badly mangled. A Joseph Maynard had his head bruised. No one else was injured. Darling was for many years employed at the works but left them and became city pound master.

SALT LAKE BOY KILLED.

William Trezise Shot During a Fatal Fight With Railroad Men.

Mr. and Mrs. Trezise of this city are in receipt of a telegram from Los Angeles, California, announcing the death of their son William in a hospital in that city. It appears that he engaged in an altercation with some railroad men on the Southern Pacific at or near Ogilby and that he received a pistol shot wound in the head from a revolver in the hands of Conductor F. Vedder, and that he was also badly beaten about the head and face with the same weapon.

It appears that the shooting occurred one week ago yesterday as the train pulled out of the depot. It was boarded by a number of tramps. It is claimed that Trezise was among them and that while the men were being ordered off the altercation between the conductor and Trezise occurred.

A special to the "News" from San Bernardino this afternoon announces that the conductor will be prosecuted for the killing although a Los Angeles dispatch to the Salt Lake Tribune announces that no action will be taken in this direction.

Young Trezise is 22 years of age, and was here for the Buffalo Hunt country, in Idaho, last fall, and drifted from there to the Sound country and from there to Los Angeles from which city he wrote to his mother two or three weeks ago stating that he intended going to Nevada. The remains will be brought to Salt Lake for burial.
