

— Wilkie Collins says that "everybody is the greatest living something."

— An Erie paper politely speaks of "lady pickpockets."

— "Loss of a China packet ship!" exclaimed Mrs. Partington. "No wonder, when iron ones aren't always safe."

In the intellectual world one trusts to what you say; in the moral world to what you are.

— There never was, on all the face of the earth, so much salvation and so little soap in one place as at Rome, except, perhaps at Naples.—Cor. Phila. P. res.

— Richie, the Colorado Gift Entertainment man, has scooted. Beware of lotteries. Richies take to themselves wings.—Los Animas (Col.) Leader.

— While witnessing a game of base ball down East, a boy was struck on the back of his head, the "bawl" coming out of his mouth.

— Don't spend all your time watching your neighbors. Every woman and man should be selfish enough to devote a few hours to their own private affairs.

— It seems as if the afflicted females will never get their equal rights. Even in Massachusetts the people want to establish separate prisons for women.

— How to make a slow horse fast—Don't feed him. This recipe will work both ways—it will make a fast horse slo.

— A Kansas paper says: "The gay, jumping grasshopper, the brown-colored grasshopper, the cussed old grasshopper is here."

— It is a mistake to expect to receive welcome, hospitality, words of cheer, and help over rugged and difficult passes in life, in return for cold selfishness, which cares for nothing in the world but self.

— "How does that look, eh?" said a big-fisted Wall street man to a friend, holding up one of his brawny hands. "That," said the friend, "looks as though you'd gone short on your soap."

— "There!" said Jones, as he wrathfully pushed away the pie which his landlady had just served him with, "that stuff isn't fit for a pig to eat, and I ain't going to eat it."

— The pretty but dishonest waiter girls of Sacramento are now busily engaged in plucking the fall crop of country gossings, and the police complain that the story of "I have been robbed in a jerker saloon" is growing monotonous.

— Fort Yuma used to be called the hottest place in North America. It has been excelled this season by Fort Mohave, higher up the Colorado, where, for many days, the mercury rose in the shade to 123 degrees.

— The blossom cannot tell what becomes of its odor, and no man can tell what becomes of his influence and example, that roll away from him and go beyond his ken on their mission.

— A prostitute's ball in aid of the sick and suffering at Memphis is one of the curious incidents of the yellow fever plague. It was held in Louisville, and netted two hundred dollars. So good comes out of evil.—Ex.

— Mr. Waddell, of North Carolina, announces that he will soon be prepared to prove "from the most authentic sources that a civilized colony of Caucasians existed in North Carolina 2,000 years before Columbus was born."

— Major Hearne, of the Raleigh Era, attacked Nason of the Newburn Republic-Courier, a few days ago, with a cane and came out "second best." As the Milton (N. C.) Chronicle pertinently says: "Brethren, let us have peace."—Ex.

— A Western paper suggests that the immense door-plates worn now by ladies on their belts might be utilized by engraving thereon the wearer's name, age, residence, fortune or expectations, and stating whether heart-free or engaged.

— The Montanian says none of the Crow Indians have ever been east, and few have seen a greater number of white men than are around the reservation, and they imagine that most of the white men have been killed off by the Sioux and other hostile tribes, and the few and all that were not killed fled to Montana.

— "Reconciliation" is thus happily put by a Chicago paper:—"General A. E. Burnside, of Rhode Island, late a Major-General in the Union army, and General Buckner, of Kentucky, late a Major-General in the Confederate army, dined together at the Sherman House yesterday, and in a glass of champagne drowned all memories of the past."

— A Cincinnati firm has sent us a letter from a correspondent in Mississippi, saying:—"Gents, I am Due you $26 10-100 which please hold up on me a few days I happen to a misfortune this day 2 weeks ago & I had to kill a man in Self Defense which my Lawyer fee cost me 500.00 which throws me behind a little I am all right now."

— A gentleman was riding in Scotland by a bleaching ground, where a poor woman was at work watering her webs of linen cloth. He asked her where she went to church, what she had heard on the preceding day, and how much she remembered. She could not even tell the text of the last sermon. "And what good can preaching do you," said he, "if you forget it all?" "Ah, sir," replied the poor woman, "if you will look at this web on the glass, you will see as fast as ever I put the water on it, the sun dries it all up, and yet, sir, I see it gets whiter and whiter."
