Had Just Killed a Bull Elephant When He Was Suddenly Charged by Another One.

TOOK REFUGE BEHIND TREE.

Cunningham, the Big Game Hunter, Shot It and Turned It From the Colonel in Nick of Time.

Nairobi, Oct. 15.—Mr. Roosevelt, a government engineer in the public works department at Nairobi, came into this afternoon and brought word that Mr. Roosevelt had a very narrow escape when shooting his bull elephant. When shooting elephants it is often necessary to creep into the brush and shoot the selected bull at a range of 15 to 20 yards. Mr. Roosevelt, accompanied by Mr. Cunningham, the big game hunter and guide, followed this procedure and shot the elephant at the second shot. Suddenly, before Mr. Roosevelt could reload another elephant bull charged him at close range from the brush. Mr. Cunningham and Mr. Roosevelt fired and turned the bull from Mr. Roosevelt just in time. Mr. Cunningham fired and turned the bull from Mr. Roosevelt just in time. FRANCE WARNED AGAINST CLERICAL ACTIVITY

Paris, Oct. 15.—Joseph Caillaux, former minister of finance, in a speech at Honfleur today, warned the country of the danger of being involved in a new campaign of clerical activity against the government schools. He declared that the last few years of unscrupulous history had been interrupted only because they failed to catalogue such incidents as the St. Bartholomew massacre and the revolution of the 18th century. The speech of Cardinal Andrieu, the archbishop of Narbonne, replying to the conciliatory speech of Premier Briand at Honfleur, declared that if the government wishes peace it must apply at Rome.

RAILROAD TRAVEL DOESN'T TIRE TAFT

After Hardest Days Willing to Sit Up Late on Train Talking With Guests.

RECEPTION IN ALAMO PLAZA.

Leaves for Brother's Ranch in Southern Texas, Where He Will Rest Four Days.

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 15.—President Taft spent a busy seven hours in this city today before leaving for his brother's ranch near the southern end of the state where he is to spend four days. Charles P. Taft had a golf course constructed on the ranch and between this favorite sport and horseback riding the president expects to have a thoroughly good time. It will be even more of a rest than the president had in the Yosemite and he expects it to put him in splendid condition for the remaining three weeks of his marble trip. After his marble trip, however, Mr. Taft never felt better than he does today. Railroad travel by day or night never tires him in the least and at each city he visits, he places himself entirely in the hands of local committees and is ready to carry out any program suggested, no matter how strenuous. This willingness on the part of the president had led many of the committees to extend their program far beyond the original outline and they kept the president pretty busy from the moment his train arrived till its departure. After his hardest days, however, Mr. Taft is ready to sit up late on the train talking with his guests on the trip. Some of the latter attempts to keep the president's secretary of war and his act in that capacity in building Fort Sam Houston up to the present standard of military stations has won him great favor from the city of the Alamo. Wherever he went today the president was greeted by cheering throngs. His declaration of the fact that he was not on a political mission and his visit that solely of the president of the United States, helped to add to the enthusiasm of his reception.

UP WITH THE LAKE.

The president was up early this morning to carry out the program arranged for in this, the first really southern city to entertain him on his presidential tour. Mr. Taft has been to San Antonio before as secretary of war and his act in that capacity in building Fort Sam Houston up to the present standard of military stations has won him great favor from the city of the Alamo. Wherever he went today the president was greeted by cheering throngs. His declaration of the fact that he was not on a political mission and his visit that solely of the president of the United States, helped to add to the enthusiasm of his reception. Before 6 o'clock this morning automobiles were waiting for the president at the St. Anthony hotel to convey him to Fort Sam Houston, where, with a simple ceremony he laid the cornerstone of the nearly completed post chapel building. This chapel, one of the handsomest buildings to be found in the jurisdiction of the war department, was presented to the post by the citizens of San Antonio and was formally accepted and dedicated by President Taft shortly after his arrival from El Paso last night. On his way to Fort Sam Houston this morning the president was driven through lines of school children, 14,000 in number, who sang "America" as he passed.

AT FORT SAM HOUSTON.

Arriving at the fort, he greeted all the troops stationed there before proceeding to the chapel where the simple service of placing the cornerstone in the niche reserved for it took place. Following the chapel ceremony the president held a reception from the grand stand erected on the Alamo plaza. At noon the president's visit ended with an informal luncheon given by the citizens.

REMARKABLE ESCAPE FROM WRECKED VESSEL

Crisfield, Md., Oct. 15.—When the George M. Collier was wrecked in Chesapeake bay last Friday and turned turtle, James O'Donnell, one of the crew, was caught in the foremast. He was rescued 15 hours later, weak from hunger and exposure, his life having been saved by a chamber under the hull. O'Donnell's escape is regarded as one of the most remarkable in the history of sea shipping. He was given up for lost by the crew, which clung to the sides of the boat for hours, only a few feet from their impetuous companion. About noon on Saturday when O'Donnell had been a prisoner fully 15 hours, the craft was tossed into the ship's yard and turned over. O'Donnell was barely conscious, rolled out. He was huddled into blankets and a few hot drinks were given him and before night he was able to tell his experience.

BEATEN SEISELESS BY EIGHT REEFERS

Charles Newson Left for Dead Near His Own Home Last Night.

POLICE SEARCH FOR GANG

When Assaulted Was With Sons and Friends Who Were Powerless Against Lawless Mob.

Charles Newson, head of Newson & Co., general machinists of 638 West Third North street, who has lived there for 20 years, was attacked by a gang of eight ruffians, beaten into insensibility, struck over the left temple by brass knuckles, kicked and trampled upon and left for dead, on the street, within 100 feet of his own home, Sunday night shortly after 7 o'clock. The police are searching for Thomas Wesley Mosier, who also travels under the name of Thomas West, driver of a city garbage and waste paper wagon, who is accused by the victim of being the leader of the gang. Charles Newson says that he will swear out warrants for Mosier's arrest on charges of assault with a deadly weapon and attempt to murder. According to the story told by the victim to the detectives, George Sheets this morning, Charles Newson, his son and partner, Robert Newson, another son, Sidney Newson, E. J. Knox, George Smith and young Sidney Newson were left on the field while their adversary fled away in the night before the police could arrive. Warrants will be sworn out for every member of the gang, which has been terrorizing that neighborhood for a long time. Dr. A. A. Kerr was hastily summoned from his office in the Mercantile building, when Charles Newson's head was carried to the ground. Robert Newson, Dr. Kerr reported this morning that Dr. Kerr had told them last night that Charles Newson would recover. Newson's head and face were beaten in a jolly, and his left temple and left eye were particularly damaged. His head was swathed in heavy bandages, and the thick covering of cloth was fastened on the outside by the blood from his numerous wounds. The police say they will not rest until they have identified every member of the gang that assaulted Newson. Thomas Mosier, it is said, was arrested on the 15th inst. on a charge of attempting to murder his little stepson, Everett Jones.

BESS STILL HOLDS THE FORT.

County Commissioners Conclude to Grant License for Road House. The board of county commissioners this morning denied the petition of the residents of the neighborhood of Twelfth South and West Temple street asking that the license of George Bess, who conducts a saloon at the point named, be revoked. The ground for denying the petition was that there were more signatures to the petition circulated by Bess asking that the saloon be permitted to continue in business than there were against it. Those favoring the petition to deny the license numbered only about 12, while those signing the petition in favor of the saloonkeeper numbered 200. The commissioners announced that a license would be granted to Bess for another three months, but that if in that time conclusive evidence were produced that the place is a disorderly one, or that 60 per cent of the households of the election district in which the saloon is located were against the continuance of the saloon at that place, a petition to deny the further granting of the license would be favorably considered by the board.

City Food Inspector Walter J. Frazier, to whom was referred the petition of a number of farmers in the county asking that his meat inspection ordinance be changed as to permit farmers to do their own killing, has expressed his willingness to have the ordinance so amended provided the animals slaughtered at home by the farmers be brought to some central depot for inspection by an officer provided for that purpose and the payment of a small fee for covering the expenses of inspection. Inspector Frazier will make recommendations to the effect in the sanitary committee of the city council and before the commission, to whom the matter was referred.

COMMITTEE TURNS DOWN PAT. MORAN

Unanimously Votes to Deny Contractor's Claim for Repairing Wooden Stave Pipe.

DISCREPANCIES IN HIS BILL

Report Will be Passed Up to the City Council for Action at Tonight's Session.

The committee of the city council investigating the claim of P. J. Moran for $25,458.47 for repairing the wooden stave pipe line this morning decided, by unanimous vote, to deny the claim and will so report to the city council session tonight. The committee has held daily sessions the greater portion of the past week, scrutinizing the accounts of Moran's bill. Discrepancies amounting to more than $2,000 were discovered and on Saturday the investigation was brought to a standstill on account of the failure of Moran's timekeeper, Homer Reed, to appear and give testimony in regard to the line of the men employed on the job. After a brief session this morning the decision to deny the claim was reached, each member of the committee voting in favor of such action. If the council accepts the report of the committee, the matter will then be thrown into court if Moran wishes to press the collection of his bill, and will then all the details of the transaction will be made public.

MATTER SMELLS OF POLITICS

Disinterested Persons Who Have Watched Case Compelled to View Whole Affair as a Farce.

"Kennedy has not confessed," said Chief of Police Barlow this morning, "but we are now absolutely certain that in R. E. Kennedy and L. E. Driskell we have the two men who held up young Knowlton Nebeker and shortly afterwards killed Special Officer C. C. Riley on the night of Tuesday, Oct. 5. We now believe that it was Driskell who fired the fatal shot. Both men will be charged with the murder of Riley." Aside from this declaration, the police gave out no new information today. Kennedy and Driskell appear to be "standing pat" and in spite of the terrible third degree methods through which they are put by the detectives, they have so far not wavered. The police claim that they have enough evidence against the men now to convict them, but aside from the uncertain and weak identification of one of the men by young Nebeker, there is nothing right now on which to even hold the men under the statutes. It appears to disinterested persons who have followed the methods of the police in this case as though Kennedy and Driskell were being held merely as a bluff on the part of the police for political purposes. As the days wear by after the Riley murder, matters grow worse, and public sentiment was fiercely aroused when a whole week passed without the guilty hold-ups being caught. Kennedy and Driskell were nabbed in Ogden and rushed to Salt Lake City just to fill the gap until after the city council is over. Kennedy and Driskell have not been allowed to communicate with the outside world. They have not been allowed to see their attorneys, and they have been swathed with all the peculiar arts which have made George Sheets' name a horror to victims of the frightful "third degree." But in spite of all this, the police today have not a scintilla of evidence beyond young Nebeker's flimsy alleged identification. First, it was sworn out by Kennedy and Driskell. Now things have been switched to suit the newest theory of the police and Driskell is charged with the crime. The police will go with this farce is not known, but they reached the limit when they refused Kennedy and Driskell the right of making a statement to the people in their own behalf.

Governor Spry is in receipt of a communication from the officers of the Western Slope Development congress, which will convene at Grand Junction, Colorado, Nov. 10 and 11, urging him to attend and to appoint delegates to the congress. The official call for the congress is directed to governors, county commissioners and mayors as well as to live stock associations and allied associations of Colorado, Arizona, Wyoming, Utah and New Mexico. Among the subjects to be discussed at the congress are the suggestion of President Roosevelt that $15,000,000 be loaned to carry out delayed reclamation projects, the matter of unfair freight rates, the necessity of a railroad from a point on the Union Pacific in Wyoming to a point on the Southern Pacific in Arizona or New Mexico, and irrigation as affecting rural districts. Senator Simon is scheduled for an address at the congress on the subject of "Reclamation and Government Aid." Senator Butherford and Governor Spry have also been asked to deliver addresses. The session of the congress of the Western Slope Stockgrowers' association will be held at the same time.

FIRST LECTURE BY MATT HENSON

Peary Ordered Him Not to Use Photographs He (Henson) Had Made on Polar Trip.

New York, Oct. 15.—The first lecture given by Matthew A. Henson, who accompanied Commander Robert E. Peary on his recent polar expedition, was marred by the fact that the commander at the last moment had ordered him not to use photographs which had been taken on the trip. Henson took 120 pictures himself, and on his arrival here says them to the director of the American museum of natural history, who transferred them into lantern slides. At the last moment Mr. Peary instructed the museum director not to turn the slides over to Henson until he, Peary, had examined them. The director followed Peary's order. There were many Cook sympathizers in the audience and the negro lecturer was questioned closely on many points. Henson declared emphatically through his lecture that Dr. Cook could not have reached the north pole, and it is the fact that Henson repeated those statements in the lectures he will give in other cities throughout the country.

PEARY SURE COOK REACHED NORTH POLE

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—A special cable from Copenhagen to The Record-Herald says: "The Danish government's Arctic agent, Captain Schoubye, who was yesterday in the Arctic, has returned from his expedition. He reports that Dr. Cook was not seen on the ice. He reports that Dr. Cook was not seen on the ice. He reports that Dr. Cook was not seen on the ice." At first Capt. Schoubye may be regarded as a reliable authority. He was with the doctor when he made his observations. The captain knows a good deal about astronomy and every thing appeared to him to be correct. Capt. Schoubye declares he has no doubt whatever that Dr. Cook reached the pole. He was made by the doctor and obtained at first from a report from Dr. Cook's two Eskimos. They both told the same story about the doctor's polar journey. One day after making some observations, Dr. Cook told them with much joyousness, "We shall be there tomorrow."

WOMAN'S THROAT CUT WHILE SHE WAS ASLEEP

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 15.—While Mrs. George Stashie, wife of a brewery employe, was asleep in her home last night, she was attacked by a man who cut her throat with a razor. There is some doubt as to the criminal's identity further than the fact that he was a stranger. The woman's husband was not at home at the time of the attack. Mrs. Stashie almost died to death and her life was saved by Patrol Officer Gilchrist, who closed the wound in her throat with his fingers until the hospital was reached. She is expected to recover. Mrs. Stashie's 11-year-old daughter, who was asleep in her room at the time, saw the blood pouring over her mother's nightgown and ran for help. Mrs. Stashie's wounds had been seen and several large arteries cut. Two stitches had been made with the razor in the neck, one extending across the throat and the other lengthwise.

INQUEST ON BUCHANAN WILL BE HELD MONDAY

London, Oct. 15.—An inquest into the death of William U. Buchanan, the American diplomat, whose body was found in Park Lane last Saturday night, will be held on Monday. The official papers and personal property found in the room occupied by Buchanan at the time of his death, but were turned over to the British embassy. Investigation thus far has failed to throw any light on the movements of the diplomat during the few hours preceding his death. Friends who had seen Buchanan on the day he was discovered by the police in the room in which he died, but who were not allowed to speak the evidence, but not been heard of before, and it is supposed that was due to some trouble of an epileptic attack.
