

PORTLAND, OR. — Five Indian boys were poisoned in the Simcoe reservation on Saturday, by eating wild parsnips; two of them died. The boys were bright, near 18, and fairly educated and intended for teachers.

SAN FRANCISCO, 13. — Boyle's Camp, Tule Lake, June 11, p.m. Last evening a party, consisting of Hon. J. K. Luttrell, congressman elect from the 3rd district, Judge Steele, Sheriff Morgan, J. S. Mathews, E. H. Antenrieth, and Masters Luttrell and Mathews arrived, Messrs. Luttrell and Steele, for the purpose of inquiring into Indian affairs, the remainder of the party on business and pleasure combined. This a.m. Captain Jack, Scarface Charley, Boston Charley, Schonchin, Mose, William, Princess Mary and Lizzie were escorted to the office tent, under a corporal's guard, that Judge Steele might talk with them, and gain such information as might throw light upon certain acts which are now enshrouded in mystery. Jack, Schonchin, Boston Charley and Mose walked in chains, the others were loose. The captives formed the usual semi-circle in the tent. Jack had an ugly sullen look, and was apparently displeased at being brought forth for talk. The dark lines about his eyes, which are bright and glittering, indicate that confinement, even in a large, airy tent, is beginning to wear on him, and restriction of his liberty has a greater effect on him than suspense as to his fate. Only a few days since he told the officer in charge of the prisoners that his Indian heart was dead and his body cold, and all he asked was that Lizzie, his favorite squaw, be allowed to sit beside him. His request was granted, and the squaw came to him. During the interview he and Schonchin sat on a dry goods box, and Lizzie squatted at their feet. Judge Steele shook hands with the Indians and said he was glad to meet them. No one but Jack removed his hat. Scarface was called to act as interpreter. Judge Steele said that he regretted to see that the Indians had not followed his advice and behaved themselves, and was sorry to find them in such a fix, but he had come to have a talk, and wanted nothing but the truth. Then followed questions about the disposition of the property of the Modocs' victims. Little satisfaction was obtained. At first the Indians denied any knowledge of Dr. Thomas' watch and Lt. Cranston's ring, and told different stories. They referred the Judge to Hooka Jim, Shacknasty Jim, and Steamboat Frank, desiring to implicate those three worthies as much as possible. Jack's people hate the two Jims and Frank on account of their treachery, and have threatened to kill them or have them killed, even if it takes years to accomplish the job. Boston said an Indian placed the watch under a rock, and that the ring was burned after the battle at Dry Lake; it was burned with Ellen's man and his property. After half an hour's talk Steele told them that unless they told him where they had cached the army guns, and gave up the watch and ring he would abandon them to their fate, and not try to get the ear of Typee Davis. The Indians have until to-morrow a.m., to consider the matter. Judge Steele, Mr. Luttrell and boy, Fairchild, Dr. Cabaness and one or two others, leave for home to-morrow, via the Lava Bed, which possibly may lead to the capture of Miller's Charley, the lucky warrior, and his squaw, who are thought to be living in the lava.

MONTREAL, 13. — The funeral of the late Sir George E. Cartier, baronet, took place to-day, and was one of the most imposing demonstrations of the kind that ever occurred in Canada. Fully 10,000 people followed the remains to the grave, including nearly all the members of the House of Commons and Senate. The procession was an hour and fifteen minutes passing any given point.

NEW YORK, 14. — General Sherman had a conversation with a reporter last evening, and is made to say of Gen. Davis, concerning his indictment of Captain Jack and the preparations for hanging him and some of his associates: "If the statement is correct there is not a doubt that General Davis must have exceeded his duty, and he would be held responsible for his acts. He should be guided by military rules and laws. We allow they are murderers; the President himself says they are murderers, and had Gen. Davis shot them while they were being pursued, I do not think he would have exceeded his duty. He did not do this and could not afterwards shoot them in cold blood. General Davis' report to General Schofield may differ from that published in the papers. Davis is too experienced an officer to do anything that would bring odium upon the army or lay himself open to a military court martial for exceeding his duty as an officer." The general thinks there will be no difficulty about disposing of the Modocs under arrest; those found guilty of murder will be hanged or shot, and if it is proved that there was an agreement for a general uprising among the tribes, others will receive the same punishment, as a warning to Indians. He remarked, however, that it was a pity the guilty Modocs were not shot at first, then all this commission business and expense would have been avoided. As to the killing, already, of a few prisoners, General Sherman says, that those who committed the deed are low blackguards and murderers, who had nothing whatever to do with the army.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 15. — Changes are soon to be made in about twenty consulates, in order that Southern men may be appointed to them, the President having recently expressed his desire to give office to a large number of his Southern political friends.

General O. C. Howard, noticing recently the published article concerning his management of the Freedman's Bureau, and certain papers in that connection, submitted to Attorney General, says the sum of between three and four thousand dollars, represented as short in the disbursing officer's account, was unavailable, and is in no way wrong, and will be immediately paid to the Government as soon as the account is ascertained. As to the thirty-three thousand, the disbursing officer sent in the money as well as the receipt, and as soon as the second auditor can cancel the vouchers, he says all his transactions can be satisfactorily explained.

WASHINGTON. — The recent proceedings with regard to the return of the Kickapoo Indians to the United States, are in accordance with the action of the Mexican government, and of our own in April of last year, for the realization of the project. It was suggested that the government of the United States should advise the Governor of Mexico of the time and place on the frontier where the agents would present themselves, and the government of Mexico would, in such cases, provide that the authorities who represent it in that region, should take part in the conference and, if the Indians should freely determine to leave Mexico and settle on a reservation in the United States, Mexican military forces would escort them to a point on the frontier where American troops might receive them. The Mexican government further advised that agents, to treat with the Indians, be persons other than those who made the former attempt, in order to avoid reviving suspicions and prejudices against those persons, which might exist in the minds of the Indians, and the Mexican government promised that none of its authorities, accused of being opposed to the removal of these Indians, should have any part in the execution of the plan suggested.

John A. Bingham will remain in Washington several days to receive instructions as minister to Japan; he will not proceed for some weeks.

The secretary of the navy does not hesitate to say in advance of his official report, that the testimony elicited shows that Captain Hall died a natural death, and that the separation of those on the ice floe from the Polaris was accidental. He is desirous however of hearing the story of Capt. Buddington and his party, that both sides may be fully known.

NEW YORK. — A new chapter in the history of the Tammany frauds is about to be made public. T. W. Roe & Co. bring a suit against the comptroller for more than $200,000, alleged to be due them for stationery, and C. H. J. Fainter, employed in the Comptroller's office, has made an affidavit charging that the greater part if not the whole amount of his money was paid by the city, and divided among E. A. Woodward, and his so-called confederates in the late ring.

WASHINGTON, 14. — The Commissioner of Indian Affairs has received a letter from Thomas J. Jeffards, Indian agent at the Cache reservation, Arizona, in which Jeffards says he has given a deal of attention to the matter of the alleged raiding into Mexico by Cache's band of Indians, and he is satisfied that the depredations in Sonora are committed by Apache Indians living on the Mexican side of the boundary line. In corroboration of this statement he reports that a party of Sonora Apaches recently came to his agency, bringing stolen Mexican stock with them, which they wanted to trade with Cache's Indians. They were threatened and compelled to leave the reservation. Jeffards, in conclusion, reports that Cache and his band were still on their reservation, behaving well in strict compliance with the treaty.

BOYLE'S CAMP, Tule Lake, 14. — This a.m. the Modocs sent for Dr. Caberiss, and requested a second interview to be held, in order that further facts relating to the missing articles of ornament and wearing apparel might be made known to the soldiers. For reasons best known to the Indians, whose necks are just outside of the halters, the Indians voluntarily made a revelation in this order: Black Jim acknowledged that he stole eighteen dollars from Meacham, and passed in that amount; Boston Charley said he had Meacham's pistol hidden in the rocks, and would return it if he had a chance. He said Meacham's memorandum book was destroyed by the squaws. Steamboat Frank said he knew where the coat and vest of Dr. Thomas were, and could obtain them in half a day. The reverend gentleman's gold watch was carried off by a Warm Spring Indian, and Cranston's ring was lost. The leading braves, including Jack, said that thirty or forty shots were fired during the massacre of the peace commissioners and they actively shifted the responsibility for the murder from one to another; all agree, however, that Bogus Charley did not participate in the massacre, and that he, from first to last, condemned it as an unfair and unsafe proceeding.

SAN FRANCISCO, 14. — The race at Oakland, to-day, was won by Sam Purdy.

EUREKA, California. — J. H. McCog who arrived from the front to-day, and from whom we learn that Gen. Davis was at Boyle's camp yesterday morning. All the prisoners had been sent to Ft. Klamath, under a strong guard. Boyle's camp will have to be maintained for some time, owing to quite a number of the wounded being unable to be removed to Klamath. Fairchild's camp will also kept up until the stores can be taken to Klamath.

WASHINGTON. — A special says the Mexican border investigation committee have returned to that city to prepare their report which they have been engaged in considering since January 10th, and have heard evidence, in addition to 1,300 exparte affidavits. Several women and children, who had escaped from the Indians, appeared before the commissioners and told the story of their terrible sufferings. The Comanches are said to be mainly engaged in the business of stealing and selling children and women of white settlers, while the Kickapoos and Sipans, and Mexicans disguised as such, chiefly confine themselves to cattle stealing. Raids on these people are so frequent that stock raising within 200 miles of the Rio Grande have been well nigh abandoned.

sand. The fire was caused by careless workmen, who were repairing the zinc roof. No one was killed, as reported, but several were injured. The supply of water was scarce, hence the rapidity with which the fire spread. ## OBITUARY.

THOMAS G. ODELL, who died in Ogden on the morning of the 14th instant, was born in Leighton Buzzard, Bedfordshire, England, on the 3rd of January, 1823. He was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in London, in the year 1854, and emigrated to Utah in the fall of 1861, upon his arrival settling in Ogden City.

He was an excellent printer, was employed a number of years on the London Times, and for several years worked at the profession in Salt Lake City. In the summer of 1869 he returned to Ogden, soon after which he was appointed City Recorder, the duties of which office, until his decease, he performed in a faithful and satisfactory manner. In connection with another of his fellow craftsmen of the "art preservative," he was the projector of the enterprise resulting in the establishment of a newspaper in Ogden.

He was a man of joviality and equanimity of spirit; unassuming, independent, and of unquestioned integrity; one whose friendship was abiding and unmoved by the breath of calumny; as a husband and a father, affectionate and indulgent.

His demise has awakened pungent grief in many hearts. The whole typographic fraternity will especially sympathize with the afflicted family and friends. — Com.
