FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 12.—Consideration was resumed of the military warrant bill, and McDonald favored it.

McDonald argued that all public lands within the States named which, by the terms of the enabling acts were to be exempted from State taxation for five years from sale, should be considered as opened to sale, and that five per cent. on these was due the States. He held that a donation of military script was a sale within the meaning of the acts referred to. Lands were given as bonus to those who served the government in place of so much money.

Thurman made some remarks on the bill, saying he was not yet prepared to oppose or advocate it, but sought information. It seemed to him that the lands in military districts and various reservations of Ohio granted to soldiers were included in the sales, as interpreted by the senator from Indiana (McDonald). Ohio was poor and needed the money, of course, but he was not sure that it belonged to her. If these lands were excluded, Ohio would receive $112,000 and be taxed over $300,000. This would be a bad speculation; but if the bill was just, he would support it. There had been newspaper statements that the bill was to grant money to rebel States. This was absurd. If passed it would be pecuniarly detrimental to all the Atlantic and Gulf States, and beneficial chiefly to the western and northern States. He held that the lands granted by military warrants were given as compensation in place of cash. Until reading the committee's report, he had not thought that States were entitled to five per cent. on any but cash sales, but he was not very sure whether he would not change his opionion. Discussion then closed.

Blaine submitted the following:

Resolved, That the President be respectfully requested to communicate to the Senate any information in possession of the Government touching alleged false statistics and fabricated testimony imposed upon the Halifax commission and used as a basis to their award in the matter of fisheries; adopted.

Davis, of Illinois, from the committee on judiciary, reported adversely on the House resolution for the appointment of a joint committee to investigate the present system of salaries, fees, and emoluments allowed to officers of the United States and to ascertain if any abuses exist; placed on the calendar.

Morrill, from the committee on education and labor, reported a bill to incorporate the National Educational Association; placed on the calendar.

Wallace, from the committee on appropriations reported with amendments the House joint resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of War to employ additional clerks; placed on the calendar.

After an executive session the Senate adjourned until Monday.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 12.—Blackburn offered an amendment to the first clause of rule 21 relative to the reading of bills; adopted.

White offered as a new clause to the same rule the following: The general appropriation bills shall embrace nothing but appropriations for ordinary expenses of the different Departments of the Government and interest on the public debt. All other appropriations shall be made by bills containing only items of appropriations relative to the subject matter of the bill. He spoke in favor of an amendment which would make it impossible for the appropriation committee to legislate on appropriation bills.

Conger pointed out the inconsistency which the members from the south had shown in voting for the famous rule 120 which permitted legislation to be placed upon appropriation bills, inasmuch as the Constitution of Confederacy prevented any such legislation. That constitution was in direct opposition to the vote of every man from the south as to the propriety and expediency of that rule. It has become necessary for the present Speaker to ask his southern friends to change their views and sustain him. In changing the old rules of the House, he looked upon the action of the Speaker, when he placed himself at the head of the whole Confederate army in the House and compelled them to ignore the action of their best and wisest men and follow him, as the greatest triumph which a northern man ever gained over the brigadier generals of the House.

Randall said he was not familiar with the Confederate Constitution, but said he believed there was no such clause as Conger had stated. He was proud to lead the army of the Forty-fourth Congress regardless of where they came from.

After further sharp shooting, Goode urged the propriety of the rule from a point of safety. In time of need it was right to withhold appropriations in case of bad legislation. The rule had permitted the majority to repeal the laws, allowing the use of troops at the polls, and allowed the saving of $30,000,000 in a year, and put white jurors in a box where colored had been almost exclusively.

Springer called the attention of the House to the fact that Garfield had a few years ago been at the head of the committee of appropriations, and that when he held the position, 150 sections of legislation had been passed upon appropriation bills. There never had been a time when legislation had not been placed upon appropriation bills, and he thought it was just and right. The House must not give up this rule. It would save millions.

White withdrew his amendment and allowed Spear to introduce one making it in order to insert a less sum of money for a greater in the bills. He was above partisan consideration; he depicted anarchy, repudiation, despotism and slavery which would ensue if the appropriations bill failed.

Hawley quoted from State constitutions, showing that 25 out of the 38 prohibited legislation on appropriation bills.

Cox supported the rule as a means of repealing by the rider laws, which had been enacted by rider, and for repealing obnoxious legislation.

McMahon thought that the young member (Spear) ought to shake in his boots to find the republicans standing sponsor for his amendments.

Spear said he was young, but was of that number whose follies cease with their youth.

MacMahon urged his party not to give up this rule. It was substantially giving up their cause in the next presidential election, being a virtual confession of failure of economy. He was surprised at the unanimity of the republicans. It was one of the worst parties ever in power.

Warner's amendment was then agreed to, 123 to 74, and the question recurred on Spear's substitute as amended, pending which the committee rose and the House adjourned.

EASTERN.

CAPITAL NOTES.

WASHINGTON, 12.—Standing Bear, the Ponca chief, to-day concluded his story of injustice done his people, and to-morrow Bright Eyes will be heard.

Representative Spear's bill prohibiting dress parade and playing of military bands on the Sabbath, will be reported adversely.

The House committee on education and labor will report adversely Representative Thompson's bill providing for the distribution of funds of the unclaimed pay and bounty of colored soldiers. Action is based upon information furnished the committee that the fund barely amounts to $200,000, and is constantly drawn upon by claimants.

The committee agreed to report favorably on Representative Cox's resolution providing for the enforcement of the eight-hour law and a full day's pay for eight hours' labor.

The House committee on elections adopted the majority report in the case of Curtin vs. Yocum, of Pennsylvania, which favors the sending of the matter back to the people of the district for a new election. The committee also voted to allow the minority report of the sub-committee in favor of Yocum, sitting member, to accompany the report of the committee.

The House committee on ways and means disposed of the refunding question this morning. The rate of interest was decided in favor of 3½ per cent. by a vote of 22 to 2. The question of time was settled by a decisive vote of 12 to 2 in favor of a 20-40 bond, the interest on these bonds to be paid quarterly, and that they be used in refunding fives and sixes amounting to about $500,000,000.

The committee decided also to recommend that authority be given the Secretary of the Treasury to issue $200,000,000 of four per cent. treasury notes, redeemable at pleasure to assist in the reduction of the annual interest burden in the manner proposed by Kelley.

The committee on appropriations has agreed to report a deficiency appropriation of $135,000 for the support of certain Indian tribes for the year ending June 30th.

The committee on the Pacific railroad has postponed for two weeks consideration of the bill extending the provisions of the sinking fund act.

The Senate committee reduces the appropriation for additional clerks in the Pension Bureau from $51,000 to $49,000, and for the War Department, from $39,000 to $32,000. Second auditors also have additional clerks to clear off the pension business.

The House to-day adopted a resolution calling on the President for information as to the progress of negotiations for an amendment of the Burlingame treaty, without debate or opposition. The resolution was offered by Mr. Willis, of Kentucky, in behalf of the committee on education and labor. It is, of course, intended merely to elicit an official acknowledgement that nothing, or at least nothing of consequence has been done by the diplomatic branch of our government on this subject during the two years that have elapsed since both houses of congress requested the President to take action.

It was said at the Capital to-day that the President feels inclined to resent the action of the Senate in rejecting the entire list of Ohio nominations for census supervisors. This came from a member of congress who said that the President would send back to the Senate the same list, with one or two exceptions, thereby indicating a determination to maintain his right of selecting. The Senate in this event will undoubtedly reaffirm the co equal right to rejection.

The House committee on claims to-day heard Judge Wiltshire and other friends of Gen. John A. Sutter, in advocacy of his claim for a congressional appropriation of $50,000 to indemnify him for the loss of his Sobrante grant, and for his expenditures in aid of immigration to California. The committee will consider the subject to-morrow. The Pitigas ranch bill also comes up again to morrow in the private land claims committee.

The select committee of the House upon the alcoholic liquor traffic, instructed Representative Prewer to report a bill to the House providing for the appointment of a commission of 10 members to investigate the subject.

Representative Davis to day presented a memorial of Wm. Alford, president of the Bank of California, praying for the removal of the tax on bank deposits.

The Treasury Department to-day purchased 830,000 ounces of silver for the mints at New Orleans and Philadelphia.

A Fraud Meditated.

CHICAGO, 12.—A Washington special says: The House committee on elections has decided to unseat Washburne (republican) in favor of Donnelly (democrat). This will give the democrats another State in case of a tie in the Presidential election. Washburne had 3,000 majority; a claim of bribery will be set up. It is manifest that the deep purposes of the democracy, which was revealed in the attempt in the State of Maine, is again disclosed in this effort to rob the people of Minnesota of their rights. It is not the intention of the sub-committee to make a report in writing, but each member will submit his views orally to the whole committee. Such a report might not be a pleasant campaign document in the possession of the republicans. A democratic member of the sub-committee characterized the case as a very difficult and perplexing one, and hoped the action of the committee would commend itself to the lovers of good government and fair dealing throughout the country.

Democratic Election of Republicans.

The Journal's Washington special says: The Senate having rejected all the Ohio supervisors of census on account of being republicans, the democrats are anxiously watching to see what the President will do next. An Ohio republican of prominence says the President does not intend to submit to any dictation, but will nominate other republicans for the positions, without regard to the threat conveyed by the action of the Senate.

It is certain that the bill agreed upon by the ways and means committee for a three and a half per cent. bond cannot become a law. There will be a strong opposition in the House, and if it passes this body the Senate will not agree to it. A member of the Senate finance committee says his committee will report in favor of a four per cent. bond and it will pass the Senate.

A Prostrate Elevator.

The Imperial Mills elevator, situated on the corner of Sixteenth and Dearborn Streets, was blown down this morning; 123,000 bushels of wheat which it contained, were spilled on the ground. It was 100 feet high and 110x60 feet in extent, with a capacity of 200,000 bushels. The mill adjoining was badly damaged. The establishment was owned by Douglas & Stewart who have other extensive mills in Iowa and Canada. It was under the management of Wheeler & Co. The elevator, which cost $90,000 to $100,000, is a total loss. The loss on wheat is about $25,000; loss to the mill $50,000. There is no insurance covering this kind of accidents.

A "Herald" Appeal.

NEW YORK, 13.—The Herald this morning says: We regret to say that as yet no returns have been made by a large number of gentlemen and firms to whom the Herald's Irish famine blanks were entrusted. In a great many instances we know these blanks contain the names of persons who in the aggregate have subscribed a good deal of money, and we are aware that they are held back in order that their custodians, who are so generously co-operating with the Herald may be enabled to make as good a showing as possible in print. Their motive is exceedingly creditable, but we are certain they will not misinterpret our meaning when we say that they are unwittingly putting back the cause they at heart so earnestly desire to advance. The Herald will esteem it a great favor on the part of these gentlemen if they will make their returns as early as possible to-morrow.

The newspaper editors and other gentlemen in outside towns and cities who are so nobly aiding the Herald will also place us under obligations if they will forward their subscriptions.

Brutal Murder.

CINCINNATI, 12.—An atrocious wife murder was committed in Henderson, Ky., last night. Pat Graham, who had been arrested on complaint of his wife for beating her, broke jail and found his wife on the wharf boat. He shot her three times in the presence of the passengers of the steamer Idlewild, killing her instantly, and then jumped into a skiff.

Friendly to Sherman.

COLUMBUS, 12.—About 800 citizens attended the Sherman meeting held at the City Hall to-night. Governor Foster presided. In taking the chair the Governor said that John Sherman ought to be next candidate of the republican party for president, that the great and fundamental principles of the republican party should be firmly established on a sound system of finance, and maintain the doctrine of national supremacy. He upheld the name of Sherman who possesses more of the elements of success in refunding the public debt and has been unequalled in the country. Governor Foster entertained the cindliest feeling toward General Grant and Senator Blaine, and referred briefly to their respective qualifications, and said he believed the unwritten law against a third term should not be violated.

WESTERN.

The Workingmen Demonstrations.

SAN FRANCISCO, 12.—The best grounded opinion regarding the demonstrations now being made by the workingmen is that they are designed to influence legislation now pending. A bill is now before the Legislature to enforce the provision in the new Constitution prohibiting corporations from employing Chinese, and several of the workingmen leaders are at Sacramento urging its pas-sage. The bill passed the Senate to day by an overwhelming majority, and a similar result is expected in the Assembly.

The Chinese must Go.

The unemployed workingmen again assembled to-day at the Sand Lots, and after some speeches the leaders marched in procession to the office of the Mission Woolen Mills and Selby Smelting Works, demanding the discharge of Chinamen in their employ. At both places they were told that the matter would be considered by the directors and an answer given in a few days. The procession then returned to the Sand Lots, and after further speeches broke up. The proceedings were orderly and the crowd apparently good natured.
