The meeting of the anti-Mormons at Salt Lake on the evening of the 14th instant will give the country a good idea of the calibre of the Antis. The idea that Conare just now getting ready to sally gress must pass certain acts of spe-cial legislation for Utah is the nightmare of all their dreams. If Congress would only disfranchise the polygamists and pass the secret ballot act, then the Millennium would have come in Utah; then everybody but the Mormons would money and hold all the fat offices. Yes, that may be, but there are a good many other things wrong in this world,-indeed there are precious few things that are wholly right and acceptable. Why PUTS should Mormon polygamy so much disturb the Salt Lake lawyers, doctors, and ex-justices? So long as they adhere to monogamic princicertainly in no way responsible for the evil and as modest men their nor yet their superabundant piety. If they can stand it we can; but their doctrine of special legislation for Utah, in the improved phraseology of Mark Twain, brands them as so many "escaped fan-a-tics." There may be some young women still disposed to go into polygamy, but there is nothing compulsory about it. They are doubtless in-fluenced by their religion, but it goes no further. If then we are correct in this view, and the practice of polygamy in Utah depends on religious convictions, what a mistake it must be to attempt to crush it by legislation! The fanati-
