

the community where the convention is to be held. Unless we can do something for education in the community where our convention is held we don't want to go there. We both are very favorably impressed with Salt Lake and we know that your educators are of the highest standard. We will certainly give Salt Lake's claims our most earnest consideration."

PUBLIC RECEPTION TONIGHT.

The trip over the city was then commenced and the interview was brought to a close. After luncheon at the Commercial club a special organ recital will be given at the Tabernacle. This evening from 8 to 10 o'clock a public reception will be given at the club to which all citizens are welcome. Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock Dr. Schaeffer and Supt. Wilkinson will address the teachers of the city and county at the Tabernacle. They will depart for Denver tomorrow afternoon, from which point Dr. Schaeffer will return to Harrisburg, Pa., his home, and Supt. Wilkinson will return to his home at Emporia, Kan. They left Salt Lake on Sunday night and stopped off at Portland and left there for Salt Lake on Wednesday evening. They have had a very pleasant trip from the very start.

PRESENT AT LUNCHEON.

Seated at the tables at the luncheon in the club room this forenoon in honor of Dr. Schaeffer and Supt. Wilkinson were the following: representative educators and business men: Gov. John C. SPEECH BY FISHER HARRIS.

At the conclusion of the luncheon, Secretary Fisher Harris presented Salt Lake's claims to the next convention on behalf of the club's committee, which has the matter in hand. His address followed:

Executive Committee The National Educational Association.

Gentlemen—We have the honor to submit for your information the following statement concerning the availability of Salt Lake City as a place for holding the annual convention of the National Educational association for the year 1906:

WHAT SALT LAKE CAN DO.

A careful canvass of the city of Salt Lake indicates that first-class hotel accommodations can be guaranteed for $5,000; the homes of the city will take care of 6,000; public schools of the city, containing 270 large rooms, are capable of holding 10 people each comfortably. These schools are provided with toilet and lavatories conveniently located. Towels, bed linen and other accessories should it be found necessary to occupy the schools for the purpose indicated, can be supplied locally in ample demand. The utilization of the school houses would thus enable the city to care for 12,000 people.

In addition, however, to the accommodations as shown above, the availability of Salt Lake City as a place for holding the annual convention of the National Educational association for the year 1906, with an aggregate of 450 rooms. In addition to these the Rowland Hall and Gordon Academies, neither of which are in session during July, will provide accommodations for several hundred guests.

The careful canvass of the city made by the various committees appointed for the purpose, indicate positively that we can satisfactorily and comfortably care for 12,000 people. We have every assurance needed that no increase will be made in the usual charges for sleeping apartments or board.

Twice every year on the occasion of the semi-annual conference of the "Mormon" Church the city cares for, without apparent effort, from 10,000 to 12,000 visitors.

ADDITIONAL FACILITIES.

For the business purposes of the convention we can offer unusual facilities, as is shown by the following list:

Name.	Seating Capacity.
Tabernacle	10,000
Assembly Hall	5,000
Barratt hall	1,200

High school Science building	200
High school, first room 150, second room 150, third room 150	450

In addition to the above the Lafayette school has 15 rooms, each with seating capacity for 50 people.

All the halls enumerated above are within three minutes' walk from the Tabernacle, which is the center of the city.

NUMEROUS SIDE TRIPS.

Your attention is respectfully invited to the many side trips of educational and scenic interest that can be comfortably and cheaply enjoyed by the members of the association. They are in part:

all of the interesting processes of its reduction and extraction.

No locality in the United States is so rich as this valley in geological interest.

During the time in which the convention is held Salt Lake is at its best. The city is vine and tree embowered; the nights are cool and at no time in the heat oppressive during the day.

WHERE TEACHERS COME FROM.

We further represent to your committee that the teachers in the public schools of our city and state are from all parts of the United States and would be but few of your members who would not find here some friends or acquaintances of other days, whose duty and pleasure it would be to see to their proper entertainment.

In taking your committee to select this as the place for holding the convention of 1906, we respectfully beg you to remember that Denver and San Francisco have each been honored with your presence and we content that it is now our turn. The city is abundantly able to comfortably provide for any number of people that may come.

NOTED FOR HOSPITALITY.

Our citizens are celebrated for their hospitality and are particularly anxious to entertain the class of people who make up the membership of your organization.

In conclusion, and as representatives of the educational and commercial bodies of the state, we desire to most cordially supplement the invitation extended to you last July and earnestly pledge all our citizens to the work of making the session of 1906 the most successful yet held.

OSCAR DECLINES NORWEGIAN THRONE

Stockholm, Sweden, Oct. 27.—King Oscar has definitely and formally declined the offer of the Norwegian throne to a prince of the house of Bernadotte and in a letter to the president of the storting finally severs his connection with the offer. The letter which is dated Oct. 25 is as follows:

HIS LETTER.

"After having in the name of Sweden recognized Norway as a state completely separated from Sweden I inform you of my decision to relinquish the crown of Norway which notwithstanding all my good intentions has given me in the course of years so many bitter cares. Moreover, I could no longer wear it to the benefit of the country that the illegal decision of the storting has rendered illusory even the suspensive veto of the king. But desire only the welfare of the country and the nation towards which I have entertained a sincere affection even since my youth and to the happiness of which it has always been my heart's desire to contribute so long as the means to that end could be reconciled with the duties entailed by my position as king of both countries of the Scandinavian peninsula. In view of the turn the mutual relations between the two countries have taken I cannot think it would be conducive to the happiness of either Sweden or Norway that a prince of my house should accept an election to be king of Norway. Assuredly there would not fail to arise in both countries a feeling of distrust which would operate as much against him as against me. This distrust might only too easily become an obstacle to the improvement of the mutual sentiments of the two nations, unfavorably separated henceforth where by I hope to see pacific relations assured between them in a not too distant future. I cannot therefore accept the storting's offer. I thank with all my heart those who during my reign of 35 years have faithfully served me and Norway and who may even now entertain affection for their former king. In now bidding them farewell I cherish sincere good wishes for them."

MAZZA IS HELD WITHOUT BAIL.

The preliminary hearing of Frank Mazza, the Italian who, on the night of Sept. 3, shot and killed Joseph Vatrella, a fellow countryman, began before Judge C. D. Diehl this morning. Mazza is charged with murder in the first degree. The prosecution was represented by Attorney Arthur Christensen and Judge Weber. The accused was represented by Attorney Newton.

It was not recalled that Mazza, acting upon the presumption that Vatrella had placed him in a dangerous position, had shot him in the breast, Mazza then made an escape to Boulder, Colo., and was arrested there and finally brought back to this city by Captain Burroughs.

Dr. F. P. Richards was the first witness and testified as to the nature of the wound inflicted upon Vatrella, and said that the deceased came to his death from a bullet wound.

County physician Whitney testified that he performed an autopsy upon Vatrella, and gave a detailed account of the same.

Mrs. Vatrella, widow of the deceased, was the next witness. She said that on the evening of the shooting, Mazza called her outside and said that he was making the remark at the same time, "You will learn to talk better now."

Mrs. Vatrella said that Mrs. Mazza was present at the shooting and that Mazza ran west on Second south after firing the revolver.

An Italian, who lived with the Vatrellas, testified that he was in the house when Mazza came and called Vatrella out. A few seconds after he heard two shots and found Vatrella was shot. The witness said he knew Mazza and had worked with him. He saw Mazza run away, and also saw Mrs. Mazza.

His cross examination the witness said he went outside when Mazza called for Vatrella. He did not hear anything in the nature of a conversation before the shots were fired.

Jim Reilly, who resided with the Vatrellas, corroborated the testimony of the previous witness. He said he knew Mazza, and declared he saw Mazza fire upon Vatrella.

James E. Lavy testified he was across the street from Vatrella's when the shooting occurred. He said he heard Mazza call for Vatrella. The two men talked for a moment and Mazza suddenly fired two shots and then ran west to the corner and then north.

Miss Sadie Burt testified that she saw the shooting. She said that Mazza and Vatrella talked in a loud tone of voice for several minutes and then the shots were fired.

Capt. Burroughs, who brought Mazza from Colorado, stated that Mazza admitted that he shot Vatrella because of trouble they had had.

The state conducted its case by reading the dying declaration of the deceased, in which he said he had never had any trouble with Mazza or Mrs. Mazza, and that the accused shot him without any provocation whatever.

Judge Diehl ordered the defendant held in answer to the district court without bail.

AN EVENING OF SONG.

Delightful Recital given at the Studio of Mrs. King.

Last night at the studio of Mrs. Martha Royce King in the Commercial club building, a delightful musical recital was held, at which about 100 friends of Mrs. King were present. The concert consisted of a winter series of recitals to be given by Mrs. King and her pupils.

Mrs. King herself sang several numbers last night, and was assisted by Miss Judith Evans and Miss Hallie Foster. In the course of the evening Mrs. King presented a new and original bit of recent creation, and also some of the most famous classics. Perhaps the best selection of the evening was from "The Marriage of Figaro," by Mozart. The last number, "Goring Thomas' 'O Vision Extraneous,' was so highly applauded that "Little Cuddles' Baby" was given as an encore. Mrs. King's numbers included "Dearie," by Cliff Cummings; "A Winter Love Song," by H. Steward; two old English songs and two German songs.

The numbers of Miss Hallie Foster were well adapted to her range, and were sung with great success. She rendered, "Where STRUCK BY A RUNAWAY.

Judge Powell and Lady Seriously Hurt While Out Buggy Riding.

A carriage ride at noon today, taken by Judge John Powell, an invalid at the Dr. Lewis private hospital, will cost the patient many weeks of continued suffering at the hospital, and perhaps may result fatally for him. The buggy in which he was driving with a lady from the hospital, was struck by a runaway outfit, and demolished. Both he and his companion were thrown to the ground, and were severely bruised—how seriously it has not yet been determined as it is feared internal injuries may result.

The accident occurred at the corner of D street and South Temple. Mr. Powell was driving west on the south side of the street, and was turning at the corner of D street, over onto the north side, when the collision occurred. He did not see the impending danger until it was too late to turn, as a car coming west had the vehicle from his sight. As he passed in the rear of the car he ran directly into the runaway team, which belonged to the Hoffman real estate firm. The buggy was completely demolished, and the occupants thrown to the pavement with such force that a serious scalp wound was inflicted on the lady, and Mr. Powell was severely bruised. A number of passers by rushed to the assistance of the injured people, and it was found that Powell was already an invalid, his crutches being at his side in the buggy. The police station, the L. D. S. hospital and the Lewis private hospital were notified at once, each of them sending a carriage to the scene. The patients were removed to the lawn of the James E. Jennings home at the corner of South Temple and D streets, and the accident was attended to by Dr. Lewis, after which they were removed to his hospital, which is at 352 east First South.

WARD ENTERTAINMENTS

Eleventh Ward.—Members of the Eleventh ward Mutual Improvement associations, under the direction of Miss Mary Balbeck, last night presented in the ward hall the popular play, "Pygmalion and Galatea." The hall was well filled and the piece went with a vim which deserved careful preparation and no mean degree of attention to detail. While the effort was somewhat ambitious for amateurs, the players had their lines well in hand and displayed in their respective roles a degree of histrionic ability.

The same bill goes again tonight.

BELL RINGERS TONIGHT.

The Farland-Newhall company male quartet and bell ringers appear at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tonight after a successful tour along the Pacific coast. The company is composed of four prominent musicians and has been highly spoken of by lyceum managers. A rare musical treat is promised to all who attend. They will mark the opening of the Y. M. C. A. star entertainment course.
