Edwin Ebbert.
George Jessen.
William West of Dixon, Ill.
W. O. Crittendon, a farmer, got in his wagon to drive home. There was a heavy rain. The wind lifted the plow and drove the share through Crittendon's neck, almost severing his head. William Mitchell, his hand on the handle of the plow, was killed. Mitchell was unhurt. Crittendon had cancer of the stomach. He had just consulted a doctor and was told that he could not live. He was going home to get his affairs in shape when he was killed.

In Spencer's saloon young Spencer jumped under a billiard table and was unhurt, although the saloon was a total wreck. A negro crawled out from under the ruins unhurt.

When the big furniture store fell H. H. Beckway, the manager, was struck by a falling wall and his skull was fractured. He cannot live. The Chicago Great Western station was wiped out completely.

Girls in the telephone exchange and Dr. Scott were imprisoned in the ruins and had to wait for help. Two were injured. Silky and Hendee, the proprietors of the watch factory, were in the building when it was crushed. The former was saved by standing against one wall which did not fall, and the latter was saved by lying down beside the timbers. He was completely covered with wreckage, but was unhurt.

Three teachers were in the school building when it was blown away, but they escaped.

George Jessen, a farmer, was in the field with his wife and baby. He was walking along the street when he was struck on the head with a brick and died an hour later. His wife and children were unhurt.

Jacob Helm, a farmer east of the city, was crushed under falling timbers of his home and died soon afterward.

Judge Neil Gould of St. Charles and both legs broken and his condition is critical. He was caught in the collapse of the Logan building. Mrs. George Rollins was blown into the cellar with a baby in her arms. Her mother had her shoulder and ankle dislocated and the baby's face was cut.

In a field in the course of the storm $100 in money was picked up, apparently having been blown there by the storm.

A special from Ripon, Wis., says two men whose names were given, were drowned in Green lake by being caught while out fishing during Saturday's storm. Two houses, several barns and several windmills were blown down five miles west of Ripon.

Johnson's 17-year-old bride, to whom he has been married only five months, has confessed to being implicated in the holdups, but the authorities have not decided to commence proceedings against her, as it is believed it was through her husband's influence that she was induced to take part in the crimes.

WHAT STRIKES COST.

Have Cost Colorado Two and a Half Million Dollars.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 2.—Strikes and lock-outs at the mines in Cripple Creek and other gold mining districts in Colorado have already reduced the mineral production of the state this year at least $2,500,000, and if the present conditions obtain until the end of the year the production will fall more than $6,000,000 below what it would have been under normal conditions. In consequence of the strike 1,000 soldiers of the Colorado national guard have been doing police duty in Cripple Creek for four weeks, and as yet neither the mine owners nor the strikers show any evidence of weakening. The cost to the state of maintaining the military force in the field is estimated at $500,000 a month.

STOLE THE SAFE.

Masked Robbers Successfully Raid A Billings, Mont. Saloon.

Billings, Mont., Oct. 2.—Four masked men entered the Mint saloon here early this morning and stole the safe, containing $1,000.

When the robbers entered the saloon the bartender held a gun on them, but they were the only occupant of the place, while the others bound and gagged him. They had a buggy outside, and into this they loaded the safe, weighing several hundred pounds, and drove to the southern boundary of the city, where they attempted to blow the safe open with powder.

Before they succeeded in opening it a posse put in an appearance and frightened the holdups away.

The safe was found intact. It contained a trifle more than $1,000 in cash. The posse is still in pursuit of the desperadoes.

Sick

Headaches From Army Life

Finally Caused Nervous Dyspepsia.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Cured Me.

Nervousness, indigestion and insomnia are the three greatest afflictions of mankind. Attention as they are by a thousand disagreeable symptoms the victim is in constant misery. My person who cannot sleep, enjoy his food nor secure rest and peace of mind. Dr. Miles' Nervine is a sure cure for all three maladies. It soothes the brain, strengthens the nerves of the stomach and digestive organs, bringing sleep, rest, health and a good digestion.

"Smallpox contracted while in the army, left me with a disease of the spine, nearly blind, and with a complication of nervous afflictions. Perhaps the most distressing of all my troubles were the sick headaches which grew more frequent and severe as the years passed by, until I became a confirmed invalid with all the characteristic symptoms of nervousness, indigestion, and insomnia. In my search for health, I felt my old home in Astorbrook county, Maine, and located in the west. Soon after coming here my attention was called to Dr. Miles' Nervine, and I decided to try it. It soon stopped my headaches and I have not had one since. When I had taken six bottles my health was wonderfully improved in every way. I am well today, eat and sleep all right and in fact feel that my youth has been regained."—J. B. DYKON, New Watonow, Wash.

TWELVE PERSONS WERE DROWNED.

The Steamer J. H. Hackley Was Capsized During a Squall on Lake Michigan.

NINE PEOPLE WERE RESCUED.

Shouts of Floating Men Attracted Attention of Sailors of a Passing Boat Which Came to the Rescue.

Marquette, Wis., Oct. 4.—During a squall last night on Lake Michigan the steamer J. H. Hackley capsized and 12 persons were drowned. The Goodrich line steamer Sheboygan rescued the other nine persons on board the Hackley. The report of the disaster reached Marquette today.

The Hackley was struck by a squall when seven miles off Green island. The upper work was blown away before the men could reach a haven. The boat then turned over and went down in deep water.

DROWNED.

George Le Claire, Jr., Jacksonport, Wis.
Joseph V. Cras, captain of the Hackley, Fish Creek.
Edna Harringer.
Lawrence Harringer, Fish Creek.
Henry Harringer, Fish Creek.
Carl Keiky, Fish Creek.
Miss Frances Vincent.
Miss Vincent's sister, Egg Harbor, Wis.
Freeman Thorp, Fish Creek.
Neils Nelson, Jacksonport.

RESCUED.

Frank Blakelief, purser, Fish Creek.
Orin Rollin, engineer, Fish Creek.
Blaine McQueney, Fish Creek.
The captain of the Sheboygan, Wis.

As the Hackley went down to the bottom those who would and could seized on floating pieces of wreckage, while the women and three or four of the men, failing to find any object to which to cling, sank in the lake, so far as is known. The waves were rolling high, and several of those who at first saved themselves from immediate death lost strength and sank.

It was several hours after the Hackley sank before the Sheboygan hove within hailing distance. The shouts of the floating men attracted the attention of the sailors on the Sheboygan and every assistance was lent.

The darkness made the rescue work slow, but the officers of the Sheboygan feel sure that they took aboard every person who was rescued, and that it is possible that one or more of the 11 persons missing may have escaped death. This view is not given much credence by the fact that the Hackley sank in the middle of the night.

The rescued persons were so exhausted from their struggle against drowning that they were unable for some time to tell anything about the wreck. The persons saved by the Sheboygan say that with the smashing away of the upper work, all persons aboard the Hackley ran on deck. Hasty preparations for a plunge into the water were begun, but before any plans could be carried out the boat listed, turned over and went down like a rock.
