With contests that were close, and in one branch picturesque, the senate and the house of the Utah legislature Saturday evening selected their officers for the session of 1909. The phase of the contest that makes Hodges of Rich county the man of the hour in settling the fight for speakership is that he left his bed in the Groves L. D. S. hospital to attend.

His vote, too, was cast for the winner, E. W. Robinson, of Logan, who tied for place with Thompson of Millard on the first ballot. Arriving late, Hodges was loudly cheered when he came into the caucus wrapped in clothes which fitted him badly, but which testified to his anxiety to vote for his favorite in spite of being an invalid.

To Robinson there was a decided rallying on the second ballot, and he won with ease.

THREE IN THE FIELD.

In the senate, Gardner's victory was not so easily gained. While he safely led all competitors through the voting, it required sixteen ballots of them to give him the majority necessary to a choice. John V. Smith didn't want his colleague to win, and fought to a finish to prevent it. Between Gardner and Smith relations have never been exactly cordial. Both opposed each other in the last session, and Gardner chose a seat near the hall from that of his Utah county colleague. Early in the present campaign Gardner and Smith both announced their candidacy, thus making a fight in a single county, with only Williams of Salt Lake as an outside element.

John V. Smith found himself able to muster six loyal votes, Gardner eight, and Williams four. With these forces to begin the battle with, it became a problem at once of winning down the support of one of the three candidates. Gardner's work never fluctuated, while that of Williams and that of Smith lost a point or two. Finally

For doorkeepers, two to be named, a lively contest ensued. Candidates for the position were Charles Toomey of Morgan, E. V. Vincent of Utah, A. Burris of Cache, Alfred Alder of Sanpete, Joseph Hughes of Tooele, Thomas Calder of Rich, M. L. Sheffield of Wayne, Thomas Nuttall of Salt Lake, Geo. Kimball of Salt Lake and A. J. Stallings of Weber. Alder of Sanpete was chosen on the first ballot and Sheffield of Rich on the second.

Three committee clerks were next chosen. There were six candidates, four women and two men. The aspirants were: Miss Florence Hull, Miss William Riley and Mrs. Bowman of both lost together and Gardner secured the top points necessary to elect. It took 18 ballots to settle the problem. During these ballots Smith's high point was 10 votes, while that of Williams was 7 votes. On the final ballot Gardner received 10, Smith 5, and Williams 3.

The senate caucus was held in Judge Ritchie's court room, and it was called together by C. E. Looser, state chairman. Newspaper men were excluded, and a session was commenced lasting until 1 a. m., owing to the contest over various appointments.

After the selection of Senator Gardner, J. E. Carver was nominated for chaplain, and won on the first ballot. William R. Thompson of Millard, a relative of the defeated candidate for speaker of the house, tried all along the line for position among the senate appointees. He wanted to be sergeant-at-arms. After that he was willing to become doorkeeper, and finally landed the position of messenger. The lateness of the hour finally caused the caucus to allow Senator Badger to name the minute clerk, and Senator Marks to name the engrossing clerk, these actions being taken after midnight.

HOUSE CAUCUS SELECTS E. W. ROBINSON OF CACHE

Col. George B. Squires, assistant secretary of state, called the house caucus to order shortly after 8 o'clock Saturday evening. A. Fuller, representative from Weber, was made chairman of the caucus, and Representative Joseph J. Cannon of Salt Lake county, was named as secretary. A motion was adopted that all voting be by ballot, and Representative Davis of Uintah and McCracken of Weber were appointed tellers.

The chairman called for nomination for speaker, and Representative Holman, of Salt Lake county, in a brief eulogistic speech, placed the name of Representative E. W. Robinson, of Cache, in nomination. Representative Horrie of Panhandle nominated the favorite son of the south, Orville L. Thompson, of Millard. A number of seconding speeches were made, and the members proceeded to ballot.

Excitement was tense while the ballots were being counted, as it was apparent the contest was very close. In fact, when the last ballot was taken from the hat it was found that the vote was a tie, each candidate receiving 20 votes.

Representative Russell, who was absent during the first ballot then came in. The second ballot was prepared. Partisans of the two candidates parted to be active, when the door opened and in hobbled Representative Hodges, of Rich county, on motion of crutches with one foot suspended in heavy bandages. His entrance was greeted with applause by the friends of Robinson, as it was conceded Hodges was a Robinson man. Hodges has been lying in the hospital for several days, the result of having his toes cut off in a railroad accident, and when it became apparent that the vote for the speaker was very close, he was telephoned for and in the haste to get him to the county building any old coat was hung on him that could be found and when he entered the building he was dressed in several varieties of coats.

The second ballot resulted in the election of Robinson, by a vote of 23 to 19.

For chief clerk of the house, Representative Cannon placed in nomination Alexander Buchanan, Jr., the clerk of the last session. On motion of Representative Bardley, Mr. Buchanan's election was made by acclamation.

For minute clerk, C. R. Jones, former clerk of Summit county, was named for the position by acclamation. For engrossing and enrolling clerk, James A. Kelly of Millard, was nominated by acclamation as was E. T. Woolley of Weber, for docket clerk.

For sergeant-at-arms, Representative Murdock of Beaver placed in nomination Andrew Morris of Beaver county. Representative Clegg of Salt Lake named Charles Wilkison of Salt Lake. The vote resulted in the choosing of Morris, who received 29 votes against 18 for Wilkison.

For assistant sergeant-at-arms, the names of Peter Mortensen and Alfred Alder of Sanpete, F. M. Gavin of Garfield, and Charles H. Harker of Salt Lake were presented. Upon the second ballot Gavin received 21 votes and Wilkison 20.

Balt Lake, Miss Mabel Carpenter of Utah, Mr. Hecal Buchanan of Weber and Bert Woolley of Utah. Miss Hull, Miss Carpenter and Mr. Buchanan were chosen.

HOTEL MEN HERE FOR CONVENTION

Landlords of All Western Hostels Gather for Important Meeting.

THREE DAYS OF HARD WORK.

Business Before the Bonifaces Is of Wide Scope—Will Seek to Beat The "Dead Beat."

Monday, 2:30 p. m.—Business session at Commercial club.
8:15 p. m.—Orpheum theater.
Tuesday, 10 a. m.—Business session at Commercial club.
12 noon—Special organ recital at Tabernacle.
3 p. m.—Sightseeing trip around city.
8 p. m.—Banquet at Commercial club.
Wednesday, 10 a. m.—Business session at Commercial club.
2 p. m.—Trip to Salt Lake.

The special Pullman car carrying the hotel men of Denver, coming to Salt Lake for the purpose of attending the first session of the Western Hotel Men's association of the intermountain country, to be held in this city, scheduled to arrive over the Rio Grande on No. 3, contains the representation from Colorado and the middle west for the convention in this city. The program for their entertainment included their meeting at the train with automobiles, and after a short drive to the hotel of the city, a session of the convention this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Already some of the advance guard of the hotel men of the west are in the city. Edward T. Maples, editor and publisher of the Western Hotel Register at San Francisco, and Kirk Harris, manager of the Hotel Hamilton of the same city, having arrived here yesterday to be present at the meeting. Other hotel men are expected to arrive today from Los Angeles, Sacramento, Portland, Seattle and other western cities.

Final details for receiving the delegation from the east and for the convention sessions were concluded at a meeting of the local hotel men held at the Commercial club yesterday. It was decided to ask Governor Spry, Mayor Branford, President Halloran of the Commercial club, and Secretary of the club, to accompany the landlords to the depot to greet the incoming Bonifaces. It was also decided at yesterday's meeting to shift the business sessions of the convention from afternoon to evening hours. At 12 o'clock today the visitors will go to the tabernacle, where they will listen to an organ recital by Prof. J. J. McClellan, and meet President Joseph F. Smith. Luncheon will follow, and after that the evening session will be made in the sight seeing cars.

BANQUET AT COMMERCIAL CLUB.

In the evening a banquet will be served at the Commercial club. The guests at this function will not be limited to the hotel men themselves, invitations having been extended to Governor William Spry, Mayor John S. Branford, Samuel Newhouse, W. J. Halloran, president of the Commercial club, Charles A. Quigley, Heber Wells, J. E. Caine, Secretary Fisher Harris, John Derr, Frank Knox, Judge C. C. Goodwin and J. F. Dunn, together with several others. Governor Spry will deliver the address of welcome for the state and Mayor Branford for the city.

On Wednesday morning the last business session of the convention will be held, and at 2 p. m. the delegation will take a special train for Salt Lake. Returning the evening and early business will adjourn.

OBJECTS OF CONVENTION.

Many desirable objects are sought to be accomplished by the meeting of the west of the Mississippi valley. Rocky mountain section and western coast, among them being the organization of the Western Hotel Men's association; the adoption of some drastic method of the worst kind of the hotel "beat" evil, and other measures calculated to be beneficial to the hotel men through united effort.

Among the local hotel men working hard for the success of the convention are Mr. Griffiths, proprietor of the Wilson; Sam S. Porter, of the Kenyon; J. H. Waters of the Windsor; Manager Condon of the Cullen and G. S. Holmes, proprietor of the Knutsford.

DEATH OF OLD TRAINMAN.

Richard Griffiths died at his residence, 621 west Second South street, yesterday. Mr. Griffiths was born in Shrewsbury, Shropshire, Eng., Dec. 25, 1829. He joined the Church in 1850, and has always been a staunch member. He was married to Eliza Davies in Shrewsbury, Eng., in September, 1852. They came to Utah in 1871.

He was employed as engineer at the old Utah Central, Union Pacific and O. & N. L. from 1871 to 1890.

He was surrounded by his family in his last moments. He is survived by a widow, two sons, Samuel L. and Richard Griffiths, Jr., three daughters, Mrs. C. A. Marcell, Mrs. Albert Ekker and Mrs. C. Marshall, and six grandchildren, and nine great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held in the tabernacle at 1 o'clock p. m. Wednesday, Jan. 13, 1909. All friends of the family invited. Remains may be viewed at family residence between 10:30 and 11:30 a. m.

ARREST HYRUM YOUTH.

This morning detective George Chase placed under arrest a young man named A. P. Larson, at the request of Sheriff Nick Jepperson of Hyrum, and the sheriff and Larson will return to the afternoon where the young man will answer either to the charge of grand larceny or burglary.

He was arrested after Detective Chase had received a description of him and the information that he had stolen a watch valued at $150 from a man named Peterson of Hyrum. Chase started to look for Larson and saw him on the street this morning. The watch was soon located at Shappiro's pawn shop on east Second South street and identified by Sheriff Jepperson, who arrived here this morning.

CHANGES AT HEADQUARTERS.

Changes continue at police headquarters. The desk sergeant's room is being cleaned and the railing separating the desk sergeant from the public is being changed so as to make the office smaller and make room for additional lockers for the patrolmen. Hereafter the desk sergeant and the patrol driver will be more to themselves, and common patrolmen and mere reporters will be left out in the cold.

FIRST RAID ON STOCKADE.

Deputy sheriffs Land Women and Their Visitors in County Jail.

Feeling secure from police interference, Nora Mason, a woman of the town, undertook to open a house at the "stockade" Saturday night, but she had forgotten that Sheriff Sharp had pledged his word that the "stockade" should never be opened for immoral purposes while he was sheriff of Salt Lake county.

The women attempted to open a house there and in short order found herself with Della Donaldson, Myrtle Davidson, Alice Gray, Mrs. C. A. Taylor, Nora Blair, Miss Munger and Harry Yarnop, a Jag, in the county jail.

Deputy sheriffs, acting under instructions from Sheriff Sharp had been keeping a close watch on the district, and when they learned that the Mason woman had taken possession of a house they decided upon a raid. They quietly entered the place and arrested those named above. They were taken to the county jail and their bail fixed in the sum of $500 each. They were unable to furnish the bond, but yesterday afternoon Judge J. M. Bowman reduced this amount to $200 which was furnished and the women and men were released.

The raid was made by Deputy Sheriffs Corlies, Burbridge, Butler and Schettler. The Mason woman put up the plea that she was merely running a boarding house. Their cases will be tried before Judge Bowman probably tomorrow.

MURRAY. SPRING MUSIC FESTIVAL.

Program of Musical Contest Given by First Ward Association. Special Correspondence.
Murray, Jan. 9.—Herewith is presented the program for the great musical contest which is to be held in the Murray First ward auditorium about the middle of March this year under the combined direction of the amusement committee and choir. It is impossible at this time to give a complete program of the contest which is believed to be the greatest undertaking of its kind ever contemplated by any one ward. The program will consist from three to five evenings and the territory comprises Granite and Jordan stakes.

Handsome cash prizes will be awarded the winners in each case. It costs nothing to enter this contest which is open to all regardless of religious opinions. The services of a competent adjudicator will be employed to pass upon the general merits of the contest, remembering that should you fail to win the cash prize you will still have accomplished a great work and done much good by way of further strengthening and upbuilding the splendid talent already found in those stakes. All those wishing to enter this great musical contest will please inform either of the undersigned not later than January 19, 1909.

Rules for choirs entering this contest.
1.—Choirs will be divided into two classes, one class having 40 or more voices, prize $45, and another having 35 or less voices, prize $35. Each choir will sing its own selection, in case of a tie, will be required to sing the selection over again.

2.—No choir will be allowed to use other talent than its own enrolled members and if it be known that any choir uses imported talent, said choir will be disqualified.

3.—Each choir will be allowed organ or piano accompaniment or both.

4.—Choirs having a regular enrollment of 40 or more will not be allowed to cut their number so that they can enter the 35 or under class.

Violin solo, with piano accompaniment for students not over the age of 20 years, prize $5. Piano solo prize $5. Soprano solo, prize $5. Contralto solo prize $5. Baritone solo prize $5. Bass solo prize $5. Test piece to be announced later for above prizes. Duet prize $6. Selection "See the Pale Moon."
